23-3.1-214. Exemption from taxation - securities law. The income or other revenues of the authority, including income earned on the investment of moneys in the prepaid expense and the savings trust funds, all properties at any time owned by the authority, any bonds, notes, or other obligations issued pursuant to this part 2, the transfer of and the income, including any profit made on sale, from any such bonds, notes, or other obligations, and all trust indentures and other documents issued in connection with such bonds, notes, or other obligations shall be exempt at all times from all taxation and assessments in the state of Colorado. In the bond resolution authorizing the issuance of any bonds by the authority, the board may waive the exemption from federal income taxation for interest on such bonds. Bonds issued by the authority shall also be exempt from the provisions of article 51 of title 11, C.R.S.

23-3.1-215. Fees. All expenses of the authority incurred in carrying out the provisions of this part 2 shall be payable solely from funds provided under the authority of this part 2, and no liability shall be incurred by the authority beyond the moneys which are provided pursuant to this part 2. For the purposes of meeting the necessary expenses of initial organization and operation until such date as the authority derives moneys from funds provided pursuant to this part 2, the authority may borrow such moneys as may be required for the necessary expenses of organization and operation. Such borrowed moneys shall be repaid within a reasonable time after the authority receives funds provided pursuant to this part 2.

23-3.1-216. Investment of funds. (1) Moneys of the authority held in the collegeinvest fund created in section 23-3.1-205.4 shall be invested as provided in section 23-3.1-205.4 (3). Other moneys of the authority may be invested in property or securities in which the state treasurer may legally invest moneys subject to his or her control. The authority may sell the securities and may deposit the securities in a trust bank within or without the state. Any moneys deposited in a banking institution or a depository authorized in section 24-75-603, C.R.S., shall be secured in such a manner and subject to the terms and conditions as the board may determine, with or without payment of any interest on the deposit, including, without limitation, time deposits evidenced by certificates of deposit.

(2) The board may direct a corporate trustee that holds moneys of the authority pursuant to a trust indenture or other agreement between the trustee and the authority to invest or reinvest the moneys in any investments, other than those specified in subsection (1) of this section, if the board determines that, as of the date of the determination, the investment meets the standards for investments established in section 15-1-304, C.R.S.

(3) In addition to the investments otherwise permitted in this part 2, the state treasurer may invest moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund in the following:

- (a) State and municipal bonds;
- (b) Corporate notes, bonds, and debentures, whether or not convertible, to the extent provided for in paragraph (d) of this subsection (3);
- (c) Participation agreements with life insurance companies;
- (d) Common or preferred stock; except that:
- (I) No investment of moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund in common or preferred stock, or both, of any corporation shall be of an amount that exceeds five percent of the market value of investable assets of the trust fund; except that, such amount may exceed five percent, for a period not to exceed sixty consecutive days;

(II) The prepaid expense trust fund shall not acquire more than five percent of the outstanding stock or bonds of any single corporation; and

(III) The aggregate amount of moneys of the prepaid expense trust fund invested in common or preferred stock, or in corporate bonds, notes, or debentures that are convertible into common or preferred stock, or in investment trust shares shall not exceed sixty percent of the market value of investable assets of the prepaid expense trust fund; except that such market value of investable assets may exceed sixty percent, by not more than five percent, for a period not to exceed sixty consecutive days;

(d.5) Investments in the form of mutual funds; and

(e) Any guaranteed investment contract, guaranteed interest contract, annuity contract, or funding agreement if the board determines by resolution that:

(I) Such contract or agreement meets the standard for investments established in section 15-1-304, C.R.S.;

(II) The income on such contract or agreement is at least comparable to the income then available on the other investments permitted in this section; and

(III) Such contract or agreement will assist the authority in maintaining an actuarially sound trust fund.

23-3.1-218. Agreement of the state not to limit or alter rights of obligees. The state hereby pledges to and agrees with the holders of any bonds, notes, or other obligations issued under this part 2 and with those parties who may enter into contracts with the authority, with state-supported institutions of higher education, or with the division pursuant to the provisions of this part 2 that the state will not limit, alter, restrict, or impair the rights vested in the authority to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of bonds, notes, or other obligations authorized and issued pursuant to this part 2 and with the parties who may enter into contracts with the authority pursuant to this part 2, and that the state will not limit, alter, restrict, or impair the rights vested in any state-supported institution of higher education or in the division to fulfill the terms of any contracts made with the authority and with the parties who may enter into contracts with such institutions of higher education or with the division pursuant to this part 2. The state further agrees that it will not in any way impair the rights or remedies of the holders of such bonds, notes, or other obligations of such parties until such bonds, notes, and other obligations, together with interest thereon, with interest on any unpaid installment of interest and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceeding by or on behalf of such holders, are fully met and discharged and such contracts are fully performed on the part of the authority, the state-supported institutions of higher education, or the division. Nothing in this part 2 precludes such limitation or alteration if and when adequate provision is made by law for the protection of the holders of such bonds, notes, or other obligations of the authority or those entering into such contracts with the authority or the authority under any contract with a state-supported institution of higher education or with the division. The authority may include this pledge and undertaking for the state in such bonds, notes, or other obligations and in such contracts.

23-3.1-221. Account of activities - receipts for expenditures - report - audit. The authority shall keep an accurate account of all its activities and of all its receipts and expenditures and shall report annually on such activities, receipts, and expenditures in the month of February to its members, to the governor, to the commission, and to the state auditor in a form prescribed by the controller. Also included in the report shall be any recommendations with reference to additional legislation, a financial analysis of the actuarial soundness of the prepaid expense trust fund if one was prepared, an accounting of any loans or transfers approved pursuant to section 23-3.1-205.4 (4), and other action that may be necessary to carry out the purposes of the authority. The state auditor may investigate the affairs of the authority and may examine the properties and records of the authority, and the controller may prescribe methods of accounting and the rendering of periodical reports in relation to undertakings by the authority. The department of higher education shall adopt and prepare a budget for the authority for the next fiscal year. Beginning July 1, 2000, the fiscal year of the authority shall begin on July 1 and shall end on June 30. The authority shall not be required to comply with fiscal rules of the state of Colorado until July 1, 2000.

23-3.1-223. Powers of authority not restricted. This part 2 shall not be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which the authority might otherwise have under any laws of this state but shall be construed as cumulative of any such powers. Nothing in this part 2 shall be construed to deprive the state and its political subdivisions of their respective police powers over properties of the authority or to impair any power over such properties of any official or agency of the state and its governmental subdivisions which may be otherwise provided by law.

23-3.1-224. Contract powers of state-supported institutions of higher education - nonliability of state. (1) For the purpose of funding student obligations, the governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education is authorized to enter into contracts with the authority for the making or securing of student obligations and institutional loans, or the securing of authority bonds including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, contracts which require such institutions to pledge certain revenues, pay fees, advance or loan funds to the authority, establish and maintain reserves, and make, sell, or purchase student obligations.

(2) For the purpose of making student obligations, the governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education is authorized to enter into contracts with the division for the origination, disbursement, servicing, or guarantee of any student obligation funded by an institutional loan.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a state-supported institution of higher education to create a debt of the state within the meaning of the constitution or statutes of Colorado.

(4) Any obligation incurred by any state-supported institution of higher education under the provisions of this part 2 shall not constitute or become an indebtedness, a debt, or a liability of the state, nor shall the state be liable on such obligations, nor shall such obligations constitute the giving, pledging, or loaning of the full faith and credit of the state. Such obligations shall not obligate the state or empower such institution, directly, indirectly, or contingently, to levy or collect any form of taxes or assessments, to create any indebtedness payable out of taxes or assessments, or to make any appropriation for their payment, and such appropriation, levy, or collection is prohibited.

(5) The state shall not be liable in any event for the performance of any pledge, obligation, or agreement of any kind whatsoever which may be undertaken by such institutions. No breach of any such pledge, obligation, or agreement shall impose any pecuniary liability upon the state or any charge upon its general credit or against its taxing power.

23-3.1-225. Confidentiality of records. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, all data, information, and records relating to the prepaid expense trust fund and the prepaid expense program are public records and are subject to inspection pursuant to the provisions of part 2 of article 72 of title 24, C.R.S.

(2) The following data, information, and records relating to the prepaid expense trust fund and the prepaid expense program shall be kept confidential by the authority, and the authority shall deny the right of access to or inspection of such data, information, and records except as provided in subsection (3) of this section:

(a) Data, information, and records relating to individual purchasers and qualified beneficiaries of advance payment contracts, including any records that reveal personally identifiable information about such individuals; except that the authority may disclose such information to an individual purchaser regarding his or her own contract;

(b) Trade secrets and proprietary information regarding software, including programs and source codes, utilized or owned by the authority; and

(c) Marketing plans and the results of market surveys conducted by the authority.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, the authority may disclose and may provide the right of access to or inspection of any data, information, or records to agents or representatives of professionals with whom the authority has contracted as provided in an advance payment contract or contracts, to the department of revenue, or to the state treasurer, or to other third parties if the purchaser or purchasers of the advance payment contract or contracts have consented in writing to such disclosure.

(4) No cause of action shall arise against a person for disclosing confidential information in violation of subsection (2) of this section unless the act or omission giving rise to the cause of action was intentional or grossly negligent.

23-3.1-226. Policies for promotion and disclosure of program information.

(1) The authority shall design a policy related to the promotion of the prepaid expense program and a policy related to the disclosure of program-related information to purchasers or qualified beneficiaries in a manner consistent with this part 2 and consistent with the requirements of section 529 of the internal revenue code in order to require that:

(a) Appropriate promotional material and program-related information disclose the average tuition increase in state institutions of higher education in Colorado, as defined in section 23-3.3-101 (4), over the previous five years;

(b) Annual statements to purchasers or qualified beneficiaries disclose the number of tuition units paid for, the payments made for such tuition units, and the current value of such tuition units, as well as the average tuition increases in state institutions of higher education in Colorado, as defined in section 23-3.3-101 (4), over the five previous years;

(c) An annual report to each purchaser of an advance payment contract setting forth the value and rate of return on the advance payment contract based on a calculation of average tuition and setting forth the amount of the stabilization reserve and retained earnings in the prepaid expense program. The report shall be provided at least annually and upon request of the purchaser of the advance payment contract.

(d) Promotional material and program-related information disclose that no moneys invested in the prepaid expense program are insured by the state of Colorado and that neither the principal deposited nor the investment returned is guaranteed by the state of Colorado. Such material and information shall also disclose the existence of a stabilization reserve to better support its liability.

(e) Any fees paid from moneys collected pursuant to this part 2 are disclosed in promotional material and program-related information provided to the public and to purchasers or qualified beneficiaries, including disclosure of amounts assessed for payments over time.

PART 3

COLLEGE SAVINGS PLAN

23-3.1-301. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that a choice of education opportunities will benefit the residents of the state of Colorado and that the establishment of a college savings program will enhance the availability of postsecondary educational opportunities for residents. It is the intent of the general assembly to achieve this purpose through a public-private partnership using selected financial institutions to serve as account holders and managers of individual college savings accounts.

(2) The general assembly further finds, determines, and declares that the college savings program can enhance the availability of postsecondary educational opportunities for adults who are already in the workforce and therefore encourages adults to take advantage of the college savings program to further their own postsecondary educational opportunities and job retraining goals.

23-3.1-302. Definitions. As used in this part 3, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Account” means an individual trust account or savings account established pursuant to this part 3.

(2) “Account owner” means the person designated at the time an account is opened as having the right to withdraw moneys from the account before the account is disbursed to or for the benefit of the designated beneficiary.

(2.5) “Adult learner” means an account owner who is also the account beneficiary and who opens an account in pursuit of his or her own postsecondary educational opportunities and job retraining goals.

(3) “Authority” means collegeinvest, transferred to the department of higher education and existing as a division of that department pursuant to section 23-3.1-203.

(4) “Designated beneficiary” or “beneficiary” means, with respect to an account, the person designated at the time the account is opened, or the person who replaces a designated beneficiary, as the person whose education expenses are expected to be paid from the account. A designated beneficiary may be an adult and may be the account owner.

(5) “Eligible education institution” has the same meaning as that term is defined in 26 U.S.C. sec. 135 (c) (3).

(5.5) “Executive director” means the executive director of the department of higher education.

(6) “Financial institution” means any state bank, state trust company, industrial bank, savings and loan association, credit union chartered by the state of Colorado, national bank, broker-dealer, mutual fund, insurance company, or other similar financial entity qualified to do business in the state of Colorado.

(7) “Internal revenue code” means the federal “Internal Revenue Code of 1986”, as amended.

(8) “Manager” means a financial institution under contract with the authority to serve as administrator of the program and recipient of contributions on behalf of the program.

(9) “Member of the family” has the same meaning as that term is defined in 26 U.S.C. sec. 529 (e) (2).

(10) “Nonqualified withdrawal” means a withdrawal from an account other than a qualified withdrawal, a withdrawal made as the result of the death or disability of the designated beneficiary of an account, a withdrawal made as a result of the beneficiary’s receipt of a scholarship, or a rollover or change of designated beneficiary.

(11) “Program” means the college savings program established pursuant to this part 3.

(12) “Qualified higher education expenses” has the same meaning as is provided for that term in 26 U.S.C. sec. 529 (e) (3).

(13) “Qualified withdrawal” means a withdrawal from an account to pay the qualified higher education expenses of the designated beneficiary of the account, a withdrawal made on account of the death or disability of the designated beneficiary, or a withdrawal made on account of a scholarship, but only if the withdrawal is made in accordance with this part 3.

23-3.1-304. Authority - purpose - powers - duties. (1) In addition to any other powers or duties specifically granted to the authority in part 2 of this article and in this part 3, the authority shall:

(a) Develop and implement the program in a manner consistent with this part 3 through the adoption of guidelines and procedures;

(b) Select the financial institution or institutions, and enter into a contract with said institution or institutions to serve as managers and to invest the contributions deposited into the accounts;

(c) Establish rules regarding withdrawal of funds, which rules shall include provisions that will enable the authority or the manager to determine if a withdrawal is a nonqualified withdrawal or a qualified withdrawal;

(d) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2000, p. 1288, § 16, effective May 26, 2000.)

(e) Seek rulings and other guidance from the United States department of the treasury, the internal revenue service, and the securities and exchange commission relating to the program as is necessary for proper implementation and development of the program;

(f) Make changes to the program required in order for account owners and beneficiaries and the program to obtain or maintain federal income tax benefits or treatment provided by section 529 of the internal revenue code and exemptions under federal securities laws;

(g) When establishing policies, guidelines, and procedures, interpret the provisions of this part 3 broadly in light of the purpose and objectives set forth in this part 3;

(h) Charge, impose, and collect administrative fees and service charges in connection with any agreement, contract, or transaction relating to the program in amounts not exceeding the cost of establishing and administering the program, including the funding of scholarships and other grants;

(i) Approve the application and review, for purposes of compliance with applicable laws and regulations, any informational materials utilized by the manager to be furnished to persons who desire to participate in the program established in this part 3;

(j) Develop policies relating to penalties associated with nonqualified withdrawals from accounts pursuant to section 23-3.1-306 (8);

(k) Adopt a policy to prevent contributions on behalf of a designated beneficiary in excess of those necessary to pay the qualified higher education expenses of the designated beneficiary;

(l) Require that every contract, application, deposit slip, or other similar document that may be used in connection with a contribution to an account clearly indicate that the account is not insured by this state and neither the principal deposited nor the investment return is guaranteed by the state;

(m) Make and execute contracts with depositors;

(n) Develop and implement a plan to promote the use of accounts by adult learners;

(o) Develop and implement procedures to allow an employer to make a matching contribution to an adult learner's account for any contribution made by the adult learner; except that any employer matching contribution shall be subtracted from federal taxable income pursuant to section 39-22-104 (4) (o), C.R.S., to the extent that the contribution is included in federal taxable income;

(p) Develop procedures to provide college planning and preparation for adult learners through the state-provided, free resource commonly referred to as "college in Colorado";

(q) Develop procedures for coordinating with the department of labor and employment to make information regarding accounts for adult learners available to potential participants;

(r) Do all things necessary and convenient to carry out the purposes of this part 3.

(2) Notwithstanding the restrictions in section 23-3.1-216, the authority is hereby authorized to contract with one or more financial institutions pursuant to section 23-3.1-305 to act as managers for the investment of contributions related to this program in stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and other such investments as deemed appropriate by the authority. In so doing, the authority shall be bound by the fiduciary duty described in section 15-1-304, C.R.S., and shall assure that investments by the managers are made with judgment and care that persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of the property of another, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of funds, considering the probable income as well as the probable safety of capital. The funds contributed to the accounts established by account owners pursuant to this section are held in trust by the authority and the manager for the sole benefit of the account owner and beneficiary. These contributions are not subject to any limitations on the investment of public funds and are not subject to section 20 of article X of the state constitution, which limits fiscal year spending of state government and other districts.

23-3.1-305. Financial institutions - managers - purpose - selection - requirements - contracts. (1) The authority shall implement the program through the use of one or more financial institutions to act as managers. Under the program, potential account owners may establish accounts through the program at the financial institution.

(2) The authority shall solicit proposals from financial institutions to act as the recipients of contributions and managers.

(3) The authority shall select from among bidding financial institutions one or more financial institutions that demonstrate the most advantageous combination to account owners and beneficiaries, based on the following factors:

(a) Financial stability and integrity;

(b) The ability of the financial institution, directly or through a subcontract, to satisfy record-keeping and reporting requirements;

(c) The financial institution's plan for promoting the program and the investment that the financial institution is willing to make in order to promote the program;

(d) The historic ability of the investment instruments utilized by the financial institution to track the estimated costs of higher education as calculated by the United States department of education;

(e) The fees, if any, proposed to be charged to account owners for maintaining accounts;

(f) The minimum initial cash contribution and minimum contributions that the financial institution will require, and the willingness of the financial institution to accept contributions through payroll deduction plans or systematic deposit plans; and

(g) Any other benefits to the state or to its residents, included in the proposal, including an account opening fee payable to the authority by the account owner.

(4) The authority shall contract with one or more financial institutions, in accordance with subsection (5) of this section, to serve as managers and to invest the contributions to accounts. On May 26, 2000, the effective date of Senate Bill 00-164, as enacted at the second regular session of the sixty-second general assembly, pursuant to section 23-3.1-205.3, the authority shall succeed to all rights and obligations under any such existing contracts.

(5) The authority may select more than one financial institution for the program if the United States internal revenue service has provided guidance that giving a contributor a choice of two or more financial institutions will not cause the program to fail to qualify for favorable tax treatment under section 529 of the internal revenue code, and the authority concludes that the choice of two or more financial institutions is in the best interest of account owners and beneficiaries and will not interfere with the promotion of the program.

(5.5) The authority may select a financial institution pursuant to subsection (3) of this section without regard to the provisions of the "Procurement Code", articles 101 to 112 of title 24, C.R.S.

(6) A manager shall:

(a) Take all actions required to keep the program in compliance with the requirements of this part 3 and to assure that the program is treated as a qualified state tuition plan under section 529 of the internal revenue code and to assure that the program is exempt from registration under the federal securities law;

(b) Keep adequate and separate records of each account and provide the authority with the information necessary to prepare the reports required by section 529 of the internal revenue code or file these reports on behalf of the authority;

(c) Compile and total information contained in statements required to be prepared pursuant to section 23-3.1-306 (16) and (17) and provide these compilations to the authority;

(d) Provide representatives of the authority access to the books and records of the manager to the extent needed to determine compliance with the contract;

(e) Hold all accounts in trust for the sole benefit of the account owner and beneficiary on behalf of the program, acting in a fiduciary capacity and making investments with judgment, care, and prudence as described in section 15-1-304, C.R.S.; and

(f) Develop a plan to promote the program and, after approval of such plan by the authority, promote the program in accordance with the plan.

(7) Any contract executed between the authority and a financial institution pursuant to this section shall be for a term of at least five years and may be renewable.

(8) If a contract executed between the authority and a financial institution pursuant to this section is not renewed, all of the following conditions shall apply at the end of the term of the nonrenewed contract, so long as applying these conditions does not disqualify the program as a qualified state tuition plan under section 529 of the internal revenue code:

(a) The authority shall continue to maintain the program at the financial institution;

(b) Accounts previously established at the financial institution shall not be terminated, except as provided in paragraph (e) of this subsection (8) or as provided in subsection (9) of this section;

(c) Additional contributions may be made to the accounts;

(d) No new accounts may be placed with that financial institution; and

(e) If the authority determines that continuing the accounts at the financial institution is not in the best interest of the account owners, or if the financial institution has elected not to renew the contract, the accounts may be transferred to another financial institution under contract with the authority.

(9) The authority may terminate a contract with a financial institution at any time. If a contract is terminated pursuant to this subsection (9), the authority shall take custody of accounts held at that financial institution and shall seek to promptly transfer the accounts to another financial institution that is selected as a manager and into investment instruments as similar to the original investments as possible pursuant to the guidelines established in section 23-3.1-306 (13). The authority may select the successor financial institution without regard to the provisions of the "Procurement Code", articles 101 to 112 of title 24, C.R.S.

(10) The authority shall work with the managers of the program in place on June 9, 2010, and any future managers to determine the most effective savings options offered by the managers for account owners who are adult learners. Each manager of the program that promotes the program pursuant to paragraph (f) of subsection (6) of this section shall develop and implement a plan to expand the promotion of the program to encourage adult learners to participate in the program in pursuit of their own postsecondary educational opportunities and job retraining goals.

23-3.1-306. Accounts - contributions - withdrawals - penalties - statements.

(1) The program shall be operated through the use of accounts. An account may be opened by any person who desires to save for the qualified higher education expenses of a potential beneficiary, including himself or herself as an adult learner, by satisfying each of the following requirements:

(a) Completing an application in the form prescribed by the financial institution and approved by the authority. Said application shall include the following information:

(I) The name, address, and social security number or employer identification number of any person that contributes to the account;

(II) The name, address, and social security number or employer identification number of the account owner;

(III) The name, address, social security number or employer identification number, and date of birth of the designated beneficiary;

(IV) A certification from the contributor that states that to the best of the contributor's knowledge, the account balance for the designated beneficiary in all qualified state tuition programs, as defined in section 529 of the internal revenue code, does not exceed the greater of either a maximum college savings amount established by the authority or the cost in current dollars of qualified higher education expenses that the contributor reasonably anticipates the designated beneficiary will incur; and

(V) Any other information that the authority may deem necessary.

(b) Making the minimum contribution required by the financial institution to open an account.

(2) Any person may make contributions to an account, consistent with the terms established by the authority, after the account is opened.

(3) Contributions to accounts shall be made in cash only.

(4) Account owners may withdraw all or part of the balance from an account upon giving sixty days' notice, or upon such shorter period as may be authorized by the authority pursuant to rules established by the authority, including any applicable fees and penalties.

(5) An account owner may change the designated beneficiary of an account to an individual who is a member of the family or former designated beneficiary in accordance with procedures established by the authority.

(6) At the direction of the account owner, all or a portion of an account may be transferred to another account, if the designated beneficiary of the transferee account is a member of the family of the designated beneficiary of the transferor account.

(7) Changes in designated beneficiaries and rollovers under this section are not permitted if the changes or rollovers would violate rules related to excess contributions or rules related to investment choice.

(8) In the case of any nonqualified withdrawal from an account, an amount that would constitute more than a de minimis penalty, as determined by the authority in accordance with section 529 of the internal revenue code, shall be withheld as a penalty from the amount withdrawn or from funds remaining in the account and paid to the authority for use in operating the program and for state student financial aid.

(9) If an account owner makes a nonqualified withdrawal and no penalty amount is withheld pursuant to subsection (8) of this section, or the amount withheld is less than the amount required to be withheld pursuant to subsection (8) of this section for nonqualified withdrawals, the account owner shall pay the unpaid portion of the penalty to the authority on or before April 15 of the following tax year.

(10) Each account shall be accounted for separately from all other accounts under the program.

(11) Separate records and accounting shall be maintained for each account for each designated beneficiary.

(12) As long as prohibited by federal law, no contributor to, account owner of, or designated beneficiary of any account may direct the investment of any contribution to an account or the earnings from the account.

(13) If the authority terminates the contract of a financial institution to hold accounts and accounts must be moved from that financial institution to another financial institution, the authority shall select the financial institution to which the balances of the accounts are moved.

(14) Neither an account owner nor a designated beneficiary may use an interest in an account as a security for a loan. Any pledge of an interest in an account is of no force and effect.

(15) If there is any distribution from an account to any person or for the benefit of any person during the calendar year, the distribution shall be reported to the internal revenue service and to the account owner or the designated beneficiary to the extent required by federal law.

(16) The financial institution shall provide statements to each account owner at least once each year, within thirty-one days after the end of the calendar year. The statement shall identify the contributions made during the preceding reporting period, the total contributions made through the end of the reporting period, the value of the account as of the end of the reporting period, withdrawals made during the reporting period, and any other matters that the authority requires to be reported to the account owner.

(17) Statements and information returns relating to accounts shall be prepared and filed to the extent required by federal or state tax law.

23-3.1-307. Limitations. (1) Nothing in this part 3 shall be construed to:

(a) Give any designated beneficiary any rights or legal interest with respect to an account unless the designated beneficiary is the account owner;

(b) Guarantee that a designated beneficiary will be admitted to an education institution or be allowed to continue enrollment at or graduate from an education institution;

(c) Establish state residency for a beneficiary merely because of the designation as a beneficiary; or

(d) Guarantee that amounts saved pursuant to the program will be sufficient to cover the qualified higher education expenses of a designated beneficiary.

(2) Nothing in this part 3 shall establish any obligation of the state of Colorado or any agency or instrumentality of the state of Colorado to guarantee for the benefit of any owner, contributor to an account, or designated beneficiary any of the following:

(a) The return of any amounts contributed to an account;

(b) The rate of interest or other return on any account;

(c) The payment of interest or other return on any account; or

(d) Tuition rates or the cost of related education expenditures.

(3) Nothing in this part 3 shall be construed to indicate that the account is insured by the state of Colorado or that the principal deposited or investment return is guaranteed by the state of Colorado.

(3.5) Nothing in this part 3 shall be construed to create an indebtedness, a debt, or a liability of the state, nor shall the state be liable on the savings contracts, except to the extent of the amounts on deposit in the accounts, nor shall a savings contract constitute the giving, pledging, or loaning of the full faith and credit of the state.

23-3.1-307.5. Confidentiality of records. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, all data, information, and records relating to the college savings program are public records and are subject to inspection pursuant to the provisions of part 2 of article 72 of title 24, C.R.S.

(2) The following data, information, and records relating to the college savings program shall be kept confidential by the authority, and the authority shall deny the right of access to or inspection of such data, information, and records except as provided in subsection (3) of this section:

(a) Data, information and records relating to designated beneficiaries and contributors to an individual trust account or savings account including any records that reveal personally identifiable information about such individuals; except that the authority may disclose such information to an account owner regarding his or her own account;

(b) Trade secrets and proprietary information regarding software, including programs and source codes, utilized or owned by the authority; and

(c) Marketing plans and the results of market surveys conducted by the authority.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, the authority may disclose and may provide the right of access to or inspection of any data, information, or records to agents or representatives of professionals with whom the authority has contracted, to the department of revenue, or to the state treasurer, or to other third parties if the account owner and designated beneficiary have consented in writing to such disclosure.

(4) No cause of action shall arise against a person for disclosing confidential information in violation of subsection (2) of this section unless the act or omission giving rise to the cause of action was intentional or grossly negligent.

23-3.1-307.9. Policies for promotion and disclosure of program information.

(1) The authority shall design a policy related to the promotion of the college savings program and a policy related to the disclosure of program-related information to account owners, depositors, and designated beneficiaries in a manner consistent with this part 3 and consistent with the requirements of section 529 of the internal revenue code in order to require that:

(a) Promotional material and program-related information disclose that no moneys invested in the college savings program are insured by the state of Colorado and that neither the principal deposited nor the investment returned is guaranteed by the state of Colorado; and

(b) Any fees paid from moneys collected pursuant to this part 3 are disclosed in promotional material and program-related information provided to the public and to account owners, depositors, and designated beneficiaries.

23-3.1-310. Job retraining cash fund - repeal. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the job retraining cash fund, referred to in this section as the "fund". The fund shall consist of:

(a) Moneys transferred to the fund from the proceeds of the sale of the loan assets of the authority pursuant to section 23-3.1-205.4 (1) (c); and

(b) Any gifts, grants, or donations from private or public sources that the authority is hereby authorized to seek and accept.

(2) (a) (I) On or before October 1, 2010, the state treasurer shall deduct thirty-three thousand dollars from the fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(II) On or before July 1, 2011, the state treasurer shall deduct thirty-three thousand dollars from the fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(III) On or before July 1, 2012, the state treasurer shall transfer the balance of the fund to the general fund.

(b) The transfers to the general fund pursuant to this subsection (2) shall assist in defraying the costs to the state of implementing Senate Bill 10-202, enacted in 2010.

(3) All moneys in the fund not expended or encumbered, and all interest earned on the investment or deposit of moneys in the fund, shall remain in the fund and shall not revert to the general fund or any other fund at the end of any fiscal year.

(4) This section is repealed, effective July 1, 2013.

PART 1*GENERAL PROVISIONS

23-3.3-101. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Commission" means the Colorado commission on higher education.

(1.5) "Cost of attendance at a nonpublic institution of higher education" means:

(a) Allowances specified by the commission for room and board and miscellaneous expenses, which shall be the same for nonpublic institutions of higher education as for a representative group of comparable state institutions, as determined by the commission; and

(b) An allowance for tuition and fees equal to the lesser of:

(I) The actual tuition and fees charged by the nonpublic institution of higher education; or

(II) One hundred percent of the combination of actual in-state tuition and fees charged by a representative group of comparable state institutions plus the general fund moneys allocated to support such comparable state institutions.

(2) "In-state student" means a student at an institution of higher education who meets the criteria established by article 7 of this title for classification as an in-state student at a state institution of higher education, but “in-state student” does not include a member of the armed forces of the United States or his dependents who are eligible to obtain in-state tuition status upon moving to Colorado on a permanent change-of-station basis until such individual meets the one-year domicile requirement of section 23-7-102 (5).

(3) “Institution” means an educational institution operating in this state which meets all of the following:

(a) Admits as regular students persons having a certification of graduation from a school providing secondary education or comparable qualifications and persons for enrollment in courses which they reasonably may be expected to complete successfully;

(b) Is accredited by a nationally recognized accrediting agency or association and, in the case of private occupational schools, holds a regular certificate in accordance with the provisions of article 59 of title 12, C.R.S.;

(c) (I) Provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor’s degree;

(II) Provides not less than a two-year program which is acceptable for full credit towards such a degree; or

(III) Provides not less than a six-month program of training to prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation;

(d) Is not a branch program of an institution of higher education whose principal campus and facilities are located outside this state.

(3.5) “Nonpublic institution of higher education” shall have the same meaning as provided in section 23-3.7-102 (3).

(3.7) “Professional degree in theology” means a certificate signifying a person’s graduation from a degree program that is:

(a) Devotional in nature or designed to induce religious faith; and

(b) Offered by an institution as preparation for a career in the clergy.

(4) “State institution” means an institution supported in whole or in part by general fund moneys.

(5) “Undergraduate” refers to any program leading toward a bachelor’s degree or associate degree or any nondegree program providing training for employment in a recognized occupation.

Law reviews. For comment, “Colorado Christian University v. Weaver: Implications for the Establishment Clause Following the Death of the ‘Pervasively Sectarian’ Doctrine”, see 86 Den. U.L. Rev. 1091 (2009).

Excluding students who attend a pervasively sectarian institution from state scholarships violates the first amendment of the U.S. constitution. Colo. Christian Univ. v. Weaver, 534 F.3d 1245 (10th Cir. 2008).

23-3.3-102. Assistance program authorized - procedure - audits. (1) The general assembly hereby authorizes the commission to establish a program of financial assistance, to be operated during any school sessions, including summer sessions for students attending institutions.

(2) The commission shall determine, by guideline, the institutions eligible for participation in the program and shall annually determine the amount allocated to each institution.

(3) Each state institution shall administer a financial assistance program according to policies and procedures established by the governing board of the institution. Each private institution of higher education, as defined in section 23-18-102 (9), that participates in the program of financial assistance established pursuant to this section shall administer a financial assistance program according to policies and procedures established by the governing board of the institution. Each participating nonpublic institution that is not a private institution of higher education shall administer a financial assistance program according to policies and procedures established by the commission. Each institution shall fund its assistance program using state moneys allocated to the institution and institutional moneys.

(3.5) Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, each participating institution shall adopt policies and procedures to allow a person who meets the following criteria to qualify for financial assistance through the financial assistance programs established pursuant to this article:

- (a) The person qualifies as an in-state student; and
  - (b) The person is enrolled at an institution that participates in the programs of financial assistance established pursuant to this article; and
  - (c) The person is enrolled in an approved program of preparation, as defined in section 22-60.5-102 (8), C.R.S., for principals.
- (4) Program disbursements shall be handled by the institution subject to audit and review.

(5) Upon commencement of participation in the program, no participating institution shall decrease the amount of its own funds spent for student aid below the amount so spent prior to participation in the program.

(6) In determining the amount allocated to each institution that is not a state institution or a nonpublic institution of higher education, the commission shall consider only that portion of financial need which would have existed were the institution's tuition no greater than the highest in-state tuition rate charged by a comparable state institution. In determining the amount allocated to each nonpublic institution of higher education, the commission shall base its determination upon the cost of attendance at a nonpublic institution of higher education.

(7) Each annual budget request submitted by the commission shall provide information on the proposed distribution of moneys among the programs developed under this article. Subsequent to final appropriation, the commission shall provide to the joint budget committee an allocation proposal specifically identifying the distributions among programs for the coming year. Expenditures in any program shall not exceed the allocation for that program by more than ten percent of such allocation, and the total appropriation for all student aid programs shall not be exceeded. The commission may require such reports from institutions as are necessary to fulfill the reporting requirements of this subsection (7) and to perform other administrative tasks.

(8) The state auditor or his or her designee shall audit, in accordance with state statute and federal guidelines, the program at any participating institution every other year to review residency determinations, needs analyses, awards, payment procedures, and such other practices as may be necessary to ensure that the program is being properly administered, but the audit shall be limited to the administration of the program at the participating institution. The state auditor may accept an audit of the program from an institution that is not a state institution from such institution's independent auditor. The cost of conducting audits of the program at an institution that is not a state institution shall be borne by such institution.

(9) Repealed.

23-3.3-103. Annual appropriations. (1) The annual appropriations for student financial assistance under this article shall increase by at least the same percentage as the aggregate percentage increase of all general fund appropriations to institutions of higher education. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or impair the authority of the Colorado commission on higher education under section 23-1-105.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section concerning appropriations for student financial assistance under this article shall not apply to said appropriations for the 2010-11 fiscal year.

23-3.3-104. Assistance to professional theology students prohibited. (1) The policies and procedures established by the commission pursuant to section 23-3.3-102 (3) shall include:

(a) A prohibition against the awarding of any financial assistance pursuant to this article to a student who is pursuing a professional degree in theology; except that the prohibition described in this section shall not apply to financial assistance that is awarded to a student from a federal program, including but not limited to Title IV of the federal "Higher Education Act of 1965", 20 U.S.C. sec. 1070, as amended; and

(b) A requirement that an institution or nonpublic institution of higher education that seeks to award financial assistance to a student pursuant to this article certify that the student is not pursuing a professional degree in theology.

TUITION ASSISTANCE

23-3.3-201. Definitions. As used in this part 2, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Dependent" means:

(a) Any natural child born or conceived before the period of time either of said child's parents served as a prisoner of war, was declared a person missing in action, served on state active duty or authorized training duty as a Colorado national guardsman, or was permanently disabled or killed while acting to preserve the public peace, health, and safety in the capacity of police officer, sheriff, or other law enforcement officer or firefighter;

(b) Any child lawfully adopted, or for which formal adoption procedures were commenced, prior to the time either of said child's adoptive parents served as a prisoner of war, was declared a person missing in action, served on state active duty or authorized training duty as a Colorado national guardsman, or was permanently disabled or killed while acting to preserve the public peace, health, and safety in the capacity of police officer, sheriff, or other law enforcement officer or firefighter; or

(c) Any child in the legal custody of or whose parent has parental responsibilities with respect to such child or for which proceedings for custody or the allocation of parental responsibilities were initiated by either of said child's parents prior to the time such parent served as a prisoner of war, was declared missing in action, served on state active duty or authorized training duty as a Colorado national guardsman, or was permanently disabled or killed while acting to preserve the public peace, health, and safety in the capacity of police officer, sheriff, or other law enforcement officer or firefighter.

Editor's note: This section was similar to former § 23-1-113 as it existed prior to its repeal in 1979 and prior to the repeal and reenactment of article 1 of this title in 1985.

23-3.3-204. Dependents of prisoners of war and military personnel missing in action. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, "prisoner of war" or "person missing in action" means any person who was a resident of the state of Colorado at the time such person entered the United States armed forces and who, while serving in said United States armed forces, has been declared to be a prisoner of war or a person missing in action, as established by the secretary of defense of the United States.

(2) Any dependent of a prisoner of war or a person missing in action, upon being accepted for enrollment into any institution, shall be permitted to pursue studies leading toward a bachelor's degree or a certificate of completion, free of tuition, for so long as said dependent achieves and maintains standards as set by the institution for its students generally, but said benefits shall not be extended beyond twelve academic quarters or eight academic semesters, as the case may be. Such dependents pursuing studies at an institution that is not a state institution shall be eligible for assistance not to exceed the average cost of undergraduate instruction calculated for a full-time equivalent student at a comparable state institution for the previous year. The institution or the commission shall provide tuition assistance to such qualified students from appropriated student financial assistance funds.

(3) Any person qualifying as a dependent under this section shall not be deprived of the benefits provided by this section because of the return of a parent or the reported death of a parent.

(4) Benefits under this section shall be allowed only to those qualified dependents who are not eligible for educational benefits provided by the federal government.

23-3.3-205. Dependents of deceased or permanently disabled National Guardsman, law enforcement officer, or firefighter. (1) (a) Any dependent of a person who died or was permanently disabled while on state active duty, federalized active duty, or authorized training duty as a Colorado National Guardsman or any dependent of any person who has been permanently disabled or killed while acting to preserve the public peace, health, and safety in the capacity of police officer, sheriff, or other law enforcement officer or firefighter, upon being accepted for enrollment into any state institution, shall be permitted to pursue studies leading toward his or her first bachelor's degree or certificate of completion, free of tuition and free of room and board charges of the institution, for so long as said dependent achieves and maintains a cumulative grade point average of 2.5 or above based upon a 4.0 scale, but said benefits shall not be extended beyond six years from the date of enrollment. Such dependents pursuing studies at a nonpublic institution of higher education within the state of Colorado shall be eligible for assistance not to exceed the average cost of undergraduate instruction calculated for a full-time equivalent student at a comparable state institution for the previous year, and the average cost of room and board calculated for a full-time equivalent student at all state institutions for the previous year. Such dependents pursuing studies at an out-of-state institution of higher education shall be eligible for assistance not to exceed the average cost of undergraduate instruction calculated for a full-time equivalent student at a comparable state institution for the previous year. The commission shall provide tuition and, if appropriate, room and board assistance to such qualified students from appropriated student financial assistance funds.

(1.5) Repealed.

(2) Benefits under this section shall be allowed only to those qualified dependents who are not eligible for educational benefits provided by the federal government.

(3) (a) An individual who was permanently disabled while on state active duty, federalized active duty, or authorized training duty as a Colorado National Guardsman is permanently disabled for the purpose of determining eligibility of dependents to qualify for educational benefits if such individual is ineligible for retention as a member of the National Guard and is unable to engage in any substantial full-time gainful activity by reason of medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted for a continuous period of not less than twelve months and exists at the time the dependent seeks entry into an institution.

(b) An individual who has been permanently disabled while acting to preserve the public peace, health, and safety in the capacity of police officer, sheriff, or other law enforcement officer or firefighter is permanently disabled for the purpose of determining eligibility of dependents to qualify for educational benefits if such individual is, as a result of the disability, unable to perform in the position to which he or she was regularly assigned at the time he or she became disabled.

WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

Editor's note: This part 4 is similar to part 2 of article 1 of this title as it existed prior to 1979.

23-3.3-401. Work-study program established - requirements. (1) The commission shall use a portion of any moneys remaining after meeting the requirements of parts 2 and 3 of this article to provide a work-study program of employment of qualifying students in good standing with the institution in which they are enrolled in positions that are directly under the control of the institution in which the student is enrolled or in positions with nonprofit organizations, governmental agencies, or for-profit organizations with which the institution may execute student employment contracts.

(2) Any in-state student who is enrolled or accepted for enrollment at an institution as an undergraduate may qualify for participation in the work-study program established pursuant to this section.

(3) Funds appropriated to the commission may also be used by the commission in conjunction with and to supplement funds for current job opportunities or to supplement or match funds made available through any other public or private program for financial assistance. A sum not to exceed thirty percent of the funds allocated by the commission for the work-study program may be used to provide funding on a basis other than financial need. A sum of not less than seventy percent of such money shall be used for students demonstrating financial need.

COLORADO EDUCATIONAL EXCHANGE PROGRAM

23-3.3-600.1. Short title. This part 6 shall be known and may be cited as the "Colorado Educational Exchange Program".

Source: L. 89: Entire section added, p. 978, § 1, effective April 12.

23-3.3-601. Educational exchange program. (1) The commission is directed to establish an educational exchange program consistent with the national student exchange program. The commission shall identify those circumstances under which the waiving of the nonresident differential in tuition rates, on a reciprocal basis with other states or foreign countries, would enhance the educational experience for Colorado residents enrolled in state institutions. In relation thereto, the commission shall:

(a) Consult with the governing bodies and departments of state institutions in order to identify those classes and numbers of Colorado residents enrolled in said institutions whose educational experience would be enhanced by participation in said program; and

(b) Negotiate with the appropriate representatives of other states or foreign countries with the objective of establishing reciprocal agreements for waiving the nonresidential tuition differential for Colorado residents enrolled in state institutions who wish to enroll in the institutions of higher education in other states or foreign countries in exchange for the waiver of the nonresidential tuition differential for residents of said other states or foreign countries wishing to enroll in state institutions. The number of resident students participating in the educational exchange program shall be matched by an equal number of nonresident students enrolling at Colorado institutions of higher education.

(2) Repealed.

(3) No student may be a recipient or participant in the educational exchange program for more than one year.

(4) Residents of other states or foreign countries attending state institutions pursuant to said educational exchange program shall not be counted as nonresident students. Notwithstanding their presence in the state, such students shall not be permitted to apply the time spent in the educational exchange program toward satisfaction of residency requirements for tuition purposes.

(5) As used in this part 6, "Colorado resident" means a person who is classified, for tuition purposes, as an in-state student.

COLORADO NURSING SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

23-3.3-701. Colorado nursing scholarship program. (1) The general assembly hereby authorizes the commission to establish a nursing scholarship program. Such program shall be administered in accordance with policies and procedures established by the commission. The general assembly may appropriate annually an amount for the support of such program.

(2) The commission shall determine, by guideline, the institutions of higher education eligible for participation in the scholarship program.

(3) It is the intent of the general assembly that, under the policies and procedures established by the commission under subsection (1) of this section for awarding nursing scholarships, preference be given to individuals who shall work in federal qualifying health clinics and underserved areas with nursing shortages throughout the state.

(4) and (5) Repealed.

EARLY CHILDHOOD PROFESSIONAL LOAN REPAYMENT PROGRAM

23-3.3-801 to 23-3.3-803. (Repealed)

Editor's note: (1) This part 8 was added in 2001. For amendments to this part 8 prior to its repeal in 2007, consult the Colorado statutory research explanatory note and the table itemizing the replacement volumes and supplements to the original volume of C.R.S. 1973 beginning on page vii in the front of this volume.

(2) (a) Section 23-3.3-803 provided for the repeal of this part 8, effective July 1, 2007. (See L. 2001, p. 875.)

(b) Prior to the repeal of this part 8 on July 1, 2007, House Bill 07-1336 provided for the repeal of § 23-3.3-802, effective May 10, 2007. (See L. 2007, p. 756.)

TEACH COLORADO GRANT INITIATIVE

23-3.3-901. Teach Colorado grant initiative created - award of grants - legislative declaration. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that one of the most important components of a high-quality education is a good teacher. In Colorado, there is a shortage of public school teachers employed in high-need areas such as mathematics, science, special education, English language acquisition, and world languages. Strengthening Colorado's pipeline of licensed teachers in high-need areas will help to provide every student in every public school with the teacher he or she needs to thrive and will contribute to raising the standard of living in Colorado.

(b) Therefore, the general assembly determines that it is in the best interest of Colorado's students to encourage institutions of higher education to create scholarships for students in approved teacher preparation programs who excel in high-need content areas and who demonstrate an interest in or commitment to teaching as a career.

(2) As used in this part 9, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Approved educator preparation program" means an approved educator preparation program as defined in section 23-1-121 (1) (a).

(b) "BOCES" means a board of cooperative services as defined in section 22-5-103 (2), C.R.S.

(c) "Department" means the department of higher education created and existing pursuant to section 24-1-114, C.R.S.

(d) "Institution of higher education" means a public institution of higher education operating in this state that is supported in whole or in part by general fund moneys.

(e) "School district" means a school district in Colorado organized and existing pursuant to law. "School district" does not include a junior college district.

(3) (a) There is hereby created in the department the teach Colorado grant initiative to provide moneys for use in reducing the financial barriers to entering the teaching profession, supporting high-ability students who have demonstrated a commitment to the teaching profession, and attracting high-ability students in high-need content areas into the teaching profession. The commission shall adopt guidelines pursuant to which an institution of higher education may submit an application for a grant from the teach Colorado grant initiative to use in funding scholarships to assist persons in entering the teaching profession. At a minimum, an institution's application shall include a description of the scholarships, including student eligibility, identification of the high-need content areas or other high-need areas that will be addressed through the award of scholarships, expectations that will be imposed on the recipients, and the amount of scholarship money to be awarded to each recipient.

(b) In administering the teach Colorado grant initiative, the department shall annually collaborate with the department of education to determine the high-need content areas, which may include, but need not be limited to, mathematics, science, special education, English language acquisition, and world languages. The department shall annually publicize to the institutions of higher education the content areas that are considered to be high-need areas.

(c) In designing a scholarship, an institution of higher education that is seeking funding from the teach Colorado grant initiative may include students who are seeking a baccalaureate degree and have enrolled in an approved teacher preparation program, students who demonstrate excellence in a high-need content area and are considering enrolling in an approved teacher preparation program, and students who have completed a baccalaureate degree or higher and have enrolled or are considering enrolling in an approved teacher preparation program. Scholarship moneys shall not be paid on behalf of a student until the student has enrolled in an approved teacher preparation program.

(d) The commission shall adopt such additional guidelines as may be necessary for administration of the teach Colorado grant initiative, including but not limited to the application process, criteria for awarding grants in addition to those specified in subsection (4) of this section, and the amount of grants to be awarded.

(4) In awarding grants through the teach Colorado grant initiative, the department shall give special consideration to scholarships that:

(a) Are designed to create a partnership between two institutions of higher education, one of which does not have an approved educator preparation program but has students who have demonstrated academic excellence in one or more high-need content areas and have expressed an interest in entering the teaching profession;

(b) Are designed to create a partnership between the institution of higher education and one or more school districts or BOCES that have a shortage of teachers in high-need content areas;

(c) Are designed to meet the needs of rural or high-poverty schools, school districts, or BOCES, as identified by the department of education;

(d) Are designed to assist honorably discharged veterans of the armed forces in entering the teaching profession; or

(e) Require each scholarship recipient to commit to completing his or her student teaching in a rural or high-poverty school, school district, or BOCES, as identified by the department of education.

(5) The amount of a scholarship awarded to an individual student by an institution of higher education pursuant to a teach Colorado grant shall not exceed the amount of in-state tuition charged by the institution for thirty semester hours of credit.

(6) On or before February 1, 2009, and on or before February 1 each year thereafter, the commission shall report to the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, concerning the number of institutions of higher education receiving teach Colorado grants pursuant to this section, the amount of the grants awarded, the number of students receiving scholarships through grants awarded pursuant to this section, and a general summary of the scholarships funded through grants awarded pursuant to this section.

(7) In addition to any general funds appropriated by the general assembly to the department for the implementation of the teach Colorado grant initiative, the department is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, and donations from private and public sources for the implementation of the teach Colorado grant initiative.

23-3.5-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Commission” means the Colorado commission on higher education.

(2) “In-state student” means an undergraduate student at an institution of higher education who meets the criteria established by article 7 of this title for classification as an in-state student at a state institution of higher education, but “in-state student” does not include a member of the armed forces of the United States or his dependents who are eligible to obtain in-state tuition status upon moving to Colorado on a permanent change-of-station basis until such individual meets the one-year domicile requirement of section 23-7-102 (5).

(3) (a) “Institution of higher education” means an educational institution operating in this state that:

(I) Admits as regular students only persons having a certification of graduation from a school providing secondary education or the recognized equivalent of such a certificate;

(II) Is accredited by a nationally recognized accrediting agency or association and, in the case of private occupational schools, holds a regular certificate from the private occupational school division in accordance with the provisions of article 59 of title 12, C.R.S., or is regulated or approved pursuant to any other statute;

(III) (A) Provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor’s degree; or

(B) Provides not less than a two-year program which is acceptable for full credit towards such a degree; or

(C) Provides not less than a one-year program of training to prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation; or

(D) Is a private occupational school providing not less than a six-month program of training to prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation;

(IV) Was in operation in this state as of January 1, 1999, or has been in operation in this state for a minimum of ten academic years.

(b) The term “institution of higher education” does not include a branch program of an institution of higher education whose principal campus and facilities are located outside this state, unless the institution operating the branch program has received a certificate of approval from the private occupational school division in accordance with the provisions of article 59 of title 12, C.R.S.

(4) "Nonpublic institution" means an educational institution which receives no support from general fund moneys in support of its operating costs.

(5) "Professional degree in theology" means a certificate signifying a person's graduation from a degree program that is:

- (a) Devotional in nature or designed to induce religious faith; and
- (b) Offered by an institution as preparation for a career in the clergy.

23-3.5-103. Grant program authorized - administration. (1) The general assembly hereby authorizes the commission to establish a grant program for in-state students having financial need, to be administered in accordance with federal law and regulations and guidelines established by the commission.

(2) The commission shall determine, by guideline, the institutions of higher education eligible for participation in the grant program, and each eligible institution of higher education shall recommend in-state students to the commission for receipt of a grant.

(3) Grant program disbursements shall be handled by the institution of higher education, subject to audit and review as provided in section 23-3.5-104.

(4) Upon commencement of participation in the grant program, no participating institution of higher education shall decrease the amount of its own funds spent for student aid below the amount so spent prior to participation in the grant program.

(5) In determining the amount of a grant, the commission shall consider only that portion of an in-state student's financial need which would have existed were the nonpublic institution's tuition no greater than the highest in-state tuition rate charged by a comparable state institution of higher education.

NURSING TEACHER
LOAN FORGIVENESS PILOT PROGRAM

(1) “Collegeinvest” means the authority transferred to the department of higher education pursuant to section 23-3.1-203.

(2) “Participating private institution of higher education” means a college or university that is participating in the college opportunity fund program created in article 18 of this title.

(3) “Program” means the nursing teacher loan forgiveness pilot program authorized pursuant to section 23-3.6-102.

(4) “Public institution of higher education” means a postsecondary educational institution established and existing pursuant to law as an agency of the state of Colorado and supported wholly or in part by tax revenues.

(5) “Qualified loan” means a student loan incurred while earning a master’s degree in nursing or a doctoral degree in nursing or related field from a public or participating private institution of higher education.

(6) “Qualified position” means at least half-time employment by a public or participating private institution of higher education, of which a majority of the time includes the classroom, clinical, and lab instruction required to earn a degree or certificate in nursing.

Source: L. 2006: Entire article added, p. 1542, § 1, effective June 1. L. 2007: IP amended, p. 2109, § 4, effective June 4. L. 2010: (6) amended, (SB 10-058), ch. 144, p. 490, § 1, effective August 11.

23-3.6-102. Nursing teacher loan forgiveness pilot program - administration - fund - conditions. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby authorizes collegeinvest to develop and maintain a nursing teacher loan forgiveness pilot program for implementation beginning in the fall semester of the 2006-07 academic year. The program shall provide for payment of up to twenty thousand dollars for all or part of the principal of and interest on a qualified loan if the person is hired for a qualified position and stays in a qualified position for a period of not less than five consecutive academic years after the person earned an advanced degree in nursing. Repayment of loans through the program may be made using moneys in the nursing teacher loan forgiveness fund, created in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1), or moneys allocated to the program by collegeinvest. Collegeinvest is authorized to receive and expend gifts, grants, and donations or moneys appropriated by the general assembly for the purpose of implementing the program. On and after May 19, 2011, collegeinvest shall not enter into any new contracts to provide loan repayments to or for the benefit of a nursing teacher pursuant to this section.

(b) There is hereby created in the state treasury the nursing teacher loan forgiveness fund, which shall consist of all moneys appropriated by the general assembly for the program and any gifts, grants, and donations received for said purpose. Moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the department of higher education for the program. Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of this part 1 may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund; except that, on June 30, 2011, the state treasurer shall transfer any balance in the fund in excess of two hundred twenty-seven thousand dollars from the fund to the general fund, and collegeinvest shall use the two hundred twenty-seven thousand dollars remaining in the fund on June 30, 2011, to provide funding for contracts entered into by or on behalf of collegeinvest prior to May 19, 2011, and to cover its costs in administering the program. Collegeinvest shall notify the state treasurer when all obligations under contracts entered into by or on behalf of collegeinvest prior to May 19, 2011, are satisfied, and upon such notification, the state treasurer shall transfer any remaining balance in the fund to the general fund.

(2) In addition to any qualifications specified by collegeinvest, to qualify for the program, a nursing teacher shall:

- (a) Earn a master's or doctoral degree in nursing;
- (b) Be liable for an outstanding balance on a qualified loan;
- (c) Agree to teach in a qualified position for a period of not less than five consecutive academic years, beginning within four years after completion of the advanced degree specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2);
- (d) Teach in a qualified position for not less than five consecutive academic years, beginning within four years after completion of the advanced degree specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2); and
- (e) Agree that, if the nursing teacher leaves the qualified position prior to teaching for five consecutive academic years, the nursing teacher shall be liable to repay the amount of the qualified loan paid or forgiven through the program plus interest; except that, if the nursing teacher leaves the qualified position involuntarily, the nursing teacher shall not be liable to repay the amount paid or forgiven, but shall be responsible for paying the amount remaining due on a qualified loan.

(3) The program shall provide that, following each of the five consecutive academic years that the nursing teacher is employed in a qualified position, the lesser of one-fifth or four thousand dollars of the nursing teacher's qualified loan shall be paid or forgiven.

23-3.7-101. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares: That the costs of education at Colorado’s public and nonpublic institutions of higher education have increased dramatically in recent years; that while the increased costs of education at public institutions have been defrayed by state support of such institutions Coloradans wishing to attend nonpublic institutions of higher education in the state face a serious financial burden; that the decline of Colorado’s nonpublic institutions of higher education due to an absence of students able to bear the costs of education would increase the number of students seeking admission to state-funded institutions; and that the preservation of Colorado’s traditional diversity in higher education and access to a variety of educational opportunities for Coloradans of all backgrounds and resources require that the general assembly act to assist in-state students in meeting the increased costs of education at Colorado’s nonpublic institutions of higher education.

23-3.7-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) “Commission” means the Colorado commission on higher education.
- (2) “In-state student” means a student at a nonpublic institution of higher education who meets the criteria established by article 7 of this title for classification as an in-state student at a state institution of higher education, who is pursuing a degree, and who is a graduate of a high school located in Colorado. “In-state student” includes a member of the armed forces of the United States or his dependents.
- (3) “Nonpublic institution of higher education” means an institution of higher education operating in this state that:
  - (a) Receives no support from general fund moneys in support of its operating costs;
  - (b) Admits as regular students only persons having a certification of graduation from a school providing secondary education or the recognized equivalent of such a certificate;
  - (c) Is accredited by a nationally recognized accrediting agency or association and, in the case of private occupational schools, holds a certificate of approval from the private occupational school division in accordance with the provisions of article 59 of title 12, C.R.S., or is regulated or approved pursuant to any other statute;

- (d) (I) Provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor's degree or a graduate degree; or
  - (II) Provides not less than a two-year program that is acceptable for full credit towards such a degree; or
  - (III) Provides not less than a one-year program of training to prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation; or
  - (IV) Is a private occupational school providing not less than a six-month program of training to prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation;
  - (e) Was in operation in this state as of January 1, 1999, or has been in operation in this state for a minimum of ten academic years; and
  - (f) Is not a branch program or campus of an institution of higher education whose principal campus and facilities are located outside this state, unless the institution operating the branch program has received a certificate of approval from the private occupational school division in accordance with the provisions of article 59 of title 12, C.R.S.
- (4) "Professional degree in theology" means a certificate signifying a person's graduation from a degree program that is:
- (a) Devotional in nature or designed to induce religious faith; and
  - (b) Offered by an institution as preparation for a career in the clergy.

23-3.7-103. Tuition assistance grant program - authorization - administration.

- (1) The general assembly hereby authorizes the commission to establish and administer a tuition assistance grant program within the scholarship and grant program for in-state students attending nonpublic institutions of higher education in this state.
- (2) An in-state student may apply to an eligible nonpublic institution of higher education for a grant at any time after his or her acceptance by such nonpublic institution of higher education. The commission shall award grants, out of moneys in the fund created in section 23-3.7-107, for such students to such institutions in accordance with criteria established by the commission. In establishing this criteria the commission shall include, but not be limited to, the consideration of need and merit. The criteria shall also include:
  - (a) A prohibition against the awarding of any financial assistance pursuant to this article to a student who is pursuing a professional degree in theology; except that the prohibition described in this section shall not apply to financial assistance that is awarded to a student from a federal program, including but not limited to Title IV of the federal "Higher Education Act of 1965", 20 U.S.C. sec. 1070, as amended; and
  - (b) A requirement that a nonpublic institution of higher education that seeks to award financial assistance to a student pursuant to this article certify that the student is not pursuing a professional degree in theology.
- (3) Grants, except in the case of part-time students, shall be for not more than one thousand five hundred dollars per academic year, and no student may receive more than one grant per academic year.
- (4) Students enrolled on less than a full-time but more than a half-time basis shall be eligible for prorated grants as determined by the commission.
- (5) A grant shall be awarded for not more than four academic years of credit, which shall be completed within twelve years of the initial award of such grant. Such grant may be renewed annually in accordance with criteria established by the commission in subsection (2) of this section and shall include the consideration of the student's performance and circumstances since the initial award of such grant.

(6) Grants shall be transmitted to nonpublic institutions of higher education on behalf of in-state students at the time of registration by the students.

(7) If an in-state student discontinues attendance at a nonpublic institution of higher education before the end of the academic term for which a grant has been transmitted on his behalf, the institution shall remit the unused portion of such student's grant to the commission as determined by the commission.

23-3.9-101. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Approved program of preparation" means a program of study for preparation that is approved by the Colorado commission on higher education pursuant to section 23-1-121 and that upon completion leads to a recommendation for licensure by an accepted institution of higher education in Colorado.

(2) "Commission" means the Colorado commission on higher education.

(3) "Facility school" means an approved facility school as defined in section 22-2-402 (1), C.R.S.

(3.5) "High-poverty school" means a public school at which the number of pupils enrolled who are eligible for free lunch pursuant to the provisions of the federal "National School Lunch Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 1751 et seq., is at least equal to or greater than twenty-eight percent of the school's student enrollment.

(4) "Qualified position" means:

(a) A teaching position in a high-poverty school that is a Colorado elementary public school in a rural school district or in a facility school that is in a rural school district; or

(b) A teaching position in math, science, special education, or linguistically diverse education in a Colorado public school or a facility school.

(5) "Rural school district" means a school district that does not include within its geographic boundaries a municipality exceeding five thousand persons and that is characterized by sparse, widespread populations.

23-3.9-102. Teacher loan forgiveness pilot program - administration - fund - conditions. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby authorizes the commission to develop and maintain a teacher loan forgiveness pilot program for implementation beginning in the 2001-02 academic year for payment of all or part of the principal and interest of the educational loans of a first-year teacher who is hired for a qualified position. Beginning in the 2004-05 academic year, the commission is authorized to extend the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program to include payment of all or part of the principal and interest of the educational loans of a teacher who is hired to teach in a qualified position after the teacher's first year of teaching. Repayment of loans through the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program may be made using moneys in the teacher loan forgiveness fund, created in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1), or moneys allocated to the program by collegeinvest. The commission is authorized to receive and expend gifts, grants, and donations for the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program. Only graduates of institutions of higher education whose loans have collegeinvest eligibility may receive repayment of their loans using moneys allocated to the program by collegeinvest.

(b) There is hereby created the teacher loan forgiveness fund, which shall consist of all moneys appropriated thereto by the general assembly for the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program and any gifts, grants, and donations received for said purpose. Moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the department of higher education for the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

(2) In addition to any qualifications specified by the commission, to qualify for the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program, a teacher shall:

- (a) Graduate from an approved program of preparation;
  - (b) Meet licensure requirements pursuant to section 22-60.5-201 (1) (b) or (1) (c) or 22-60.5-210, C.R.S.;
  - (c) (I) Demonstrate professional competencies consistent with state board of education rules in the subject matter in which the teacher obtains a qualified position; or
(II) Be fully qualified under a training program approved by a federal court or agency or the state department of education;
  - (d) (I) Contract for the teacher's first year of teaching in a qualified position, as defined in section 23-3.9-101 (4) (b), no earlier than June 2001 and no later than the end of the 2008-09 academic year; or
(II) If the teacher is not a first-year teacher, contract to teach in a qualified position, as defined in section 23-3.9-101 (4) (b), no earlier than June 2004 and no later than the end of the 2008-09 academic year; or
(III) Initially apply to participate in the program and teach in a qualified position, as defined in section 23-3.9-101 (4) (a), on or after June 1, 2005, and no later than the end of the 2012-13 academic year;
  - (e) Work at least half-time in a qualified position if employed in a rural school district, or, beginning with the fall semester of the 2005-06 academic year, full-time in a qualified position if employed in a school district other than a rural school district; and
  - (f) Be liable for an outstanding balance on a collegeinvest loan or a loan through a lender with an agreement with collegeinvest to offer loans.
- (3) A teacher who qualifies under subsection (2) of this section may be eligible for up to two thousand dollars in loan forgiveness for the first year of teaching in a qualified position and up to two thousand dollars in loan forgiveness for each of the next three years of teaching in a qualified position.
- (3.5) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (3) of this section, a teacher who qualifies under subsection (2) of this section, initially applies to participate in the program in any of academic years 2009-10 to 2012-13, and teaches in a high-poverty elementary school in a rural school district shall be eligible for up to four thousand dollars in loan forgiveness for each of the first two years of teaching in a qualified position and up to one thousand dollars in loan forgiveness for each of the next two years of teaching in a qualified position.
- (4) If a teacher qualifies for the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program through employment in a high-poverty elementary school in a rural school district and in a subsequent academic year the school no longer meets the criteria to be classified as a high-poverty elementary school in a rural school district, the teacher may continue to participate in the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program if he or she continues to teach at the same school.
- (5) If a teacher qualifies for the teacher loan forgiveness pilot program through employment in a high-poverty elementary school in a rural school district and subsequently transfers to a nonqualifying school, he or she forfeits participant status under this section.
- (6) The department of education shall annually identify the public schools in the state that qualify as high-poverty elementary schools in rural school districts.

23-5-101.5. Enterprise status of auxiliary facilities - definitions. (1) Any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities with similar functions which is managed by the governing body of an institution of higher education or by the board of directors of the Auraria higher education center may be designated as an enterprise for the purposes of section 20 of article X of the state constitution so long as the governing body of the institution of higher education or the board of directors of the Auraria higher education center, whichever manages such auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities, retains the authority to issue revenue bonds on behalf of such auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities and such auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities receives less than ten percent of its total annual revenues in grants from all Colorado state and local governments combined. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, for the purposes of determining whether an auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities may be designated as an enterprise, it is sufficient that the governing body of an institution of higher education or the board of directors of the Auraria higher education center, whichever manages such auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities, has authority to issue revenue bonds on behalf of such auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities. So long as it is designated as an enterprise pursuant to the provisions of this section, an auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities shall not be subject to any of the provisions of section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(1.5) In pledging revenues for the repayment of revenue bonds issued on behalf of any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities that is designated as an enterprise, the institution of higher education and the auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities may pledge internal revenues only if the auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities:

(a) Is accounted for separately in institutional financial records;

(b) Is self-supporting from revenues received as gifts from nongovernmental sources or in exchange for goods and services; and

(c) Engages in the type of activities that are commonly carried on for profit outside the public sector.

(2) As used in this section and sections 23-5-101.7 to 23-5-105.5:

(a) "Auxiliary facility" means any student or faculty housing facility; student or faculty dining facility; recreational facility; student activities facility; child care facility; continuing education facility or activity; intercollegiate athletic facility or activity; health facility; alternative or renewable energy producing facility, including but not limited to, a solar, wind, biomass, geothermal, or hydroelectric facility; college store; or student or faculty parking facility; or any similar facility or activity that has been historically managed, and was accounted for in institutional financial statements prepared for fiscal year 1991-92, as a self-supporting facility or activity, including any additions to and any extensions or replacements of any such facility on any campus under the control of the governing board managing such facility. "Auxiliary facility" shall also mean any activity undertaken by the governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education as an eligible lender participant pursuant to parts 1 and 2 of article 3.1 of this title.

(b) (I) "Grant" means any direct cash subsidy or other direct contribution of money from the state or any local government in Colorado which is not required to be repaid.

(II) "Grant" does not include:

(A) Any indirect benefit conferred upon an auxiliary facility, or group of auxiliary facilities or an institution or group of institutions from the state or any local government in Colorado, including any interest in or use of existing facilities owned, funded, or financed by the governing board of an institution, the state, or any local government in Colorado;

(B) Any revenues resulting from market exchanges such as rates, fees, assessments, tuition, or other charges imposed by an auxiliary facility, or group of auxiliary facilities or by an institution or group of institutions for the provision of goods or services by such auxiliary facility, group of auxiliary facilities, institution or group of institutions, including services to the state or a local government in Colorado and fees paid to the auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities for internal services provided to the institution of higher education with which the auxiliary facility is associated;

(C) Any federal funds, regardless of whether such federal funds pass through the state or any local government in Colorado prior to receipt by an auxiliary facility, group of auxiliary facilities, institution, or group of institutions;

(D) Fees received by an institution pursuant to a fee-for-service contract between the department of higher education and the institution or the institution's governing board;

(E) Revenues received by an institution or group of institutions that have been paid on behalf of an eligible undergraduate student from the college opportunity fund pursuant to article 18 of this title.

(c) "Internal revenues" means revenues received in exchange for the provision of goods or services to the institution of higher education with which the auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities is associated; except that revenues received from another auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities that has been designated as an enterprise are not "internal revenues".

(3) (a) The governing body of an institution of higher education or the board of directors of the Auraria higher education center may, by resolution, designate any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities with similar functions managed by such governing body or board of directors, as applicable, as an enterprise so long as such auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities meets the requirements for an enterprise as stated in subsection (1) of this section. The designation of a group of auxiliary facilities with similar functions may include auxiliary facilities that are located at one or more campuses or institutions under the jurisdiction of the governing body or board of directors. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3), any such designation of an auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (a) shall not terminate, expire, or be rescinded as long as the auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities meets the requirements for an enterprise.

(b) All designations adopted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) shall be submitted by the adopting body to the office of the state auditor in the form and manner prescribed by the legislative audit committee. Said designations shall be reviewed by said office to determine whether said designations are within the authority of the adopting body pursuant to the provisions of this section and for later review by the legislative audit committee for its opinion as to whether the designations conform with the provisions of this section. The official certificate of the state auditor as to the fact of submission or the date of submission of a designation as shown by the records of the office of the state auditor, as well as to the fact of nonsubmission as shown by the nonexistence of such records, shall be received and held in all civil cases as competent evidence of the facts contained therein. Any such designation adopted by a governing body of an institution of higher education or by the board of directors of the Auraria higher education center without being so submitted within twenty days after adoption to the office of the state auditor for review by said office and by the legislative audit committee shall be void. The findings of the office of the state auditor shall be presented to said committee at a public meeting held after timely notice to the public and affected adopting bodies. The legislative audit committee shall, on affirmative vote, submit such designations, comments, and any proposed legislation at the next regular session of the general assembly. Any member of the general assembly may introduce a bill which rescinds any designation. Rejection of such a bill does not constitute legislative approval of such designation. Each adopting body shall revise its designations to conform with the action taken by the general assembly. For the purpose of performing the functions assigned it by this paragraph (b), the legislative audit committee, with the approval of the speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate, may appoint subcommittees from the membership of the general assembly.

(4) The following auxiliary facilities shall be designated as enterprises in accordance with the requirements of this section:

(a) Auraria higher education center:

(I) Parking;

(II) Student facilities;

(III) Reprographics; and

(IV) Other auxiliaries;

23-5-101.7. Enterprise status of institutions of higher education. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, “institution of higher education” or “institution” means the Colorado state university - Pueblo, Adams state university, Colorado Mesa university, Metropolitan state university of Denver, Fort Lewis college, Western state Colorado university, the university of northern Colorado, Colorado school of mines, the university of Colorado, Colorado state university, and all community colleges governed by the state board for community colleges and occupational education.

(2) An institution of higher education, or a group of institutions of higher education that is managed by a single governing board, may be designated as an enterprise for the purposes of section 20 of article X of the state constitution so long as the governing board of the institution or group of institutions retains authority to issue revenue bonds on behalf of the institution or group of institutions and the institution or group of institutions receives less than ten percent of its total annual revenues in grants from all Colorado state and local governments combined. So long as it is designated as an enterprise pursuant to the provisions of this section, an institution or group of institutions shall not be subject to any of the provisions of section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(3) In pledging revenues for the repayment of revenue bonds issued on behalf of an institution of higher education or group of institutions of higher education that is designated as an enterprise, the institution or group of institutions may pledge internal revenues only if the institution or group of institutions:

(a) Is accounted for separately in institutional financial records; and

(b) Engages in the type of activities that are commonly carried on for profit outside the public sector.

(4) (a) The governing board of an institution of higher education may, by resolution, designate an institution of higher education or group of institutions of higher education managed by the governing board as an enterprise so long as the institution or group of institutions meets the requirements for an enterprise stated in subsection (2) of this section. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (4), any such enterprise designation shall not terminate, expire, or be rescinded as long as the institution or group of institutions meets the requirements for an enterprise.

(b) All resolutions adopted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) shall be submitted by the adopting governing board to the office of the state auditor in the form and manner prescribed by the legislative audit committee. The designations shall be reviewed by the office of the state auditor to determine whether the designations are within the authority of the adopting governing board pursuant to the provisions of this section. The legislative audit committee shall also review the designations to determine whether the designations conform with the provisions of this section. The official certificate of the state auditor as to the fact of submission or the date of submission of a designation as shown by the records of the office of the state auditor, as well as to the fact of nonsubmission as shown by the nonexistence of such records, shall be received and held in all civil cases as competent evidence of the facts contained therein. A designation adopted by a governing board of an institution or group of institutions of higher education without being submitted within twenty days after adoption to the office of the state auditor for review by the office and by the legislative audit committee shall be void.

23-5-102. Funding for auxiliary facilities - institutions of higher education - loans - bonds. (1) For the purpose of obtaining funds for constructing, otherwise acquiring, and equipping auxiliary facilities for the use of students and employees at any state educational institution or any branch thereof or facilities for use by any institution or group of institutions that is designated as an enterprise pursuant to section 23-5-101.7 and for the acquisition of land for such purposes, the governing board of any state educational institution is authorized, after notification to the commission on higher education, to enter into contracts with any person, corporation, or state or federal government agency for the advancement of money for such purposes and providing for the repayment of such advancements with interest at a specified net effective interest rate.

(2) The governing board of any institution of higher education by resolution may issue revenue bonds on behalf of any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities or on behalf of any institution or group of institutions managed by such governing board for the purpose of obtaining funds for constructing, otherwise acquiring, equipping, or operating such auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities or for facilities for such institution or group of institutions. Any bonds issued on behalf of any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities, other than housing facilities, dining facilities, recreational facilities, health facilities, parking facilities, alternative or renewable energy producing facilities including but not limited to, solar, wind, biomass, geothermal, or hydroelectric facilities, research facilities that are funded from a revolving fund, or designated enterprise auxiliary facilities listed in section 23-5-101.5 (4) may be issued only after approval by both houses of the general assembly either by bill or by joint resolution and after approval by the governor in accordance with section 39 of article V of the state constitution. The governing board of an institution or group of institutions that issues bonds on behalf of the institution or group of institutions, which is designated as an enterprise pursuant to section 23-5-101.7, shall file notice of such issuance with the Colorado commission on higher education. Bonds issued pursuant to this subsection (2) shall be payable only from revenues generated by the auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities or by the institution or group of institutions on behalf of which such bonds are issued; except that, subject to section 23-5-119.5 (5) (a) (III) and (5) (b) (II), revenues generated by a designated enterprise that is associated with the university of Colorado may be pledged for the repayment of bonds issued by another designated enterprise auxiliary facility that is not part of the same enterprise. Such bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of section 23-5-103 (2). The termination, rescission, or expiration of the enterprise designation of any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities pursuant to section 23-5-101.5 (3) or of any institution or group of institutions shall not adversely affect the validity of or security for any revenue bonds issued on behalf of any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities or on behalf of any institution or group of institutions.

23-5-103. Pledge of income. (1) The governing board of any one or more state educational institutions, including, but not limited to, the state colleges under the control and operation of their respective boards of trustees, that enters into such a contract for the advancement of moneys is authorized, in connection with or as a part of such contract, to pledge the net income derived or to be derived from such land or facilities so constructed, acquired, and equipped as security for the repayment of the moneys advanced therefor, together with interest thereon, and for the establishment and maintenance of reserves in connection therewith; and, for the same purpose, any such governing board is also authorized, subject to the limitations specified in section 23-5-119.5 (5), to pledge the net income derived or to be derived from other facilities that are included in a designated enterprise or, if not included, other facilities that are not acquired and not to be acquired with moneys appropriated to the institution by the state of Colorado, and to pledge the net income, fees, and revenues derived from such sources, if unpledged, or, if pledged, the net income, fees, and revenues currently in excess of the amount required to meet principal, interest, and reserve requirements in connection with outstanding obligations to which such net income, fees, and revenues have theretofore been pledged. A governing board of an institution or group of institutions designated as an enterprise pursuant to section 23-5-101.7 that has entered into a contract for the advancement of money on behalf of such an institution or group of institutions may pledge up to ten percent of tuition revenues of such an enterprise, except for general fund moneys appropriated by the general assembly, and all or a portion of a facility construction fee that may be imposed as security for the repayment of the moneys advanced pursuant to said contract. The pledge of tuition revenues or the imposition of a facility construction fee shall include a process for student input consistent with the institutional plan for student fees adopted by the governing board of the applicable institution pursuant to section 23-5-119.5.

(2) Any advancement of moneys may be evidenced by interim warrants, if necessary, and bonds to be executed by and on behalf of the educational institution receiving the advancement and containing such terms and provisions, including provisions for redemption prior to maturity, as may be determined by the governing board of such institution. Such warrants or bonds may, at the discretion of the governing board, be registerable as to principal or interest, or both, and shall never be sold at less than ninety-five percent of the principal amount thereof and accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery nor at a price which will result in a net effective interest rate which exceeds that specified in the contract for the advancement of moneys. Any of the warrants or bonds of the institution issued pursuant to this article or any other law may be refunded pursuant to article 54 of title 11, C.R.S., if in the judgment of the governing board such refunding is to the best interests of the educational institution. Such refunding obligations may be made payable from any source which may be legally pledged for the payment of the obligations being refunded at the time of the issuance of the obligations so refunded or from any of the sources described in subsection (1) of this section, notwithstanding the pledge for the payment of the outstanding obligations being refunded is thereby modified.

(3) If the pledged net income, fees, and revenues exceed the amount required to meet principal, interest, and reserve requirements in connection with revenue bonds of the institution to which such income has been pledged and exceed the amount necessary for the maintenance and operation of the auxiliary facility plus any amount set aside in a reserve fund for repair and replacement of the facility, the governing board may retain such surplus and utilize the same in such manner as in its judgment is for the best interests of the educational institution; except that, if the governing board uses the surplus moneys on a project requiring total project expenditures that exceed two million dollars, the project shall be subject to the provisions of section 23-1-106. Use of such surplus shall be reviewed in advance by representatives of the student government at the institution with which the auxiliary facility is associated.

(4) Anticipation warrants or bonds issued pursuant to this article may be used as security for any depository bond or obligation where any kind of bonds or other securities shall or may by law be deposited as security.

23-5-106. Authority of governing boards - general - health care insurance - contracts of indemnity. (1) The governing board of any state institution of higher education has the authority to promulgate rules and regulations for the safety and welfare of students, employees, and property, to promulgate rules and regulations necessary for the governance of the respective institutions, and to promulgate rules and regulations deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of sections 23-5-106 to 23-5-110. Western state Colorado university shall not refuse to admit any Colorado resident qualified in accordance with applicable Colorado commission on higher education admission standards.

(2) The governing board of any state institution of higher education shall not promulgate any rules or regulations that restrict or prohibit on-campus recruiting by any local, state, or federal governmental agency; except that recruiting activities by any local, state, or federal governmental agency shall be subject to the same time, place, or manner restrictions that apply to other entities that conduct recruiting on campus.

(3) (a) The governing board of an institution of higher education shall not require an undergraduate student to purchase health care insurance or health care services.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) do not apply to any program that was in existence at an institution of higher education on January 1, 1994.

(4) The governing board of a state institution of higher education that is designated as an enterprise pursuant to section 23-5-101.7 may contract to indemnify and hold harmless a contractor if the governing board determines that the contract serves a valid public purpose and any risks to the institution that may arise from entering into the contract are sufficiently limited and outweighed by the benefits of the contract. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a liability claim or expense that arises from a contract to indemnify or hold harmless entered into by a governing board pursuant to this subsection (4) shall not be payable from the risk management fund created in section 24-30-1510, C.R.S., and shall be payable solely from revenues of the institution.

23-5-107. Authority of governing boards - parking. (1) The governing board of any state institution of higher education is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations providing for the operation and parking of vehicles upon the grounds, driveways, or roadways within the property under the control of the governing board. Such rules and regulations may include, but not be limited to, regulation and control of the following:

- (a) Assignment of parking spaces, designation of areas for parking, and regulation of the use of such spaces and areas including the assessment of charges therefor;
- (b) Prohibition or limitation of parking in the manner deemed necessary;
- (c) Removal of vehicles parked in violation of institutional rules and regulations, ordinances, or law at the expense of the violator;
- (d) Assessment of charges for violation of rules and regulations.

23-5-108. Governing boards authorized to cede jurisdiction for enforcement of traffic laws. (1) The governing board of any state institution of higher education is authorized to cede jurisdiction to the town, city, city and county, or county in which the property under the control of the governing board is located for the enforcement of ordinances, resolutions, and laws pertaining to the operation of motor vehicles, subject to the acceptance of jurisdiction by the respective town, city, city and county, or county.

(2) Upon acceptance of jurisdiction:

(a) The town, city, city and county, or county has authority to enforce the provisions of ordinances, resolutions, or state law pertaining to the operation of motor vehicles on streets or highways within the property under the control of the governing board by means of the police and judicial powers established by resolution, ordinance, or law; except that such jurisdiction shall not conflict with the authority provided in section 23-5-107, as such is exercised by the governing board;

(b) The ordinances and resolutions of the respective local authorities and state laws shall have the same force and effect on the driveways and roadways within the property under the control of the governing board as they have on the streets and highways within the jurisdiction of the local authorities;

(c) The local authorities shall, upon recommendation of the governing board of any state institution of higher education or its designated officer, establish traffic control devices upon the property under the control of such institution, and, upon establishment, the devices shall have the same legal effect as provided in sections 42-4-112 and 42-4-603, C.R.S. The traffic control devices so established shall be installed at the expense of the institution.

(3) Even though jurisdiction is ceded in the manner provided by this section, the authority to establish, close, change, alter, or limit access to the driveways or roadways within the property under the control of a governing board shall vest and remain with such governing board.

(4) The jurisdiction of local authorities to enforce ordinances, resolutions, and laws pertaining to the operation of motor vehicles upon the property under the control of a state institution of higher education shall not be deemed to convey any right, title, or interest in the roadways and driveways of said property, and the jurisdiction over said roadways and driveways shall extend only to enforcement of such ordinances, resolutions, and laws. The state of Colorado reserves the right at all times to revoke the jurisdiction of local authorities granted by this section.

(5) The governing board of any state institution of higher education is authorized to institute and carry out a system of registration of vehicle identification owned or operated by its students, faculty, and staff. By rule or regulation, the governing board may provide for the issuance of suitable vehicle identification insignia, its proper use, and requirements for attachment to the registered vehicle. Authority is also granted to provide for suspension of the registration and penalties, other than criminal penalties, upon suspension including, but not limited to, barring the vehicle from parking or driving on institution property. Reasonable charges may be assessed for registration and reinstatement upon suspension.

23-5-109. Identification. The governing board of any state institution of higher education is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations establishing a system of identification of students, faculty, and staff which may include provisions for penalties other than criminal penalties and provisions for disciplinary action for failure to display one's identification card upon request by an authorized official, possession of a false identification card, and alteration of an identification card. The authorized officials of such institution have authority to detain a person upon the property under the control of the institution for the purpose of obtaining proper identification if such person refuses to display his identification card or otherwise give adequate identification upon request by an authorized official.

23-5-111.4. Tuition for members of the National Guard. (1) The general assembly recognizes its responsibility for the establishment and maintenance of a strong well-trained and high-spirited National Guard. The encouragement of membership in the guard through the granting of reduced or free tuition at certain institutions of postsecondary education simultaneously expresses a commitment to a part of this responsibility and supports existing institutions, carrying out a policy of maintaining reasonable access to quality education as broadly in this state as possible. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that the establishment of a tuition assistance program will encourage enlistments, enhance the knowledge and skills of the National Guard, and retain membership in the National Guard.

(2) (a) Any person who is a member of the Colorado National Guard, upon being accepted for enrollment at any designated institution of higher education, shall be permitted to pursue studies leading toward a bachelor's degree, a postgraduate degree, an associate degree, or a certificate of completion with at least fifty percent but not more than one hundred percent of the cost of tuition paid by the department of military and veterans affairs, subject to available appropriations, for so long as such person remains a member of the Colorado National Guard, but such tuition payments shall not be made for more than one hundred thirty-two semester hours or one hundred ninety-eight quarter hours or for more than eight years.

(a.5) A member shall be eligible for tuition assistance pursuant to this section to the extent that the sum of the member's tuition assistance from all sources, including the federal government, does not exceed one hundred percent of the cost of tuition.

(b) In order to qualify for the tuition assistance authorized by this section, such member:

(I) Must meet the criteria for eligibility, as established by rules and regulations pursuant to subsection (7) of this section;

(II) May not be drawing tuition from any other tuition assistance program funded by a private employer that, when combined with the assistance in this section, would exceed one hundred percent of the tuition costs;

(III) May not be a recipient of a full scholarship for tuition and fees to any designated institution of higher education; and

(IV) Must serve in the Colorado National Guard during the period of time that the member is receiving tuition and fee assistance.

(c) In providing the tuition assistance to members pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), the department of military and veterans affairs is encouraged to consider providing assistance on a priority basis to newly-enlisted members in their first term of service and who enlist in those military specialties that are experiencing shortages as determined by the department.

(d) For the purposes of this section, "member" means an enlisted member or officer of the National Guard.

(3) (a) For the purposes of this section, "designated institution of higher education" means the Colorado state university - Pueblo, Adams state university, Colorado Mesa university, Metropolitan state university of Denver, Fort Lewis college, Western state Colorado university, all independent area vocational schools, all local district colleges, the university of northern Colorado, the university of Colorado at Boulder, the university of Colorado at Denver, the university of Colorado at Colorado Springs, Colorado state university, the Colorado school of mines, the university of Colorado health sciences center, all community colleges governed by the state board for community colleges and occupational education, and any private institution of higher education in Colorado that qualifies for the college opportunity fund pursuant to article 18 of this title and that offers an accredited certificate or degree program in homeland security. For a member of the Colorado National Guard enrolled in a private institution of higher education, tuition assistance shall be limited to the completion of the accredited certificate or degree program in homeland security and shall be provided at the discretion of the adjutant general of the department of military and veterans affairs. The tuition benefit to members of the Colorado National Guard under this subsection (3) for an accredited certificate or degree program in homeland security shall not exceed the moneys appropriated annually to the Colorado National Guard pursuant to section 23-3.3-202.

(b) The department of military and veterans affairs shall establish the basis for the tuition assistance at the university of Colorado health sciences center.

(4) Repealed.

(5) For each individual member of the Colorado National Guard who is a continuing student and who is receiving tuition assistance as provided in this section, the department of military and veterans affairs shall obtain certification from the designated institution of higher education prior to the payment to the institution attesting to the member's current satisfactory academic standing at such designated institution of higher education, as determined by military regulations established pursuant to subsection (7) of this section, for each semester or quarter for which tuition assistance is requested. No tuition assistance shall be granted without such certification.

(6) Any member who leaves the Colorado National Guard in violation of the member's agreement under subsection (2) of this section during an academic term for which the member is receiving tuition assistance shall be required to repay to the department of military and veterans affairs the amount of tuition assistance granted for that academic term and any and all collection fees incurred by the department of military and veterans affairs. Any such repayment of tuition assistance shall be credited to the Colorado National Guard tuition fund created in subsection (9) of this section.

(7) The department of military and veterans affairs shall promulgate military regulations for the administration of tuition assistance as provided in this section, including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) Criteria for the eligibility of a member of the National Guard for such tuition assistance. In establishing this criteria, the department of military and veterans affairs shall include, but not be limited to, consideration of the following:

(I) The member's past service and record, if any, in the National Guard;

(II) An evaluation of the member's commitment to future service in the National Guard;

(III) The member's military record, if any, including the member's achievements and whether the member has been honorably discharged;

(IV) The benefit to the National Guard by having such an individual as a member;

(V) Financial need, merit, or talent;

(b) Procedures to be followed by designated institutions of higher education in reporting the member's academic standing and in providing timely billing to the department of military and veterans affairs;

(c) A definition of satisfactory academic standing, including, but not limited to, consideration of the member's cumulative grade point average, credit hours completed, and progress toward a degree.

(8) Repealed.

(9) (a) There is hereby created in the state treasury the Colorado National Guard tuition fund which shall be administered by the department of military and veterans affairs and which shall consist of all moneys which may be appropriated thereto by the general assembly or which may be otherwise made available to it by the general assembly. Moneys "otherwise made available" shall include any repayment of tuition assistance made pursuant to subsection (6) of this section and any moneys appropriated by the general assembly for purposes of this section in accordance with section 23-3.3-202. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated for the payment of tuition assistance as provided in this section. Any moneys not expended at the end of the fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred to or revert to the general fund of the state.

(b) An audit of the Colorado National Guard tuition fund shall be made during the department of military and veterans affairs postaudit pursuant to section 2-3-103, C.R.S.

23-5-112. Gifts and bequests to institutions of higher education - venture development investment funds. (1) All state institutions of higher education are authorized to receive gifts and bequests of money or property which may be tendered to any such institution by will or gift. The governing board of such institution is authorized, subject to the terms of any gift or bequest and to provisions of any applicable law, to hold such funds or property in trust or invest or sell them and use either principal or interest or the proceeds of sale for the benefit of such institutions or the students or others for whose benefit such institutions are conducted.

(2) When a governing board of an institution of higher education is offered a gift of property, whether real or personal, which directly or indirectly involves significant ongoing expenditures, the institution shall require in connection therewith an endowment sufficient to fund such expenses. This subsection (2) shall not apply when the gift has been approved by the Colorado commission on higher education with the understanding that acceptance will require an allocation of state funding and the commission is satisfied that provision therefor can be made within available resources. The commission shall prepare a statement of procedures of review and of criteria to be applied in its review of any such gifts, which shall have the approval of the governor and joint budget committee.

(3) Nonprofit entities such as foundations, institutes, and similar organizations organized for the sole benefit of one or more state institutions of higher education shall be entitled to receive gifts and bequests of money or property which may be tendered to any such entity by will or gift. Such gifts and bequests are subject to audit by the state auditor or his designee. If the entity is entirely separate and apart from the institution, if no employees of the institution serve as staff or as voting members of the entity's board, and if the funds and accounts of the entity are entirely separate from those of the institution, such gifts and bequests shall be subject to annual audit to be performed by an independent accounting firm engaged by the entity if determined in advance to be satisfactory to the legislative audit committee. The state auditor shall have access to all of the accountant's work papers. If, alternatively, the separate relationship does not prevail, members and employees of the board of the entity may include staff members or employees of the institution, and such gifts and bequests shall be subject to audit by the state auditor or his designee.

(4) (a) Each state institution of higher education may elect to establish a venture development investment fund for the purpose of facilitating the commercialization of research projects conducted at a research institution of the institution or a research institution that has an office of technology transfer. A venture development fund may be administered by a nonprofit entity such as a foundation, institute, or similar organization that is affiliated with the institution.

(b) The purposes of a venture development investment fund established by a state institution of higher education pursuant to this section shall include, but need not be limited to, providing the following:

(I) Capital for entrepreneurial programs that are associated with the institution;

(II) Opportunities for students of the institution to gain experience in applying research to commercial activities;

(III) Proof-of-concept funding for the purpose of transforming research and development concepts into commercially viable products or services; and

(IV) Entrepreneurial opportunities for persons who are interested in transforming research into viable commercial ventures that create jobs in Colorado.

(c) Each state institution of higher education and each nonprofit entity, such as a foundation, institute, or similar organization, that is affiliated with a state institution of higher education is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, and donations to facilitate the establishment of a venture development investment fund.

(d) Individuals, businesses, and other entities are encouraged to donate moneys to research institutions of state institutions of higher education for the purpose of advancing the commercialization of research projects at the research institutions.

23-5-113. Collection of loans and outstanding obligations - state educational institutions. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24-30-202.4, C.R.S., the governing board of any state educational institution may promulgate rules and regulations relating to procedures for collecting any loans or other outstanding obligations owed to such institution. The institution may employ private counsel or a collection agency to handle the collection of any such loan or obligation. Employment of private counsel or a collection agency shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations, but in no event shall the fees paid to the private counsel or collection agency exceed forty percent of the amount recovered.

(2) The institution is authorized to write off, release, or compromise any debt or obligation due the institution, but only in accordance with the rules and regulations applicable thereto.

23-5-115. Loans or outstanding obligations offset. (1) (a) At times prescribed by the department of revenue, but not less frequently than annually, a state educational institution shall certify to the department of revenue information regarding persons who owe a loan repayment or other outstanding obligation to the institution, the amount of which has been determined to be owing as a result of a final agency determination or judicial decision pursuant to section 39-21-108 (3), C.R.S., or which has been reduced to judgment.

(b) Such information shall include the name and social security number of the person owing the debt, the amount of the debt, and any other identifying information required by the department of revenue.

(2) Upon notification by the department of revenue of amounts deposited with the state treasurer pursuant to section 39-21-108 (3), C.R.S., the state treasurer shall disburse such amounts to the appropriate state educational institution.

23-5-116. Governing boards - authority to provide out-of-state courses. (1) The governing board of any state institution of higher education may offer postsecondary courses at locations outside the state of Colorado for credit applicable toward a degree program. For the purposes of this section, the commission, in consultation with the governing boards, shall determine by policy the definition of out-of-state courses. Each governing board shall promulgate policies and procedures concerning the administration of such courses. The policies and procedures shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) A requirement that no state general fund moneys shall be expended in connection with such out-of-state courses; and

(b) A requirement that credit earned for courses offered outside the state of Colorado shall be applicable toward a degree from the sponsoring institution.

(2) The governing board of any state institution of higher education may offer post-secondary noncredit courses at locations outside the state of Colorado. Each governing board shall promulgate policies and procedures concerning the administration of such courses. The policies and procedures shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) A requirement that no state general fund moneys shall be expended in connection with such out-of-state courses; and

(b) A requirement that noncredit courses may be provided that are not applicable toward a degree from the sponsoring institution.

(3) Each governing board shall notify the Colorado commission on higher education of policies and procedures promulgated pursuant to this section.

(4) and (5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1478, § 19, effective May 28, 2008.)

(6) Each governing board shall provide an annual report to the department of higher education that describes all courses offered outside the boundaries of the state of Colorado. The report shall include a statement of need for the instruction, the geographical location of the instruction, and confirmation that no state funds were used in connection with the out-of-state courses.

(7) This section shall not be construed to limit the authority of the governing boards of state institutions of higher education to offer courses in the state of Colorado.

23-5-117. Governing boards - delegation of personnel power. The governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education, including the Auraria higher education center established in article 70 of this title, may delegate all or part of its power over personnel matters, including the power to hire or to fire employees exempt from the personnel system, to the chief executive officer of the institution governed by such board. The governing board may authorize the chief executive officer to delegate to other officers of the institution any power so delegated pursuant to this section. The governing board of each state-supported institution of higher education, except the university of Colorado, Colorado state university, the university of northern Colorado, the Colorado school of mines, Fort Lewis college, Adams state university, Colorado Mesa university, Western state Colorado university, or Metropolitan state university of Denver, after consultation with faculty representatives chosen by the faculty, shall prepare, enact, promulgate, administer, and maintain in place policies and practices which afford due process procedures for those faculty members exempt from the state personnel system who are terminated, including terminations resulting from reductions in force.

ANNOTATION

No impermissible delegation of authority over personnel matters by the state board for community colleges and occupational education when the board ratified and approved reductions in force which involved terminations of faculty members by college presidents. Notice from college presidents of termination due to reduction in force held sufficient since specific requirement that institution provide notice of a reduction in force prevails over general requirement that board give notice of termination. Craddock v. State Bd. for Cmty. Colls., 768 P.2d 716 (Colo. App. 1988) (decided under former § 23-10-102).

Area vocational school is "institution of higher education" and therefore subject to "Higher Education Due Process Act"; teachers employed by vocational school entitled to due process procedures under act regarding termination of teachers' contracts. Burreson v. Boulder Valley Sch. Dist., RE-2J, 764 P.2d 412 (Colo. App. 1988) (decided under former § 23-10-102).

23-5-118. Selective service registration prerequisite to enrollment. (1) No male person who is at least seventeen years and nine months of age but younger than twenty-six years of age shall be eligible to enroll at any state-supported institution of higher education until such person has filed with such institution a statement of registration compliance. In such statement of registration compliance, the person shall certify, under oath, either that he is registered with the selective service system pursuant to the provisions of section 3 of the "Military Selective Service Act", 50 U.S.C. App. sec. 453, as amended, or that, for any reason specified in 50 U.S.C. App. sec. 453, he is not required to be registered. If the person does not possess a current Colorado driver's license or Colorado state identification card, which was issued on or after September 4, 2001, the state-supported institution of higher education at which the person enrolls shall verify the person's sworn statement of registration compliance. The state-supported institution of higher education may require the person to provide appropriate documentation in order to verify the person's sworn statement of registration compliance. The person shall be given the opportunity to provide the appropriate documentation proving registration compliance to an agent of the state-supported institution of higher education prior to any disciplinary action being taken.

(2) The governing board of each state-supported institution of higher education shall prescribe the form for such statement of registration compliance. Such statement shall be included in applications for admission to the institution for new and transfer students. Such institution shall require any male person who is at least seventeen years and nine months of age but younger than twenty-six years of age and who is currently attending such institution or has been admitted to such institution but has not given a statement of registration compliance as required by subsection (1) of this section to file a statement of registration compliance when he seeks to enroll for a new academic term.

(3) If a state-supported institution of higher education receives a statement from any person, as required by subsection (1) of this section, certifying that he has registered with the selective service system pursuant to the provisions of section 3 of the "Military Selective Service Act", 50 U.S.C. App. sec. 453, as amended, or that he is exempt from registration for any reason specified in 50 U.S.C. App. sec. 453, other than that he is under seventeen years and nine months of age, such institution shall not require the person to file any further statements. If such institution receives a statement certifying that such person is not required to register pursuant to the provisions of 50 U.S.C. App. sec. 453, because he is under seventeen years and nine months of age, such institution shall require the person to file a new statement of registration compliance each time he seeks to enroll for a new academic term until the institution receives a statement certifying that the person has registered with the selective service system or is exempt from registration for any reason specified in 50 U.S.C. App. sec. 453, other than that he is under seventeen years and nine months of age.

(4) If any person knowingly gives false information in such statement of registration compliance as required pursuant to the provisions of this section, such person commits perjury in the second degree, as defined in section 18-8-503, C.R.S.

(5) If a student knowingly gives false information under the provisions of this section, the student shall be suspended from the state-supported institution of higher education at which the student is enrolled. If a person knowingly gives false information under the provisions of this section and the person is not enrolled as a student at a state-supported institution of higher education, the person shall be prohibited from enrolling as a student at a state-supported institution of higher education. State-supported institutions of higher education shall be required to provide the person a hearing before an appropriate agent of the state-supported institution of higher education to determine if the person has knowingly given false information under the provisions of this section. A student or prospective student who provides false information under the provisions of this section shall not be eligible to enroll or reenroll until the student provides appropriate documentation proving that he is properly registered with the selective service system.

23-5-119.5. Student fees - legislative declaration - definitions - institutional plans - fee information - reporting. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that, due to increasing financial restrictions, fees are increasingly being used as sources of revenue for state institutions of higher education. The general assembly further finds that it is important to allow the governing boards flexibility in managing student fees in the manner that is most effective for their respective institutions. However, the general assembly also finds that state institutions of higher education must develop meaningful processes for receiving and considering student input concerning the amount assessed in fees and the purposes for which the institution uses the revenues received. It is therefore the intent of the general assembly that the governing boards adopt policies concerning the definition, assessment, increase, and use of fees, including but not limited to the policies specified in this section, which governing board policies shall be in accordance with the policies adopted by the commission pursuant to section 23-1-105.5.

(2) For purposes of this section:

(a) "Auxiliary facility" has the same meaning as defined in section 23-5-101.5 (2) (a).

(b) "Commission" means the Colorado commission on higher education established in section 23-1-102.

(c) "State institution of higher education" or "institution" means a state-supported institution of higher education in Colorado.

(3) Each governing board is authorized to require students to pay fees to offset costs that are specific to certain courses or programs or that otherwise exceed or are in addition to normal overhead and operating costs that are paid by tuition revenues. Revenues received by a governing board as student fees are not subject to annual appropriation. The costs for which a governing board may impose fees may include, but need not be limited to:

(a) Costs related to the construction, maintenance, furnishing, and equipping of buildings and infrastructure;

(b) Costs that are unique to specific courses or programs and benefit the students who choose to enroll in the course or program;

(c) Costs related to student-centered facilities, services, or activities such as student centers, recreation facilities, technology, parking lots, child care, health clinics, mandatory insurance, student government, and other student organizations or activities;

(d) Costs incurred by an institution that are in addition to the costs of direct delivery of instruction such as registration costs, costs for student orientation and graduation, and costs incurred in communicating with students and their families.

(4) (a) On or before July 1, 2012, each governing board shall adopt for each institution and campus that it governs an institutional plan for student fees. Each governing board shall ensure that the process for developing the plan includes the opportunity for meaningful input from the students enrolled at the affected institution or campus. At a minimum, the fee plan shall specify:

(I) The types and purposes of student fees collected by the institution;

(II) The procedures for establishing, reviewing, changing the amount of, and discontinuing student fees, including the level of student involvement in each process, which, at a minimum, shall include consultation with students whenever possible prior to the establishment of a new fee or the increase of an existing fee;

(III) Procedures by which students may contest the imposition or amount of a fee and a process for resolving disputes regarding fees; and

(IV) A plan for addressing reserve fund balances.

(b) A governing board shall annually review and revise, as necessary, the fee plan for each of the institutions and campuses that it governs. In creating, reviewing, and revising the fee plans, a governing board shall collaborate with the student government organization at the applicable institution or campus. Each governing board shall make the fee plans available to the public on a web site for the respective institution or campus. In addition, each governing board shall annually provide to the department of higher education and the commission a copy of the fee plan for each institution or campus it governs.

(5) The fee plan adopted for each institution pursuant to subsection (4) of this section shall include, but need not be limited to, the following policies:

(a) Fees related to bonds issued on behalf of auxiliary facilities on or after July 1, 1997. (I) (A) For any bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred on or after July 1, 1997, on behalf of an auxiliary facility, the issuing or incurring governing board may assess a user fee against persons using the auxiliary facility that includes the amount necessary for repayment of the bonds or other debt obligations and any amount necessary for the operation and maintenance of the auxiliary facility.

(B) If a governing board uses revenues from a general student fee for the repayment of bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred pursuant to this paragraph (a), the governing board shall specify the portion of the general student fee that is actually applied to repayment of the bonds or other debt obligations. The itemization of any general student fee, all or a portion of which is used for repayment of bonds or other debt obligations, shall appear on the student billing statement.

(II) The issuing or incurring governing board may, subject to the restrictions specified in paragraph (c) of this subsection (5), pledge any excess revenue received from any user fee assessed pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) or from any portion of a general student fee applied to the repayment of such bonds or other debt obligations pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) to the repayment of any bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred on behalf of any other auxiliary facility, so long as such pledge of excess revenue from any general student fee authorized for the repayment of bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred to finance a specific facility shall terminate upon full repayment of all bonds or other debt obligations, including refunding bonds or obligations, and all fees and costs related to such bonds or other debt obligations incurred with respect to such specific facility.

(III) On and after the date upon which all bonds or other debt obligations issued, secured, or incurred pursuant to this paragraph (a) are fully repaid:

(A) The amount of the user fee assessed against persons using the auxiliary facility, if any, shall be reduced, if necessary, so as not to exceed one hundred ten percent of the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year; except that the governing board may reduce the amount of the user fee to an amount not to exceed one hundred twenty percent of the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year and set aside the additional ten percent in a reserve fund for repair and replacement of the auxiliary facility;

(B) The governing board shall cease collecting any portion of a general student fee assessed for the repayment of the bonds or other debt obligations; except that, if no user fee was assessed for the repayment of the bonds or other debt obligations or if the amount of the user fee is less than the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year, the governing board may continue collecting the specified portion of the general student fee that was applied to repayment of the bonds or other debt obligations so long as said portion of the general student fee is reduced, if necessary, to an amount that, in combination with any user fee collected for the auxiliary facility, does not exceed one hundred ten percent of the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year. Notwithstanding the provisions of this sub-subparagraph (B), the governing board may reduce said portion of the general student fee to an amount that, in combination with any user fee collected for the auxiliary facility, does not exceed one hundred twenty percent of the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year and set aside the additional ten percent in a reserve fund for repair and replacement of the auxiliary facility.

(C) The revenues received pursuant to this subparagraph (III), either through a user fee or through a specified portion of a general student fee, may not be pledged for the repayment of any bonds or other debt obligations issued on behalf of any other auxiliary facility. Any amount of said revenue that exceeds both the amount necessary for the operation and maintenance of the auxiliary facility and any amount set aside in a reserve fund for repair and replacement of the auxiliary facility is surplus and may be used by the governing board as provided in section 23-5-103 (3).

(b) Fees related to bonds issued on behalf of auxiliary facilities prior to July 1, 1997. (I) For any bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred prior to July 1, 1997, on behalf of an auxiliary facility:

(A) Approval of the student body is not required for any fee assessed for repayment of said bonds or other debt obligations;

(B) Approval of the student body is not required to increase any fee that is applied to the repayment of said bonds or other debt obligations if the fee increase is necessitated by a covenant in the authorizing bond resolution or other agreement for which the bonds or other debt obligations were issued or incurred;

(C) Approval of the student body is not required to increase any fee that is applied to the repayment of said bonds or other debt obligations if the fee increase is assessed for the repayment of bonds that are issued to refund the existing bonds.

(II) The issuing or incurring governing board may, subject to the restrictions specified in paragraph (c) of this subsection (5), pledge any excess revenue received from the fee, whether it is a user fee or a portion of a general student fee applied to the repayment of such bonds or other debt obligations, to the repayment of any bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred on behalf of any other auxiliary facility, so long as such pledge of excess revenue from any general student fee authorized for the repayment of bonds or other debt obligation issued or incurred to finance a specific facility shall terminate upon full repayment of all bonds or other debt obligations, including refunding bonds or obligations, and all fees and costs related to such bonds or other debt obligations incurred with respect to such specific facility.

(III) On and after the date upon which all bonds or other debt obligations issued, secured, or incurred pursuant to this paragraph (b) are fully repaid:

(A) The amount of the user fee, if any, assessed against persons using the auxiliary facility shall be reduced, if necessary, so as not to exceed one hundred ten percent of the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year; except that the governing board may reduce the amount of the user fee to an amount not to exceed one hundred twenty percent of the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year and set aside the additional ten percent in a reserve fund for repair and replacement of the auxiliary facility;

(B) The governing board shall cease collecting any portion of a general student fee assessed for the repayment of the bonds or other debt obligations; except that, if no user fee was assessed for the repayment of the bonds or other debt obligations or if the amount of the user fee is less than the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year, the governing board may continue collecting the specified portion of the general student fee that was applied to repayment of the bonds or other debt obligations so long as said portion of the general student fee is reduced, if necessary, to an amount that, in combination with any user fee collected for the auxiliary facility, does not exceed one hundred ten percent of the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subparagraph (B), the governing board may reduce said portion of the general student fee to an amount that, in combination with any user fee collected for the auxiliary facility, does not exceed one hundred twenty percent of the costs incurred in operating and maintaining the auxiliary facility during the preceding year and set aside the additional ten percent in a reserve fund for repair and replacement of the auxiliary facility.

(C) The revenues received pursuant to this subparagraph (III), either through a user fee or through a specified portion of a general student fee, may not be pledged for the repayment of any bonds or other debt obligations issued on behalf of any other auxiliary facility. Any amount of said revenue that exceeds both the amount necessary for the operation and maintenance of the auxiliary facility and any amount set aside in a reserve fund for repair and replacement of the auxiliary facility is surplus and may be used by the governing board as provided in section 23-5-103 (3).

(c) Restrictions on pledging of amounts received in fees. (I) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection (5), a user fee that is assessed against persons using an auxiliary facility that is not designated as an enterprise pursuant to section 23-5-101.5 may be pledged for the repayment of bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred on behalf of any other auxiliary facility that is not designated as an enterprise, as provided in sections 23-5-102 and 23-5-103.

(II) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection (5), a user fee that is assessed against persons using an auxiliary facility that is designated as an enterprise by the university of Colorado pursuant to section 23-5-101.5 may be pledged for the repayment of bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred on behalf of another auxiliary facility that is designated as an enterprise by the university of Colorado, as provided in sections 23-5-102 and 23-5-103.

(III) A governing board may not pledge a user fee assessed against persons using an auxiliary facility that is not designated as an enterprise for repayment of bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred on behalf of any auxiliary facility that is designated as an enterprise or on behalf of the institution with which the auxiliary facility is associated. Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (c), a governing board may not pledge a user fee assessed against persons using an auxiliary facility that is designated as an enterprise pursuant to section 23-5-101.5 for the repayment of bonds or other debt obligations issued or incurred on behalf of any other auxiliary facility, regardless of whether the other auxiliary facility is designated as an enterprise, or on behalf of the institution with which the auxiliary facility is associated.

(d) Itemization of bond fees. Every fee, the purpose of which includes making payments on bonds or other obligations, shall be separately itemized on the student billing statement.

(6) (a) As soon as practicable following August 10, 2011, each governing board shall make reasonable efforts to provide on the web site for each institution or campus it governs current information about the tuition rates and fees, including information concerning the purposes of the fees, charged by the institution or campus; except that the institution or campus may provide information about fees that are specific to courses or programs either on its web site or in the most recent course catalog, whichever is appropriate.

(b) As soon as practicable following August 10, 2011, each governing board shall make reasonable efforts to provide a function for calculating tuition and fees on the web site of each institution or campus it governs to assist students in estimating their annual and total cost of attendance at the institution or campus.

(c) Beginning with the 2011-12 academic year, each governing board shall ensure that the tuition bill for each student enrolled in an institution or campus governed by the governing board includes a clear itemization of the fees charged to the student.

(7) In establishing fees, a governing board shall comply with the procedures specified in the fee plan for the applicable institution or campus. In addition, the governing board shall provide to students at least thirty days' advance notice of a new fee assessment or fee increase, which notice, at a minimum, specifies:

(a) The amount of the new fee or of the fee increase;

(b) The reason for the new fee or fee increase;

(c) The purpose for which the institution will use the revenues received from the new fee or fee increase; and

(d) Whether the new fee or fee increase is temporary or permanent and, if temporary, the expected date on which the new fee or fee increase will be discontinued.

(8) A decision by a governing board with regard to a fee shall be final and incontestable either on the thirtieth day after final action by the governing board or on the date on which any evidence of indebtedness or other obligation payable from the fee revenues is issued or incurred by the governing board, whichever is earlier.

23-5-120. Student fees - deposit - interest. (1) Student fees imposed by a governing board for a student association or student government at a state-supported institution of higher education and collected from students enrolled in such institution shall be deposited in a separate fund of the institution to be used for the purposes for which the fees were charged. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(2) Nothing in this section shall limit the authority of the governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education to pledge moneys in the fund described in subsection (1) of this section for any of the purposes permitted under section 23-5-103 if the student action authorizing such fees contemplated such pledge.

23-5-121. Governing boards - authority to establish nonprofit corporations for developing discoveries and technology. (1) The general assembly recognizes that the transfer of newly created technologies from university research to the private sector and the resulting potential creation and expansion of Colorado companies are essential to the economic growth of this state, promote the public good, and should be encouraged. The general assembly further recognizes that a valid public purpose will be furthered and a commitment to the economic growth of this state demonstrated by empowering the governing boards of the state-supported institutions of higher education and the Colorado commission on higher education, referred to in this section as the "commission", to establish nonprofit corporations to effect such a transfer and development and by empowering the governing boards of the state-supported institutions of higher education to cooperate with the private sector.

(2) The governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education or the commission may incorporate one or more private nonprofit corporations under articles 121 to 137 of title 7, C.R.S., for the purpose of developing discoveries and technology resulting from science and technology research at such state-supported institution of higher education. Such a corporation shall have all rights and powers of a private nonprofit corporation organized under the laws of this state and shall not be an agency of state government or a department or political subdivision thereof and shall not be subject to any provisions of law affecting only governmental or public entities; except that provisions as provided for in section 23-1-108 (1) (f) regarding affirmative action shall be followed.

(3) The governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education or the commission may transfer to a corporation incorporated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section all rights to discoveries and technologies resulting from science and technology research at such state-supported institution of higher education. Such transfer may be made in consideration of the corporation's undertaking to develop the technology for the benefit of the state-supported institution of higher education and the state. Any such rights to discoveries and technologies that are transferred to the corporation by a governing board or by the commission shall not be further transferred by the corporation without adequate consideration being received therefor.

(4) Prior to the transfer to a corporation incorporated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section of all rights to discoveries and technologies resulting from science and technology research at any state-supported institution of higher education, the governing board of such state-supported institution of higher education or the commission shall enter into an agreement with said corporation that shall include the terms of financial remuneration due the institution or the commission.

(5) As a means of carrying out the purposes stated in this section, the governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education or the commission may, through one or more corporations incorporated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section:

(a) Own and license rights to products, technology, and scientific information;

(b) Own shares in corporations engaged in the development, manufacture, or marketing of products, technology, or scientific information under a license from the governing board or the commission or a corporation incorporated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section;

(c) Participate as the general partner or as a limited partner, either directly or through a subsidiary corporation formed for that purpose, in limited partnerships, general partnerships, or joint ventures engaged in the development, manufacture, or marketing of products, technology, or scientific information under a license from the board or the commission or a corporation incorporated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section; except that the governing board shall be subject to the provisions of section 24-113-104, C.R.S., regarding competition with private enterprise by institutions of higher education;

(d) Develop economic incentives for faculty members and other employees of the state-supported institution of higher education or the commission in order to encourage development of technology, which may include assignment of a share of the royalty payments, payment of supplemental compensation, or such other economic incentives as will in the judgment of the governing board or the commission best promote the purposes of this section;

(e) In the case of a governing board of a state-supported institution of higher education, cooperate with the commission and the office of information technology created in the office of the governor in technology transfers pursuant to section 23-1-106.7;

(e.5) In the case of the commission, accept donations, income or other revenues and make grants to support commission programs; and

(f) Carry on such other activities as the governing board or the commission may deem appropriate for achieving the purposes of this section.

(6) At the discretion of the governing board of the state-supported institution of higher education, research facilities and personnel at their own institutions or campuses may be utilized to achieve the purposes of this section.

(7) The state of Colorado or state-supported institution or the commission shall not be held responsible for any debt or liability incurred by the corporation created pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

23-5-122. Intrainstitutional and intrasystem transfers - course scheduling. (1) On or before October 1, 1993, the governing board of every state-supported institution of higher education shall have in place and enforce policies regarding transfers by students between undergraduate degree programs which are offered within the same institution or within the same institutional system. Such policies shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following provisions:

(a) If, not more than ten years prior to transferring into an undergraduate degree program, a student earns credit hours which are required for graduation from such undergraduate degree program, such credit hours shall apply to the completion of such student's graduation requirements from such undergraduate degree program following such transfer;

(b) A student who transfers into an undergraduate degree program shall not be required to complete a greater number of credit hours in those courses which are required for graduation from such undergraduate degree program than are required of students who began in such undergraduate degree program, nor shall there be any minimum number of credit hours required post-transfer other than the normal degree requirements for nontransferring students; and

(c) The grade point average which is required for a student to apply for and be fully considered for transfer into an undergraduate degree program shall be no higher than that which is required for graduation from such undergraduate degree program.

23-5-123. Sabbatical leave - legislative declaration - policy - production of records. (1) The general assembly hereby recognizes the necessity of maintaining a high caliber of faculty within the state system of higher education and the importance of the faculty's contribution in delivering quality education within the state system of higher education. The general assembly recognizes that faculty sabbaticals play an important role in developing and enhancing faculty expertise, thereby supporting faculty excellence in teaching and research. The general assembly also recognizes that a faculty sabbatical is a privilege, rather than a right, and should be granted only when it results in adding value to the institution, the students' education, and the state. The general assembly therefore declares that state-supported institutions of higher education should judiciously grant faculty sabbaticals that will improve excellence within the state system of higher education and will thereby benefit the state.

(2) (a) On or before October 1, 1994, the governing board of each state-supported institution of higher education shall have in place and shall enforce policies regarding faculty sabbaticals, including but not limited to the policies specified in this subsection (2).

(b) Effective October 1, 1994, a governing board of an institution of higher education may not authorize a sabbatical or extended administrative paid leave for any person holding an administrative position at a state-supported institution of higher education; except that a governing board may, for a reasonable period of time, authorize administrative paid leave for disciplinary or investigatory purposes.

(c) A governing board may not grant a sabbatical for any faculty member more often than once every seven years.

(d) Prior to taking a sabbatical, a faculty member shall submit to the governing board of the institution that employs the faculty member a detailed sabbatical plan that:

(I) Specifies how the sabbatical activity will result in the faculty member's professional growth, how it will enhance the institution's reputation and the students' educational experience at the institution, and how it will increase the overall level of knowledge in the faculty member's area of expertise;

(II) Specifies the goals that the faculty member will achieve while on sabbatical.

(e) A governing board may not grant a subsequent sabbatical to any faculty member who does not meet the goals stated in the faculty member's sabbatical plan.

(f) The governing board of each institution shall approve any sabbaticals taken by faculty at the institution in advance. In approving a sabbatical, the governing board shall consider the quality of the faculty member's proposed activities while on sabbatical, the individuals who will be involved in such activities, and the benefits to be received from such activities by the faculty member, the institution, and the students at the institution.

(g) Upon completion of a sabbatical, the faculty member shall submit a final sabbatical report to the governing board of the institution that employs the faculty member, including a summary of the faculty member's activities while on sabbatical and the benefits derived by the faculty member. Final sabbatical reports need not include specific details of the faculty member's research conducted while on sabbatical. Final sabbatical reports are open records pursuant to section 24-72-203, C.R.S., and may not be included in the faculty member's personnel file.

(h) Each participant in the sabbatical process is responsible for ensuring that each sabbatical meets the requirements of this section and any other requirements that may be included in the appropriate governing board's sabbatical policy. Each governing board shall specify a mechanism to hold each participant in the sabbatical process accountable for meeting the sabbatical policy requirements.

(3) Each governing board shall produce all sabbatical records for all approved sabbaticals and a list of all disapproved sabbaticals for inspection by the joint budget committee, the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives, and the Colorado commission on higher education upon request. In addition, each governing board shall distribute copies of the sabbatical policies developed by each governing board pursuant to this section, with amendments as necessary, to the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives and to the Colorado commission on higher education.

23-5-124. Student enrollment - prohibition - public peace and order convictions.

(1) No person who is convicted of a riot offense shall be enrolled in a state-supported institution of higher education for a period of twelve months following the date of conviction.

(2) A student who is enrolled in a state-supported institution of higher education and who is convicted of a riot offense shall be immediately suspended from the institution upon the institution's notification of such conviction for a period of twelve months following the date of conviction; except that if a student has been suspended prior to the date of conviction by the state-supported institution of higher education for the same riot activity, the twelve month suspension shall run from the start of the suspension imposed by the institution.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a state-supported institution of higher education from implementing its own policies and procedures or disciplinary actions, in addition to the suspension in subsection (2) of this section, regarding students involved in riots.

(4) (a) The court in each judicial district shall report to the Colorado commission on higher education the name of any person who is convicted in the judicial district of a riot offense.

(b) The Colorado commission on higher education shall make the conviction reports received pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) available to all state-supported institutions of higher education with the notification that the persons included in the conviction reports are subject to the provisions of this section and that the state-supported institution of higher education in which any of such persons are enrolled shall consider appropriate disciplinary action against the student.

(5) Each state-supported institution of higher education shall notify its students and prospective students of the requirements of this section. The governing board of each state-supported institution of higher education shall prescribe the manner in which this information shall be disseminated.

(6) For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Convicted" means having received a verdict of guilty, pleaded guilty or nolo contendere, or having received a deferred judgment and sentence.

(b) "Riot offense" means:

(I) Inciting riot, as described in section 18-9-102, C.R.S.;

(II) Arming rioters, as described in section 18-9-103, C.R.S.;

(III) Engaging in a riot, as described in section 18-9-104, C.R.S.

(c) "State-supported institution of higher education" means any postsecondary institution that is governed by:

(I) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system;

(II) The board of regents of the university of Colorado;

(III) The board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines;

(IV) The board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado;

(V) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2003, p. 790, § 10, effective July 1, 2003.)

(VI) The state board of community colleges and occupational education;

(VII) The board of any junior college district in Colorado;

(VIII) The board of trustees for Adams state university;

(IX) The board of trustees for Colorado Mesa university;

(X) The board of trustees for Western state Colorado university;

(XI) The board of trustees for Fort Lewis college; or

(XII) The board of trustees for Metropolitan state university of Denver.

23-5-126. Governing boards - anti-terrorism measures. (1) The Colorado commission on higher education in consultation with each governing board shall adopt such guidelines and policies, no later than December 1, 2002, as may be necessary to provide all lawful information requested by the federal bureau of investigation, the central intelligence agency, the department of homeland security, or any other federal agency in connection with an anti-terrorism investigation. The guidelines and policies shall include requiring each state-supported institution of higher education to verify and report the status of all foreign students, as required by the department of homeland security, or any other federal agency.

(2) The administrators at each state-supported institution of higher education shall cooperate with and provide, in an immediate manner, all lawful information requested by the federal bureau of investigation, the central intelligence agency, the department of homeland security, or any other federal agency in connection with an anti-terrorism investigation.

23-5-127. Unique student identifying number - social security number - prohibition. (1) Each postsecondary institution in Colorado shall assign to each student enrolled in the institution a unique primary identifier that may be a series of numbers or characters.

(2) On and after July 1, 2003, each postsecondary institution in Colorado shall take reasonable and prudent steps to ensure the privacy of a student's social security number.

(3) (a) On and after July 1, 2004, a postsecondary institution in Colorado shall not use a student's social security number or part of a student's social security number as the student's primary identifier.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), the Colorado commission on higher education may allow a postsecondary institution in Colorado to use a student's social security number or part of a student's social security number as the student's primary identifier if:

(I) The institution demonstrates to the satisfaction of the commission that the institution is unable to comply with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) because of the financial cost of compliance; and

(II) The institution submits to the commission and the commission approves a plan and timetable for phasing out the use of a student's social security number or part of a student's social security number as the student's primary identifier.

(4) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of subsection (3) of this section, for each student who graduates from or was enrolled in a Colorado high school, a postsecondary institution in Colorado that is eligible for the college opportunity fund program created in section 23-18-201 shall use the unique student identifier assigned, in accordance with rules adopted pursuant to section 22-11-104, C.R.S., to the student while he or she was enrolled in the elementary to secondary public education system, including public prekindergarten programs, as an alternative student identifier at the postsecondary institution.

(b) Adams state university, Colorado Mesa university, Western state Colorado university, and Metropolitan state university of Denver shall implement the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) on or before July 1, 2008. All other postsecondary institutions shall implement the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) on or before July 1, 2009.

23-5-128. Meningococcal disease - information - immunity. (1) As used in this section:

(a) "Institution" means any public or nonpublic postsecondary education institution in the state.

(b) "New student" means each incoming freshman student residing in student housing, as defined by the institution, or any student who the institution requires to complete and return a standard certificate indicating immunizations received by the student as a requirement for residing in student housing.

(2) (a) On and after July 1, 2005, each institution shall provide to each new student, or, if a new student is under the age of eighteen years, to the student's parent or guardian, information concerning meningococcal disease, including but not limited to the following:

(I) (A) Meningococcal disease is a serious disease;

(B) Meningococcal disease is a contagious, but a largely preventable, infection of the spinal cord fluid and the fluid that surrounds the brain;

(C) Scientific evidence suggests that college students living in dormitory facilities are at a modestly increased risk of contracting meningococcal disease; and

(D) Immunization against meningococcal disease decreases the risk of contracting the disease.

(II) Web site addresses, telephone numbers, or other similar information to assist a new student or the student's parent or legal guardian in identifying a location or locations where the new student may receive an immunization against meningococcal disease.

(b) An institution may provide the information required by subparagraph (I) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) exactly as written or through similar language that reasonably meets the intent of the notification requirement and is based upon established and scientifically recognized medical or epidemiological data.

(3) On and after July 1, 2005, each institution shall require each new student who has not received a vaccination against meningococcal disease, or, if the new student is under the age of eighteen years, the student's parent or guardian, to check a box on a document provided by the institution stating that the signor has reviewed the information provided pursuant to subsection (2) of this section and has decided that the new student will not obtain a vaccination against meningococcal disease. An institution may include the acknowledgment required in this section on another signed document used to collect health or housing information that must be returned to the institution and that the institution is already required to retain for other purposes regarding the student's health or housing.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to:

(a) Require a student who is planning to reside in student housing to obtain the vaccination against meningococcal disease;

(b) Require an institution to provide or pay for the vaccination of a student; or

(c) Prohibit an institution from establishing additional requirements concerning meningococcal vaccination.

(5) An institution that has made a reasonable effort to comply with this section shall not be liable for damages for injuries sustained by a student as a result of contracting meningococcal disease where the student's claim is based solely upon the provision of the information required by paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section.

23-5-129. Governing boards - performance contract - authorization - operations.

(1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Private institution of higher education" shall have the same meaning as provided in section 23-18-102 (9).

(b) "State institution of higher education" shall have the same meaning as provided in section 23-18-102 (10); except that "state institution of higher education" shall include each junior college that is part of a junior college district organized pursuant to article 71 of this title and the area vocational schools, as defined in section 23-60-103.

(c) "Unfunded enrollment growth" means the amount of enrollment growth calculated pursuant to subsection (8) of this section that has not been funded for each governing board from state fiscal year 2000-01 through 2004-05.

(2) (a) Beginning July 1, 2004, each governing board of a state institution of higher education shall negotiate a performance contract with the department of higher education that shall specify the performance goals the institution shall achieve during the period that it operates under the performance contract. A state institution of higher education's compliance with the goals specified in the performance contract may be in lieu of the requirements of article 1 of this title for the period of the performance contract.

(b) If a private institution of higher education plans to accept stipends paid on behalf of eligible undergraduate students pursuant to article 18 of this title, the private institution of higher education shall negotiate a performance contract with the department of higher education, which shall specify the performance goals the institution shall achieve during the period that it operates under the performance contract.

(c) The specified procedures and goals set forth in the performance contract shall be measurable and tailored to the role and mission of each institution that is under the direction and control of the governing board, and may include, but shall not be limited to:

- (I) Improving Colorado residents' access to higher education;
- (II) Improving quality and success in higher education;
- (III) Improving the efficiency of operations; and
- (IV) Addressing the needs of the state.

(d) To measure progress toward the goals specified in the performance contract, the following issues may be addressed:

(I) Appropriate levels of student enrollment, transfer, retention, and graduation rates and institutional programs specifically designed to assist students in achieving their academic and, in the case of community colleges, vocational goals;

(II) Student satisfaction and student performance after graduation, measured by indicators appropriate to the institutional role and mission, such as employment or enrollment in graduate programs;

(III) Comparative cost and productivity data in relation to peer institutions;

(IV) Assessment of the quality of the institution's academic and, where relevant, vocational programs, including assessment by external reviewers, such as accreditation boards and employers, and consideration of student performance on national examinations; and

(V) Increasing financial support to sustain and enhance essential functions that may be partially state funded, including but not limited to:

(A) The provision of need-based and other student financial aid;

(B) In the case of a state institution of higher education, capital construction;

(C) Assessment of financial indicators compared to national benchmarks commonly used to measure financial performance in higher education according to the type of institution; and

(D) Increasing financial support to sustain and enhance the educational mission of the institution and, in the case of institutions with a research mission, increasing public and private research capabilities and competitiveness.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section to the contrary, increasing enrollment of underserved students, including low-income individuals, minority groups, and males where underserved, shall be addressed in each performance contract.

(f) Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection (2) to the contrary, the provisions of this subsection (2) shall not apply to the performance contract with the Colorado school of mines, authorized by section 23-41-104.6, that is in place on July 1, 2004, until the department of higher education renegotiates the performance contract with the school of mines, to take effect no later than December 1, 2012.

(3) All performance contracts between the department of higher education and any state or private institution of higher education shall be reviewed and approved by the Colorado commission on higher education before the contract may become effective.

(4) Repealed.

(5) (a) Beginning January 2006, and each January thereafter, the department of higher education shall report to the members of the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives and the members of the joint budget committee of the general assembly the financial effect of the provisions of each performance contract with regard to funding for the affected governing board of a state institution of higher education and overall funding for the statewide system of higher education and a review of each state or private institution's operations under the institution's performance contract. The term of a performance contract may be up to ten years. The department of higher education may renew a performance contract at its discretion, with the agreement of the governing board.

(a.5) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) to the contrary, the performance contracts in effect as of July 1, 2010, shall remain in effect until renegotiated as provided in section 23-1-108 (1.5) no later than December 1, 2012.

(b) Beginning January 2006, and each January thereafter, data collected and used to measure a state or private institution of higher education's progress towards the goals set forth in the institution's performance contract with the department of higher education shall be made available to the members of the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, members of the joint budget committee, each governing board, and each institution of higher education covered by a performance contract. The department of higher education shall also provide copies of the data to other members of the general assembly and members of the public on request.

(6) While operating pursuant to a performance contract negotiated pursuant to this section, the governing board of a state institution of higher education:

(a) Shall continue to operate as the governing board for the institution. In addition, at the request of the governing board, the governor may appoint additional advisory members to the governing board to sustain and enhance the role and mission of the institution. Additional members of the governing board shall serve as nonvoting members of the board and shall serve without compensation. The role of the advisory members shall be to improve the governing board's opportunities to develop and enrich the academic and research programs at the institution.

(b) Need not consult with nor obtain approval from the Colorado commission on higher education to create, modify, or eliminate academic and vocational programs offered by the institution, so long as such creations, modifications, and eliminations are consistent with the institution's statutory role and mission. Institutions shall submit information to the department demonstrating that the creation or modification of an academic or career and technical education program is consistent with the institution's statutory role and mission. The Colorado commission on higher education shall have the authority to override the creation or modification of an academic or vocational program if the change made by the governing board is inconsistent with the institution's statutory role and mission.

(c) Shall report to the Colorado commission on higher education its plans for any tuition or other proposed increases for the following fiscal year, using approved forms, for the commission to review and make recommendations to the general assembly during the annual budget process; except that the provisions of this paragraph (c) shall not apply for fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16.

(7) While operating pursuant to a performance contract negotiated pursuant to this section, a state institution of higher education shall:

(a) Remain eligible for state-funded capital construction projects and controlled maintenance projects as provided in section 23-1-106;

(b) Continue to admit Colorado resident applicants within the requirements of section 23-1-113.5 who meet the admissions criteria of the institution.

(8) The Colorado commission on higher education, in consultation with the governing boards, shall calculate the amount of unfunded enrollment growth. During the period that a governing board is operating pursuant to a performance contract negotiated pursuant to this section, the Colorado commission on higher education may request, as part of the annual budget cycle, a general fund appropriation for each governing board for the amount of unfunded enrollment growth, to the extent that there remains an amount of enrollment growth that is unfunded for the governing board.

(9) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2011, (SB 11-052), ch. 232, p. 998, § 3, effective May 27, 2011; (HB 11-1303), ch. 264, p. 1162, § 51, effective August 10, 2011.)

(10) While a state institution of higher education is operating pursuant to a performance contract negotiated pursuant to this section, the general assembly retains the authority to approve tuition spending authority for the governing board of the institution; except that the provisions of this subsection (10) shall not apply for fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16.

(11) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the provisions of subsections (6), (7), and (10) of this section do not apply to the local district junior colleges or the area vocational schools.

23-5-130. Governing boards - fee-for-service contracts - authorization. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Commission" shall have the same meaning as provided in section 23-18-102 (3).

(b) "Department" shall have the same meaning as provided in section 23-18-102 (4).

(c) "State institution of higher education" shall have the same meaning as provided in section 23-18-102 (10).

(2) Beginning July 1, 2005, the governing board of a state institution of higher education may annually negotiate a fee-for-service contract with the department for the delivery of higher education services by the institution to the residents of the state of Colorado. These services may include, but need not be limited to:

(a) Educational services in rural areas or communities in which the cost of delivering the educational services is not sustained by the amount received in student tuition;

(b) to (d) Repealed.

(e) Educational services required of the commission to meet its obligations under reciprocal agreements pursuant to section 23-1-112;

(f) Graduate school services;

(g) Educational services that may increase economic development opportunities in the state, including courses to assist students in career development and retraining; and

(h) Specialized educational services and professional degrees, including but not limited to the areas of dentistry, medicine, veterinary medicine, nursing, law, forestry, and engineering and programs that address identified state or national priorities.

(3) It is the intent of the general assembly that any institution under the direction and control of a governing board that enters into a fee-for-service contract for basic skills courses not charge a student more for a basic skills course than the student would otherwise pay per credit hour for any general education course.

23-5-130.5. Governing boards - tuition-setting - repeal. (1) Beginning with the 2011-12 fiscal year and for fiscal years thereafter through the 2015-16 fiscal year, each governing board, for the institutions it controls, shall annually set the amount of tuition to be paid by students with in-state classification and by nonresident students who enroll in and attend the institutions. The tuition amount may vary based on the degree program in which a student enrolls.

(2) (a) In setting the amount of tuition pursuant to this section, a governing board shall not increase the tuition rate for undergraduate students with in-state classification by more than nine percent per student or nine percent per credit hour over the tuition rate for the preceding fiscal year; except that a governing board may increase said tuition rate by more than nine percent per student or nine percent per credit hour over the tuition rate for the preceding fiscal year if the governing board complies with the requirements specified in subsection (3) of this section and the Colorado commission on higher education, referred to in this section as the "commission", approves the increase.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) to the contrary, the board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines shall not increase the tuition rate for undergraduate students with in-state classification by more than nine percent per student or nine percent per credit hour over the tuition rate for the preceding fiscal year or by more than a percentage equal to two times the rate of the percentage change in the consumer price index for the Denver metropolitan area, whichever is greater; except that the board of trustees may increase said tuition rate by more than either of said percentages if the board of trustees complies with the requirements specified in subsection (3) of this section and the commission approves the increase.

(3) A governing board that seeks to increase undergraduate, resident tuition by more than the percentages allowed in subsection (2) of this section shall submit to the commission a five-year financial and accountability plan in accordance with timelines adopted by the commission. The financial and accountability plan shall specify for each of the five fiscal years immediately following the fiscal year in which the governing board submits the plan:

(a) The amount of the increase in undergraduate, resident tuition that the governing board is requesting;

(b) The manner in which the governing board shall ensure that enrollment in the institution continues to be accessible and affordable for low- and middle-income students in the next following five academic years, taking into account the availability of federal, state, institutional, and private moneys for financial assistance, and measures the governing board shall implement to help reduce student debt load, including but not limited to the amount of institutional funds the governing board will allocate to need-based financial assistance;

(c) The manner in which the governing board shall specifically address the needs of students who graduate from Colorado high schools and are enrolling as first-time freshmen students and meet one or more of the following criteria:

(I) The student's family is low-income and the student is likely to incur significant student debt in attending an institution of higher education;

(II) The student's parents did not attend postsecondary education and may not have graduated from high school;

(III) The student is a member of an underrepresented population; or

(IV) The student has limited access to technologies to support learning.

(d) The manner in which the governing board is implementing the flexibility provided with regard to purchasing, central services, and other operations to ensure greater institutional efficiencies;

(e) Measures the governing board shall implement to ensure that any operational changes described in paragraph (d) of this subsection (3) do not reduce the level of service and the quality of academic programs provided to students enrolled in the state institution of higher education; and

(f) Any additional information requested by the commission.

(4) (a) The commission shall review each financial and accountability plan received pursuant to subsection (3) of this section and, within ninety days after receiving the plan, either approve or disapprove the governing board's request for an increase in undergraduate, resident tuition in excess of the percentages allowed in subsection (2) of this section. In approving a tuition increase, the commission may approve the request for two years and make approval for the subsequent three years conditional upon the governing board's success in implementing the measures specified in the financial and accountability plan. If the request is denied, the governing board may submit an alternative financial and accountability plan to the commission in accordance with timelines adopted by the commission.

(b) If the commission denies the request, the governing board shall not implement the proposed tuition increase but may increase undergraduate, resident tuition in accordance with the percentages allowed in subsection (2) of this section for the following fiscal year. A governing board may resubmit its request for an increase in undergraduate, resident tuition in excess of the percentages allowed in subsection (2) of this section, with the financial and accountability plan, in any subsequent fiscal year following a denial.

(5) This section is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

23-5-131. Governing boards - tuition - fixed rate contract. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Commission" means the Colorado commission on higher education.

(b) "Fixed rate" means the fixed tuition rate specified in a contract between a state-supported institution of higher education and a student enrolled in the institution.

(c) "Program" means the fixed tuition rate program.

(d) "Student" means a student who is classified for tuition purposes as an in-state student.

(2) There is hereby established a fixed tuition rate program. The governing board of each state-supported institution of higher education that has been designated as an enterprise pursuant to section 23-5-101.7 may offer a fixed tuition rate to a student who is willing to enter into a contract with the institution for the fixed rate. A fixed-rate contract shall also specify the amount of the student fees collected by the institution as of the date of the contract and shall inform the student that the amount of student fees may increase over the term of the contract in accordance with the institution's student fee plan adopted pursuant to section 23-5-119.5.

(3) If a student is unable to complete a degree program within the duration of the fixed-rate contract because a course is unavailable due to a lack of available classes or class space, the state-supported institution of higher education shall provide the course to the student free of charge.

(4) (a) Each governing board that is participating in the program shall establish guidelines for each institution under its control relating to the fixed tuition rate program that shall include, at a minimum, the degree of flexibility a student has in changing majors or degree programs without voiding a fixed-rate contract.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2011, (HB 11-1301), ch. 297, p. 1410, § 1, effective August 10, 2011.)

(c) Each state-supported institution of higher education under the direction and control of a governing board participating in the program shall publish information relating to the fixed-rate contract option in the institution's course catalog or student handbook and on the institutional web site.

(5) Repealed.

(6) A fixed-rate contract entered into pursuant to this section shall take into account the factors required to be specified in the five-year financial accountability plan, if any, submitted pursuant to section 23-5-130.5 by the state-supported institution of higher education offering the fixed-rate contract.

23-5-132. Governing boards - travel policies - exemption from state travel rules. Each governing board shall adopt travel policies for the institutions of higher education under its control, including but not limited to the use of travel services or travel agencies by the employees of the governing board or said institutions. Any rules adopted by the state controller pursuant to section 24-30-202 (26), C.R.S., or by the executive director of the department of personnel pursuant to section 24-102-401, C.R.S., that impose restrictions or requirements pertaining to the use of travel services or travel agencies shall not apply to a governing board or state institution of higher education.

23-5-133. Instructors - health benefits study - report. (1) The Colorado commission on higher education shall conduct a study to determine the impact of providing health and dental benefits to persons who are employed by one or more state colleges, universities, or community colleges and who teach an aggregate of fifteen or more credit hours at one or more state colleges, universities, or community colleges in a consecutive twelve-month period. In the course of conducting the study, the commission shall determine but shall not be limited to determining the following:

(a) The number of persons who are employed by one or more state colleges, universities, or community colleges who teach an aggregate of fifteen or more credit hours in a consecutive twelve-month period and who are not eligible to enroll in a health insurance benefit plan and a dental insurance benefit plan provided through a state college, university, or community college;

(b) The number of persons specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) who are teaching at each state college, university, or community college;

(c) The estimated annual cost of providing health insurance benefits and dental insurance benefits to the persons specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), including but not limited to the cost of paying the employer's share of the premium for such benefits and any administrative costs; and

(d) Any other information deemed necessary by the Colorado commission on higher education in order to determine the impact of providing health insurance benefits and dental insurance benefits to the persons specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1).

(2) The Colorado commission on higher education shall work with each state college, university, and community college that employs one or more persons who teach an aggregate of fifteen or more credit hours at one or more state colleges, universities, or community colleges in order to collect the information required pursuant to this section.

(3) In connection with the study required pursuant to this section, each state college, university, and community college shall, when it next negotiates its health insurance and dental insurance benefit plans, evaluate the options for and costs of including persons who teach less than full time at the state college, university, or community college in such benefit plans. Each state college, university, and community college shall transmit its findings to the Colorado commission on higher education, and the commission shall include the finding in the report required pursuant to subsection (4) of this section.

(4) The Colorado commission on higher education shall submit a report to the members of the house and senate education committees, or any successor committees, detailing the results of the study conducted pursuant to this section and including the findings of each state college, university, and community college pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, no later than January 15, 2007.

23-5-134. Appointments to governing boards - considerations. (1) It is the intent of the general assembly that the governor shall consider, when appointing individuals to serve on governing boards of institutions of higher education, an individual's:

- (a) Commitment to public education;
- (b) Record of public or community service;
- (c) Knowledge of complex organizations and academic institutions;
- (d) Demonstrated collaborative leadership;
- (e) Commitment to open-minded, nonpartisan decision-making; and
- (f) Record of integrity and civic virtue.

(2) Subsection (2) provided for the repeal of this section, effective July 1, 2007. (See L. 2006, p. 1351.)

23-5-136. Governing boards - on-line textbook program. Each governing board of a state institution of higher education shall consider creation and implementation of an on-line textbook library at the institution to allow students to purchase only those materials needed for the applicable course work. In considering the program, the governing board, at a minimum, shall take into account both the costs to the institution of higher education and the potential for reduced costs to students. Whether an institution of higher education creates an on-line textbook library shall be at the sole discretion of the institution's governing board.

23-5-137. Loan repayment assistance - legislative declaration - definitions. (1) This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Loan Repayment Assistance Act".

(2) (a) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that:

(I) It is of great value to the state to encourage students and graduates of institutions of higher education to enter public interest careers;

(II) With rising costs of education and the debt that many students incur to finance their education, there are increasing barriers to entering public interest employment because the pay is typically substantially lower than that of other employment sectors; and

(III) Inspired by a tradition of public interest, the university of Colorado law school developed a loan repayment assistance program to encourage and assist students and graduates to enter careers related to public interest and to help improve access to the justice system.

(b) The general assembly therefore declares that it is in the best interest of the state of Colorado to encourage and authorize institutions of higher education to create loan repayment assistance programs that provide for the partial or full repayment of the educational loans of students or graduates who enter public interest careers.

(3) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Institution of higher education" means a postsecondary educational institution established and existing pursuant to law.

(b) "Program" means a loan assistance repayment program authorized pursuant to this article for students or graduates who enter public interest careers.

(4) (a) The governing board of each institution of higher education is hereby encouraged and authorized to establish a loan repayment assistance program to assist students or graduates from the institution who select careers in public interest. The governing board of each institution shall establish criteria and rules to govern the implementation and operation of the program at the institution. The program shall allow the governing board to provide a loan or a grant to a student or graduate of the institution in accordance with the criteria and rules set forth by the governing board pursuant to this section.

(b) Private contributions made for the benefit of a program and other available funds shall fund a program at an institution of higher education. An institution of higher education shall hold moneys to support a program in a fund account, and any unexpended or unencumbered moneys remaining in the account at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the account and shall not revert or be transferred to another account or fund.

Source: L. 2007: Entire section added, p. 431, § 1, effective April 9.

23-5-138. Textbooks - definitions - academic freedom. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Adopting entity" means the person or persons responsible for selecting and ordering a textbook or supplemental learning material for use in a college course at a state institution of higher education.

(b) "Bundle" means one or more college textbooks or other supplemental learning materials offered in combination with one or more additional educational products to be sold as course materials for a single price.

(c) "College textbook" means a textbook or set of textbooks developed for use in a course in postsecondary education at a state institution of higher education. The term "college textbook" includes but need not be limited to custom textbooks and integrated textbooks.

(d) "Course material" means any textbook or other instructional tool that is published with the intent that it be used for or in conjunction with classroom instruction and that is adopted for academic use by faculty members, instructors, or the person or entity in charge of selecting learning material at the state institution of higher education.

(e) "Custom textbook" means a college textbook that is compiled at the direction of a faculty member, instructor, or other person or adopting entity in charge of selecting course materials at a state institution of higher education. A custom textbook may include but need not be limited to selections from original instructor materials, previously copyrighted publisher materials, copyrighted third-party works, or elements unique to a specific institution such as commemorative editions.

(f) “Integrated textbook” means a college textbook that is combined with materials and is designed solely for use as a combined unit, or that is developed by a third party and that, according to third-party contractual agreements, a publisher may not offer separately from the textbook with which the materials are combined.

(g) “Publisher” means a publisher of college textbooks or supplemental learning materials.

(h) “State institution of higher education” shall have the same meaning as provided in section 23-18-102 (10).

(i) “Substantial content” means a part of a college textbook, such as a new chapter, coverage of an additional historical era, a new theme, or new subject matter.

(j) “Supplemental learning material” means educational material developed to accompany a college textbook. Supplemental learning material is not a component of an integrated textbook. Supplemental learning material may include but need not be limited to printed materials, computer disks, web site access, and electronically distributed materials.

(2) Beginning on or before July 1, 2009:

(a) When a publisher provides a faculty member, instructor, or other person or adopting entity in charge of selecting course materials at a state institution of higher education with information regarding a college textbook or supplemental learning material, the publisher shall provide, in writing or electronically, the following information, at a minimum:

(I) The price at which the publisher would make the textbook or supplemental learning material available;

(II) The substantial content revisions made, if any, between the current edition of the college textbook or supplemental learning material and a previous edition;

(III) Whether the college textbook or supplemental learning material is available in another format, including but not limited to paperback or unbound copies, and the price at which the publisher would make the college textbook or supplemental learning material in the other format available.

(b) A publisher that sells a college textbook and any supplemental learning material accompanying that college textbook as a single bundle to a state institution of higher education shall also make available the college textbook and any of the supplemental learning materials as separate and unbundled items at separate prices.

(c) To the maximum extent practicable, a publisher shall provide the information required in this subsection (2) for the development and provision of custom textbooks.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as superseding the institutional autonomy or academic freedom of a state institution of higher education or its faculty members or instructors in the selection of college textbooks and supplemental learning materials.

23-5-139. Higher education revenue bond intercept program. (1) (a) The state treasurer, on behalf of a state-supported institution of higher education, as described in section 23-1-102 (2) and referred to in this section as an “institution”, shall make payment as provided in this section of principal and interest on bonds to which this section applies unless the governing board of the institution adopts a resolution stating that it will not accept on behalf of the institution payment of principal of and interest on bonds as provided in this section. Any such resolution shall be adopted prior to issuance or incurrence of the bonds to which it applies. Following adoption of the resolution, the institution shall provide written notice to the state treasurer of its refusal to accept the payment. The refusal to accept payment shall take effect upon the date the state treasurer receives the written notice and shall continue in effect until the date the state treasurer receives written notice from the institution that the governing board of the institution has adopted a resolution rescinding the refusal to accept payment pursuant to this section. Notwithstanding any provision of subsections (2) to (7) of this section to the contrary, the state treasurer shall not make payment of principal of or interest on bonds on behalf of an institution that provides written notice of its refusal to accept payment by the state treasurer on its behalf as provided in this paragraph (a) until the state treasurer receives written notice of the rescission of refusal to accept payment.

(b) This section applies to revenue bonds issued by an institution pursuant to this article on or after June 4, 2008, and to refunding bonds issued by an institution pursuant to article 54, 56, or 57 of title 11, C.R.S., on or after June 4, 2008, if, on the date the bonds are issued:

(I) The maximum total annual debt service payments of the revenue bond issue and any other bonds to which this section applies issued by the same institution are one hundred percent or less of the institution's prior year fee-for-service contract revenue; and

(II) The pledged revenues for the issue include not less than:

(A) The net revenues of auxiliaries;

(B) Ten percent of tuition if the institution is an enterprise, as defined in section 24-77-102 (3), C.R.S.;

(C) Indirect cost recovery revenues, if any;

(D) Facility construction fees designated for bond repayment, if any; and

(E) Student fees and ancillary revenues currently pledged to existing bondholders.

(2) Whenever the paying agent has not received payment of principal of or interest on bonds or other obligations to which this section applies on the business day immediately prior to the date on which such payment is due, the paying agent shall so notify the state treasurer and the institution by telephone, facsimile, or other similar communication, followed by written verification, of such payment status. The state treasurer shall immediately contact the institution and determine whether the institution will make the payment by the date on which it is due.

(3) If an institution indicates that it will not make a payment by the date on which it is due, or if the state treasurer is unable to contact the institution, the state treasurer shall forward the amount in immediately available funds necessary to make the payment of the principal of or interest on the bonds or other obligations of the institution to the paying agent. The state treasurer shall recover the amount forwarded by withholding amounts from the institution's payments of the state's fee-for-service contract with the institution, from any other state support for the institution, and from any unpledged tuition moneys collected by the institution. The total amount withheld in a month from the state's fee-for-service contract with the institution for each occasion on which the state treasurer forwards an amount pursuant to this section shall not exceed one-twelfth of the amount forwarded. The state treasurer shall not withhold for more than twelve consecutive months for each occasion on which the treasurer forwards amounts pursuant to this section. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection (3), an institution may elect to make early repayment of all or any portion of an amount forwarded by the state treasurer on behalf of the institution pursuant to this section.

(4) The amounts forwarded to the paying agent by the state treasurer pursuant to subsection (3) of this section shall be applied by the paying agent solely to the payment of the principal of or interest on such bonds or other obligations of the institution. The state treasurer shall notify the department of higher education and the general assembly of amounts withheld and payments made pursuant to this section. Institutions that have a debt service payment forwarded to the paying agent by the state treasurer shall not request a supplemental general fund appropriation or budget amendment for the amount forwarded in order to replace withheld fee-for-service revenue.

(5) Any institution with a bond issue for which this section applies shall file with the state treasurer a copy of the resolution that authorizes the issuance of bonds; a copy of the official statement or other offering document for the bonds; the agreement, if any, with the paying agent for the bonds; and the name, address, and telephone number of the paying agent. The failure of any institution to file such information shall not affect the obligation of the state treasurer to withhold the state's fee-for-service contract payments to the institution.

(6) As provided in section 11 of article II of the state constitution, the state hereby covenants with the purchasers and owners of bonds issued by institutions that it will not repeal, revoke, or rescind the provisions of this section or modify or amend this section so as to limit or impair the rights and remedies granted by this section; except that nothing in this subsection (6) shall be deemed or construed to require the state to continue the payment of state assistance to any institution or to limit or prohibit the state from repealing, amending, or modifying any law relating to the amount of state assistance to institutions or the manner of payment or the timing thereof. Nothing in this section shall be deemed or construed to create a debt of the state with respect to such bonds within the meaning of any state constitutional provision or to create any other liability except to the extent provided in this section.

(7) Whenever the state treasurer is required by this section to make a payment of principal of or interest on bonds or other obligations on behalf of an institution, the department of higher education shall initiate an audit of the institution to determine the reason for the nonpayment and to assist the institution, if necessary, in developing and implementing measures to ensure that future payments will be made when they are due.

23-5-140. Lifesaving school safety information. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(I) The safety of students, faculty, and staff who work and learn on the campuses of Colorado institutions of higher education can be enhanced by informing, organizing, and empowering those individuals to respond appropriately to emergency situations on campus;

(II) Critical incidents that take place on campuses are unique, life-changing events that require exercising basic survival skills during an intense period of high mental and physical stress. Having the information necessary to respond effectively to these critical incidents can be key to a positive individual or group outcome in a true life or death situation; and

(III) Colorado institutions of higher education should ensure that all students, faculty, and staff receive updated school safety information that reflects best practices for their institution at the beginning of each school year.

(b) The general assembly therefore finds that the dissemination of safety information to students, faculty, and staff that reflects best practices for the institution may encourage students, faculty, and staff to respond appropriately and in coordination with school safety personnel in emergency situations.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) “Institution of higher education” or “institution” means a state institution of higher education as defined in section 23-18-102 (10) (a), a junior college, an area vocational school, or a technical college.

(b) “School building” means a building, including but not limited to a classroom building or a school dormitory, that is a public building of an institution of higher education.

(3) (a) Each institution of higher education shall develop policies and procedures that are tailored to the institution and that reflect best practices concerning critical incident response protocols and personal safety on campus and in school buildings on campus.

(b) Beginning in the 2011-12 academic year, each institution shall disseminate annually school safety information to students, faculty, and staff concerning the policies and procedures developed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3).

Source: L. 2010: Entire section added, (HB 10-1054), ch. 117, p. 394, § 1, effective August 11.

23-5-141. Campus police information sharing - legislative declaration - definitions. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) Providing for the safety of the students, faculty, and staff of Colorado’s state institutions of higher education is an important priority for those institutions and for the state;

(b) Unfortunate and tragic events at educational institutions within the state and around the nation have raised concerns regarding campus safety at Colorado’s institutions of higher education; and

(c) State institution of higher education police departments should be authorized to share with responsible administrators information regarding behaviors which pose a potential risk to the campus community in order to mitigate such risk.

(2) For purposes of this section:

(a) “Campus behavioral intervention task force” means any group of persons that includes at least one administrator listed in subparagraph (I) of paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section and is appointed by the chief executive officer of a state institution of higher education, or his or her designee, to monitor and mitigate risks to campus safety posed by individuals who display concerning behaviors.

(b) “Sexual assault” means any of the offenses listed in section 24-72-304 (4) (b) (I), C.R.S.

(c) “State institution of higher education” means a state institution of higher education as defined in section 23-18-102 (10) (a), a junior college, an area vocational school, the Auraria higher education center, an education center, or a technical college.

(3) (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3), a state institution of higher education police department may provide unredacted information, which information may include but need not be limited to police reports, regarding any incident within its jurisdiction to:

(I) The director, or director’s designee, of any campus program or unit with administrative responsibility for victims assistance, mental health services, university housing, student discipline processes, or student affairs; and

(II) A campus behavioral intervention task force.

(b) When providing information regarding a sexual assault or attempted sexual assault pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), a state institution of higher education police department shall redact the victim’s name and identifying information unless the victim agrees otherwise in writing with respect to each administrator or behavioral intervention task force to which the police department intends to release the information.

(c) A state institution of higher education police department may provide to a person who is the focus of a specific threat of physical violence information regarding any incident within its jurisdiction that is necessary to protect the person who is the focus of the threat.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24-72-304 (4), 27-65-121, or 27-81-113, C.R.S., to the contrary, the authorization to share information established by this section specifically includes but is not limited to information regarding sexual assaults, emergency mental health holds, and protective custody for alcohol or drug detoxification. Any person receiving information regarding sexual assaults, emergency mental health holds, and protective custody for alcohol or drug detoxification pursuant to this section shall make all reasonable efforts to ensure the information is not disseminated beyond what is necessary.

(4) A faculty member, staff member, or student of the campus disclosing information to a campus behavioral intervention task force while acting under a good-faith belief that the disclosure is necessary to protect the health, safety, or well-being of any person, or to protect the property of any person or of the institution, shall not be liable in any civil action for disclosing the information. The immunity provided in this section does not nullify or rescind any statutory duty of confidentiality by a licensed professional or victim’s advocate pursuant to section 13-90-107 (1) (k), C.R.S., or any statutory duty to warn and protect specified in section 13-21-117, C.R.S.

Higher Education Emeritus
Retirement Benefits

23-6-101.	Persons eligible for benefits.	23-6-103.	Benefits commence - when.
23-6-102.	Application.	23-6-104.	Fund - limitation on pension.

23-6-101. Persons eligible for benefits. (1) This article shall apply to all presidents, deans, professors, administrators, instructors, and research workers, referred to in this article as "faculty members", retired from service of state institutions of higher education in Colorado, to their dependent surviving spouses, and to the surviving spouses of said faculty members who have died in service after ten or more years of employment in said state institutions.

(2) Any faculty members applying for benefits under this article:

(a) Shall have served as such faculty member at least fifteen years in one or more state institutions of higher education in Colorado, shall be at least sixty-five years of age, and shall have retired prior to July 1, 1962;

(b) Shall have retired at any age and at any time, at the initiative of the Colorado institution where last serving, for disability regarded as rendering such faculty member unfit for further service if such faculty member has served at least fifteen years and the president of the institution so retiring such member certifies to the commissioner of education as to the disability of such member;

(c) Shall, prior to July 1, 1962, have attained the age of sixty years and shall, upon the date of his retirement, have served at least twenty years; or

(d) Shall, prior to July 1, 1962, have attained the age of sixty years and shall, upon the date of his retirement, have served at least ten but less than twenty years.

(3) Any surviving spouse of any deceased faculty member applying for benefits under this article:

(a) Shall have been married to said faculty member on the date on which eligibility of said member for retirement benefits under this article was established under the provisions of paragraphs (a) to (c) of subsection (2) of this section;

(b) Shall have been married to said faculty member on the date on which eligibility of said member for retirement benefits under this article was established under the provisions of paragraph (d) of subsection (2) of this section;

(c) Shall have been married to said faculty member who died in service after twenty years of employment in state institutions of higher education in Colorado;

(d) Shall have been married to said faculty member who died in service after ten or more years of employment in state institutions of higher education in Colorado;

(e) May be of any age.

23-6-103. Benefits commence - when. All faculty members or their surviving spouses who are declared eligible by the commissioner of education to receive the retirement benefits provided by this article shall receive a monthly benefit provided in this article effective the first month after the commissioner declares the faculty member or surviving spouse so eligible. All faculty members or their surviving spouses receiving retirement benefits under this article before June 8, 1967, shall receive the increased benefits provided in this article effective on or after the first month following said date without being required further to establish eligibility to receive such retirement benefits.

23-6-104. Fund - limitation on pension. (1) There is hereby created a state institutions of higher education emeritus retirement fund from which the commissioner of education shall authorize payments from such appropriations as are made to the fund, as follows:

(a) (I) To any faculty member eligible under section 23-6-101 (2) (a), (2) (b), or (2) (c), a monthly payment of two hundred forty dollars or a lesser sum which, together with any pension or retirement benefit or annuity which at the time of his retirement he was eligible to receive from any other retirement or annuity pension fund supported in whole or in part by the state of Colorado or its political subdivisions, provides a total retirement income of three hundred fifty dollars per month; and, effective July 1, 1975, and each year thereafter, said amount shall be increased by three percent.

(II) For the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1980, payments and amounts provided for in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) shall be increased by eight percent or the average percentage increase in the state salary survey for 1980-81, whichever is higher. Effective July 1, 1981, and each fiscal year thereafter, the percentage increase shall be commensurate with the average state salary survey percentage increase.

(b) To any faculty member eligible under section 23-6-101 (2) (d), a monthly payment determined as specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) after multiplying each dollar sum specified therein by that fraction given by multiplying years of service by one-twentieth;

(c) To any surviving spouse eligible under section 23-6-101 (3) (a) or (3) (c), a monthly payment of one hundred twenty-five dollars or a lesser sum which, together with any pension or annuity or retirement benefit received from any other retirement or annuity pension fund supported in whole or in part by the state of Colorado or its political subdivisions, provides a total retirement benefit of one hundred seventy-five dollars per month;

(d) To any surviving spouse eligible under section 23-6-101 (3) (b) or (3) (d), a monthly payment determined as specified in paragraph (c) of this subsection (1) after multiplying each dollar sum specified therein by that fraction determined by multiplying years of faculty member's service by one-twentieth.

(2) If at any time there are insufficient moneys in the state institutions of higher education emeritus retirement fund to pay the full amount of the retirement benefits provided by this article, said moneys shall be distributed as follows:

(a) Each eligible faculty member shall receive that payment which, together with all other retirement benefits supported in whole or in part by the state of Colorado or its political subdivisions, provides a retirement income of two hundred dollars per month, or the surviving spouse shall receive one hundred dollars per month.

(b) From the moneys remaining after the above specified allotments are made, each faculty member shall receive that additional payment which, together with all other retirement benefits supported in whole or in part by the state of Colorado or its political subdivisions, provides a retirement income of two hundred fifty dollars per month, or the surviving spouse shall receive one hundred twenty-five dollars per month.

(c) All moneys remaining after the above specified allotments are fulfilled shall be prorated among all eligible recipients to provide, within the limits of the moneys available, those additional benefits for which each is eligible under subsection (1) (a) to (1) (d) of this section.

ANNOTATION

Classification of students as out-of-state and consequent imposition of higher tuition is not unconstitutional. It is not unconstitutional to classify students applying for admission to a university as in-state or out-of-state students, and to impose a higher tuition for the out-of-state students. Landwehr v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 156 Colo. 1, 396 P.2d 451 (1964).
Applied in Seren v. Douglas, 30 Colo. App. 110, 489 P.2d 601 (1971).

- 23-7-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:
- (1) Repealed.
  - (2) “Domicile” means a person’s true, fixed, and permanent home and place of habitation. It is the place where he intends to remain and to which he expects to return when he leaves without intending to establish a new domicile elsewhere.
  - (3) “Emancipated minor” means a minor whose parents have entirely surrendered the right to the care, custody, and earnings of such minor, no longer are under any duty to support or maintain such minor, and have made no provision for the support of such minor.
  - (4) “His” applies to the female as well as the male sex.
  - (5) “In-state student” means a student who has been domiciled in Colorado for one year or more immediately preceding registration at any institution of higher education in Colorado for any term or session for which domiciliary classification is claimed, but attendance at an institution of higher education, public or private, within the state of Colorado shall not alone be sufficient to qualify for domicile in Colorado. “In-state student" includes a member of the armed forces of the United States or his dependents who qualify under section 23-7-103 (1) (c).

(6) "Institution" means a Colorado college, university, or junior college supported partially or entirely by appropriations made by the general assembly.

(7) "Minor" means a male or female person who has not attained the age of twenty-two years.

(8) "Parent-qualified student" means an unemancipated minor who is not domiciled in Colorado but who has a parent domiciled in Colorado.

(9) "Qualified person" means a person qualified to determine his or her own domicile. A person over the age of twenty-two years or a student commencing a postbaccalaureate degree-granting program or an emancipated minor is so qualified.

ANNOTATION

Fundamental to the classification of "in-state student" is the establishment of a domicile as it is expressly defined in subsection (2). Seren v. Douglas, 30 Colo. App. 110, 489 P.2d 601 (1971).

Intent as to domicile is to be determined by trier of fact, absent legal disability. In the absence of a legal disability preventing a student admitted to the United States as an alien from forming the requisite intent to establish a domicile after the expiration of his student visa, it is within the province of the trier of fact to determine whether the intent required by this section was present. Seren v. Douglas, 30 Colo. App. 110, 489 P.2d 601 (1971).

Although the federal statutes create a disability during the period that a student is a nonimmigrant alien, no state or federal statute compels the conclusion that this impediment remains until he is granted the status of lawful permanent resident. Seren v. Douglas, 30 Colo. App. 110, 489 P.2d 601 (1971).

The legal disability created by federal statute can, as a matter of fact and law, dissolve upon the expiration of an alien student's visa, and at such time he can abandon his legal intent to return to his homeland and seek status as a permanent resident of the United States. Seren v. Douglas, 30 Colo. App. 110, 489 P.2d 601 (1971).

Where there was evidence to the effect that an alien student intended to reside permanently in Colorado, and where he did in fact reside in Colorado, the trial court did not err in finding that he met the requirements for the establishment of a "domicile" as expressly defined by subsection (2); and where the trial court additionally found that plaintiff had been domiciled in Colorado for more than one year prior to his application for resident tuition status, its conclusion that the student was entitled to classification as an "in-state student" for tuition purposes under subsection (5) was also proper. Seren v. Douglas, 30 Colo. App. 110, 489 P.2d 601 (1971).

23-7-103. Presumptions and rules for determination of status. (1) Unless the contrary appears to the satisfaction of the registering authority of the institution at which a student is registering, it shall be presumed that:

(a) The domicile of an unemancipated minor is that of the parent with whom he or she resides or, if there is a guardian of his or her person, that of such guardian, but only if the court appointing such guardian (who has legal custody of the minor child as defined in section 19-1-103 (73), C.R.S.) certifies that the primary purpose of such appointment is not to qualify such unemancipated minor as a resident of this state and that his or her parents, if living, do not provide substantial support to the minor child;

(b) Repealed.

(c) (I) (A) A person does not lose in-state status by reason of his or her presence in any state or country while a member of the armed forces of the United States or a dependent of said member; but a member of the armed forces or a dependent of said member is eligible for in-state status if the member is domiciled in Colorado for twelve continuous months prior to enlistment and returns to Colorado within six months following discharge from the military.

(B) A member of the armed forces shall be eligible to obtain in-state status, notwithstanding the length of his or her residency, upon moving to Colorado on a permanent change-of-station basis or on a temporary assignment to duty in Colorado.

(C) A member of the armed forces may apply for in-state tuition classification for any of his or her dependents, including but not limited to a spouse, upon meeting the requirements of this section. After qualifying as an in-state student and while continuously enrolled as an undergraduate or graduate student at an institution of higher education in Colorado, a member of the armed forces of the United States on active duty, or the member's spouse or dependent, shall not lose his or her eligibility for in-state tuition status if the member is transferred outside of Colorado or if the member retires or separates from the military and remains in Colorado. A person who is a dependent of a member of the armed forces of the United States who was on active duty in Colorado during the person's last year of high school, and who attends a public institution of higher education in Colorado within twelve months after graduating from a high school in Colorado, shall be eligible for in-state tuition, and the eligibility shall not be affected if the member is transferred outside of Colorado or if the member retires or separates from the military and remains in Colorado; except that such a person is not eligible for in-state tuition under this provision if the person has attended an institution of higher education outside of Colorado.

(II) Notwithstanding any provision of section 23-18-102 (5) to the contrary, a member of the armed forces or his or her dependent who obtains in-state status upon moving to Colorado on a temporary assignment to duty in Colorado shall not be eligible to receive a stipend pursuant to part 2 of article 18 of this title unless said member or dependent is eligible to obtain in-state status under another provision of this section.

(III) Repealed.

(d) The establishment of a new domicile in Colorado by a qualified person formerly domiciled in another state has occurred if he is physically present in Colorado without a present intention to return to such other state or to acquire a domicile at some other place outside of Colorado;

(e) Once established, a domicile has not been lost by mere absence unaccompanied by intention to establish a new domicile;

(f) The establishment of a Colorado domicile for twelve continuous months in accordance with the provisions of this article by the parent of a parent-qualified student entitles the student to in-state tuition rates;

(g) A minor is unemancipated.

(2) To aid the institutions in deciding whether a student, a parent or guardian of the student, or the person who provides substantial support to the student is domiciled in Colorado, the following rules shall be applied:

(a) Payment of Colorado income tax is highly persuasive evidence of domicile in Colorado. If spouses file income tax returns in different states, the income tax paid to each state may be considered in determining whether domicile in Colorado is proper.

(b) Nonpayment of Colorado income tax by a person whose income is sufficient to be taxed is highly persuasive evidence of non-Colorado domicile.

(c) After a student has registered at an institution, his classification for tuition purposes remains unchanged in the absence of clear and convincing evidence to the contrary. Such evidence shall be reduced to writing and filed with the registering authority of the college. Changes in classification established by such evidence, whether from out-of-state to in-state or the reverse, shall be in writing, signed by the registering authority of the college, and given effect at the time of the student's next registration.

(d) A qualified person cannot establish a new domicile in Colorado if he lacks the intention of so doing.

(e) No person may establish a domicile in Colorado solely for the purpose of changing a student's classification for tuition purposes from out-of-state to in-state. Any student who is classified for tuition purposes as an out-of-state student at the time of registration at an institution and who personally or through his parent, his guardian, or the person who provides substantial support to him seeks to establish Colorado domicile while registered shall be presumed to seek to establish Colorado domicile solely for tuition purposes in the absence of clear and convincing evidence to the contrary.

(f) The following may be considered evidence of domicile even though no one of these criteria, if taken alone, may be considered as conclusive evidence of domicile:

(I) Employment in Colorado, other than that normally provided on a temporary basis to students by an institution of higher education or other temporary employment;

(II) Ownership of residential real property in Colorado;

(III) Graduation from a high school located in Colorado;

(IV) Continued residence in the state of Colorado during periods when not enrolled as a student or during periods between academic sessions;

(V) Acceptance of future employment in the state of Colorado;

(VI) Vehicle registration in Colorado;

(VII) Any other factor peculiar to the individual which tends to establish the necessary intent to make Colorado a permanent home;

(VIII) Voter registration in Colorado.

(g) The following may be considered as evidence of domicile in another state even though no one of these criteria, if taken alone, may be considered as conclusive evidence of domicile in another state:

(I) Failure to comply with any law imposing a mandatory duty upon a domiciliary or resident of this state;

(II) Maintenance of a home in another state;

(III) Prolonged absence from Colorado, except in military or governmental service or except when the absence is due to a temporary relocation required as a condition of employment which the employer does not intend to make permanent or except when the student has been out of state for less than three years and such student's parent or legal guardian was and continues to be a resident of Colorado;

(IV) Return to one's former residence for a substantial portion of the time during periods when not enrolled as a student or between academic sessions;

(V) Vehicle registration in another state;

(VI) Any other factor peculiar to the individual which tends to establish the fact that his permanent home is in another state.

(h) The following may be considered as evidence of emancipation for the purposes of this article even though no one of these criteria, if taken alone, may be considered as conclusive evidence of emancipation:

(I) An affidavit of the parents stating their relinquishment of any claim or right to the care, custody, and earnings of the minor as well as the duty to support the minor;

(II) Entry into the military service by the minor;

(III) Failure of the parents to provide financial support to the minor, coupled with the evidence that the minor is independently able to meet his own financial obligations, including the costs of his education;

(IV) Any other factor peculiar to the individual which tends to establish that he is independent of his parents and is providing his own support.

(i) The following may be considered as evidence of nonemancipation for the purpose of this article even though no one of these criteria, if taken alone, may be considered as conclusive evidence of nonemancipation:

(I) The claiming of a minor as a dependent for the purposes of income taxation;

(II) Receipt of gifts, loans, or trust proceeds from an inter vivos trust by a minor regardless of the date of receipt thereof which the minor depends upon for financial support, whether the gifts, loans, or trusts from which proceeds are paid are made by the parents, any other relative, or a friend of the minor;

(III) Residence in the home of his parents by the minor, except for temporary visits;

(IV) Any other factor peculiar to the individual which tends to establish that he lacks independence and is dependent upon his parents.

(j) The marriage of a minor results in his emancipation.

(k) The establishment of a Colorado domicile shall be the burden of the person seeking to establish domicile. The registering authority of any state institution of higher education shall require the individual seeking to establish domicile to support his claim by clear and convincing evidence of the validity of the claim. The registering authority may require the individual seeking to establish domicile to complete forms prepared by the Colorado commission on higher education for the purpose of aiding him in his determination and to provide such documentation as may be required to support the classification.

(l) Only a qualified person can establish a domicile.

(m) (I) Any person who himself or, if an unemancipated minor, through his parent or legal guardian has had an established domicile in this state for not less than one year shall not be considered to have lost such domicile for tuition purposes unless such person would be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes in another state if the rules and presumptions in this section for classification as an in-state student were applied in such other state to such person.

(II) Any unemancipated minor whose parent or legal guardian was domiciled in Colorado for at least the four immediately preceding years and whose parent or legal guardian moves from this state shall be classified as an in-state student if:

(A) The parent or legal guardian leaves the state after the minor completes his or her junior year of high school and the minor matriculates at a Colorado institution within three years and six months after the time the parent or legal guardian leaves the state; or

(B) Notwithstanding his or her unemancipated status, the minor maintains continuous Colorado domicile subject to all other provisions of this section.

(n) Participation in an education expense program shall not be considered evidence of domicile in this state or in another state.

(o) A foreign national, notwithstanding an intention to return to his or her country of origin or ineligibility to establish domicile in the United States pursuant to federal law, shall be eligible for classification as an in-state student subject to all other provisions of this section if the primary purpose of the foreign national's residence in Colorado, pursuant to federal immigration regulations, is other than for his or her education or for the education of a family member. The Colorado commission on higher education shall designate those nonimmigrant classifications under which such foreign nationals may qualify as in-state students. In no event shall said designation displace students who would otherwise qualify as Colorado residents for in-state tuition classification purposes.

(2.5) Repealed.

(3) An unemancipated minor qualifies for a change in his or her classification to in-state student for tuition purposes only if either of his or her parents, regardless of custody or parental responsibilities, or his or her legal guardian has completed the requirements for establishing a Colorado domicile. Eligibility for classification as an in-state student for tuition purposes shall be lost if both of his parents, regardless of custody or parental responsibilities, or his or her legal guardian has lost eligibility. An emancipated minor or adult who has registered as a student does not qualify for a change in his or her classification to in-state student for tuition purposes unless he or she has established and maintained a domicile for twelve continuous months in this state.

(4) Repealed.

(5) The presumptions and rules in this section shall determine tuition classification except when exceptions are made by the general assembly in other sections of this article.

ANNOTATION

Former sentence in subsection (3) which began with the words, "An emancipated minor or adult student..." was unconstitutional as imposing an invidious discrimination, but was severable from the remainder of the statute which was legally complete within itself. Covell v. Douglas, 179 Colo. 443, 501 P.2d 1047 (1972), cert. denied, 412 U.S. 952, 93 S. Ct. 3000, 37 L. Ed.2d 1006 (1973) (decided prior to 1979 amendment).

Because it created an irrebuttable presumption of nonresidency which constituted invidious discrimination. Since, under that provision, all full-time students, not residents of Colorado before they attend school herein, were prohibited from ever controverting the presumption of nonresidency for tuition purposes while they remain full-time students, such provision imposed an invidious discrimination violative of due process and was unconstitutional. Covell v. Douglas, 179 Colo. 443, 501 P.2d 1047 (1972), cert. denied, 412 U.S. 952, 93 S. Ct. 3000, 37 L. Ed.2d 1006 (1973) (decided prior to 1979 amendment).

Remainder of unconstitutional sentence in that provision held not severable. See Covell v. Douglas, 179 Colo. 443, 501 P.2d 1047 (1972), cert. denied, 412 U.S. 952, 93 S. Ct. 3000, 37 L. Ed.2d 1006 (1973) (decided prior to 1979 amendment).

23-7-104. Commission to recommend enrollment incentive program. The Colorado commission on higher education shall propose an enrollment incentive program for summer sessions at state-supported colleges and universities and make recommendations for the legislative implementation thereof to the education committees of the general assembly on or before January 15, 1979. Such recommendations shall be accompanied by an analysis of the fiscal impact of differentiated tuition levels, projections of the extent of the effect that summer school tuition rates have on overall enrollment, and a summary of the experiences any other states may have had in implementing a similar program.

23-7-105. Tuition classification of olympic athletes. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, but subject to subsections (2) and (3) of this section, every athlete who otherwise would not be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes under this article may be classified as an in-state student for purposes of tuition at any state-supported institution of higher education if the athlete is:

(a) In residence and in training at the United States olympic training center at Colorado Springs;

(b) In residence in Colorado Springs and in training at the olympic training center at Colorado Springs in a program approved by the governing body for the athlete's olympic sport; or

(c) In residence in Colorado Springs and in training at a facility in Colorado Springs approved by the governing body for the athlete's olympic sport and in a program approved by such body.

(2) If a student is classified as an in-state student pursuant to this section, he or she may be counted as a resident student for any purpose; except that no such student shall be entitled to receive state financial aid.

(3) The governing board of each state-supported institution of higher education may grant in-state tuition status to students classified pursuant to this section.

23-7-106. Tuition classification of Canadian military personnel. (1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article to the contrary, any member of the military forces of Canada stationed in Colorado, or the dependent of any such member, shall receive in-state tuition status at any institution of higher education in this state. No member of the Canadian military shall be deemed to be stationed in this state unless he maintains a full-time principal residence in this state. In-state tuition status for Canadian military personnel or their dependents shall terminate at the conclusion of the current quarter or semester upon transfer to any station outside of this state.

(2) No student classified as an in-state student pursuant to this section shall be counted as a resident student for any purpose other than tuition classification.

(3) The Colorado commission on higher education shall report annually, with their budget request, on the enrollment of Canadian military personnel in Colorado institutions of higher education.

23-7-107. Tuition classification of Chinese and Russian students in graduate public policy programs. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, but subject to subsections (4) and (5) of this section, up to a total of twenty-five students deserving of financial support per year from the Commonwealth of Independent States and the People's Republic of China, five of whom shall be of Tibetan nationality, if possible, who are enrolled in a qualifying master's program at a graduate school of public affairs at a state-supported institution of higher education may be classified as in-state students for purposes of tuition at such institution. The total number of students enrolled under this section may not exceed fifty. To qualify for in-state classification pursuant to this section, such students must be enrolled in a master's program which focuses on developing such students' understanding of democracy and which will enable them to apply the doctrines of democracy and free-market principles upon returning to their respective countries, such students must meet the academic requirements of such program, and such students must meet the requirements stated in subsection (3) of this section. In addition, such students shall plan, following graduation, to return to their respective countries to apply the knowledge obtained from such master's program.

(2) To receive in-state classification pursuant to this section, a student shall annually submit an application to the graduate school of public affairs at the university of Colorado at Denver. The dean and faculty council of such graduate school of public affairs shall annually determine those students who may receive in-state classification based on each student's satisfaction of the requirements stated in this section. Upon determining which students may receive in-state classification, the dean or the faculty council shall notify such students and the state-supported institutions of higher education at which such students are enrolled. Notification shall be made not later than July 1 of each year in which such student receives in-state classification pursuant to this section.

(3) To be eligible for in-state classification pursuant to this section, each student must be enrolled as a full-time student and must maintain a full-time principal residence in this state during the time such student is enrolled. Eligibility for in-state classification for each student shall terminate at the time such student receives a degree from the program in which such student was enrolled at the time such in-state classification was first received.

(4) No student admitted pursuant to this section shall be admitted in lieu of a qualified Colorado resident who is applying to a qualified master's program at the graduate school of public affairs at the university of Colorado at Denver.

(5) No student classified as an in-state student pursuant to this section shall be counted as a resident student for any purpose other than tuition classification.

(6) The governing board of each state-supported institution of higher education may grant in-state tuition status to students classified pursuant to this section.

23-7-108. Tuition classification of Colorado National Guard personnel. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, a member of the Colorado National Guard who maintains his or her sole residence in Colorado, or the dependent of said member of the Colorado National Guard, shall receive in-state tuition status at any institution of higher education in this state. Said member of the Colorado National Guard shall receive in-state tuition status regardless of whether he or she is eligible for or is receiving tuition assistance pursuant to section 23-5-111.4.

(2) A student who is classified as an in-state student solely pursuant to this section shall not be counted as a resident for any purpose other than tuition classification.

23-7-108.5. Tuition classification of armed forces veterans. (1) (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, beginning with the fall semester of the 2009-2010 academic year, the governing board of each state institution of higher education in Colorado shall adopt a policy that grants in-state tuition status to an honorably discharged member of the armed forces of the United States who enrolls in said state institution of higher education and who meets, for any length of time, the presumptions and rules for maintaining a domicile in Colorado described in section 23-7-103.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, beginning with the fall semester of the 2009-2010 academic year, the governing board of each state institution of higher education in Colorado may adopt a policy that grants in-state tuition status to a dependent of an honorably discharged member of the armed forces of the United States who enrolls in said state institution of higher education if the said honorably discharged member of the armed forces meets, for any length of time, the presumptions and rules for maintaining a domicile in Colorado described in section 23-7-103.

(2) A student who is classified as an in-state student solely pursuant to this section shall not be counted as a resident for any purpose other than tuition classification; except that, beginning with the fall semester of the 2011-2012 academic year, upon such classification as an in-state student pursuant to this section, the student shall also be eligible to receive a stipend from the college opportunity fund pursuant to part 2 of article 18 of this title.

23-7-109. Tuition classification for employees or employees' children of companies who move to Colorado.

(1) (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, but subject to subsections (2) and (3) of this section, a student who otherwise would not be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes under this article may be classified as an in-state student for purposes of tuition at any state-supported institution of higher education if the student or the student's parent or legal guardian moved to Colorado in the twelve months preceding enrollment as a result of the student's employer or the employer of the student's parent or legal guardian moving all or a portion of its operations to Colorado as a result of receiving an incentive from the Colorado office of economic development, created in section 24-48.5-101, C.R.S., or an incentive from a local government economic incentive program. Each state-supported institution of higher education shall develop a policy to use to verify that the student's employer or the employer of the student's parent or legal guardian did, in fact, move all or a portion of its operations to Colorado as a result of receiving an incentive from the Colorado office of economic development or a local government economic incentive program and that the student or the student's parent or legal guardian was employed by the employer prior to the relocation.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, but subject to subsections (2) and (3) of this section, a student who otherwise would not be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes under this article may be classified as an in-state student for purposes of tuition at any state-supported institution of higher education if the student moved to the state of Colorado in the twelve months preceding enrollment as a result of the student's parent or legal guardian moving to Colorado to take a faculty position at a state-supported institution of higher education. Each state-supported institution of higher education shall develop a policy to use to verify that the student's parent or legal guardian moved to Colorado to take a faculty position at a state-supported institution of higher education.

(2) If a student is classified as an in-state student pursuant to this section, he or she may be counted as a resident student for any purpose; except that the student shall not be entitled to receive state financial aid.

(3) The governing board of each state-supported institution of higher education may grant in-state tuition status to students classified pursuant to this section.

23-7-110. Tuition classification for United States citizens who attend and graduate from Colorado high schools or complete a Colorado general equivalency diploma.

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, a student who is a United States citizen shall be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes if:

(a) The student graduated from a public or private high school in this state; and
(b) (I) The student attended a public or private high school in this state for at least three years immediately preceding the date the student enrolled in a Colorado institution of higher education; or

(II) The student completed a general equivalency diploma in this state and resided in this state for at least three years immediately preceding the date the student enrolled in a Colorado institution of higher education.

(2) Any information provided to satisfy the criteria specified in this section shall be confidential unless disclosure is explicitly required by law.

(3) This section provides an additional option for a student seeking to be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes. This section shall not be interpreted to impose additional requirements upon a student seeking to be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes under any other section of this article.

23-7-111. Tuition classification for persons who move to Colorado for employment.

(1) (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, and subject to the provisions of subsections (2) to (4) of this section, a child who is a legal resident of the United States and who would otherwise not be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes under this article may be classified as an in-state student for purposes of tuition at an institution if:

(I) The child's parent or legal guardian moved his or her family to Colorado for the purpose of accepting a job in the state during the child's senior year of high school;

(II) The child moved with his or her parent or legal guardian to Colorado during the child's senior year of high school; and

(III) The child graduated from a Colorado public high school.

(b) Each institution shall develop a policy to verify that a child meets each of the requirements specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1).

(2) If a child is classified as an in-state student pursuant to this section, he or she may be counted as a resident student for any purpose; except that the child shall not be entitled to receive state financial aid.

(3) The governing board of each institution may grant in-state tuition status to a child classified as an in-state student pursuant to this section.

(4) If a child is classified as an in-state student pursuant to this section, the child shall not be entitled to receive a stipend pursuant to article 18 of this title for the first year the child is enrolled at an institution.

23-8-101. Legislative declaration. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit or limit existing programs of career and technical education in any grade level, the value of which is specifically recognized by the general assembly.

Source: L. 70: p. 429, § 1. C.R.S. 1963: § 146-4-5. L. 2008: Entire article amended, p. 307, § 1, effective August 5.

23-8-101.5. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Board" means the state board for community colleges and occupational education created in section 23-60-104.

(2) "Board of cooperative services" shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 22-5-103 (2), C.R.S.

(3) "Education provider" means a school district, a board of cooperative services, an institute charter school, or a facility school.

(4) "Education provider's per pupil revenues" means:

(a) For a school district, the district's per pupil revenues, as defined in section 22-54-103 (9.3), C.R.S.;

(b) For a board of cooperative services, the amount received by a board of cooperative services as tuition for students enrolled in an approved career and technical education program;

(c) For an institute charter school, the amount received by an institute charter school pursuant to the provisions of section 22-54-115 (1.3), C.R.S., for any budget year, divided by the number of pupils enrolled in the institute charter school for that budget year; and

(d) For a facility school, the state average per pupil revenues.

(5) "Facility school" means an approved facility school, as defined in section 22-2-402 (1), C.R.S.

(6) "Institute charter school" means a charter school that enters into a charter contract with the state charter school institute pursuant to part 5 of article 30.5 of title 22, C.R.S.

L. 2010: IP(4), (4)(a), and (4)(c) amended, (HB 10-1013), ch. 399, p. 1915, § 46, effective June 10.

23-8-102. School districts, boards of cooperative services, and institute charter schools conducting career and technical education courses - eligibility for state moneys. (1) An education provider of the state conducting a course of career and technical education approved pursuant to section 23-8-103 by the board is entitled to career and technical education program support from moneys appropriated for that purpose by the general assembly. The amount of career and technical education program support that an education provider is entitled to receive pursuant to the provisions of this article shall be computed as follows:

(a) The cost of providing the approved career and technical education programs of the education provider shall be computed in accordance with paragraph (c) of this subsection (1). The cost so computed shall be divided by the number of full-time equivalent students to be served by the programs, and the result shall be designated, for purposes of this article, as the education provider's career and technical education program cost per full-time equivalent student.

(b) As career and technical education program support, the state shall provide, to each education provider conducting an approved career and technical education program for each twelve-month period beginning July 1, eighty percent of the first one thousand two hundred fifty dollars, or part thereof, by which the education provider's approved career and technical education program cost per full-time equivalent student exceeds seventy percent of the education provider's per pupil revenues, for the school budget year during which the twelve-month period begins. In addition, if the education provider's approved career and technical education cost per full-time equivalent student exceeds seventy percent of its per pupil revenues by an additional amount in excess of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars, the state shall provide fifty percent of the additional amount.

(c) For the purpose of computing approved career and technical education program costs, the following shall be included:

- (I) The cost of providing the services of instructional personnel for the time involved;
- (II) The cost of services to be provided by another education agency or institution;
- (III) The cost of necessary books and supplies; and
- (IV) The cost of equipment approved for purchase by the board.
- (V) Repealed.

(1.5) Any moneys that are transferred from the department of education to the board to be used by the board to provide career and technical education program support to an education provider pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, and which moneys are so used, shall not be considered a state grant for the purpose of calculating whether the board qualifies as an enterprise, as defined in section 24-77-102 (3) (b), C.R.S.

(2) To be eligible to receive the moneys appropriated pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the education provider shall assume the obligation of paying the balance of the program costs.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent an education provider from conducting any course in career and technical education with costs in excess of those for which state career and technical education program support moneys are approved by the board.

(4) Moneys made available under this article shall be distributed quarterly on the basis of the report of actual expenditures furnished to the board by participating education providers at the end of the previous fiscal year. As soon as practicable after July 1 of each year, beginning in 1971, each participating education provider shall file with the board a report of actual expenditures for all career and technical education programs for which the education provider is eligible to receive moneys pursuant to the provisions of this article during the preceding twelve-month period.

(5) If the appropriations to implement subsections (1) to (4) of this section are less than the total amount required to pay the career and technical education program support for approved career and technical education courses, the board shall prorate the amount to be paid to each education provider in the same proportion that the appropriation bears to the total amount so required for distribution. Any unexpended balance of an appropriation shall revert to the general fund at the end of the fiscal year for which the appropriation is made.

(6) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the Colorado customized training program created in section 23-60-306. For the purposes of this section, the costs of such program shall not be included in computing approved career and technical education program costs, and trainees in the Colorado customized training program shall not be counted in computing the number of full-time equivalent students to be served by approved career and technical education programs. Nothing in this section shall preclude the use of school district career and technical education program sites as delivery sites for specific training programs funded by the Colorado customized training program.

(7) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the Colorado existing industry training program created pursuant to section 23-60-307. For the purposes of this section, the costs of such program shall not be included in computing approved career and technical education program costs, and trainees in the Colorado existing industry training program shall not be counted in computing the number of full-time equivalent students to be served by approved career and technical education programs. Nothing in this section shall preclude the use of school district career and technical education program sites as delivery sites for specific training programs funded by the Colorado existing industry training program.

23-8-103. Standards for eligibility for grants - rules. (1) The board shall not approve career and technical education program support to be provided under section 23-8-102 unless the courses of career and technical education conducted by an education provider meet the standards prescribed in subsection (2) of this section.

(2) Any course approved pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall:

(a) Be designed to provide students with an entry-level occupational skill or prepare students for further education, including but not limited to skills or preparation in the areas of visual arts, as defined in section 22-1-104.5 (1) (c), C.R.S., or performing arts, as defined in section 22-1-104.5 (1) (b), C.R.S.;

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 310, § 1, effective August 5, 2008.)

(c) Have a technical advisory committee that functions at the state, regional, or local level to assist education providers in planning and conducting their career and technical education curricula;

(d) Be conducted in facilities that are sufficiently equipped to permit adequate training and education; the facilities may be located within or outside the school district, or, in the case of a program conducted by a board of cooperative services, within or outside any of the school districts participating in the board of cooperative services, and they may be housed in buildings that are not owned or operated by an education provider; and

(e) Meet an employment potential that is found to exist by any survey of the board concerning economic opportunities.

(3) In approving career and technical education programs and career and technical education program support moneys under this article, the board shall attempt to avoid unnecessary duplication in either facilities or staffing for career and technical education in an education provider or within an area of this state; and, where feasible, sharing of facilities shall be required by the board.

(4) The board shall adopt such rules as may be necessary to administer the provisions of this article.

Source: L. 81: Entire article added, p. 1096, § 1, effective July 1. L. 98: Entire section amended, p. 601, § 1, effective May 4.

23-15-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) It is the intent of the general assembly to create the Colorado educational and cultural facilities authority to lend money to educational institutions and cultural institutions; to authorize the authority to acquire, construct, reconstruct, repair, alter, improve, extend, own, lease, and dispose of properties to the end that the authority may be able to promote the welfare of the people of this state; to authorize the authority to administer the Colorado education savings program; to permit the bonds or certificates of participation of the authority and the bonds or certificates of participation of other issuers to be designated as Colorado education savings bonds or certificates; and to vest such authority with powers to enable such authority to accomplish such purposes. It is not the intent of the general assembly to authorize the authority to operate any such educational or cultural facility.

(b) It is important that educational facilities and cultural facilities are made readily available by networks and organizations of educational institutions and cultural institutions regardless of whether such networks and organizations are located within the state of Colorado or have facilities located within or outside the state of Colorado; and

(c) It is a benefit to the people of the state of Colorado to serve multistate educational institutions and cultural institutions since education-related and cultural-related employment opportunities in this state will be created as a result thereof.

(2) This article shall be liberally construed to accomplish the intentions expressed in this section.

Source: L. 81: Entire article added, p. 1096, § 1, effective July 1. L. 88: (1) amended, p. 849, § 1, effective April 20. L. 89: (1) amended, p. 986, § 1, effective April 8; (1) amended, p. 982, § 1, effective April 12. L. 98: (1) amended, p. 601, § 1, effective May 4. L. 2000: (1) amended, p. 403, § 1, effective April 13.

Editor's note: Amendments to subsection (1) in Senate Bill 89-206 and House Bill 89-1049 were harmonized.

23-15-103. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Authority" means the Colorado educational and cultural facilities authority created by this article.

(2) "Board" means the board of directors of the authority.

(3) "Bond", "note", "bond anticipation note", "certificate of participation", or "other obligation" means any bond, note, certificate of participation in annually renewable leases, debenture, interim certificate, or other evidence of financial indebtedness issued by the authority pursuant to this article or issued by another issuer pursuant to other statutory authority, including refunding bonds.

(4) "Bond resolution" means the resolution authorizing the issuance of, or providing terms and conditions related to, bonds issued under the provisions of this article and includes any trust agreement, trust indenture, indenture of mortgage, or deed of trust providing terms and conditions for such bonds.

(5) "Commission" means the Colorado commission on higher education.

(6) "Costs", as applied to facilities financed in whole or in part under the provisions of this article, means and includes the sum total of all reasonable or necessary costs incidental to the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, repair, alteration, equipment, enlargement, improvement, and extension of such facilities and the acquisition of all lands, structures, real or personal property, rights, rights-of-way, franchises, easements, and interest acquired, necessary, used for, or useful for or in connection with a facility and all other undertakings which the authority deems reasonable or necessary for the development of a facility, including without limitation the cost of studies and surveys, of land title and mortgage guaranty policies, of plans, specifications, and architectural and engineering services, of legal, accounting, organization, marketing, or other special services, of financing, acquisition, demolition, construction, equipment, and site development of new and rehabilitated buildings, of rehabilitation, reconstruction, repair, or remodeling of existing buildings, and of all other necessary and incidental expenses, including working capital, an initial bond, and interest reserve funds, together with interest on bonds issued to finance such facilities until a date not more than six months subsequent to the estimated date of completion.

(6.3) (a) “Cultural institution” means any governmental, quasi-governmental, or non-profit institution that engages in cultural, intellectual, scientific, educational, or artistic enrichment. “Cultural institution” includes, without limitation, any aquarium, botanical society, educational society, historical society, library, museum, gallery, performing arts association or society, nonprofit sports association, committee, or governing body, scientific society, natural history society or organization, zoological society, society for western history and western culture, sponsor of housing facilities that serve the cultural needs of their residents, and any private nonprofit foundation, nonprofit association, or other entity that is organized principally for the support and benefit of any of the foregoing.

(b) “Cultural institution” also includes any governmental, quasi-governmental, or nonprofit institution, corporation, association, or organization that, through one or more affiliates, directly or indirectly engages in cultural, intellectual, scientific, educational, or artistic enrichment in this state or outside this state if:

(I) Such institution, corporation, association, or organization, or an affiliate of such an entity, is engaged in a financing or refinancing on behalf of a facility within this state or outside of this state; and

(II) Such institution, corporation, association, or organization, or an affiliate of such an entity, operates a cultural facility within this state.

(c) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2003, p. 2055, § 1, effective May 22, 2003.)

(6.5) “Deep discount” means any obligation for which the original purchase price is substantially less than the par amount paid upon maturity.

(7) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2006, p. 1496, § 31, effective June 1, 2006.)

(8) (a) “Educational institution” means any governmental, quasi-governmental, or nonprofit educational institution operating in this state that:

(I) Provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor’s degree; or

(II) Provides not less than a two-year program which is acceptable for full credit towards such a degree; or

(III) Provides not less than a six-month program of training to prepare students for gainful employment; or

(IV) Provides not less than a six-month program of training to develop, improve, or enhance the occupational skills of persons in their current positions of employment or of persons seeking employment in a new or different occupation; or

(V) Provides an educational program pursuant to a charter from a school district in accordance with applicable laws; or

(VI) Provides an educational program to the residents of the state; or

(VII) Provides or finances, directly or indirectly through one or more affiliates, an educational program or educational services in this state or outside this state; or

(VIII) Is any public school district; or

(IX) Provides an educational program pursuant to a contract with the state charter school institute in accordance with applicable laws.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2004, p. 1518, § 1, effective May 28, 2004.)

(c) “Educational institution” includes any private foundation, nonprofit association, or any other entity which is organized principally for the support and benefit of any educational institution defined in paragraph (a) of this subsection (8) and includes but is not limited to the Auraria higher education center. Any reference in this article to “educational institution supported in whole or in part by state funds” includes but is not limited to the Auraria higher education center.

(8.5) (a) (I) (A) “Facility”, in the case of a participating educational institution, means any structure or building suitable for use as a housing facility, an instructional facility, an administration building, a research facility, a laboratory, a maintenance, storage, or utility facility, an auditorium, a dining hall, a food service and preparation facility, a mental or physical health care facility, a recreational facility, or a student center facility or any other structure or facility required or useful for the operation of an educational institution, including, but not limited to: Offices, parking lots and garages, and other supporting service structures; any equipment, furnishings, and appurtenances necessary or useful in the operation of a participating educational institution; and the acquisition, preparation, and development of all real and personal property necessary or convenient as a site or sites for any such structure or facility.

(B) "Facility", in the case of a participating educational institution, also means any structure or building described in sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (I) that is located within the state or outside the state and that is operated or financed by an educational institution if such institution operating or financing such structure or building, or an affiliate of such institution, operates or finances an educational facility within this state.

(II) (A) "Facility", in the case of a cultural institution, means any property that is suitable for the particular purposes of a cultural institution, including, without limitation, any such property suitable for use as or in connection with the operation of any one or more of the following: An administrative facility, an aquarium, an assembly hall, an auditorium, a botanical garden, an exhibition or performance hall or structure, a gallery, a greenhouse, a library, a museum, a scientific laboratory, a housing facility that serves the cultural needs of its residents and is being financed as part of a multistate program of financing educational or cultural facilities under this article, a theater, or a zoological facility; and also including, without limitation, the books, works of art or music, and the animal, plant, or aquatic life or other items contained therein for display, exhibition, or performance. The term "facility" includes any other structure or facility required or useful for the operation of a cultural institution including, but not limited to, offices, parking lots and garages, and other supporting service structures; any equipment, furnishings, and appurtenances necessary or useful in the operation of a cultural institution; and the acquisition, preparation, and development of all real and personal property necessary or convenient as a site or sites for any such structure or facility. The term "facility" also includes buildings on the national register of historic places which are owned and operated by nonprofit entities.

(B) "Facility", in the case of a cultural institution, also means any property described in sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (II) that is located within the state or outside the state and that is operated or financed by a cultural institution if such institution operating or financing such property, or an affiliate of such institution, also operates or finances a cultural facility within this state.

(b) "Facility" does not include such items as food, fuel, supplies, or other items which are customarily considered as current operating expenses or charges.

(9) "Refinancing of outstanding obligations" means liquidation, with the proceeds of bonds or notes issued by the authority, of any indebtedness of a participating educational institution or cultural institution incurred prior to, on, or after July 1, 1981, to finance or aid in financing a lawful purpose of such institution not financed pursuant to this article which would constitute a facility had it been undertaken and financed by the authority. The term also means consolidation of such indebtedness with indebtedness of the authority incurred for a facility related to the purpose for which the indebtedness of such institution was initially incurred.

(10) "Revenues" means, with respect to facilities, the rents, fees, charges, interest, principal repayments, and other income received or to be received by the authority from any source on account of such facilities.

(11) "Zero-coupon" means any obligation, as defined in subsection (3) of this section, which is payable in one payment on a fixed date.

23-15-104. Authority - creation - board - organization. (1) (a) There is hereby created an independent public body politic and corporate to be known as the Colorado educational and cultural facilities authority. Said authority is constituted a public instrumentality, and its exercise of the powers conferred by this article shall be deemed and held to be the performance of an essential public function. The authority shall be a body corporate and a political subdivision of the state and shall not be an agency of state government and shall not be subject to administrative direction by any department, commission, board, or agency of the state.

(b) The legal effects of any statute heretofore designating the Colorado educational and cultural facilities authority by any other name, or property rights heretofore incurred under any other name, shall not be impaired.

(2) The governing body of the authority shall be a board of directors, which shall consist of seven members to be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate. Such members shall be residents of the state. No more than four of the members shall be of the same political party. Except as provided in this subsection (2), the members of the board first appointed shall serve for terms to be designated by the governor, expiring on June 30 of each year beginning in 1982 and ending in 1988. The governor, with the consent of the senate, may appoint the members of the board of directors of an existing authority created under state law as the board of directors of the authority, in which case the terms of such directors shall be the same as their existing terms on the board of such other authority. Persons holding office on June 15, 1987, are subject to the provisions of section 24-1-137, C.R.S. Thereafter upon the expiration of the term of any member, his successor shall be appointed for a term of four years. Each member shall serve until his resignation or, in the case of a member whose term has expired, until his successor has been appointed and has qualified. Any member shall be eligible for reappointment. The governor shall fill any vacancy by appointment for the remainder of an unexpired term. Any member appointed by the governor when the general assembly is not in regular session, whether appointed for an unexpired term or for a full term, shall be deemed to be duly appointed and qualified until the appointment of such member is approved or rejected by the senate. Such appointment shall be submitted to the senate for its approval or rejection during the next regular session of the general assembly following the appointment.

(3) (a) Any member of the board may be removed by the governor for misfeasance, malfeasance, willful neglect of duty, or other cause, after notice and a public hearing, unless such notice and hearing is expressly waived in writing.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), a member shall be removed by the governor if such member fails, for reasons other than temporary mental or physical disability or illness, to attend three regular meetings of the board during any twelve-month period without the board having entered upon its minutes an approval for any of such absences.

23-15-105. Organizational meeting - chairman - executive director - surety bond - conflict of interest. (1) A member of the board, designated by the governor, shall call and convene the initial organizational meeting of the board and shall serve as its chairman pro tempore. At such meeting, appropriate bylaws shall be presented for adoption. The bylaws may provide for the election or appointment of officers, the delegation of certain powers and duties, and such other matters as the authority deems proper. At such meeting and annually thereafter, the board shall elect one of its members as chairman and one as vice-chairman. It shall appoint an executive director and, if desired, an associate executive director, who shall not be members of the board and who shall serve at its pleasure. They shall receive such compensation for their services as shall be fixed by the board.

(2) The executive director, the associate executive director, or any other person designated by the board shall keep a record of the proceedings thereof and shall be custodian of all books, documents, and papers filed with the board, the minute books or journal thereof, and its official seal. Said executive director, associate executive director, or other person may cause copies of all minutes and other records and documents of the board to be made and may give certificates under the official seal of the authority to the effect that such copies are true copies, and all persons dealing with the authority may rely on such certificates.

(3) The board may delegate, by resolution, to one or more of its members or to its executive director or associate executive director such powers and duties as it may deem proper.

(4) Before the issuance of any bonds under this article, the executive director and associate executive director shall each execute a surety bond in the penal sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and each member of the board shall execute a surety bond in the penal sum of fifty thousand dollars, or, in lieu thereof, the chairman of the board shall execute a blanket bond covering each member, the executive director, the associate executive director, and the employees or other officers of the authority, each surety bond to be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of the office or offices covered, to be executed by a surety authorized to transact business in this state as surety. The cost of each such bond shall be paid by the authority.

(5) Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, it shall not constitute a conflict of interest for a trustee, director, officer, or employee of any educational institution, financial institution, investment banking firm, brokerage firm, commercial bank or trust company, architectural firm, or other firm, person, or corporation to serve as a member of the board; except that such trustee, director, officer, or employee shall disclose such interest to the board and may abstain from deliberation, action, and voting by the board in each instance where the business affiliation of any such trustee, director, officer, or employee is involved.

23-15-106. Meetings of board - quorum - expenses. (1) Four members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of conducting business and exercising its powers. Action may be taken by the board upon the affirmative vote of at least four of its members. No vacancy in the membership of the board shall impair the right of a quorum to exercise all the rights and perform all the duties of the board.

(2) Each meeting of the board for any purpose whatsoever shall be open to the public. Notice of meetings shall be as provided in the bylaws of the authority. Resolutions need not be published or posted, but resolutions and all proceedings and other acts of the board shall be a public record.

(3) Members of the board shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be entitled to the necessary expenses, including traveling and lodging expenses, incurred in the discharge of their official duties. Any payments for compensation and expenses shall be paid from funds of the authority.

23-15-107. General powers of the authority. (1) In addition to any other powers granted to the authority by this article, the authority shall have the following powers:

- (a) To have perpetual existence and succession as a body politic and corporate;
- (b) To adopt and from time to time amend or repeal bylaws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business, consistent with the provisions of this article;
- (c) To sue and be sued;
- (d) To have and to use a seal and to alter the same at pleasure;
- (e) To maintain an office at such place or places as it may designate;
- (f) To determine, in accordance with the provisions of this article, the location and character of any facility to be financed under the provisions of this article and to acquire, construct, reconstruct, renovate, improve, alter, replace, maintain, repair, operate, and lease such facility as lessee or lessor; to enter into contracts for any and all of such purposes and for the management and operation of a facility; and to designate a participating educational institution or cultural institution as its agent to determine the location and character of a facility undertaken by such participating institution under the provisions of this article and, as agent of the authority, to acquire, construct, reconstruct, renovate, replace, alter, improve, maintain, repair, operate, lease as lessee or lessor, and regulate the same and to enter into contracts for any and all of such purposes including contracts for the management and operation of such facility;
- (g) To lease to a participating institution of postsecondary education or cultural institution any or all of the facilities upon such terms and conditions as the authority shall deem proper, including, but not limited to, renewable, one-year leases with institutions of postsecondary education supported in whole or in part by state funds if authorized pursuant to section 23-1-106 or section 24-82-709, C.R.S., or a lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to sections 24-82-102 (1) (b) and 24-82-801, C.R.S.; to charge and collect rent therefor and to terminate any such lease upon the failure of the lessee to comply with any of the obligations thereof; and to include in any such lease, if desired, provisions that the lessee thereof shall have options to renew the term of the lease for such period or periods, at such rent, and upon such terms or conditions as shall be determined by the authority or to purchase any or all of the facilities or to include, if desired, provisions that, upon payment of all of the indebtedness incurred by the authority for the financing of such facilities, the authority will convey any or all of the facilities to the lessee or lessees thereof with or without consideration;
- (h) To borrow money and to issue bonds, notes, bond anticipation notes, or other obligations for any of its corporate purposes and to fund or refund the same, all as provided for in this article;
- (i) To establish rules and regulations, and to designate a participating educational institution or cultural institution as its agent to establish such rules and regulations, for the use of the facilities undertaken or operated by such participating institution and to employ or contract for consulting engineers, architects, attorneys, accountants, construction and financial experts, superintendents, managers, and such other employees and agents as may be necessary in its judgment and to fix their compensation;
- (j) To receive and accept from the federal government or any other public agency loans, grants, or contributions for or in aid of the construction of facilities or any portion thereof, or for equipping the same, and to receive and accept grants, gifts, or other contributions from any source, but only for the purposes for which they were loaned, contributed, or granted;
- (k) To mortgage or pledge all or any portion of the facilities and the site or sites thereof, whether then owned or thereafter acquired, for the benefit of the holders of bonds issued to finance such facilities or any portion thereof;
- (l) To make mortgage loans or other secured or unsecured loans to any participating educational institution or cultural institution for the cost of the facilities in accordance with an agreement between the authority and such participating institution; but no such loan shall exceed the total cost of such facilities as determined by such participating institution and approved by the authority;
- (m) To make mortgage loans or other secured or unsecured loans to a participating educational institution or cultural institution; to refund outstanding obligations, mortgages, or advances issued, made, or given by such participating institution for the cost of its facilities, including the issuance of bonds and the making of loans to a participating educational institution or cultural institution; or to refinance outstanding obligations and indebtedness incurred for facilities when the authority finds that such financing is in the public interest and alleviates the financial hardship upon the participating educational institution or cultural institution or is in connection with other financing by the authority for such participating institution;

(n) To obtain or aid in obtaining, from any department or agency of the United States or of this state or any private company, any insurance or guarantee as to, or of, or for the payment or repayment of the interest or principal, or both the interest and principal, or any part of either or both on any loan, lease, or obligation or any instrument evidencing or securing the same made or entered into pursuant to the provisions of this article and, notwithstanding any other provisions of this article, to enter into any agreement, contract, or other instrument whatsoever with respect to any such insurance or guarantee, to accept payment in such manner and form as provided therein in the event of default by a participating educational institution or cultural institution, and to assign any such insurance or guarantee as security for the authority's bonds;

(o) To charge to and equitably apportion among participating educational institutions or cultural institutions the administrative costs and expenses of the authority incurred in the exercise of the powers granted and the duties conferred by this article;

(p) To make and execute contracts and all other instruments necessary or convenient for the exercise of its powers and functions under this article;

(q) To do all other things necessary and convenient to carry out the purposes of this article;

(r) To make mortgage loans or other secured or unsecured loans to any person for the costs of a facility which will be made available for use by an educational institution or a cultural institution, if the governing body of such institution has resolved that the use of such facility will be in the best interests of such institution; but no such loan shall exceed the total cost of said facility as determined by said institution and approved by the authority;

(s) To refund or refinance, through the issuance of bonds and the making of loans, any outstanding obligations, mortgages, indebtednesses, or advances issued, made, or given by a person for the cost of facilities which will be made available for use by an educational institution or a cultural institution when the governing board of such institution finds that the use of said facility is in the best interests of said institution;

(t) To administer the Colorado education savings program pursuant to the provisions of section 23-15-110.5;

(u) To designate bonds or certificates of participation of the authority as Colorado education savings bonds or certificates pursuant to the provisions of section 23-15-110.5;

(v) To designate as Colorado education savings bonds or certificates the bonds or certificates of participation of issuers other than the authority if the issuer has applied for such designation and the authority has determined that such instruments satisfy the criteria established in section 23-15-110.5 (2).

(2) The authority shall not have the power to operate a facility as a business other than as a lessee or lessor.

(3) No institution of postsecondary education supported in whole or in part by state funds shall contract or otherwise agree with the authority to issue bonds on its behalf unless all approvals required by law, including but not limited to approvals required pursuant to section 23-1-106 and section 24-82-709, C.R.S., have been obtained.

(4) Repealed.

(5) No mortgage loan, other secured or unsecured loan, or financing, refinancing, refunding, or other financial obligation incurred pursuant to the terms of this article for the benefit of a charter school as described in section 23-15-103 (8) (a) (V), shall obligate, directly or indirectly, the school district that granted the charter to the charter school unless:

(a) The express written consent of the school district is obtained; and

(b) The authority obtains a written opinion of legal counsel that the obligation of the school district is legally permissible under the Colorado constitution and all applicable laws.

23-15-109. Notes. The authority may issue from time to time its negotiable notes for any corporate purpose, including the payment of all or any part of the cost of any facility, and may renew from time to time any notes by the issuance of new notes, whether the notes to be renewed have or have not matured. The authority may issue notes partly to renew notes or to discharge other obligations then outstanding and partly for some other purpose. The notes may be authorized, sold, executed, and delivered in the same manner as bonds. Any resolution or resolutions authorizing notes of the authority or any issue thereof may contain any provisions which the authority is authorized to include in any resolution or resolutions authorizing bonds of the authority or any issue thereof, and the authority may include in any notes any terms, covenants, or conditions which it is authorized to include in any bonds. All such notes shall be payable from the proceeds of bonds or renewal notes or from the revenues of the authority or other moneys available therefor and not otherwise pledged, subject only to any contractual rights of the holders of any of its notes or other obligations then outstanding.

23-15-110. Bonds. (1) The authority may issue from time to time its bonds in such principal amounts as the authority shall determine for the purpose of financing all or a part of the cost of any facilities authorized by this article or for the refinancing of outstanding obligations. In anticipation of the sale of such bonds, the authority may issue bond anticipation notes and may renew the same from time to time. Such notes shall be paid from any revenues of the authority or other moneys available therefor and not otherwise pledged or from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds of the authority in anticipation of which they were issued. The notes shall be issued in the same manner as bonds. Such notes and the resolution or resolutions authorizing them may contain any provisions, conditions, or limitations which a bond resolution of the authority may contain.

(2) The bonds may be issued as serial bonds, as term bonds, or as a combination of both types. All bonds issued by the authority shall be payable solely out of the revenues and receipts derived from the leasing, mortgaging, or sale by the authority of the facilities concerned or of any part thereof as designated in the resolutions of the authority under which the bonds are authorized to be issued or as designated in a trust indenture authorized by the authority, which trust indenture shall name a bank or trust company in Colorado, or outside of Colorado if it is determined by the authority to be in the best interests of the financing, such determination to be conclusive, as trustee, or out of other moneys available therefor and not otherwise pledged. Such bonds may be executed and delivered by the authority at such times, may be in such form and denominations and include such terms and maturities, may be in fully registered form or in bearer form registerable either as to principal or interest or both, may bear such conversion privileges, may be payable in such installments and at such time or times not exceeding forty years from the date thereof, may be payable at such place or places whether within or without the state of Colorado, may bear interest at such rate or rates per annum as shall be determined by the authority or as may be determined from time to time by a designated agent of the authority in accordance with specified standards and procedures and without regard to any interest rate limitation appearing in any other law, may be evidenced in such manner, may be executed by such officers of the authority, including the use of one or more facsimile signatures so long as at least one manual signature appears on the bonds, which manual signature may be either that of an officer of the authority or that of an officer of the trustee authenticating the same, may be in such form of coupon bonds having attached thereto interest coupons bearing the facsimile signature of an authorized officer of the authority, and may contain such provisions not inconsistent with this article as shall be provided in the resolutions of the authority under which the bonds are authorized to be issued or as is provided in a trust indenture authorized by the authority. Notwithstanding anything in this subsection (2) to the contrary, in the case of short-term notes or other obligations maturing not later than one year from the date of issuance thereof, the board may authorize the executive director, associate executive director, or any officer of the board to fix principal amounts, maturity dates, interest rates, and purchase prices of any particular issue of such short-term notes or obligations, subject to such limitations as to maximum term, maximum principal amount outstanding, and maximum net effective interest rates as the board shall prescribe by resolution, and such authorization shall remain effective for the period of time designated in the initial resolution regardless of whether the composition of the board changes in the interim unless sooner rescinded by the board.

(3) If deemed advisable by the authority, there may be retained in the resolutions or the trust indenture under which any bonds of the authority are authorized to be issued an option to redeem all or any part thereof as may be specified in such resolutions or in such trust indenture, at such price or prices, after such notice or notices, and on such terms and conditions as may be set forth in such resolutions or in such trust indenture and as may be briefly recited on the face of the bonds; but nothing in this article shall be construed to confer on the authority the right or option to redeem any bonds except as may be provided in the resolutions or in such trust indenture under which they are issued.

(4) The bonds or notes of the authority may be sold at public or private sale for such price or prices, in such manner, and at such times as may be determined by the authority, and the authority may pay all expenses, premiums, and commissions which it may deem necessary or advantageous in connection with the issuance thereof. The power to fix the date of sale of bonds and notes, to receive bids or proposals, to award and sell bonds and notes, and to take all other necessary action to sell and deliver bonds and notes may be delegated to the executive director of the authority by resolution of the authority. Pending preparation of the definitive bonds, the authority may issue interim receipts or certificates to be exchanged for such definitive bonds.

(5) (a) Issuance by the authority of one or more series of bonds for one or more purposes shall not preclude it from issuing other bonds in connection with the same facilities or any other facilities or for any other purpose under this article, but the resolutions or trust indenture under which any subsequent bonds may be issued shall recognize the terms and provisions of any prior pledge or mortgage made for any prior issue of bonds and the terms upon which such additional bonds may be issued and secured. Any outstanding bonds of the authority may, at any time and from time to time, be refunded or advance refunded by the authority by the issuance of its bonds for such purpose and in such principal amount as may be determined by the authority, which may include interest accrued or to accrue thereon with or without giving effect to investment income thereon and other expenses necessary to be paid in connection therewith. If deemed advisable by the authority, such bonds may be refunded or advance refunded for the additional purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of constructing and acquiring additions, improvements, extensions, or enlargements of a facility or any portion thereof.

(b) Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded have then matured or will mature thereafter either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof for the payment of the bonds to be refunded thereby or by the exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds to be refunded thereby with the consent of the holders of the bonds to be so refunded, regardless of whether or not the bonds to be refunded were issued in connection with the same facilities or separate facilities or for any other purpose under this article and regardless of whether or not the bonds proposed to be refunded are payable on the same date or different dates or are due serially or otherwise. The proceeds of any such bonds issued for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds may be applied, in the discretion of the authority, to the purchase or retirement at maturity or redemption of such outstanding bonds either on their earliest or any subsequent redemption date or upon the purchase or at the maturity thereof and, pending such application, may be placed in escrow to be applied to such purchase or retirement at maturity or redemption on such date as may be determined by the authority. Any such escrowed proceeds, pending such use, may be invested or deposited in securities or depositories meeting the requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S., maturing at such time or times as are appropriate to assure the prompt payment as to principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of the outstanding bonds to be so refunded. The interest, income, and profit, if any, earned or realized on any such investment may also be applied, in the discretion of the authority, to the payment of the outstanding bonds or notes to be so refunded or to the payment of principal and interest on the refunding bonds or for any other purpose under this article. After the terms of the escrow have been fully satisfied and carried out, any balance of such proceeds and interest, income, and profits, if any, earned or realized on the investments thereof may be returned to the authority for use by it in any lawful manner. The portion of the proceeds of any such bonds issued for the additional purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of constructing and acquiring additions, improvements, extensions, or enlargements of a facility may be invested or deposited in securities or depositories meeting the requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S., maturing not later than the time or times when such proceeds will be needed for the purpose of paying all or any part of such cost. The interest, income, and profits, if any, earned or realized on such investment may be applied to the payment of all or any part of such cost or may be used by the authority in any lawful manner. All such bonds shall be subject to the provisions of this article in the same manner and to the same extent as other bonds issued pursuant to this article.

23-15-110.5. Colorado education savings program. (1) There is hereby established the Colorado education savings program which shall be administered by the authority and which shall include, but need not be limited to, components concerning bonds and certificates, education, financial incentives, and alternative payment plans. In furtherance of the Colorado education savings program and in addition to any powers, duties, and responsibilities enumerated in this article, the authority may:

(a) Designate the bonds or certificates of participation of the authority as Colorado education savings bonds or certificates;

(b) Designate the bonds or certificates of participation of issuers other than the authority as Colorado education savings bonds or certificates if the issuer of such instruments applies for such designation and if such instruments satisfy the criteria established in subsection (2) of this section.

(2) Bonds or certificates of participation may be designated as Colorado education savings bonds or certificates pursuant to subsection (1) of this section if such instruments satisfy the following criteria:

(a) The bonds or certificates are structured and are to be marketed statewide by the underwriters in such a manner as to attract a broad range of investors in the retail Colorado bond market, including, but not limited to, parents, grandparents, or others who are interested in planning for the college education of their children;

(b) The interest on the bonds or certificates is exempt from Colorado income taxation;

(c) The bonds or certificates are issued by a state or local governmental entity, agency, institution, subdivision, district, or financing authority on its own behalf or on behalf of a nonprofit organization which is exempt from federal taxation pursuant to section 501 (c) (3) of the "Internal Revenue Code of 1986", as amended, or on behalf of a nonprofit corporation which is organized principally for the support and benefit of such state or local governmental entity, agency, institution, subdivision, district, financing authority, or nonprofit corporation;

(d) The bonds or certificates, at the time such instruments are designated as Colorado education savings bonds or certificates, are rated in one of the two highest rating categories of such instruments by one or more nationally recognized organizations which regularly rate such obligations;

(e) The bonds or certificates are either zero-coupon, deep discount, or comparable instruments and the maturation dates of such instruments are structured to the extent possible both to accommodate the financing needs of the issuer or the entity on whose behalf the instruments are being issued and to fulfill the needs of individuals planning on using the proceeds of such instruments for education purposes.

(3) The authority shall collaborate with the Colorado commission on higher education on the development of educational materials designed to inform parents and others concerning the importance of accumulating the financial resources necessary to pay for a child's college education and the options available to accomplish that accumulation of resources, including the option of investing in Colorado education savings bonds or certificates.

(4) The authority shall evaluate the feasibility of:

(a) Payment of financial incentives to holders of Colorado education savings bonds or certificates if, at maturity, the proceeds of such bonds or certificates are applied to expenses incurred for education in the state of Colorado;

(b) Staggered or periodic forms of payment for Colorado education savings bonds or certificates, including, but not limited to, payroll deduction plans;

(c) Matching employer-employee purchase plans for Colorado education savings bonds or certificates.

(5) No bond, certificate, or other financial instrument sold, traded, conveyed, or otherwise transferred in the state shall bear the designation, logo, trade name, or trademark of a Colorado education savings bond or certificate, nor shall any such bond or financial instrument be called, described, marketed, or otherwise be made to appear to a reasonable person to be a Colorado education savings bond or certificate unless such bond or financial instrument has been so designated pursuant to this section.

23-15-111. Negotiability of bonds. All bonds and the interest coupons applicable thereto are hereby declared and shall be construed to be negotiable instruments.

23-15-112. Security for bonds and notes. (1) The principal of and interest on any bonds or notes issued by the authority may be secured by a pledge of or security interest in the revenues, rentals, and receipts out of which the same may be made payable or from other moneys available therefor and not otherwise pledged or used as security and may be secured by a trust indenture, mortgage, or deed of trust (including assignment of leases or other contract rights of the authority thereunder) covering all or any part of the facilities from which the revenues, rentals, or receipts so pledged or used as security may be derived, including any enlargements of and additions to any such facility thereafter made. The resolution under which the bonds are authorized to be issued and any such trust indenture, mortgage, or deed of trust may contain any agreements and provisions which shall be a part of the contract with the holders of the bonds or notes to be authorized as to:

(a) The pledging or providing of a security interest in all or any part of the revenues of a facility or any revenue-producing contract or contracts made by the authority with any individual, partnership, corporation, or association or any other body, public or private, to secure the payment of the bonds or notes or of any particular issue of bonds, subject to such agreements with noteholders or bondholders as may then exist;

(b) The maintenance of properties covered thereby;

(c) The fixing and collection of mortgage payments, rents, fees, and other charges and the amounts to be raised in each year thereby and the use and disposition of the revenues;

(d) The setting aside, creating, and maintaining of special and reserve funds and sinking funds and the use and disposition of the revenues;

(e) The limitations on the right of the authority or its agent to restrict and regulate the use of the facilities;

(f) The limitations on the purpose to which the proceeds of sale of any issue of bonds or notes then or thereafter to be issued may be applied and the pledging or providing of a security interest in such proceeds to secure the payment of the bonds or notes or any issue of the bonds or notes;

(g) The limitations on the issuance of additional bonds, the terms upon which additional bonds may be issued and secured, and the refunding of outstanding bonds;

(h) The procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bondholders or noteholders may be amended or abrogated and the total amount of bonds or notes consented to by the holders thereof and the manner in which such consent may be given;

(i) The limitations on the amount of moneys derived from a facility to be expended for operating, administrative, or other expenses of the authority;

(j) The defining of the acts or omissions to act constituting a default in the duties of the authority to holders of its obligations and the providing of rights and remedies to such holders in the event of a default;

(k) The mortgaging of a facility and the site thereof for the purpose of securing the bondholders or noteholders;

(l) Such other additional covenants, agreements, and provisions as are judged advisable or necessary by the authority for the security of the holders of such bonds or notes.

(2) Any pledge made by the authority shall be valid and binding at the time the pledge is made and thereafter until satisfied. The revenues, moneys, or property so pledged and thereafter received by the authority shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act, and the lien of such pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort or contract or in any other form against the authority, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution nor any other instrument by which a pledge is created need be recorded. Each pledge, agreement, lease, indenture, mortgage, and deed of trust made for the benefit or security of any of the bonds of the authority shall continue to be effective until the principal of and interest on the bonds for the benefit of which the same were made has been fully paid or provision for such payment has been duly made. In the event of default in such payment or in any agreements of the authority made as a part of the contract under which the bonds were issued, whether contained in the resolutions authorizing the bonds or in any trust indenture, mortgage, or deed of trust executed as security therefor, said payment or agreement may be enforced by suit, action in the nature of mandamus, appointment of a receiver in equity, foreclosure of any mortgage or deed of trust, or any one or more of said remedies.

(3) In addition to the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section, bonds of the authority may be secured by a pooling of leases, loans, or mortgages whereby the authority may assign its rights as lessor, lender, or mortgagee and pledge rents, loan payments, or mortgage payments under two or more leases, loans, or mortgages, with two or more participating educational institutions or cultural institutions as lessees, borrowers, or mortgagors, respectively, upon such terms as may be provided for in the resolutions of the authority or as may be provided for in a trust indenture or mortgage or deed of trust authorized by the authority.

23-15-115. Procedure before expenditure of proceeds. (1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article, the authority may not undertake any facility authorized by this article unless, prior to the expenditure of proceeds, the board finds that:

(a) Such facility will enable or assist an educational institution or a cultural institution to fulfill its obligation to provide facilities; and

(b) In the case of an educational institution, such facility has been reviewed and approved by the commission if such approval is required pursuant to section 23-1-106.

23-15-116. Trust agreement to secure bonds. In the discretion of the authority, any bonds issued pursuant to this article may be secured by a trust agreement between the authority and a corporate trustee or trustees, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company in Colorado. Such trust agreement or the resolution providing for the issuance of such bonds may pledge or assign the revenues to be received or the proceeds of any contract or contracts pledged and may convey or mortgage the facilities or any portion thereof. Such trust agreement or resolution providing for the issuance of such bonds may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable, proper, and not in violation of law, including particularly such provisions as have been specifically authorized to be included in any resolution or resolutions of the authority authorizing bonds thereof. Any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of this state which may act as depository of the proceeds of bonds or of revenues or other moneys may furnish such indemnifying bonds or pledge such securities as may be required by the authority. Any such trust agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders and of the trustee or trustees and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders. In addition, any such trust agreement or resolution may contain such other provisions as the authority may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders. All expenses incurred in carrying out such trust agreement or resolution may be treated as a part of the cost of the operation of a facility.

23-15-117. Payment of bonds - nonliability of state. Bonds and notes issued by the authority shall not constitute or become an indebtedness, a debt, or a liability of the state, the general assembly, or any county, city, city and county, town, school district, or other political subdivision of the state or of any other political subdivision or body corporate and politic within the state, and neither the state, the general assembly, nor any county, city, city and county, town, school district, or other political subdivision of the state shall be liable thereon; nor shall such bonds or notes constitute the giving, pledging, or loaning of the faith and credit of the state, the general assembly, or any county, city, city and county, town, school district, or other political subdivision of the state or of any other political subdivision or body corporate and politic within the state, but such bonds or notes shall be payable solely from the funds provided for in this article. Unless by specific pledge in an act of issuance as authorized by law, the issuance of bonds or notes under the provisions of this article shall not obligate, directly, indirectly, or contingently, the state or any subdivision thereof nor empower the authority to levy or collect any form of taxes or assessments therefor or to create any indebtedness payable out of taxes or assessments therefor or make any appropriation for their payment, and such appropriation or levy is prohibited. Nothing in this section shall prevent or be construed to prevent the authority from pledging its full faith and credit or the full faith and credit of a participating educational institution or cultural institution to the payment of bonds or notes authorized pursuant to this article. Nothing in this article shall be construed to authorize the authority to create a debt of the state within the meaning of the constitution or statutes of Colorado or to authorize the authority to levy or collect taxes or assessments; and all bonds issued by the authority pursuant to the provisions of this article are payable and shall state that they are payable solely from the funds pledged for their payment in accordance with the resolution authorizing their issuance or with any trust indenture, mortgage, or deed of trust executed as security therefor and are not a debt or liability of the state of Colorado. Unless by specific pledge in an act of issuance as authorized by law, the state shall not in any event be liable for the payment of the principal of or interest on any bonds of the authority or for the performance of any pledge, mortgage, obligation, or agreement of any kind whatsoever which may be undertaken by the authority. No breach of any such pledge, mortgage, obligation, or agreement shall otherwise impose any pecuniary liability upon the state or any charge upon its general credit or against its taxing power.

23-15-118. Exemption from taxation and securities law. The authority is hereby declared to be a public instrumentality of the state, performing a public function for the benefit of the people of the state for the improvement of their welfare and educational and cultural opportunities. Accordingly, the income or other revenues of the authority, all properties at any time owned by the authority, any bonds, notes, or other obligations issued pursuant to this article and the transfer thereof and the income therefrom (including any profit made on the sale thereof), and all mortgages, leases, trust indentures, and other documents issued in connection therewith shall be exempt at all times from all taxation and assessments in the state of Colorado. Bonds issued by the authority shall also be exempt from the “Colorado Securities Act”, article 51 of title 11, C.R.S.

23-15-119. Rents and charges. A sufficient amount of the revenues derived with respect to a facility, except such part of such revenues as may be necessary to pay the cost of maintenance, repair, and operation and to provide reserves and for renewals, replacements, extensions, enlargements, and improvements provided for in the resolution authorizing the issuance of any bonds or notes of the authority or in the trust agreement securing the same, shall be set aside at such regular intervals as may be provided in such resolution or trust agreement in a sinking or other similar fund which is hereby pledged to and charged with the payment of the principal of and the interest on such bonds or notes as the same become due and the redemption price or the purchase price of bonds retired by call or purchase as therein provided. Such pledge shall be valid and binding at the time the pledge is made and thereafter until satisfied, and the rates, rents, fees, charges, and other revenues or other moneys so pledged and thereafter received by the authority shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act; and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort or contract or in any other form against the authority, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the bond resolution, any trust agreement, any other agreement, nor any lease by which a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the authority. The use and disposition of moneys to the credit of such sinking or other similar fund shall be subject to the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or notes or to such trust agreement. Except as may be otherwise provided in such resolution or such trust agreement, such sinking or other similar fund may be a fund for all such bonds or notes issued to finance facilities at a particular educational institution or cultural institution without distinction or priority of one over another; except that the authority in any such resolution or trust agreement may provide that such sinking or other similar fund shall be the fund for a particular facility at an educational institution or a cultural institution and for the bonds issued to finance a particular facility and, additionally, may permit and provide for the issuance of bonds having a lien with respect to the security authorized which is subordinate to other bonds of the authority, and, in such case, the authority may create separate sinking or other similar funds with respect to such subordinate lien bonds.

23-15-120. Fees. (1) All expenses of the authority incurred in carrying out the provisions of this article shall be payable solely from funds provided pursuant to this article, and no liability shall be incurred by the authority beyond the moneys which are provided pursuant to this article; except that, for the purposes of meeting the necessary expenses of initial organization and operation until such date as the authority derives moneys from funds provided pursuant to this article, the authority may borrow such moneys as may be required for the necessary expenses of organization and operation. Such borrowed moneys shall be repaid within a reasonable time after the authority receives funds provided pursuant to this article.

(2) Nothing in this article shall be construed to imply mandatory participation by an educational institution or a cultural institution. An initial planning service fee in an amount determined by the authority shall be paid to the authority by each participating educational institution or cultural institution that applies for financial assistance to provide for its facilities. Such initial planning service fees shall be included in the cost of the facilities to be financed and shall not be refundable by the authority, whether or not any such application is approved or, if approved, whether or not such financial assistance is accomplished. In addition to such initial fee, an annual planning service fee shall be paid to the authority by each participating educational institution or cultural institution in an amount determined by the authority. Such fees shall be paid on said dates or in such installments as may be satisfactory to the authority. Such fees may be used for:

- (a) Necessary expenses to determine the need for facilities;
- (b) Necessary administrative expenses; and
- (c) Reserves for anticipated future expenses.

(3) In addition, the authority may retain, for a negotiated fee, the services of any other public or private person, firm, partnership, association, or corporation for the furnishing of services and data for use by the authority in determining the need and location of any such facilities for which application is being made or for such other services or surveys as the authority deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this article.

(4) The authority may charge a reasonable fee to cover expenses incurred by the authority in connection with the review of an application by an issuer other than the authority for designation of bonds or certificates as Colorado education savings bonds or certificates pursuant to section 23-15-110.5. Such fee may also be used to cover a portion of the cost to the authority of administering the program.

23-15-121. Conveyance of title - release of lien. When the principal of and interest on bonds issued by the authority to finance the cost of facilities or to refinance the outstanding indebtedness of one or more participating educational institutions or cultural institutions, including any refunding bonds issued to refund and refinance such bonds, have been fully paid and retired or when adequate provision has been made to fully pay and retire the same and when all other conditions of the resolution, the lease, the trust indenture, and the mortgage, deed of trust, or other form of security arrangement, if any, authorizing and securing the same have been satisfied, the authority shall promptly do all things and execute such deeds, conveyances, and other documents as are necessary and required to release the lien of such mortgage, deed of trust, or other form of security arrangement in accordance with the provisions thereof and to convey its right, title, and interest in such facilities so financed, and any other facilities leased or mortgaged or subject to a deed of trust or any other form of security arrangement to secure the bonds, to such participating educational institution or cultural institution.

23-15-122. Investment of funds. The authority may invest the proceeds from the sale of a series of bonds or any funds related to the series in such securities and other investments, whether or not any such investment or reinvestment is authorized under any other law of this state, as may be provided in the proceedings under which the series of bonds are authorized to be issued, including but not limited to the following: Bonds or other obligations of the United States; bonds or other obligations, the payment of the principal and interest of which is unconditionally guaranteed by the United States; obligations issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by any agency or person controlled or supervised by and acting as an instrumentality of the United States pursuant to authority granted by the congress of the United States; obligations issued or guaranteed by any state of the United States or any political subdivision of any such state; prime commercial paper; prime finance company paper; bankers' acceptances drawn on and accepted by commercial banks; repurchase agreements fully secured by obligations issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States or by any person controlled or supervised by and acting as an instrumentality of the United States pursuant to authority granted by the congress of the United States; or certificates of deposit or time deposits issued by commercial banks or savings and loan associations that are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation or its successor. The authority may invest any other funds in the securities as provided in this section and with such maturities as the authority shall determine if such maturities are on a date or dates prior to the time that, in the judgment of the authority, the funds so invested will be required for expenditure. The express judgment of the authority as to the time that any funds will be required for expenditure or be redeemable is final and conclusive.

23-15-123. Proceeds as trust funds. All moneys received pursuant to this article, whether as proceeds from the sale of bonds, notes, or other obligations or as revenues or receipts, shall be deemed to be trust funds to be held and applied solely as provided in this article. Any officer, bank, or trust company with which such moneys are deposited shall act as trustee of such moneys and shall hold and apply the same for the purposes of this article, subject to such regulations as this article and the resolution authorizing the bonds, notes, or other obligations of any issue or the trust agreement securing such obligations shall provide.

23-15-124. Agreement of the state not to limit or alter rights of obligees. The state hereby pledges to and agrees with the holders of any bonds, notes, or other obligations issued pursuant to this article and with those parties who may enter into contracts with the authority pursuant to the provisions of this article that the state will not limit, alter, restrict, or impair the rights vested pursuant to this article in the authority to acquire, construct, reconstruct, maintain, and operate any facility or to establish, revise, charge, and collect rates, rents, fees, and other charges whenever it may be convenient or necessary to produce sufficient revenues to meet the expenses of maintenance and operation thereof and to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of bonds, notes, or other obligations authorized and issued pursuant to this article and with the parties who may enter into contracts with the authority pursuant to this article. The state further agrees that it will not in any way impair the rights or remedies of the holders of such bonds, notes, or other obligations of such parties until such bonds, notes, or other obligations, together with interest thereon, interest on any unpaid installment of interest, and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceeding by or on behalf of such holders, are fully met and discharged and such contracts are fully performed on the part of the authority. Nothing in this article precludes such limitation or alteration if and when adequate provision is made by law for the protection of the holders of such bonds, notes, or other obligations of the authority or those entering into such contracts with the authority. The authority may include this pledge and undertaking for the state in such bonds, notes, or other obligations and in such contracts.

23-15-125. Enforcement of rights of bondholders. Any holder of bonds issued pursuant to this article or a trustee under a trust agreement, trust indenture, indenture of mortgage, or deed of trust entered into pursuant to this article, except to the extent that his rights are restricted by any bond resolution, may protect and enforce, by any suitable form of legal proceedings, any rights under the laws of this state or granted by the bond resolution. Such rights include the right to compel the performance of all duties of the authority required by this article or the bond resolution; to enjoin unlawful activities; and, in the event of default with respect to the payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on any bond or in the performance of any covenant or agreement on the part of the authority in the bond resolution, to apply to a court having jurisdiction of the cause to appoint a receiver to administer and operate the facility, the revenues of which are pledged to the payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on such bonds, with full power to pay, and to provide for the payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on such bonds, with such powers, subject to the direction of the court, as are permitted by law and are accorded receivers in general equity cases, but excluding any power to pledge additional revenues of the authority to the payment of such principal, premium, and interest.

23-15-126. Bonds eligible for investment. All banks, bankers, trust companies, savings and loan associations, investment companies, and insurance companies and associations and all executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and other fiduciaries may legally invest any sinking funds, moneys, or other funds belonging to them or within their control in any bonds issued pursuant to this article. Public entities, as defined in section 24-75-601 (1), C.R.S., may invest public funds in such bonds only if said bonds satisfy the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S.

23-15-127. Account of activities and receipts for expenditures - report - audit. The authority shall keep an accurate account of all its activities and of all its receipts and expenditures and shall annually, in the month of January, make a report thereof to its members and to the state auditor, such reports to be in a form prescribed by the state auditor. Also included in the report shall be any recommendations with reference to additional legislation or other action that may be necessary to carry out the purpose of the authority. The state auditor may investigate the affairs of the authority, may severally examine the properties and records of the authority, and may prescribe methods of accounting and the rendering of periodical reports in relation to facilities undertaken by the authority.

CONTRACTS AND INTERVIEWS

23-16-101. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds that dishonest or unscrupulous practices by athlete agents who solicit representation of student athletes can cause significant harm to student athletes and to the institutions of higher education for which they play. It is the general assembly's intent to protect the interests of student athletes and institutions of higher education by limiting the contacts between athlete agents and student athletes and by setting requirements for contracts entered into between athlete agents and student athletes.

23-16-102. Definitions. As used in this part 1, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Agent contract" means any contract or agreement in which a student athlete authorizes or empowers, or agrees to authorize or empower at some later date, an athlete agent to negotiate or solicit any professional sport services contract or marketing endorsement contract on behalf of the student athlete regardless of whether the athlete agent is entitled to compensation under the contract or agreement.

(2) "Athlete agent" means a person who, directly or indirectly, recruits or solicits a student athlete to enter into an agent contract, or who, for any type of financial gain, procures, offers, promises, or attempts to obtain employment or promotional fees or benefits for a student athlete with a professional sports team or as a professional athlete or with any promoter who markets or attempts to market the student athlete's athletic ability or athletic reputation.

(3) Repealed.

(4) "Governing board" means the governing body of a state-supported institution of higher education.

(5) "Institution" means any state-supported institution of higher education operating in this state and any nonpublic institution of higher education, as defined in section 23-3.7-102 (3), operating in this state.

(6) "Student athlete" means any individual who is enrolled as a student at an institution and has either submitted a written letter of intent to or is eligible to and does participate in any intercollegiate sporting event, contest, exhibition, or program.

23-16-104. Agent contracts - contents - notice - termination. (1) In addition to the requirements specified in section 23-16-209 for contracts with athlete agents, any agent contract entered into between an athlete agent and a student athlete shall also include:

(a) and (b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1015, § 4, effective July 1, 2008.)

(c) Any guarantees provided by the athlete agent to the student athlete;

(d) In addition to the warning required to be given to the student athlete as specified in section 23-16-209 (c), the following statement in at least ten-point type that is bold-faced, capitalized, underlined, or otherwise conspicuously set out from surrounding written material:

WARNING TO STUDENT ATHLETE:

DO NOT SIGN THIS CONTRACT UNTIL YOU HAVE READ IT OR IF IT CONTAINS BLANK SPACES. DO NOT SIGN THIS CONTRACT IF IT DOES NOT SPECIFY ALL OF THE GUARANTEES MADE TO YOU BY THE ATHLETE AGENT. IF YOU DECIDE THAT YOU DO NOT WISH TO PURCHASE THE SERVICES OF THE ATHLETE AGENT, YOU MAY CANCEL THIS CONTRACT BY NOTIFYING THE ATHLETE AGENT IN WRITING OF YOUR DESIRE TO CANCEL THE CONTRACT WITHIN FOURTEEN DAYS AFTER THE DATE ON WHICH YOU SIGN THIS CONTRACT.

23-16-107. Compliance coordinator - duties. (1) Each institution or governing board shall designate an individual to serve as compliance coordinator for the institution or for each institution under the governing board's management. The compliance coordinator shall ensure the compliance of the institution and its athletes and students with the provisions of this part 1 and the rules adopted by the governing board or institution.

(2) If an institution chooses to sponsor on-campus athlete agent interviews as provided in section 23-16-106, the compliance coordinator shall organize the athlete interview schedule. The compliance coordinator shall provide appropriate public notice of the interview period at least thirty days before the date the interview period is scheduled to begin. On receipt of a written request, the compliance coordinator shall provide an athlete agent with a copy of the rules adopted by the governing board or institution pursuant to section 23-16-106.

PART 2*UNIFORM ATHLETE AGENTS ACT

23-16-201. Short title. This part 2 may be cited as the "Uniform Athlete Agents Act".

(1) "Agency contract" means an agreement in which a student athlete authorizes a person to negotiate or solicit on behalf of the student athlete a professional-sports-services contract or an endorsement contract.

(2) "Athlete agent" means an individual who enters into an agency contract with a student athlete or, directly or indirectly, recruits or solicits a student athlete to enter into an agency contract. The term includes an individual who represents to the public that the individual is an athlete agent. The term does not include a spouse, parent, sibling, grandparent, or guardian of the student athlete or an individual acting solely on behalf of a professional sports team or professional sports organization.

(3) "Athletic director" means an individual responsible for administering the overall athletic program of an educational institution or, if an educational institution has separately administered athletic programs for male students and female students, the athletic program for males or the athletic program for females, as appropriate.

(4) “Contact” means a communication, direct or indirect, between an athlete agent and a student athlete, to recruit or solicit the student athlete to enter into an agency contract.

(5) Repealed.

(6) “Endorsement contract” means an agreement under which a student athlete is employed or receives consideration to use on behalf of the other party any value that the student athlete may have because of publicity, reputation, following, or fame obtained because of athletic ability or performance.

(7) “Intercollegiate sport” means a sport played at the collegiate level for which eligibility requirements for participation by a student athlete are established by a national association for the promotion or regulation of collegiate athletics.

(8) “Person” means an individual, corporation, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, limited liability company, association, joint venture, or government; a governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality; a public corporation; or any other legal or commercial entity.

(9) “Professional-sports-services contract” means an agreement under which an individual is employed, or agrees to render services, as a player on a professional sports team, with a professional sports organization, or as a professional athlete.

(10) “Record” means information that is inscribed on a tangible medium or that is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form.

(11) Repealed.

(12) “State” means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, or any territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

(13) “Student athlete” means an individual who engages in, is eligible to engage in, or may be eligible in the future to engage in, any intercollegiate sport. If an individual is permanently ineligible to participate in a particular intercollegiate sport, the individual is not a student athlete for purposes of that sport.

Source: L. 2008: Entire part added, p. 1002, § 1, effective July 1. L. 2010: (5) and (11) repealed, (HB 10-1128), ch. 172, p. 617, § 17, effective April 29.

23-16-203. Service of process - subpoenas. (a) At all times while acting as an athlete agent in this state, a nonresident individual shall continuously maintain in this state a registered agent. The registered agent shall be:

(1) An individual who is eighteen years of age or older and whose primary residence or usual place of business is in this state;

(2) A domestic entity having a usual place of business in this state; or

(3) A foreign entity authorized to transact business or conduct activities in this state that has a usual place of business in this state.

(b) The registered agent of the nonresident individual is an agent of the individual authorized to receive service of any process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the individual in any civil action in this state related to an individual acting as an athlete agent.

(c) If a nonresident individual acting as an athlete agent in this state who is required to maintain a registered agent pursuant to this part 2 has no registered agent, or if the registered agent is not located under its registered agent name at its registered agent address, or if the registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the nonresident individual acting as an athlete agent in this state may be served by registered mail or by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the nonresident athlete agent at his or her principal office address. Service is perfected under this subsection (c) at the earliest of:

(1) The date the nonresident athlete agent receives the process, notice, or demand;

(2) The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the nonresident athlete agent; or

(3) Five days after mailing.

(d) This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving a nonresident athlete agent in this state.

23-16-209. Required form of contract. (a) An agency contract must be in a record, signed or otherwise authenticated by the parties.

(b) An agency contract must state or contain:

(1) The amount and method of calculating the consideration to be paid by the student athlete for services to be provided by the athlete agent under the contract and any other consideration the athlete agent has received or will receive from any other source for entering into the contract or for providing the services;

(2) The name of any person who will be compensated because the student athlete signed the agency contract;

(3) A description of any expenses that the student athlete agrees to reimburse;

(4) A description of the services to be provided to the student athlete;

(5) The duration of the contract;

(6) The date of execution; and

(7) The requirements for contracts with student athletes as specified in section 23-16-104.

(c) An agency contract must contain, in close proximity to the signature of the student athlete, a conspicuous notice in boldface type in capital letters stating:

WARNING TO STUDENT ATHLETE
IF YOU SIGN THIS CONTRACT:

(1) YOU MAY LOSE YOUR ELIGIBILITY TO COMPETE AS A STUDENT ATHLETE IN YOUR SPORT;

(2) IF YOU HAVE AN ATHLETIC DIRECTOR, WITHIN 72 HOURS AFTER ENTERING INTO THIS CONTRACT, BOTH YOU AND YOUR ATHLETE AGENT MUST NOTIFY YOUR ATHLETIC DIRECTOR; AND

(3) YOU MAY CANCEL THIS CONTRACT WITHIN 14 DAYS AFTER SIGNING IT. CANCELLATION OF THIS CONTRACT MAY NOT REINSTATE YOUR ELIGIBILITY.

(d) An agency contract that does not conform to this section is voidable by the student athlete. If a student athlete voids an agency contract, the student athlete is not required to pay any consideration under the contract or to return any consideration received from the athlete agent to induce the student athlete to enter into the contract.

(e) The athlete agent shall give a record of the signed or otherwise authenticated agency contract to the student athlete at the time of execution.

23-16-211. Student athlete's right to cancel. (a) A student athlete may cancel an agency contract by giving notice of the cancellation to the athlete agent in a record within fourteen days after the contract is signed.

(b) A student athlete may not waive the right to cancel an agency contract.

(c) If a student athlete cancels an agency contract, the student athlete is not required to pay any consideration under the contract or to return any consideration received from the athlete agent to induce the student athlete to enter into the contract.

23-16-212. Required records. (a) An athlete agent shall retain the following records for a period of five years:

- (1) The name and address of each individual represented by the athlete agent;
- (2) Any agency contract entered into by the athlete agent; and
- (3) Any direct costs incurred by the athlete agent in the recruitment or solicitation of a student athlete to enter into an agency contract.

(b) Repealed.

23-16-213. Prohibited conduct. (a) An athlete agent, with the intent to induce a student athlete to enter into an agency contract, may not:

- (1) Give any materially false or misleading information or make a materially false promise or representation;

(2) Furnish anything of value to a student athlete before the student athlete enters into the agency contract; or

(3) Furnish anything of value to any individual other than the student athlete or another athlete agent.

(b) An athlete agent may not intentionally:

(1) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2010, (HB 10-1128), ch. 172, p. 623, § 25, effective April 29, 2010.)

(2) Refuse or fail to retain or permit inspection of the records required to be retained by section 23-16-212;

(3) and (4) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2010, (HB 10-1128), ch. 172, p. 623, § 25, effective April 29, 2010.)

(5) Predate or postdate an agency contract; or

(6) Fail to notify a student athlete before the student athlete signs or otherwise authenticates an agency contract for a particular sport that the signing or authentication may make the student athlete ineligible to participate as a student athlete in that sport.

23-16-215. Civil remedies - temporary restraining orders - injunctions. (a) An educational institution has a right of action against an athlete agent or a former student athlete for damages caused by a violation of this part 2. In an action under this section, the court may award to the prevailing party costs and reasonable attorney fees.

(b) Damages of an educational institution under subsection (a) of this section include losses and expenses incurred because, as a result of the conduct of an athlete agent or former student athlete, the educational institution was injured by a violation of this part 2 or was penalized, disqualified, or suspended from participation in athletics by a national association for the promotion and regulation of athletics, by an athletic conference, or by reasonable self-imposed disciplinary action taken to mitigate sanctions likely to be imposed by such an organization.

(c) A right of action under this section does not accrue until the educational institution discovers or by the exercise of reasonable diligence would have discovered the violation by the athlete agent or former student athlete.

(d) Any liability of the athlete agent or the former student athlete under this section is several and not joint.

(e) This part 2 does not restrict rights, remedies, or defenses of any person under law or equity.

(f) The attorney general or the district attorney of the judicial district in which the educational institution is located, on receipt of a complaint or on his or her initiative, may investigate any alleged violation of this part 2. Following an investigation, if the attorney general or district attorney has reasonable cause to believe that any individual has violated or is violating any provision of this part 2, the attorney general or district attorney may bring an action to obtain a temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or permanent injunction to restrain or prevent the violation. If the attorney general or district attorney shows, by a preponderance of the evidence, that an individual has violated or is violating any provision of this part 2, the court may issue a temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or permanent injunction to restrain or prevent the violation. No action may be brought by the attorney general or the district attorney under this section more than four years after the occurrence of the violation.

(2) “College opportunity fund program” or “program” means the college opportunity fund program created in the department of higher education pursuant to section 23-18-201 (1).

(3) “Commission” means the Colorado commission on higher education established pursuant to section 23-1-102.

(4) “Department” means the Colorado department of higher education established pursuant to section 24-1-114, C.R.S.

(5) (a) “Eligible undergraduate student” means:

(I) A student who is enrolled at a state institution of higher education and who is classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes; or

(II) A student who is enrolled at a participating private institution of higher education and who:

(A) Is classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes;

(B) Is a graduate of a Colorado high school or has successfully completed a nonpublic home-based educational program as provided in section 22-33-104.5, C.R.S.;

(C) Demonstrates financial need through the student’s eligibility for the federal Pell grant, or its successor program;

(C.5) Is not pursuing a professional degree in theology; and

(D) Meets any other eligibility requirements established by the commission.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2005, p. 1011, § 1, effective June 2, 2005.)

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (5), a student shall not be considered an “eligible undergraduate student” during the first year the student attends a Colorado institution of higher education if the student receives status as an in-state student for tuition purposes pursuant to section 23-7-111.

(6) “Governing board” means the governing body of a state institution of higher education.

(7) “Institution of higher education” means a participating private institution of higher education or a state institution of higher education.

(8) “Participating private institution of higher education” means a private institution of higher education that enters into a performance contract with the department pursuant to section 23-5-129 and agrees to participate in the program.

(9) “Private institution of higher education” means a not-for-profit college or university that maintains its primary place of business in the state of Colorado, that offers general baccalaureate degrees in arts and sciences, and that is institutionally accredited on the basis of an on-site review in Colorado by one of the six nationally recognized regional accrediting associations or by an accrediting agency determined by the commission to be appropriate to its educational purposes and programs.

(9.5) “Professional degree in theology” means a certificate signifying a person’s graduation from a degree program that is:

(a) Devotional in nature or designed to induce religious faith; and

(b) Offered by an institution as preparation for a career in the clergy.

PART 2

COLLEGE OPPORTUNITY FUND PROGRAM

23-18-201. College opportunity fund program - creation - eligibility - guidelines.

(1) There is hereby created in the department of higher education the college opportunity fund program, which shall be administered by the Colorado student loan program. The college opportunity fund, created in section 23-18-202, shall be a trust fund for the benefit of eligible undergraduate students. It shall consist of a stipend for each undergraduate student in Colorado who applies for the stipend and who is admitted and registers to attend a state or participating private institution of higher education and is determined to be eligible by the Colorado student loan program to receive a stipend. An eligible undergraduate student may use the stipend for undergraduate courses and graduate-level courses that apply toward the student's undergraduate degree that are taken at a state or participating private institution of higher education at a fixed rate per credit hour, set annually by the general assembly.

(2) A student of a private institution of higher education shall be a beneficiary of the college opportunity fund and eligible to participate in the college opportunity fund program only if the private institution of higher education that the student attends has agreed to participate in the program by establishing a performance contract with the department pursuant to section 23-5-129. The department shall include each participating private institution of higher education and its students who participate in the college opportunity fund program in the student unit reporting data system, in order to enable the students of the participating private institution of higher education to participate in the program. The participating private institution of higher education shall reimburse the department for the actual expenses associated with including the institution in the student unit reporting data system.

(3) The Colorado student loan program, in consultation with the governing boards, shall adopt the necessary policies for the implementation of this part 2, which at a minimum shall include procedures for requesting funds for the program which adhere to commission budget guidelines and the annual budgeting cycle of the executive and legislative branches.

(4) The Colorado student loan program shall direct all state and participating private institutions of higher education to require resident undergraduate students to apply for the program. If a student is classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes at a state institution of higher education and does not apply for the program or is not eligible for the program, the student shall be responsible for paying the student's total in-state tuition amount.

23-18-202. College opportunity fund - appropriations - payment of stipends - reimbursement - repeal. (1) (a) Beginning with the state fiscal year commencing July 1,

2005, and for each state fiscal year thereafter, the general assembly shall make an annual appropriation, in trust for eligible undergraduate students, to the college opportunity fund, which is hereby established as a trust fund account with the Colorado student loan program. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (1), moneys appropriated to the college opportunity fund are for the sole purpose of disbursement on behalf of eligible undergraduate students in accordance with this part 2 and are not for the general operation or any other function of the Colorado student loan program. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the college opportunity fund at the end of a fiscal year are the property of the trust fund and shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

(b) (I) The Colorado student loan program shall administer and disburse the funds in the college opportunity fund on behalf of eligible undergraduate students as provided in this part 2. Each institution of higher education may be required to pay an implementation fee and an ongoing disbursement fee, the amounts of which shall be determined by the Colorado student loan program but shall not exceed the actual cost of the implementation and ongoing disbursement; except that the fees may be required only if the department or the federal government takes action, including adopting rules, regulatory changes, or programmatic changes, that negatively affects the financial condition of the Colorado student loan program.

(II) Repealed.

(c) If there are moneys remaining in the college opportunity fund after the final census date of the last academic term of each state fiscal year, as determined in accordance with this section, up to three percent of the amount annually authorized as cash spending authority in the general appropriations act for a governing board to expend stipends received on behalf of eligible undergraduate students may be expended by the same governing board for postsecondary educational services purchased by the department if authorized through a fee-for-service contract entered into pursuant to sections 23-1-109.7 and 23-5-130. The department may transfer an equivalent amount in general fund spending authority from stipends to fee-for-service contracts to fulfill its fee-for-service contract obligations to a governing board pursuant to this paragraph (c) and section 23-5-130.

(2) (a) (I) For the state fiscal year commencing July 1, 2005, and for each state fiscal year thereafter, the commission, in consultation with the governing boards and participating private institutions, shall annually estimate the number of undergraduate full-time equivalent students who are eligible for stipends under this part 2 at each state institution of higher education and each participating private institution of higher education. The commission shall annually report the numbers by February 15 to the governor and to the joint budget committee of the general assembly for inclusion in the annual general appropriations act.

(II) The general assembly reviewed the reporting requirements to the general assembly in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) during the 2008 regular session and continued the requirements.

(b) For the state fiscal year commencing July 1, 2005, and for state fiscal years thereafter, for an eligible undergraduate student attending a state institution of higher education, the specified amount of the stipend per credit hour shall be an amount set annually by the general assembly, which in no case shall exceed the student's total in-state tuition. The value of the per credit hour stipend shall be the same for each eligible undergraduate student, regardless of the state institution of higher education that the student attends. The student shall be responsible for paying the student's share of total in-state tuition, if any.

(c) The commission shall forward to the general assembly and governor, by November 1 of each year, a list of institutions eligible to receive stipends on behalf of eligible undergraduate students under the program. The commission shall annually request that the general assembly adjust the amount appropriated to the Colorado student loan program for the stipends to reflect at least inflation and enrollment growth in the state institutions of higher education.

(d) Beginning with the state fiscal year commencing July 1, 2006, the commission, in consultation with the governing boards and any participating private institutions of higher education, shall review annually the amount of the stipend per credit hour established pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (2). Following the review, the commission, in consultation with the governing boards and participating private institutions, shall annually make recommendations regarding possible adjustments to the amount of the stipend per credit hour to the governor and the joint budget committee of the general assembly for consideration in preparing the annual general appropriations act.

(e) An eligible undergraduate student who attends a participating private institution of higher education may receive financial assistance under this part 2 in the amount of fifty percent of the stipend amount; except that the amount of the stipend under this paragraph (e) may increase in proportion to the percent of unfunded enrollment growth that is appropriated to the governing boards pursuant to section 23-5-129 (8).

(3) (a) For the state fiscal year commencing July 1, 2005, and for each state fiscal year thereafter, the general assembly shall appropriate spending authority to each governing board for the funds estimated to be received by an institution, under the direction and control of the governing board, as stipends, consistent with the provisions of section 23-1-104. The spending authority for the stipends estimated to be received shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the applicable per-credit-hour stipend by the number of eligible student credit hours that are estimated to be attributable to each state institution of higher education under the direction and control of the governing board.

(b) (I) The tuition increases from which the general assembly derived the total cash spending authority for each governing board shall be noted in a footnote in the annual general appropriations act.

(II) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), for fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16, tuition increases shall not be noted in a footnote in the annual general appropriation act. Each governing board shall establish tuition in each of said fiscal years as provided in section 23-5-130.5. This subparagraph (II) is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

(c) (I) For fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16, if a governing board submits a plan for authorization to increase undergraduate, resident tuition pursuant to section 23-5-130.5, the governing board shall specify the amount of institutional funds the governing board will allocate to need-based financial assistance.

(II) This paragraph (c) is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

(4) (a) Regardless of when an institution receives moneys in the form of a stipend on behalf of a student, or if the stipend amount is reduced by the general assembly, a state institution of higher education shall not increase the student's share of in-state tuition to make up for an actual or effective reduction during the same fiscal year in the stipend amount from which the total in-state tuition amount was calculated or for issues relating to the timing of stipend payments.

(b) If moneys in the college opportunity fund in any fiscal year are not sufficient to pay the rate per credit hour established pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section, then the Colorado student loan program shall reduce the amount of the stipend per credit hour for all students to match the available funds, subject to joint budget committee approval. This paragraph (b) shall not be construed to limit the department's ability to request an adjustment to, or the general assembly's ability to adjust, the amount of the stipend during the budget process.

(5) (a) (I) After an undergraduate student has applied for the program, been approved for the program, and enrolled in a state or participating private institution of higher education, the institution shall request that the Colorado student loan program make a stipend payment from the college opportunity fund to the institution on behalf of the eligible undergraduate student. A payment by the Colorado student loan program to an institution of higher education from the college opportunity fund shall not be subject to the assessment of a transaction fee pursuant to section 24-36-120, C.R.S. The stipend payment shall be paid to the institution upon receipt by the institution of the eligible undergraduate student's authorization. The amount of the stipend paid on behalf of an eligible undergraduate student shall be applied against the student's total in-state tuition.

(II) Notwithstanding any provision of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) to the contrary, an institution, with a student's permission, may apply for the program on the student's behalf using the information in the student's admission application after the student has been enrolled in the institution.

(b) The stipend paid by the Colorado student loan program on behalf of the eligible undergraduate student shall note on the student's receipt of payment from the state or private institution of higher education that the moneys came from the college opportunity fund.

(c) (I) An eligible undergraduate student shall not receive a stipend from the college opportunity fund for more than one hundred forty-five credit hours during the eligible undergraduate student's lifetime; except that:

(A) If an eligible undergraduate student has received stipend payments for one hundred forty-five credit hours and the student has received a bachelor's degree, the eligible undergraduate student is eligible to receive stipend payments for an additional thirty undergraduate credit hours; and

(B) For credit hours initiated on or after July 1, 2006, an eligible undergraduate student may receive stipend payments for basic skills courses, as defined in section 23-1-113 (11) (b), and courses taken pursuant to the "Concurrent Enrollment Programs Act", article 35 of title 22, C.R.S. For a student who enrolls in a course at an institution of higher education pursuant to the "Concurrent Enrollment Programs Act", article 35 of title 22, C.R.S., the student loan division in the department shall record the student's uniquely identifying student number before submitting a stipend payment on behalf of the student. Stipend payments received for the basic skills courses specified in this sub-subparagraph (B) shall not apply to the lifetime limitation of one hundred forty-five credit hours.

(II) For an eligible undergraduate student who is enrolled as a continuing student at a state institution of higher education or a participating private institution of higher education as of July 1, 2005, the commission shall determine the number of credit hours for which the student may receive a stipend from the college opportunity fund, based on the number of credit hours the eligible undergraduate student has earned.

(III) For an eligible undergraduate student who has completed one or more college courses while enrolled in high school pursuant to the "Concurrent Enrollment Programs Act", article 35 of title 22, C.R.S., or while designated by the department of education as an ASCENT program participant pursuant to section 22-35-108, C.R.S., all college-level credit hours earned by the student during such enrollment shall count against the lifetime limitation described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c); except that credit hours earned from enrollment in a basic skills course, as defined in section 23-1-113 (11) (b), shall not count against the lifetime limitation.

(d) (I) An eligible undergraduate student and an institution of higher education shall not receive the payment of a stipend on behalf of an eligible undergraduate student for:

(A) to (C) Repealed.

(D) International baccalaureate courses;

(E) Advanced placement courses;

(F) Off-campus, extended campus, or continuing education classes that are not supported by state general fund moneys, except as approved by the commission, and, on or after July 1, 2007, except for classes or programs offered by an institution of higher education that has entered into a performance contract with the department pursuant to section 23-5-129, and that an eligible undergraduate student who is a member of the armed forces or a dependent of a member of the armed forces attends for credit on a military base; or

(G) Classes offered by an institution of higher education that was established after July 1, 2007.

(II) and (III) Repealed.

(e) Notwithstanding the lifetime-credit-hour limitation established pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (5), an eligible undergraduate student may apply to the commission for a waiver of the limitation. The commission may grant a waiver of the lifetime-credit-hour limitation if it finds:

(I) That extenuating circumstances exist related to the student's health or physical ability to complete the degree program within the lifetime-credit-hour limit;

(II) That the degree program, as approved by the commission, requires more than one hundred twenty hours to complete;

(III) That, while the eligible undergraduate student was enrolled in a specific degree program, the commission approved and the institution implemented an alteration of degree requirements or standards for the specific degree; or

(IV) That requiring the eligible undergraduate student to pay the full amount of total in-state tuition for credit hours that exceed the limitation would cause a substantial economic hardship on the student and the student's family.

(f) Notwithstanding the lifetime-credit-hour limitation established pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (5) and in addition to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this subsection (5), a state institution of higher education may annually grant a one-year waiver of the lifetime-credit-hour limitation for up to five percent of the eligible undergraduate students enrolled in the state institution of higher education. In granting the waivers under this paragraph (f), the state institution of higher education shall, upon request, grant a waiver to an eligible undergraduate student for courses taken pursuant to the "Concurrent Enrollment Programs Act", article 35 of title 22, C.R.S. For any remaining portion of the institution's five percent of eligible undergraduate students who may receive waivers, the institution shall give priority to students who are seeking job retraining.

(6) If an eligible undergraduate student enrolls in a class for which the state or participating private institution of higher education receives a stipend payment pursuant to subsection (5) of this section and the eligible undergraduate student subsequently withdraws from the class on or prior to the final date on which the institution permits a student to withdraw without the payment of any amount of tuition, the institution shall reimburse the college opportunity fund for the proportional amount of the stipend received that conforms to the governing board's refund policy for the class from which the student withdrew. The credits for which the stipend is refunded shall not count against the eligible undergraduate student's lifetime-credit-hour limitation established pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (5) of this section.

(7) It is the intent of the general assembly that the amount of a stipend received by a state institution of higher education on behalf of an eligible undergraduate student pursuant to this part 2 shall not constitute a grant from the state of Colorado pursuant to section 20 (2) (d) of article X of the state constitution.

(8) It is the intent of the general assembly that nothing in this article preclude the general assembly at a future time from including a junior college that is part of a junior college district organized pursuant to article 71 of this title in the college opportunity fund program.

(9) It is the intent of the general assembly that the college opportunity fund and fee-for-service contracts authorized pursuant to section 23-5-130 be fully funded for enrollment growth.

23-18-203. College opportunity fund - data retention. (1) The commission, in cooperation with the state and participating private institutions of higher education, shall maintain a record of the number of credit hours for which each eligible undergraduate student receives a stipend from the college opportunity fund. The commission shall also maintain any confidential information concerning eligible undergraduate students participating in the program.

(2) The commission, in consultation with the governing boards, shall determine by policy when to forward to each state and participating private institution of higher education a report on the number of credit hours accumulated by each eligible undergraduate student against the lifetime-credit-hour limitation established pursuant to section 23-18-202 (5) (c). Each institution shall make the information on the number of credit hours accumulated against the limitations available to the student upon request.

23-18-205. College opportunity fund - information - notification. (1) It is the intent of the general assembly that the department and the commission inform students beginning in the eighth grade of the state's financial commitment to students to assist them in continuing their education by attending college and of the additional financial resources that may be available to the students in order to further their education.

(2) (a) The commission shall work with the department of education to notify annually eighth-grade students of the state's contribution to the college opportunity fund on behalf of resident students and the manner in which the students may receive additional information regarding financial resources for higher education including but not limited to the amount of the stipend and a student's ability to use specific web sites to explore financial and academic options for preparing to enter college.

(b) The Colorado student loan program shall include information regarding the college opportunity fund on an internet web site to assist students in planning financially and academically to attend an institution of higher education in Colorado including but not limited to the current value of the stipend.

(3) On and after July 1, 2005, if the department and the commission advertise and publicize a specific stipend dollar amount, the dollar amount may not exceed the amount most recently set by the joint budget committee or adopted by the general assembly, and the advertisement or publication materials shall note that the stipend amount is subject to change by the general assembly.

(1) The general assembly finds that:

(a) No other state has tried to change the funding of institutions of higher education from the institution to the student as provided for in this part 2;

(b) Because this part 2 creates a new and untried program, it is anticipated that during the early years of its implementation, there may be some unanticipated effects requiring additional statutory changes.

(2) (a) Beginning July 1, 2006, and continuing through July 1, 2009, the commission shall submit to the education committees of the senate and house of representatives and to the joint budget committee of the general assembly annual reports on the status of the program established pursuant to this part 2. The annual reports may include, but are not limited to, recommended statutory changes.

(b) On or before July 1, 2010, the commission shall submit a final report to the education committees of the senate and house of representatives and to the joint budget committee of the general assembly on the implementation of the program established pursuant to this part 2.

23-19.7-103.	Higher education competitive

23-19.7-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) During the peer review process for awarding federally sponsored research projects, the federal government often requires project applicants to provide state matching moneys or gives preference to applicants that demonstrate an ability to provide such moneys.

(b) Colorado, unlike many other states, does not have a dedicated source of matching moneys for federally sponsored research projects.

(c) Federal requirements and preferences for state matching moneys disadvantage Colorado public universities when competing against universities in other states that can access dedicated sources of state matching moneys.

(d) It is therefore necessary and appropriate for the state to provide a dedicated source of matching moneys that will allow Colorado public universities to compete on equal footing with out-of-state universities when applying for federally sponsored research projects and to create an authority to oversee the use of the matching moneys.

23-19.7-102. Higher education competitive research authority - creation - board of directors. (1) The higher education competitive research authority, referred to in this article as the “authority”, is hereby created as a body corporate and a political subdivision of the state. The authority shall not be an agency of state government and, except as otherwise provided in this article, shall not be subject to administrative direction by any department, commission, board, bureau, or agency of the state.

(2) The powers of the authority shall be vested in a board of directors, referred to in this article as the “board”. The board shall consist of one member appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate and the following four ex officio members: The president of the university of Colorado, the president of Colorado state university, the president of the Colorado school of mines, and the president of the university of northern Colorado. The term of the appointed member of the board shall be four years, and the appointed member shall be eligible for reappointment. The appointed member shall hold office until a successor has been appointed and the senate has confirmed the appointment. A vacancy in the seat of the appointed board member occurring other than by expiration of term shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment, but for the unexpired term only. The appointed member may be removed from office by the governor for cause, after a public hearing, and may be suspended by the governor pending the completion of the hearing.

(3) The members of the board shall elect a chair and a vice-chair. The members of the board shall also elect a secretary and a treasurer, who need not be members of the board, and may elect the same person to serve as both secretary and treasurer. The powers of the board may be vested in the officers from time to time. Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum. A vacancy in the membership of the board shall not impair the right of a quorum of the members to exercise all powers and perform all duties of the board pursuant to section 23-19.7-103.

(4) Each member of the board not otherwise in full-time employment of the state shall receive per diem compensation in the amount of fifty dollars for each day actually and necessarily spent in the discharge of official duties, and all members shall receive traveling and other necessary expenses actually incurred in the performance of official duties.

23-19.7-103. Higher education competitive research authority - powers and duties.

(1) Except as otherwise limited by this article, the authority, acting through the board, has the power:

- (a) To have the duties, privileges, immunities, rights, liabilities, and disabilities of a body corporate and political subdivision of the state;
- (b) To sue and be sued;
- (c) To have an official seal and to alter the same at the board's pleasure;
- (d) To make and alter bylaws for its organization and internal management and for the conduct of its affairs and business;
- (e) To maintain an office at such place or places within the state as it may determine;
- (f) To acquire, hold, use, and dispose of its moneys;
- (g) To make and enter into all contracts, leases, and agreements that are necessary or incidental to the performance of its duties and the exercise of its powers under this article;
- (h) To deposit any moneys of the authority in any banking institution within or outside the state;
- (i) To fix the time and place or places at which its regular and special meetings are to be held;
- (j) To accept gifts, grants, and donations; and
- (k) To do all things necessary or convenient to carry out its purposes and exercise the powers granted in this article.

(2) The authority shall direct the allocation of moneys in the innovative higher education research fund created in section 23-19.7-104 to the extent required, as determined by the board, to provide matching funds for one or more proposals of public institutions of higher education in Colorado for federal research funding.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24-1-136 (11) (a) (I), C.R.S., on or before March 1, 2008, and on or before March 1 of each year thereafter, the authority shall submit a report to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, that describes the research projects that received funding under this article during the preceding calendar year. At a minimum, the report shall specify the following information with regard to each project:

- (a) A description of the project, the principal persons or entities involved in the project, and the amount of funding allocated to each principal person or entity;
- (b) The manner in which each principal person or entity applied the funding in connection with the project; and
- (c) The results achieved by the project.

23-19.7-104. Innovative higher education research fund - funding - repeal.

(1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the innovative higher education research fund, which shall consist of:

- (a) Moneys transferred to the research fund pursuant to section 25-17-202 (3) (a) (I) (A), C.R.S. This paragraph (a) is repealed, effective July 1, 2014.
- (b) Any moneys that the general assembly may appropriate to the research fund;
- (c) Any moneys received pursuant to section 23-19.7-103 (1) (j);
- (d) Any moneys transferred pursuant to section 12-47.1-701 (2), C.R.S.; and
- (e) All income and interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the research fund.

(2) Moneys in the research fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the direct and indirect costs associated with the implementation of this article. Unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the research fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the research fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

Higher Education Federal Mineral Lease Revenues and Higher Education Maintenance and Reserve Funds

- 23-19.9-101. Definitions.
23-19.9-102. Higher education federal mineral lease revenues fund - higher education maintenance and reserve fund - creation - sources of revenues - use.

23-19.9-101. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Federal mineral lease revenues" means all moneys, including any interest or income derived therefrom, payable to the state on or after July 1, 2008, pursuant to the provisions of the federal "Mineral Lands Leasing Act" of February 25, 1920, as amended.

(2) "Maintenance and reserve fund" means the higher education maintenance and reserve fund created in section 23-19.9-102 (2) (a).

(3) "Revenues fund" means the higher education federal mineral lease revenues fund created in section 23-19.9-102 (1) (a).

Source: L. 2008: Entire article added, p. 2156, § 2, effective June 4.

Cross references: For the federal "Mineral Leasing Act", also popularly known as the "Mineral Lands Leasing Act", see 30 U.S.C. sec. 181 et seq.

23-19.9-102. Higher education federal mineral lease revenues fund - higher education maintenance and reserve fund - creation - sources of revenues - use.

(1) (a) The higher education federal mineral lease revenues fund is hereby created in the state treasury. For the 2008-09 fiscal year and for each succeeding fiscal year, the lesser of the first fifty million dollars of the total amount of moneys required to be transferred to the revenues fund and the maintenance and reserve fund pursuant to section 34-63-102 (5.5), C.R.S., or all of such moneys shall be transferred to the revenues fund and the remainder of such moneys shall be transferred to the maintenance and reserve fund. Interest and income derived from the deposit and investment of the revenues fund shall remain in the revenues fund and shall not be transferred to the general fund or any other fund at the end of any fiscal year. The state treasurer may invest the revenues fund in any investment in which the board of trustees of the public employees' retirement association may invest the funds of the association pursuant to section 24-51-206, C.R.S.

(b) The general assembly may annually appropriate moneys in the revenues fund to directly pay for or pay the costs of financing capital construction projects at state-supported institutions of higher education that are included on a prioritized list of such projects specified in a joint resolution that has taken effect in accordance with section 39 of article V of the state constitution after being sponsored by the joint budget committee of the general assembly, approved by the general assembly, and presented to the governor pursuant to section 23-1-106.3 (1) (b), enacted by Senate Bill 08-233, enacted at the second regular session of the sixty-sixth general assembly. The general assembly may also appropriate moneys in the revenues fund to the department of education for distribution by the department, or any board or division within the department that the department may designate, to school districts for capital construction projects at area vocational schools, as defined in section 23-60-103 (1). In making such appropriations, the general assembly shall give priority consideration to capital construction projects at state-supported institutions of higher education that are located in communities that are substantially impacted by energy production or conversion activities, and the department, or any board or division within the department designated to distribute moneys appropriated to the department pursuant to this paragraph (b), shall give priority consideration to capital construction projects at area vocational schools that are located in such communities. Only capital construction projects that will be used exclusively or primarily for academic purposes shall be eligible for funding pursuant to this paragraph (b).

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection (1) to the contrary, on May 5, 2010, the state treasurer shall deduct seven hundred fifty thousand dollars from the revenues fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection (1) to the contrary, on July 1, 2010, the state treasurer shall deduct seven million dollars from the revenues fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(2) (a) The higher education maintenance and reserve fund is hereby created in the state treasury. The principal of the maintenance and reserve fund shall consist of moneys transferred to the maintenance and reserve fund pursuant to section 34-63-102 (5.3) (a) (II), C.R.S. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), the principal of the maintenance and reserve fund shall remain in the fund and shall not be expended for any purpose. The general assembly may annually appropriate interest and income derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the maintenance and reserve fund for controlled maintenance projects for the system of public higher education that are selected through the process set forth in sections 24-30-1303 (1) (k.5) and 2-3-1304 (1) (b), C.R.S. The state treasurer may invest the maintenance and reserve fund in any investment in which the board of trustees of the public employees' retirement association may invest the funds of the association pursuant to section 24-51-206, C.R.S.

(b) (1) If the amount of moneys in the revenues fund will be insufficient to cover the full amount of the payments due to be made under lease-purchase agreements authorized pursuant to section 23-1-106.3 (3), the general assembly may transfer from the principal of the maintenance and reserve fund or from any other sources to the revenues fund sufficient moneys to make the payments.

(II) If, at any time during a fiscal year, the most recent available quarterly revenue estimate prepared by the staff of the legislative council indicates that the amount of total general fund revenues for the fiscal year will not be sufficient to allow the state to maintain the four percent or higher reserve required by section 24-75-201.1 (1), C.R.S., the general assembly may make supplemental appropriations of principal of the maintenance and reserve fund or the state controller may allow overexpenditures to be made from principal of the maintenance and reserve fund pursuant to and in accordance with the requirements of section 24-75-111, C.R.S., in order to offset any reduction in the amount of one or more general fund appropriations for the fiscal year for operating expenses of state-supported institutions of higher education that resulted from the insufficiency in the amount of total general fund revenues.

(III) Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection (2) to the contrary, on June 30, 2009, the state treasurer shall deduct thirty-three million seven hundred thousand dollars from the higher education maintenance and reserve fund and transfer such sum to the general fund; except that, if the balance of moneys in the higher education maintenance and reserve fund on June 30, 2009, is less than thirty-three million seven hundred thousand dollars, the state treasurer shall transfer the balance of moneys in the fund to the general fund.

(IV) Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection (2) to the contrary, on April 15, 2010, the state treasurer shall deduct two million three hundred thousand dollars from the higher education maintenance and reserve fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(V) Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection (2) to the contrary, on May 5, 2011, the state treasurer shall deduct one million one hundred twenty-eight thousand six hundred twenty-four dollars from the higher education maintenance and reserve fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

23-20-101. University of Colorado - role and mission - all campuses. (1) The role and mission of the several campuses of the university of Colorado shall be as follows:

(a) The Boulder campus of the university of Colorado shall be a comprehensive graduate research university with selective admission standards. The Boulder campus of the university of Colorado shall offer a comprehensive array of undergraduate, master's, and doctoral degree programs. The Boulder campus of the university of Colorado has exclusive authority to offer graduate programs in law. The Colorado commission on higher education, in consultation with the board of regents, shall designate those graduate level programs that are the primary responsibility of the Boulder campus of the university of Colorado. The university has the responsibility to provide on a statewide basis, utilizing when possible and appropriate the faculty and facilities of other educational institutions, those graduate level programs. The commission shall include in its funding recommendations a level of general fund support for these programs.

(b) The Denver campus of the university of Colorado shall be an urban comprehensive undergraduate and graduate research university with selective admission standards. The Denver campus shall offer baccalaureate, master's, and a limited number of doctoral degree programs, emphasizing those that serve the needs of the Denver metropolitan area. The Denver campus has statewide authority to offer graduate programs in public administration and exclusive authority in architecture and planning.

(c) The Colorado Springs campus of the university of Colorado shall be a comprehensive baccalaureate and specialized graduate research university with selective admission standards. The Colorado Springs campus shall offer liberal arts and sciences, business, engineering, health sciences, and teacher preparation undergraduate degree programs, and a selected number of master's and doctoral degree programs.

(d) The health sciences center campus of the university of Colorado shall offer specialized baccalaureate, first-professional, master's, and doctoral degree programs in health-related disciplines and professions. It shall be affiliated with the university of Colorado hospital and other health care facilities that offer settings for education, clinical practice, and basic and applied research. It shall have exclusive authority in medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, and physical therapy.

23-20-102. Regents - election and term. (1) The university shall be governed by a board of nine regents, who shall be elected for terms of six years each as provided in this section.

(2) (a) At the general election held in 1974, and each six years thereafter, three regents shall be elected, one of whom shall be a qualified elector of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the first congressional district; one of whom shall be a qualified elector of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the fourth congressional district; and one of whom shall be a qualified elector of this state and elected at large by the qualified electors of this state.

(b) At the general election held in 1976, and each six years thereafter, three regents shall be elected, one of whom shall be a qualified elector of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the third congressional district; one of whom shall be a qualified elector of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the fifth congressional district; and one of whom shall be a qualified elector of this state and elected at large by the qualified electors of this state.

(c) (I) At the general election held in 1978, and each six years thereafter through the general election held in 1996, three regents shall be elected, one of whom shall be a resident of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the second congressional district, one of whom shall be a resident of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the sixth congressional district, and one of whom shall be a qualified elector of this state and elected at large by the qualified electors of this state.

(II) At the general election held in 2002, and each six years thereafter, three regents shall be elected, one of whom shall be a resident of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the second congressional district, one of whom shall be a resident of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the sixth congressional district, and one of whom shall be a resident of, and elected by the qualified electors of, the seventh congressional district.

ANNOTATION

Regents of the university of Colorado are subject to proceedings in the nature of quo warranto instituted by the attorney general or a private citizen as relator. People ex rel. Jerome v. Regents of State Univ., 24 Colo. 175, 49 P. 286 (1897).

23-20-103. Oath of regents. The members of the board of regents, before entering upon their duties, shall take and subscribe to the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States and of the state of Colorado, and that I will perform the duties of regent of the university of Colorado faithfully and to the best of my ability." Said oath or affirmation shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

23-20-105. Governor to fill vacancies. (1) The governor of the state shall fill all vacancies that may occur in the board of regents. The persons so appointed shall hold their offices until the next general election and until their successors are elected and duly qualified according to law.

(2) The governor shall appoint, effective July 1, 1973, three persons to fill vacancies on the board of regents which will exist as of said date by virtue of section 12 of article IX of the state constitution, one such appointment to be of a qualified elector of the state for a term expiring on the second Tuesday in January, 1975, one qualified elector of the state for a term expiring on the second Tuesday in January, 1977, and one qualified elector of the state for a term expiring on the second Tuesday in January, 1979. Their respective successors in office shall be elected from the state at large, as provided in section 23-20-102.

23-20-108. Secretary - duties. The board of regents shall elect a secretary, who shall hold the office during the pleasure of the board. The secretary shall record all the proceedings of the board of regents in a visual text format that may be transmitted electronically and carefully preserve all its books and papers. The secretary's books shall show how the permanent fund of the university has been invested; the amount of each kind of securities, if any, with the date thereof, and when due; the interest thereon, and when and where payable; the amount of each loan, if any, when made and payable to whom, how secured, at what rate of interest, and when and where payable. The secretary shall countersign and register all warrants for money on the treasurer. The treasurer shall not pay a warrant for money unless the same is drawn by the president and countersigned by the secretary.

23-20-109. Treasurer - duties - bond. The board of regents shall elect a treasurer of the university, who shall hold his office at the pleasure of the board. He shall keep a true and faithful account of all moneys received and paid out by him and shall pay all warrants in the order of presentation. Before entering upon the duties of his office he shall take and subscribe an oath that he will faithfully perform the duties of treasurer. He shall also give a bond in the penal sum of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties as treasurer; that he will at all times keep and render a true account of all moneys and other valuables received by him as treasurer and of the disposition he has made of the same; and that he will at all times be ready to discharge himself of the trust and to deliver up when required by said board all moneys, notes, bonds, and other valuables entrusted to him. The bond shall have two or more sureties and be approved as to its form and the sufficiency of its sureties by the board of regents, the attorney general, and the secretary of state, who shall endorse their approval on the same. The bond shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

ANNOTATION

The regents have broad powers to impose regulations. The board of regents has broad powers to regulate the affairs of the university of Colorado, and the university, and the regents as its governing board, can validly impose a wide variety of regulations. Sigma Chi Fraternity v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 258 F. Supp. 515 (D. Colo. 1966).

Board resolution placing fraternity on probation for discriminatory membership policies is not unconstitutional. Resolution of board of regents of the state university to the effect that any fraternity, social organization, or other student group compelled by its constitution, rituals, or government to deny membership to any person because of his race, color, or religion would be placed on probation did not violate the constitutional rights of national fraternity and local chapter with respect to freedom of association and was within the powers of the board. Sigma Chi Fraternity v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 258 F. Supp. 515 (D. Colo. 1966).

The university of Colorado was entitled to claim immunity from suit in federal court under the eleventh amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Rozek v. Topolnicki, 865 F.2d 1154 (10th Cir. 1989).

23-20-112. General powers of the board - repeal. (1) The board of regents shall enact laws for the government of the university; appoint the requisite number of professors, tutors, and all other officers; and determine the salaries of such officers and the amount to be paid for tuition in accordance with the level of cash fund appropriations set by the general assembly for the university pursuant to section 23-1-104 (1) (b) (I). It shall remove any officer connected with the university when in its judgment the good of the institution requires it.

(2) (a) Notwithstanding any provision of subsection (1) of this section to the contrary, for fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16, the board of regents, in accordance with section 23-5-130.5, shall annually set the amount of tuition to be paid by students with in-state classification and by nonresident students who enroll in and attend the university.

(b) This subsection (2) is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

ANNOTATION

- I. General Consideration.
- II. Procedures.
- III. Regulation of Conduct.
- IV. Oath.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Applied in Van Pelt v. State Bd. for Cmty. Colls. & Occupational Educ., 195 Colo. 316, 577 P.2d 765 (1978).

II. PROCEDURES.

Board of regents is distinct from the executive branch of government. The board of regents is created by the Colorado constitution, has general supervisory powers over the affairs of the university of Colorado, and has been recognized as a body politic which is distinct from the executive branch of the government. Sigma Chi Fraternity v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 258 F. Supp. 515 (D. Colo. 1966).

Only express legislation can change regents' authority. The specially granted authority of the regents to govern the university and enact laws pursuant to that end can only be nullified by a legislative enactment (or constitutional amendment) expressly aimed at doing so. Associated Students of Univ. of Colo. v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 189 Colo. 482, 543 P.2d 59 (1975).

Sunshine law inapplicable to certain executive sessions. The sunshine act cannot and does not repeal by implication the statute concerning the attorney-client evidentiary privilege, § 13-90-107(1)(b). Thus the provision concerning executive sessions involving "attorney-client communications" in the laws of the regents is upheld. Associated Students of Univ. of Colo. v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 189 Colo. 482, 543 P.2d 59 (1975).

Open records law not applicable to university. The open records law is a general statute and will not be construed to supersede the regents' specific supervisory control over the university. Uberoi v. Univ. of Colo., 686 P.2d 785 (Colo. 1984) (decided prior to 1985 amendment to § 24-72-202).

Board hearings do not have to be in the nature of court hearings. The board of regents, in conducting a hearing with respect to one of its agencies, is not required to conduct something in the nature of a court hearing, because the regents must have a degree of latitude in determining the course and scope of the proceedings to be taken; rather, the important question is whether there was an opportunity to be heard. Sigma Chi Fraternity v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 258 F. Supp. 515 (D. Colo. 1966).

Delegation of hiring authority. Absent legislative authorization, the board of regents' hiring authority cannot be delegated. Univ. of Colo. v. Silverman, 192 Colo. 75, 555 P.2d 1155 (1976).

No contract with university absent affirmative action by board. Since the board of regents' hiring authority cannot be delegated, no contract with the university could come into being absent affirmative action by the board of regents itself. Univ. of Colo. v. Silverman, 192 Colo. 75, 555 P.2d 1155 (1976).

Power to accept resignations and retirements of faculty members is not vested in the board of regents only and is delegable. Kreith v. Univ. of Colo., 689 P.2d 718 (Colo. App. 1984).

Interpretation of regents' rules. Rules providing that senior instructors at the school of medicine be appointed for three years are, for purpose of interpretation, like statutes, and cannot be ignored. Where the regents have promulgated rules more stringent in favor of the appointee, due process requires regents strictly comply with their rules. Subryan v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 698 P.2d 1383 (Colo. App. 1984).

Standards for notice of nonreappointment. Regents must give 12 months, post notice prior to the end of the appointed term, rather than merely giving 12 months, post notice at any time during the appointed term. Subryan v. Regents of Univ. of Colo., 698 P.2d 1383 (Colo. App. 1984).

The university of Colorado was entitled to claim immunity from suit in federal court under the eleventh amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Rozek v. Topolnicki, 865 F.2d 1154 (10th Cir. 1989).

III. REGULATION OF CONDUCT.

The university has the power to formulate and enforce rules of student conduct that are appropriate and necessary to the maintenance of order and propriety, considering the accepted norms of social behavior in the community, where such rules are reasonably necessary to further the university's educational goals. Buttny v. Smiley, 281 F. Supp. 280 (D. Colo. 1968).

The right of the university administration to invoke its disciplinary powers need not be entirely bottomed on any published rule or regulation, as it is an inherent power that the school administration authorities have to maintain order on its campus, and to afford students, school officials, employees, and invited guests freedom of movement on the campus and the right of ingress and egress to the school's physical facilities. Buttny v. Smiley, 281 F. Supp. 280 (D. Colo. 1968).

Regulations and rules which are necessary in maintaining order and discipline are always considered reasonable. Buttny v. Smiley, 281 F. Supp. 280 (D. Colo. 1968).

Rule prohibiting hazing is not unconstitutional restraint of freedoms of speech and assembly. University rule prohibiting hazing in all forms, including class conflicts, injury to property on campus or elsewhere, and interference in any manner with public or private rights of citizens, is not on its face prior restraint on right to freedom of speech and right to assemble. Buttny v. Smiley, 281 F. Supp. 280 (D. Colo. 1968).

Rule is unconstitutionally vague. State university rules requiring students to conduct themselves so as to reflect credit upon university and prohibiting hazing in all forms were not invalid on grounds of vagueness or uncertainty. Buttny v. Smiley, 281 F. Supp. 280 (D. Colo. 1968).

There was no denial of equal protection where there were three distinct types of pun- ishment imposed on students who had engaged in campus civil disobedience: (1) Suspension with permission to reapply; (2) suspension with immediate reinstatement and probation; and (3) probation; and where the punishment meted out to the respective plaintiffs was in direct relation to the student's class year at the university and his maturity. Buttny v. Smiley, 281 F. Supp. 280 (D. Colo. 1968).

Judicial review in the expulsion of students is limited to the scope of the regulation and its reasonableness, not the wisdom of the discretion exercised under it. Buttny v. Smiley, 281 F. Supp. 280 (D. Colo. 1968).

Students held to have been afforded procedural due process by university authorities. Buttny v. Smiley, 281 F. Supp. 280 (D. Colo. 1968).

IV. OATH.

Oath required of teachers and employees of the university of Colorado, which was promulgated by the board of regents is not vague and indefinite so as to be a violation of due process. Hosack v. Smiley, 276 F. Supp. 876 (D. Colo. 1967), aff'd mem., 390 U.S. 744, 88 S. Ct. 1442, 20 L. Ed.2d 275 (1968).

There is no procedural due process deprivation growing out of the failure to provide a hearing following a dismissal of a teacher or employee for failure to prescribe to the oath required by the board of regents because in the case of the failure to take or subscribe to an oath the action itself is final and conclusive and no amount of hearing can change the fact that the person has refused to take it. Hosack v. Smiley, 276 F. Supp. 876 (D. Colo. 1967), aff'd mem., 390 U.S. 744, 88 S. Ct. 1442, 20 L. Ed.2d 275 (1968).

23-20-113. Board to fix salaries. The board of regents shall determine the compensation of the secretary and the treasurer of the university, and the regents are ineligible to the office of treasurer.

23-20-114. Employment of medical personnel. (1) The board of regents of the university of Colorado has authority to employ medical personnel who are not citizens of the United States at the university of Colorado health sciences center, the university of Colorado psychiatric hospital, and the medical division of the graduate school of the university of Colorado. Medical personnel who are not citizens of the United States are exempt from the licensure requirements of the "Colorado Medical Practice Act", article 36 of title 12, C.R.S., with respect to services performed in the course of such employment, but such personnel shall first comply with all other requirements of said act, which includes the taking and passing of examinations approved by the Colorado medical board and by the national board of medical examiners, the national board of examiners for osteopathic physicians and surgeons, or the federation of state medical boards, or their successor organizations, on subjects relating to the basic sciences as provided by law within three months after the date of employment unless such examinations are not required by section

12-36-107 (1) (b), C.R.S. Such exemptions from licensure or provisions in this section provided for such personnel who are not citizens of the United States shall continue only during the minimum period of time within which the particular individual can become a citizen according to the laws of the United States and the regulations of the immigration and naturalization service of the United States, department of justice, or any successor agency, or such additional time as may be granted by such boards. The exemptions in this section are limited to services performed in the course of employment with the university of Colorado as limited in this section and shall terminate when such employment terminates.

(2) (a) The board of regents may arrange for the billing, collection, and disbursement for professional services rendered by physicians and other faculty members of the health sciences schools through a nonprofit corporation or through a contractual arrangement with a profit or nonprofit corporation or through such other mechanism as may be authorized by the board of regents. Any mechanism employed under the authority of this subsection (2) shall be self-supporting. Any such mechanism shall allow for contracting with the board of regents or the state of Colorado for reimbursement of physician services provided for the medically indigent.

(b) The fees collected under this subsection (2) shall be used for the remuneration and support of the professional, research, and educational activities of the members of the faculty of the health sciences schools and shall also be used for the administrative costs of such activities, in accordance with rules to be adopted by the board of regents.

(c) The board of regents, at the request of the general assembly, the joint budget committee, or the state auditor, shall provide a report of the financial status of any funds maintained pursuant to this subsection (2), including but not limited to expenditures, revenues, and the number of staff and faculty involved.

(d) Nothing in this subsection (2) shall be construed to give the board of regents any control over or power to arrange for the billing, collection, and disbursement of hospital fees of the university of Colorado hospital authority operating the university of Colorado university hospital pursuant to the provisions of part 5 of article 21 of this title, any control over how such hospital fees are spent in the operation of the hospital, or any control over the hospital's gross income, the budget and spending of the hospital, or the hospital's authority to borrow money or incur debt.

Editor's note: This section was amended in House Bill No. 1143, enacted by the General Assembly at its first regular session in 1989, as a conforming amendment necessitated by the authorization for the operation of the university of Colorado university hospital by a nonprofit-nonstock corporation. The Colorado Supreme Court subsequently declared House Bill No. 1143 unconstitutional in its entirety. See Colorado Association of Public Employees v. Board of Regents, 804 P. 2d 138 (Colo. 1990). Senate Bill 91-225, enacted by the General Assembly at its first regular session in 1991, authorized the operation of university hospital by a newly created university of Colorado hospital authority. Since the previous act was declared unconstitutional in its entirety, the General Assembly elected to make a similar conforming amendment to this section in Senate Bill 91-225. For further explanation of the circumstances surrounding the enactment of Senate Bill 91-225, see the legislative declaration contained in section 1 of chapter 99, Session Laws of Colorado 1991.

23-20-115. Departments - degrees - diplomas. The university shall include a classical, philosophical, normal, scientific, law, physical sciences, and preparatory department and such other departments, with courses of instruction and elective studies, as the board of regents may determine. The board has authority to confer such degrees and grant such diplomas and other marks of distinction as are usually conferred and granted by other universities. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the regents to establish the several departments until such time as in their judgment the wants and necessities of the people require it. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the authority of the Colorado commission on higher education to direct the board of regents to discontinue an academic or vocational degree program area pursuant to section 23-1-107 (2).

ANNOTATION

Board of regents is not required to establish certain departments. By this section the university shall include certain designated departments and such other departments as the board of regents may determine; but the board is not required to establish these departments (except the normal and preparatory) until such time as, in their judgment, the wants and necessities of the people require it. People ex rel. Jerome v. Regents of the State Univ., 24 Colo. 175, 49 P. 286 (1897).

23-20-116. Claims against university. Except with respect to claims coming within the provisions of article 10 of title 24, C.R.S., the board of regents shall audit all claims against the university, and the president shall draw all warrants upon the treasurer for approved claims; but before payment such warrants shall be countersigned by the secretary, who shall keep a specific and complete record of all matters involving the expenditure of money, which record shall be submitted to the board of regents at each regular meeting of the same.

23-20-117.5. University of Colorado fund - creation - control - use. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the university of Colorado fund that shall be under the control and administration of the board of regents of the university of Colorado in accordance with the provisions of this part 1. The board of regents shall have authority and responsibility for all university funds. The board of regents shall designate, pursuant to its statutory authority, those moneys whether received by appropriation, grant, contract, gift, or any other means that shall be credited to said fund together with all interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund. The moneys in the fund shall remain under the control of the regents of the university of Colorado and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the university of Colorado fund shall be used by the board of regents of the university of Colorado for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board and the institutions it governs, as well as for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board in carrying out its statutory powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the university of Colorado fund may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113. C.R.S., any public-private initiatives with the department of transportation, as defined in section 43-1-1201 (3), C.R.S., and bonds issued for turnpikes in accordance with part 2 of article 3 of title 43, C.R.S. The board shall determine the amount of moneys to be credited in the fund. Until the board of regents withdraws the moneys from the fund, the state treasurer shall invest the moneys on behalf of the board of regents.

(4) The board of regents shall establish an investment advisory committee consisting of at least five members to make recommendations to it regarding investments. The investment committee shall include the university of Colorado treasurer, the state treasurer, a member of the board of regents, and two representatives of the financial community.

Corporate stock in name of nominee authorized. (1) In order to facilitate the investment, reinvestment, sale, and disposition of corporate stocks, the regents of the university of Colorado are authorized to hold certificates of stock in the name of a nominee of their selection without disclosing the fact that certificates are held by the regents or are held in a fiduciary capacity, if:

(a) The records of the regents and all reports or accounts rendered by them clearly show the ownership of the stock by the regents and the facts regarding their holding; and

(b) The nominee deposits with the regents a signed statement showing the trust ownership, endorses the stock certificate in blank, and does not have possession of the stock certificate or access thereto except under the immediate supervision of the treasurer of the university or such other person as the regents designate.

(2) A report shall be made by the regents of the university of Colorado, to the general assembly at each regular session, of the investments made and the interest derived therefrom under the provisions of this section and section 23-20-118.

23-20-122. Raising funds for university student memorial center. (1) For the purpose of raising funds from time to time for erecting, purchasing, otherwise acquiring, reconstructing, improving, adding to, extending, bettering, equipping, and furnishing, or any combination thereof, a student memorial center consisting of one or more buildings on the campus of the university of Colorado, the board of regents thereof, designated as the "regents of the university of Colorado" (in this section sometimes designated as the "board"), is authorized to enter into contracts with persons or corporations advancing money for such purposes, under which contracts the board is authorized to pledge the net income from the student memorial center, its facilities, and special student fees assessed for the purpose of financing the student memorial center or any part of such net income to the repayment of any sums so advanced and interest thereon.

(2) The board shall not pledge the general income of the university or create any mortgage upon property belonging to such institution or obligate the state of Colorado for the purpose of repaying or receiving any funds raised or advanced under the provisions of this section.

(3) For the purpose of evidencing any such loan, the board may issue, in its name and on its behalf, notes, debentures, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, in this section sometimes designated as "obligations".

(4) Any obligations may be refunded by the board, subject to provisions concerning their payment and any other contractual limitations in any proceedings authorizing the issuance of the obligations or otherwise appertaining thereto, by the issuance of obligations to refund, pay, and discharge all or any part of outstanding obligations for the purpose of avoiding or terminating any default, reducing interest costs or effecting other economies, or modifying or eliminating restrictive contractual limitations concerning the outstanding obligations of the student memorial center, or any combination thereof.

(5) Any obligations issued for refunding purposes either may be delivered in exchange for the outstanding obligations being refunded or may be publicly or privately sold.

(6) No obligations may be refunded under this section unless the holders thereof voluntarily surrender them for exchange or payment or unless they either mature or are callable for prior redemption under their terms within ten years from the date of issuance of the refunding obligations. Provision shall be made for paying the obligations within said period of time. The principal amount of the refunding obligations may exceed the principal amount of the refunded obligations if the aggregate principal and interest costs of the refunding obligations do not exceed such unaccrued costs of the obligations refunded. The principal amount of the refunding obligations may also be less than or the same as the principal amount of the obligations being refunded so long as provision is duly and sufficiently made for the payment of the refunded obligations.

(7) The proceeds of refunding obligations shall either be immediately applied to the retirement of the obligations to be refunded or placed in escrow in any state or national bank within the state which is a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation to be applied to the payment of the obligations being refunded upon their presentation therefor. To the extent any incidental expenses have been capitalized, such refunding obligation proceeds may be used to defray such expenses. Any accrued interest and any premium appertaining to a sale of refunding obligations may be applied to the payment of the interest thereon, the principal thereof, or both interest and principal or deposited in a reserve therefor as the board may determine. Any such escrow shall not necessarily be limited to proceeds of refunding obligations but may include other moneys available for its purpose. Any proceeds in escrow, pending such use, may be invested or reinvested in securities meeting the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S. Such proceeds and investments in escrow, together with any interest to be derived from any such investment, shall be in an amount at all times sufficient as to principal, interest, any prior redemption premium due, and any charges of the escrow agent payable therefrom to pay the obligations being refunded as they become due at their respective maturities or due at any designated prior redemption date in connection with which the board exercises a prior redemption option. Any purchaser of any obligation issued under this section shall in no manner be responsible for the application of the proceeds thereof by the board or any of its officers, agents, or employees.

(8) Refunding obligations may be made payable from any net revenues derived from the student memorial center, or any portion thereof, notwithstanding that the pledge of such revenues for the payment of the outstanding obligations being refunded is thereby modified.

(9) Obligations for refunding and obligations for any other purpose authorized may be issued separately or in combination in one series or more.

(10) The board shall establish a maximum net effective interest rate for obligations issued under this section. Such obligations shall bear interest at a rate or rates such that the net effective interest rate of the issue of obligations does not exceed the maximum net effective interest rate established. Such interest shall be payable semiannually or annually and evidenced by one or two sets of coupons, if any, executed with the facsimile or manually executed signature of any official or officials of the board; except that the first coupon or coupons appertaining to any obligation may evidence interest not in excess of one year, and such obligations may be in one series or more, may bear such date or dates, may mature at such time or times not exceeding forty years from their respective dates, may be designated or redesignated, may be in such denomination or denominations, may be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places within or without the state, may carry such registration privileges, may be subject to such terms of prior redemption in advance of maturity in such order or by lot or otherwise at such time or times with or without a premium, may be executed in such manner, may bear such privileges for reissuance in the same or other denominations, may be so reissued without modification of maturities and interest rates, and may be in such form, either coupon or registered, as may be provided by resolution of the board.

(11) The obligations shall never be sold at a price such that the net effective interest rate of the issue of obligations exceeds the maximum net effective interest rate established.

(12) Obligations may be issued with privileges for conversion or registration, or both, for payment as to principal or interest, or both. If interest accruing on the obligations is not represented by interest coupons, the obligations may provide for the endorsing of payments of interest thereon. The obligations generally shall be issued in such manner, in such form, either coupon or registered, with such recitals, terms, and provisions for subordination of subsequently issued obligations and such covenants and conditions, and with such other details as may be provided by the board, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(13) All obligations and the income therefrom shall be exempt from taxation, except inheritance, estate, and transfer taxes.

(14) All moneys received from the issuance of any obligations authorized in this section shall be used solely for the purpose for which issued and the cost of any project designated by the board and authorized in this section, including interest or discount on obligations, or both; cost of issuance of obligations; architectural, engineering, and inspection costs and legal expenses; costs of financial, professional, and other estimates and advice; contingencies; any administrative, operating, and other expenses of the board appertaining to a student memorial center prior to and during such acquisition or improvement and equipment, and additionally during a period of not exceeding one year after the completion thereof, as may be estimated and determined by the board in any resolution authorizing the issuance of any obligations or other instrument appertaining thereto, and all such other expenses as may be necessary or incident to the financing, acquisition, improvement, equipment, and completion of said center or part thereof, the placing of the same in operation, and also any provision or reserves for working capital, operation, maintenance, or replacement expenses, or for payment or security of principal or of interest on any obligations during or after such acquisition or improvement and equipment as the board may determine, and also reimbursements to the board, any bank, other corporation, or any other person of any moneys previously expended for the purposes of said center; except that any accrued interest and any premium appertaining to a sale of obligations may be applied to the payment of the interest thereon and the principal thereof, or both interest and principal, or may be deposited in a reserve therefor, as the board may determine.

(15) The powers conferred by this section shall be in addition and supplemental to and not in substitution for, and the limitations imposed by this section shall not affect, the powers conferred by any other law. Obligations may be issued under this section without regard to the provisions of any other law. Insofar as the provisions of this section are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, the provisions of this section shall be controlling.

23-20-123. Rents or charges for buildings and facilities for research. The regents of the university of Colorado are authorized to contract for or impose and collect rents or charges for the use of university buildings and facilities for research, including research conducted by or under the auspices of the university of Colorado. Such rents or charges shall be at a level reasonably calculated to return or amortize the cost of such buildings and facilities within a reasonable period not exceeding the life of such buildings and facilities; but such user charges or rents may not be imposed and collected in such a manner as to require payment directly or indirectly from the state general fund, tuition receipts, or student fees.

23-20-124. Research building revolving fund - appropriation of fund. There is established in the office of the treasurer of the university a fund to be known as the university of Colorado research building revolving fund. There shall be credited to said fund the user charges or rents authorized by section 23-20-123 and imposed by the board of regents of the university of Colorado, specific appropriations or grants or gifts made to said fund, and the proceeds of the sale of anticipation warrants authorized by sections 23-20-123 to 23-20-125. No payments from student fees, tuition receipts, or general funds shall be deposited in the research building revolving fund or used for said programs; except that the board of regents is authorized, pursuant to sections 23-5-102 and 23-5-103, to pledge the revenues and net income of any other designated enterprise auxiliary facilities in connection with bonds or other obligations secured by the research building revolving fund. All interest accumulated in this fund shall follow the fund. All such moneys so credited to said fund are appropriated to the university of Colorado for the payment of maintenance and operating costs for its research buildings and facilities and for the planning, construction, and equipping of additional research buildings and facilities for the university of Colorado; except that the board of regents is authorized, pursuant to sections 23-5-102 and 23-5-103, to pledge the research building revolving fund in connection with bonds or other obligations issued by or on behalf of any other designated enterprise auxiliary facilities.

Editor's note: Amendments to this section by Senate Bill 99-203 and House Bill 99-1338 were harmonized.

23-20-125. Anticipation warrants. The state treasurer is authorized to issue anticipation warrants in such amounts as requested by the board of regents of the university of Colorado, the total amount of which shall not exceed four million dollars, to be repaid exclusively from the user revenues accruing to the university of Colorado research building revolving fund as provided in sections 23-20-123 to 23-20-125 or from revenues and net income of any other designated enterprise auxiliary facilities that are pledged to the repayment of such anticipation warrants pursuant to sections 23-5-102 and 23-5-103, or any combination thereof; such anticipation warrants shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four percent per annum except those issued on or after February 15, 1968, which shall bear interest not exceeding six percent per annum, and shall not be sold at a price less than the face value thereof. Disbursements from said fund shall be only by warrant upon vouchers certified by the board of regents of the university of Colorado.

Bonds. (1) The regents of the university of Colorado are hereby authorized to issue bonds as provided in this section for the purpose of obtaining funds for the planning, construction or other acquisition, and equipping of research buildings and facilities, wherever located in the state of Colorado, for the university of Colorado. Any such buildings and facilities shall be related to the research mission of the university.

(2) Such bonds shall be in such amount, shall mature at such time or times, shall bear interest at such rate or rates, and shall otherwise be sold and issued in such manner and on such terms as provided by the regents of the university of Colorado.

(3) Such bonds shall be payable from, and shall be secured by a pledge of, the university of Colorado research building revolving fund created in section 23-20-124, or the revenues and net income of any other designated enterprise auxiliary facilities that are pledged to the repayment of such bonds pursuant to sections 23-5-102 and 23-5-103, or any combination thereof.

(4) The authority contained in this section shall be in addition to the authority granted the regents of the university of Colorado to issue anticipation warrants pursuant to section 23-20-125; except that nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the issuance of such bonds if by such issuance the obligation of any contract entered into with respect to any outstanding anticipation warrants would thereby be impaired.

(5) Any bonds issued pursuant to this section shall be exempt from taxation for state, county, school district, special district, municipal, or other purposes in the state of Colorado.

(6) Bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not constitute a debt or an indebtedness of the state within the meaning of any applicable provision of the state constitution or state statutes.

23-20-129.5. Enterprise auxiliary facility bonds. (1) The board of regents shall establish policies and procedures to determine and monitor the ability of the university of Colorado:

(a) To pay principal, interest, and any other costs due in connection with any revenue bonds issued pursuant to section 23-5-102;

(b) To establish and maintain the necessary reserves required to pay the principal, interest, and other costs due in connection with any revenue bonds issued pursuant to section 23-5-102;

(c) To pay costs of operation and maintenance of the auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities on behalf of which revenue bonds are issued pursuant to section 23-5-102; and

(d) To satisfy all covenants and agreements set forth in any resolution, indenture, or other document authorizing or executed in connection with the issuance of revenue bonds pursuant to section 23-5-102.

(2) The policies and procedures adopted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall include, but need not be limited to, the following requirements:

(a) That, upon issuance of revenue bonds pursuant to section 23-5-102, the university shall identify the primary revenue sources for payment of principal and interest on the bonds from among those revenues and other moneys pledged for payment of principal and interest on the revenue bonds;

(b) That, upon issuance of revenue bonds pursuant to section 23-5-102, the university shall perform a financial analysis, based upon assumptions approved by the board of regents and the state auditor, that demonstrates that revenues expected to be annually available from the sources identified under paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) will be sufficient to pay at least one hundred twenty-five percent of the annual principal and interest on the revenue bonds;

(c) That the university shall annually review the revenue sources identified under paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) to determine if the financial analysis required in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) shows sufficient revenues for payment of principal and interest on the revenue bonds and, if the revenues are not sufficient, take such action as the board of regents and the state auditor shall require to assure that adequate revenues are available to pay the principal and interest on the revenue bonds;

(d) That the maximum annual debt service on all revenue bonds issued pursuant to section 23-5-102, except as provided for in sections 23-5-101.8 and 23-5-103, outstanding at any time for the university shall not exceed ten percent of the university's unrestricted current fund expenditures plus mandatory transfers;

(e) That the university shall establish and maintain such debt service reserves and such reserves for repair and replacement of any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities on behalf of which revenue bonds are issued pursuant to section 23-5-102 and as may be required by the terms of the resolution, indenture, or other document authorizing or executed in connection with the issuance of the revenue bonds and subject to review and approval by the state auditor; and

(f) That the university shall annually report to the state auditor regarding compliance with the requirements specified in this subsection (2) and any additional requirements that may be imposed by the board of regents.

(3) The policies and procedures required under this section shall be established no later than January 1, 1995, and shall apply to any revenue bonds issued pursuant to section 23-5-102 on or after such date.

23-20-136. Fitzsimons trust fund - creation - legislative declaration - repeal.
(1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that the university of Colorado health sciences center will be moving to the former Fitzsimons Army base over the next several decades; that the health sciences center can expect a major portion of the move to take place in the next ten to fifteen years; that creation of a trust fund would allow the state to set aside funds over a period of years in order to have moneys available at the time the most costly capital construction requests would be expected to occur; and that, in addition to the state moneys to be dedicated to the trust fund, other sources of funding for the move are being sought from the federal government, private and public sources, and the health sciences center and university hospital.

(2) In light of the projected amounts of state revenues that will be available over the next six years, the general assembly hereby finds and declares that a stable, predictable, and consistent source of revenues for the university of Colorado health sciences center's move to the former Fitzsimons Army base will better allow the state to help fund such a move. In order to provide a consistent source of revenues, the general assembly further finds and declares that it is appropriate to create a trust fund that will be provided with an annual amount of principal and that will generate an annual amount of interest that is dedicated to the university of Colorado health sciences center's move to the former Fitzsimons Army base.

(3) (a) There is hereby created in the state treasury the university of Colorado health sciences center at Fitzsimons trust fund, referred to in this section as the "Fitzsimons trust fund", the principal of which shall consist of those general fund revenues that may be transferred to the capital construction fund as provided in section 24-75-302 (2), C.R.S., and then appropriated from the capital construction fund to the Fitzsimons trust fund and of moneys appropriated to the Fitzsimons trust fund from the capital construction fund pursuant to subsection (3.5) of this section. The principal and interest of the Fitzsimons trust fund shall not be expended or appropriated for any purpose other than that stated in subsection (5) of this section. The state treasurer may, in the state treasurer's discretion, deposit, redeposit, invest, and reinvest moneys accrued or accruing to the Fitzsimons trust fund in the types of deposits and investments authorized in sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S.

(b) (I) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) to the contrary, on March 27, 2002, the state treasurer shall deduct eighteen million four hundred thousand dollars from the Fitzsimons trust fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(II) In order to restore the amount transferred from the Fitzsimons trust fund pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), moneys from the general fund shall be transferred to the Fitzsimons trust fund in accordance with section 24-75-217, C.R.S.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) to the contrary, on May 5, 2010, the state treasurer shall deduct five million fifty-four thousand nine hundred eighteen dollars from the Fitzsimons trust fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) to the contrary, on July 1, 2010, the state treasurer shall deduct three million four hundred forty-eight thousand five hundred thirty-seven dollars from the Fitzsimons trust fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(3.5) (a) For the 2006-07 fiscal year and for each fiscal year thereafter in which the state receives moneys pursuant to the master settlement agreement, and in which money is due to a lessor under a lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to section 3 of House Bill 03-1256, as enacted at the first regular session of the sixty-fourth general assembly, the state treasurer shall transfer to the capital construction fund and the state controller shall transfer from the capital construction fund to the Fitzsimons trust fund the lesser of the amount due to any lessor during the fiscal year or, except as otherwise provided in section 24-75-1104.5 (5), C.R.S., eight percent of the total amount received by the state pursuant to the master settlement agreement, other than attorney fees and costs, during the preceding fiscal year; except that the amount transferred pursuant to this subsection (3.5) in any fiscal year shall not exceed eight million dollars.

(b) As used in this subsection (3.5), unless the context otherwise requires, "master settlement agreement" means the master settlement agreement, the smokeless tobacco master settlement agreement, and the consent decree approved and entered by the court in the case denominated State of Colorado, ex rel. Gale A. Norton, Attorney General v. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.; American Tobacco Co., Inc.; Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.; Liggett & Myers, Inc.; Lorillard Tobacco Co., Inc.; Philip Morris, Inc.; United States Tobacco Co.; B.A.T. Industries, P.L.C.; The Council For Tobacco Research—U.S.A., Inc.; and Tobacco Institute, Inc., Case No. 97 CV 3432, in the district court for the city and county of Denver.

(4) On September 1, 1998, and on September 1 of each year thereafter, the state treasurer shall certify to the general assembly the amount of interest actually earned on the principal of the Fitzsimons trust fund during the previous fiscal year and shall provide an estimate of the interest expected to be earned on such principal during the current fiscal year.

(5) Moneys in the Fitzsimons trust fund may be appropriated to pay for capital construction projects for the university of Colorado health sciences center at the former Fitzsimons Army base that have received the prior approval of the board of regents of the university of Colorado, the Colorado commission on higher education, the capital development committee, the general assembly, and the joint budget committee or for lease payments on any lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to section 3 of House Bill 03-1256, as enacted at the first regular session of the sixty-fourth general assembly.

(6) The creation of the Fitzsimons trust fund shall in no way reduce or eliminate the opportunity of the university of Colorado health sciences center to seek funding for capital and controlled maintenance projects through the normal annual capital development committee prioritization process.

(7) All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the Fitzsimons trust fund shall be credited to said fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the Fitzsimons trust fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

23-20-137. Health sciences center - disposition of property - use of proceeds.

(1) On or before June 30, 2004, the university of Colorado shall develop a master plan for the development, sale, and use of the campus at ninth avenue and Colorado boulevard and the university of Colorado hospital.

(2) On or before June 30, 2006, the university of Colorado shall enter into an agreement with a third-party master developer to carry out the development, sale, or use of the real estate interests of the university of Colorado in the campus at ninth avenue and Colorado boulevard, including, but not limited to, the university's real estate interests in the ground leased to the university of Colorado hospital, that will maximize the moneys available for the move of the Colorado health sciences center to the former Fitzsimons Army base.

(3) (a) For purposes of this subsection (3), unless the context otherwise requires, "net proceeds from ninth avenue and Colorado boulevard" means the proceeds from the sale, ground lease, or other disposition of the real estate interest of the university of Colorado in the ninth avenue and Colorado boulevard campus, including, but not limited to, the university's interests in the ground leased to the university of Colorado hospital, less actual and reasonable costs of completing the transaction and less any unsatisfied debt or other obligation relating to such real estate interests.

(b) Of the net proceeds from ninth avenue and Colorado boulevard, up to fifteen million dollars shall be deposited into the general fund. Any net proceeds from ninth avenue and Colorado boulevard in excess of fifteen million dollars shall be divided equally with one-half being deposited into the general fund and one-half being retained by the university of Colorado for the development of the Fitzsimons campus.

23-20-138. Health sciences center - definitions - accountable student program - creation. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Accountable student" means a person who, as of the date of his or her selection for admission into a university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center professional health care program, will not be receiving funding from the state of Colorado or a cooperative state for any portion of the costs incurred in participating in a university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center professional health care program.

(b) "Board" means the board of regents of the university of Colorado.

(c) "Cooperative state" means a state that has entered into a cooperative agreement with the state of Colorado pursuant to section 24-60-601, C.R.S.

(d) "Special support fee" means the fee determined by the board pursuant to subsection (5) of this section to reflect the difference between the actual costs of education for an accountable student enrolled in a university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center professional health care program and the tuition assessed to the accountable student.

(2) The board is hereby authorized to enter into a contract concerning the assessment of a special support fee with each accountable student.

(3) Each accountable student shall enter into a contract with the board that shall provide that, as a condition of the accountable student's continued enrollment in a university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center professional health care program, a special support fee shall be paid annually to the board by or on behalf of the accountable student pursuant to subsection (4) of this section.

(4) Beginning in the 2006-07 academic year, the board may annually assess each accountable student a special support fee as the board determines necessary pursuant to subsection (5) of this section. The fee required to be collected pursuant to this subsection (4) is based on an accountable student's status as an accountable student at the time of selection for admission into a university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center professional health care program and shall not be reduced or waived regardless of the accountable student's future status as an in-state student, pursuant to the provisions of section 23-7-103, at any time during the accountable student's participation in a university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center professional health care program. If after the first year the accountable student ceases to participate in his or her university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center professional health care program for reasons other than a medical disability, he or she shall repay to the university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center professional health care program the difference between the amount paid for the special support fee and the amount of tuition that would have been otherwise assessed to the accountable student.

(5) The board shall determine annually the amount of the special support fee based on recommendations from each university of Colorado at Denver and health sciences center campus offering professional health care program courses.

(6) The fee-for-service contract negotiated between the board and the department of higher education pursuant to section 23-5-130 shall specify the amount of funding for educational services provided to graduate students by the state of Colorado. A graduate student receiving educational services paid for by the state of Colorado is not eligible to be an accountable student.

23-20-139. Retirement plan - eligibility - election. (1) (a) The university of Colorado president, chancellors, deans, other professionals exempt from the state personnel system, and faculty as determined by the board of regents to be eligible to participate in a university of Colorado retirement plan shall be members of a university retirement plan and covered under social security if required by federal law; except that, upon initial appointment to or employment in a position described in this subsection (1), an employee who is a member or inactive member of the association shall elect, within thirty days after such appointment, either to join the association in accordance with the provisions of article 51 of title 24, C.R.S., or to participate in a university retirement plan.

(b) For purposes of this section, "association" means the public employees' retirement association created pursuant to section 24-51-201, C.R.S.

(2) An election made by an employee pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be irrevocable and shall remain the election of the employee at any time the employee is employed by the university in a position described in subsection (1) of this section.

(3) An election to participate in a university retirement plan pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be in writing and shall be filed with the association and with the university in a manner prescribed by the university.

(4) An election to join the association pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be in writing in the manner provided by the association and shall be filed with the association no more than thirty days after the election.

(5) If an employee fails to make an election pursuant to the provisions of this section, the employee shall be a member of the association.

(6) The university shall be solely responsible for educating employees and providing information to employees about the process provided in this section and for the administration of the process.

(7) Administrative actions or civil actions brought by employees to dispute the election for participation or failure to elect participation in the association or a university retirement plan shall commence within one hundred eighty days after the election or within one hundred eighty days after the date on which the employee may make an election to participate in such plan pursuant to this section, whichever is earlier, and not thereafter.

PART 2

TOBACCO-RELATED AND TOBACCO-FOCUSED RESEARCH

23-20-201. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(a) Although federal moneys are available to fund some tobacco-related research, the settlement agreements between the tobacco companies and the states provide no funds at the national level for grants to fund the types of research outlined in this part 2;

(b) Colorado is one of the few states in the nation that provides no state funding for tobacco-related research. Taken together, the existing level of federally and privately funded tobacco-related research is insufficient to understand and prevent tobacco-related diseases.

(c) Moneys from the master settlement agreement provide Colorado with an opportunity to fund basic science, clinical, and evaluative research that would serve Coloradan's tobacco- and substance-abuse-related healthcare needs;

(d) Research funded pursuant to this part 2 is the first step in Colorado's efforts to combat effectively the long-term effects of tobacco use and substance abuse through research that can ultimately lead to cures and other permanent solutions to tobacco- and substance-abuse-related illness and disease. Research funds also will assist in identifying effective prevention and cessation programs in Colorado. These areas of research will have positive long-term effects on Colorado communities.

(e) Creation of a dedicated research fund for tobacco-related, tobacco-focused, and substance-abuse-related research will result in an investment in research that will potentially save the state of Colorado millions of dollars in costs of providing for the health and welfare of the state's citizens;

(f) In creating a research fund for tobacco-related, tobacco-focused, and substance-abuse-related research, it is paramount to ensure that expenditures from the fund return the maximum benefit to the state of Colorado in the form of information addressing disease, illness, mental health, education, evaluation, cessation, and prevention in relation to tobacco products and substance abuse;

(g) The collaborative efforts of the state of Colorado, the federal government, private research, and other states that conduct tobacco- and substance-abuse-related research will benefit all Coloradans.

(1) "Advisory committee" means the scientific advisory committee appointed by the governor pursuant to section 23-20-204.

(2) "Basic science research" means research addressing the biological, physiological, chemical, and psychological interactions between human body structures and tobacco and other drug substances in all forms.

(3) "Clinical research" means research conducted to develop effective pharmacological aids and other treatments to assist persons who use tobacco and other drug substances in any form to cease such use.

(4) "Evaluative research" means research into designing, implementing, and evaluating effective tobacco and substance abuse cessation and prevention programs that will reach those segments of the community that are most at risk of using tobacco or engaging in substance abuse.

(5) "Fund" means the university of Colorado tobacco-related research fund created in section 23-20-207.

(6) "Indirect costs" means indirect costs as defined by federal cost accounting guidelines for federally sponsored research, including but not limited to a use allowance for research facilities, heating, lighting, library services, health and safety services, project administration, and building maintenance.

(7) "Master settlement agreement" means the master settlement agreement, the smokeless tobacco master settlement agreement, and the consent decree approved and entered by the court in the case denominated State of Colorado, ex rel. Gale A. Norton, Attorney General v. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.; American Tobacco Co., Inc.; Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.; Liggett & Myers, Inc.; Lorillard Tobacco Co., Inc.; Philip Morris, Inc.; United States Tobacco Co.; B.A.T. Industries, P.L.C.; The Council For Tobacco Research—U.S.A., Inc.; and Tobacco Institute, Inc., Case No. 97 CV 3432, in the district court for the city and county of Denver.

(8) "Mental health research" means research into the behavioral and physiological effects of and basic behavioral causes and risk factors for tobacco and other substance addiction, and research into the effectiveness of mental health treatment for tobacco- and substance-abuse-related diseases.

(9) "Office of the president" means the office of the president of the university of Colorado.

(10) "President" means the president of the university of Colorado.

(11) "Research program" means the tobacco- and substance-abuse-related research grant program created pursuant to this part 2.

(12) "University" means the university of Colorado.

23-20-203. Tobacco-related research grant program - creation - eligibility - duties of office of the president. (1) There is hereby created a comprehensive grant program to be implemented and operated by the office of the president to support mental health research and basic scientific, clinical, and evaluative research into tobacco- and substance-abuse-related disease, illness, education, evaluation, cessation, and prevention. The office of the president shall administer the program in accordance with the following principles:

(a) That all research funds shall be awarded on the basis of scientific merit as determined by an open, competitive peer review process that assures objectivity, consistency, and high quality;

(b) That all qualified persons conducting research within the state, regardless of institutional affiliation, shall have equal access and opportunity to compete for funds through the research program;

(c) That the peer review process established pursuant to section 23-20-205 for the selection of grantees shall be modeled on that used by the national institutes of health in its grant-making process;

(d) That grantees shall be reimbursed for the direct and indirect costs of conducting the sponsored research consistent with federal guidelines governing all federal research grants and contracts.

(2) The office of the president may award grants under the research program to any public, private, or nonprofit agency or political subdivision of the state, including but not limited to any college, university, hospital, laboratory, research institution, county, district, or municipal public health agency, voluntary health agency, health maintenance organization, or individual who is conducting research within the state. Any agency seeking a grant under the research program shall apply to the office of the president.

(3) The office of the president shall establish a program office, including a program director and other necessary staff to administer the research program.

(4) The office of the president shall have the following duties in implementing the program:

(a) To provide overall direction and coordination of the program;

(b) To provide staff assistance to the scientific advisory committee and the peer review panels;

(c) To provide for periodic program evaluation to assure that the research that receives funding through the program is consistent with program goals and serves the people of the state of Colorado;

(d) To maintain a system of financial reporting and accountability;

(e) To provide for the systematic dissemination of research results to the public and to the health care community;

(f) To provide a mechanism to disseminate the most current research findings in the areas of tobacco and substance abuse cessation and the prevention of tobacco use and substance abuse in order that these findings may be applied to the implementation of related programs in Colorado;

(g) To develop policies and procedures to facilitate the translation of research results in commercial applications wherever appropriate.

23-20-204. Scientific advisory committee - appointment - duties. (1) There is hereby created a scientific advisory committee to advise the president as to the direction, scope, and progress of the research program. The advisory committee shall consist of nine members representing a range of scientific expertise and experience. The governor shall appoint the members of the advisory committee as follows:

(a) Two members who represent voluntary health organizations dedicated to the reduction of tobacco use;

(b) One member with expertise in the field of biomedical research;

(c) One member with expertise in the field of behavioral or social research;

(d) One member who represents medical or health organizations;

- (e) One member who represents a research university in Colorado;
  - (f) Two members who represent other institutions engaged in research directed at tobacco-related diseases;
  - (g) One member who represents an institution that conducts research on tobacco-related issues affecting children and youth.
- (2) The governor shall select as advisory committee members persons who are bona fide scientists fully conversant with the norms of scientific inquiry and working in this state with a Colorado-based entity. Advisory committee members shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. Advisory committee members shall serve without compensation but shall receive reimbursement for travel and other necessary expenses actually incurred in the performance of their official duties.
- (3) The advisory committee shall have the following duties:
- (a) To advise the president and the program director on program priorities and emphasis;
  - (b) To advise the president and the program director on overall program budget;
  - (c) To participate in periodic program evaluation;
  - (d) To assist in developing appropriate linkages to nonacademic entities such as voluntary health organizations, health care delivery institutions, industry, government agencies, and public officials;
  - (e) To develop criteria and standards for grant awards;
  - (f) To develop administrative procedures relative to the solicitation, review, and award of grants to ensure an impartial, high-quality peer review system;
  - (g) To develop and supervise research review panels;
  - (h) To review research review panel reports and recommendations for grant awards;
  - (i) To develop and oversee mechanisms for the dissemination of research results;
  - (j) To perform such other duties as may be assigned by the president or the program director.

Source: L. 2000: Entire part added, p. 608, § 11, effective May 18.

23-20-205. Peer review panels. (1) The office of the president shall use peer review panels modeled on the national institutes of health peer review process to review all grant applications and research grants. The program director, with input from the advisory committee, shall appoint the members of peer review panels. Membership of peer review panels shall vary depending on the subject matter of proposals and review requirements. In selecting members of the panels, in order to avoid conflicts of interest and to ensure access to qualified reviewers, the program director and the advisory committee shall select from the most qualified individuals from appropriate institutions within and outside of Colorado and from within and outside the university of Colorado system.

(2) The work of the peer review panels shall be administered pursuant to policies and procedures established by the advisory committee. When serving on a peer review panel, any individual who has submitted a grant application for funding by the program shall be governed by conflict of interest provisions consistent with those adopted by the national institutes of health.

23-20-206. Research projects. (1) (a) The office of the president shall award grants to fund mental health research, basic scientific research, clinical research, and evaluative research.

(b) During the first year of the research program, the office of the president shall award at least one grant to fund evaluative research for the collection of baseline demographic data on tobacco use by persons within the state. The office of the president shall ensure that the information to be collected as a result of the selected research proposal and the protocols of the research proposal are consistent with the requirements specified by the federal government to access moneys made available through the national tobacco settlement. The evaluative research grant awarded pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be awarded on the same competitive peer review basis as outlined in this part 2 for the awarding of other research grants.

(2) (a) Basic scientific research funded through the program may include, but is not limited to:

(I) Research conducted to find cures for tobacco- and substance-abuse-related disease and illnesses and to study the effects of second-hand smoke;

(II) Research conducted to improve the early detection and treatment of tobacco- and substance-abuse-related disease;

(III) Research conducted to understand and defeat the biological mechanisms of tobacco and other drug addictions.

(b) Clinical research funded through the program may include, but is not limited to:

(I) Research conducted into the effectiveness of using pharmacological cessation aids, such as nicotine patches and oral drugs, in the treatment of tobacco addiction, particularly with adolescents, pregnant women, and drug abusers;

(II) Research conducted to identify and improve effective strategies for tobacco addiction and substance abuse treatments.

(c) Evaluative research funded through the program may include, but is not limited to:

(I) Research conducted into the development of more effective child-related tobacco use prevention and cessation programs with the goal of developing effective, innovative curricula that can be integrated into youth programs;

(II) Research conducted to develop and improve effective health care provider-based tobacco and other drug use, cessation, and counseling programs in both in-patient and out-patient treatment settings. This includes developing medically and culturally appropriate programs to reduce tobacco use and substance abuse in higher risk patient groups, as well as counseling and other strategies to reduce the exposure, particularly of children, to second-hand smoke.

(III) Research conducted to identify and improve effective strategies for tobacco use and substance abuse prevention programs and campaigns for delivery by health care providers;

(IV) Research conducted into the development of more effective and culturally appropriate, community-based tobacco use and substance abuse prevention and cessation programs, particularly within specific population groups such as adolescents and pregnant women and within specific ethnic and low-income communities.

(3) Tobacco- and substance-abuse-related research projects that may receive funding under the program include, but are not limited to:

(a) Individual researcher-generated grants. This type of grant may be awarded to an institution on behalf of a principal researcher for a discrete project related to the researcher's interests and competence.

(b) New researcher grants. This type of grant may be awarded to an institution to support the work of promising individuals in the initial stages of their research careers.

(c) Center grants. This type of grant may be awarded to an institution on behalf of a principal researcher and a group of collaborating researchers providing support for long-term multi-disciplinary programs of research and development.

23-20-207. Funding of research grants - tobacco- and substance-abuse-related research fund - creation - administrative costs. (1) (a) (I) There is hereby created in the office of the treasurer of the university of Colorado the tobacco- and substance-abuse-related research fund, which shall be under the control and administration of the board of regents of the university of Colorado in accordance with the provisions of this article. Except as otherwise provided in section 24-75-1104 (1.7) (c) or (1.8) (b), C.R.S., beginning with the 2000-01 fiscal year and ending with the 2003-04 fiscal year, the general assembly shall appropriate to the fund eight percent of the total amount received by the state pursuant to the master settlement agreement, other than attorney fees and costs, during the preceding fiscal year; except that the amount so appropriated to the fund in any fiscal year shall not exceed eight million dollars. In addition, the fund shall include all interest derived from the deposit and investment of the moneys in the fund and may include moneys credited thereto from any public or private gifts, grants, or donations received by the university for the implementation of this part 2. It is the intent of the general assembly that state general fund moneys not be appropriated to provide any funding for the purposes of this part 2. The moneys in the fund shall remain under the control of the regents of the university of Colorado. Any unencumbered moneys appropriated from moneys received by the state pursuant to the master settlement agreement remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall be transferred to the tobacco litigation settlement trust fund created in section 24-22-115.5, C.R.S.

(I.5) Notwithstanding the provision of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a), in any year in which money is owed to a lessor under a lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to section 3 of House Bill 03-1256, as enacted at the first regular session of the sixty-fourth general assembly:

(A) Moneys specified in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) shall first be appropriated to the capital construction fund pursuant to section 23-20-136 (3.5); and

(B) If eight percent of the total amount received by the state pursuant to the master settlement agreement, other than attorneys fees and costs, exceeds the amount of eight million dollars, the excess shall be appropriated to the fund.

(II) The general assembly shall appropriate the amount specified in this paragraph (a) from moneys credited to the tobacco litigation settlement cash fund created in section 24-22-115, C.R.S. Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a), for the fiscal year in which the first payment of moneys pursuant to the master settlement agreement is received, the percentage appropriated to the fund shall be calculated on the total amount of moneys received by the state pursuant to the master settlement agreement, other than attorney fees and costs, during that fiscal year, minus thirty-three million dollars.

(b) The moneys in the fund shall be used by the board of regents of the university of Colorado for the issuance of research grants pursuant to the provisions of this part 2. In addition, the office of the president may use up to five percent of the moneys annually appropriated from the fund to offset the administrative costs incurred by the office of the president in administering the program.

(2) Research projects that receive funding under the program shall be reimbursed for actual costs, including direct and indirect costs incurred by a research institution, consistent with federal guidelines. Indirect cost rates shall not exceed those allowable by the federal government for federally sponsored research. With respect to those institutions that have not negotiated a federal indirect cost reimbursement rate, the office of the president shall request information to verify the indirect cost rates.

Annual report. (1) On or before December 1, 2000, and on or before each December 1 thereafter, the office of the president shall submit to the department of public health and environment a report concerning the research grants awarded pursuant to the research program. The department shall include said report in the annual report of programs that are funded by moneys received pursuant to the master settlement agreement prepared pursuant to section 25-1-108.5 (3), C.R.S. The report shall include the following information for each institution and organization that receives grant awards:

- (a) The number and dollar amounts of research grants received through the research program, including the amount allocated to indirect costs;
- (b) The subject of research grants by academic discipline;
- (c) The relationship between state and federal funding for tobacco- and substance-abuse-related research;
- (d) The relationship between each project and the overall strategy of the research program;
- (e) A summary of research findings;
- (f) Any recommendations for future program directions.

Dental School

23-20.5-101. Dental school tuition.

23-20.5-101. Dental school tuition. (1) Tuition for students enrolled in dental programs under the university of Colorado as dental hygiene, dental assistants, or dental lab technician students shall be the same as those as are established for the school of nursing. Tuition for students enrolled as dental students or dental clinical specialty students shall be established by the board of regents of the university of Colorado.

(2) (a) The regents of the university of Colorado are hereby authorized to reduce, by an amount not to exceed eighty-seven and one-half percent, the yearly tuition charged to dental students who qualify as resident students pursuant to article 7 of this title, for each such student who shall agree to practice dentistry upon graduation for one year, for each year in which a reduction is made, in an area of the state determined by the regents to be in need of additional dentists. The regents shall adopt the necessary rules, regulations, and contractual procedures necessary to implement the provisions of this subsection (2), as determined by the attorney general to be enforceable under the laws of Colorado. The provisions of this paragraph (a) apply to students enrolled in dental programs prior to September 30, 1982.

(b) The regents of the university of Colorado, in setting dental school tuition policy, shall require that, among any other requirements that may be established for graduation, a matriculated dental student who enrolls in the dental program on or after September 30, 1982, shall devote not less than one academic year to the provision of direct clinical dental services to any area or location within the state determined by the regents to be in need of additional dentists or dental services. In no event shall a dental student receive a degree from the university of Colorado in the field of dentistry unless such requirement has been fulfilled.

(c) Students enrolled in the dental program and paying tuition under the tuition policy program pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) may, at their option, participate in the dental program established pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (2).

PART 1

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

23-21-101 to 23-21-114. (Repealed)*Source: L. 91: Entire part repealed, p. 589, § 14, effective October 1.

Editor's note: (1) This part 1 was repealed in House Bill 89-1143, enacted by the General Assembly at its first regular session in 1989, as a conforming amendment necessitated by the authorization for the operation of the university of Colorado university hospital by a nonprofit-nonstock corporation. The Colorado Supreme Court subsequently declared House Bill 89-1143 unconstitutional in its entirety. See Colorado Association of Public Employees v. Board of Regents, 804 P.2d 138 (Colo. 1990). Senate Bill 91-225, enacted by the General Assembly at its first regular session in 1991, authorized the operation of university hospital by a newly created university of Colorado hospital authority. Since the previous act was declared unconstitutional in its entirety, the General Assembly elected to make a similar conforming amendment to this part 1 in Senate Bill 91-225. For further explanation of the circumstances surrounding the enactment of Senate Bill 91-225, see the legislative declaration contained in section 1 of chapter 99, Session Laws of Colorado 1991.

(2) This part 1 was numbered as article 4 of chapter 124, C.R.S. 1963. For amendments to this part 1 prior to its repeal in 1991, consult the Colorado statutory research explanatory note and the table itemizing the replacement volumes and supplements to the original volume of C.R.S. 1973 beginning on page vii in the front of this volume.

SICKLE-CELL ANEMIA TREATMENT AND RESEARCH CENTER

23-21-201. Legislative declaration. In order to foster the health, welfare, and safety of the people of this state and to facilitate the research and treatment of sickle-cell anemia and related diseases, it is hereby declared to be the policy of this state to achieve the maximum practical degree of care and treatment for persons suffering from this and related diseases.

(1) "Committee" means the sickle-cell anemia advisory committee.

(2) "Sickle-cell anemia" means an inherited blood disease caused by abnormal hemoglobin (oxygen-carrying pigment) in the red blood cells, causing the red blood cells to form a crescent or sickle shape when deprived of sufficient oxygen.

23-21-203. Center created - committee established. (1) There is hereby established the sickle-cell anemia treatment and research center within the university of Colorado school of medicine. Such treatment center shall use existing facilities and staff of the university of Colorado school of medicine and may establish programs for the care and treatment of persons suffering from sickle-cell anemia as they are needed. The treatment center shall assist those persons who require continuing treatment for sickle-cell anemia but who are unable to pay for the entire cost of such services on a continuing basis despite the existence of various types of hospital and medical insurance, medicare, medicaid, and other government assistance programs, and private charitable assistance.

(2) (a) The governor shall appoint a committee, to be known as the sickle-cell anemia advisory committee, to consult with the university of Colorado school of medicine in the administration of this part 2. The committee shall be composed of eleven members representing hospitals, voluntary agencies interested in sickle-cell anemia, medical specialists in sickle-cell anemia patient care, and the general public; but no group shall have more than four members on the committee. Each member of the committee shall hold office for a term of four years and until his successor is appointed and qualified; except that, of those members first appointed, two shall be appointed for one-year terms, three shall be appointed for two-year terms, three shall be appointed for three-year terms, and three shall be appointed for four-year terms. Any vacancy occurring on the committee shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term. The committee shall meet at least annually and at such other times as the executive director of the department of public health and environment deems necessary. Members of the committee shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties.

(a) Develop standards for determining eligibility for care and treatment under this part 2;

(b) Assist in the development and expansion of programs for the care and treatment of persons suffering from sickle-cell anemia, including home care and medical procedures designed to provide maximum control over the disease;

(c) Extend financial assistance to persons suffering from sickle-cell anemia to obtain efficacious agents of control for use in hospital and medical facilities and in the home;

(d) Institute and carry on educational programs for the detection of sickle-cell anemia in the community and for the counseling of individuals and families;

(e) Conduct educational programs for physicians, hospitals, county and district public health agencies, and the public concerning the methods of care and treatment for persons suffering from the disease;

(f) Establish research programs to promote scientific inquiry into the causes and the possible cure or alleviation of the suffering of victims of sickle-cell anemia.

23-21-303. Center created - committee established. (1) There is hereby established the hemophilia treatment center within the university of Colorado school of medicine. Such treatment center shall use existing facilities and staff of the university of Colorado school of medicine and may establish programs for the care and treatment of persons suffering from hemophilia as they are needed. The hemophilia treatment center shall assist those persons who require continuing treatment with blood, blood derivatives, or a manufactured pharmaceutical product to avoid crippling, hospitalization, or other effects associated with hemophilia but who are unable to pay for the entire cost of such services on a continuing basis despite the existence of various types of hospital and medical insurance, medicare, medicaid, other government assistance programs, and private charitable assistance.

(2) (a) The governor shall appoint a committee to consult with the school of medicine in the administration of this part 3. The committee shall be composed of eleven members representing hospitals, voluntary agencies interested in hemophilia, medical specialists in hemophilia patient care, and the general public; but no group shall have more than four members on the committee. Each member of the committee shall hold office for a term of four years and until his successor is appointed and qualified; except that, of those members first appointed, two shall be appointed for one-year terms, three shall be appointed for two-year terms, three shall be appointed for three-year terms, and three shall be appointed for four-year terms. Any vacancy occurring on the committee shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term. The committee shall meet at least annually and at such other times as the governor deems necessary. Members of the committee shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties.

OPERATION OF UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

23-21-401 to 23-21-411. (Repealed)

Source: L. 91: Entire part repealed, p. 589, § 14, effective October 1.

Editor's note: (1) This part 4 was enacted in House Bill 89-1143, enacted by the General Assembly at its first regular session in 1989, authorizing the operation of the university of Colorado university hospital by a nonprofit-nonstock corporation. The Colorado Supreme Court subsequently declared House Bill 89-1143 unconstitutional in its entirety. See Colorado Association of Public Employees v. Board of Regents, 804 P.2d 138 (Colo. 1990). Senate Bill 91-225, enacted by the General Assembly at its first regular session in 1991, authorized the operation of university hospital by a newly created university of Colorado hospital authority. Since the previous act was declared unconstitutional in its entirety, the General Assembly elected to repeal this part 4 in Senate Bill 91-225. For further explanation of the circumstances surrounding the enactment of Senate Bill 91-225, see the legislative declaration contained in section 1 of chapter 99, Session Laws of Colorado 1991.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO HOSPITAL AUTHORITY

23-21-501. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) The mission of the university of Colorado university hospital is to facilitate and support the education, research, and public service activities of the health sciences schools operated by the regents of the university of Colorado and to provide patient care, including care for the medically indigent, and specialized services not widely available elsewhere in the state and region;

(b) In order to provide for the education and training of health care professionals, to provide a clinical setting for biomedical research, to ensure the availability of quality patient care including specialized medical services not otherwise widely available, and to provide for the care and treatment of the medically indigent, it is necessary that the university of Colorado university hospital be a facility of the finest possible quality;

(c) The present university of Colorado university hospital is unable to become and remain economically viable due to constraints imposed by being subject to various kinds of government policy and regulation;

(d) Unless the university of Colorado university hospital can become and remain economically viable, it will become ever more dependent upon state subsidies, and the quality of medical service and education will inevitably decline;

(e) The needs of the citizens of the state of Colorado and of the university of Colorado health sciences schools will be best served if the university of Colorado university hospital is operated by a quasi-governmental and corporate entity charged with the mission of operating a teaching hospital for the benefit of the health sciences schools and providing care for the medically indigent;

(f) Subject to the provisions of section 25.5-3-102 (2), C.R.S., the authority to be created pursuant to this part 5 to operate the university of Colorado university hospital by receiving its assets and operating obligations shall continue to subsidize the costs of delivering medically indigent care in excess of the state reimbursement for the medically indigent. Consistent with the university of Colorado university hospital's past policy and performance, the authority will make every reasonable effort to continue the hospital's historic commitment to the provision of uncompensated care and shall allocate and invest its resources with a view to maximizing the hospital's long-term ability to provide uncompensated care.

23-21-503. University of Colorado hospital authority. (1) There is hereby created the university of Colorado hospital authority, which shall be a body corporate and a political subdivision of the state, which shall not be an agency of state government, and which shall not be subject to administrative direction or control by the regents or by any department, commission, board, bureau, or agency of the state.

(2) The authority shall be governed by an eleven-member board of directors who shall be appointed by the regents. The board of directors shall control the day-to-day operation of university hospital. There shall be a director appointed from each congressional district. One director shall reside west of the continental divide, and not more than four directors shall be employees of the university of Colorado or of the authority. The appointment of the directors from the congressional districts shall be subject to the advice and consent of the senate. Of the directors first appointed, four shall serve terms of two years and five shall serve terms of four years. Nothing in this subsection (2) shall be construed to limit the power of the regents to appoint persons as directors of the authority who are directors of the part 4 corporation. Each director appointed from a congressional district, whether appointed for an unexpired term or a full term, shall be deemed duly appointed and qualified until the appointment of the director is approved or rejected by the senate. If the general assembly is not in regular session at the time the appointment is made or is in regular session but does not consider the appointment before adjourning, the appointment shall be submitted to the senate for its approval or rejection during the next regular session of the general assembly following the appointment.

(3) Each member of the board of directors shall hold office for such member's term and until a successor is appointed and qualified. Any member shall be eligible for reappointment, but members shall not be eligible to serve more than two consecutive full terms. Members of the board shall receive no compensation for such services but shall be reimbursed for their necessary expenses while serving as a member of the board. Any vacancy shall be filled by the regents.

(4) Any member of the board of directors may be removed by the regents for malfeasance in office, failure to regularly attend meetings, or for any cause which renders said member incapable of or unfit to discharge the duties of director.

(5) No part of the revenues or assets of the authority shall inure to the benefit of, or be distributed to, its board of directors or officers or any other private person or entity; except that the authority may make reasonable payments for expenses incurred on its behalf relating to any of its lawful purposes and the authority shall be authorized and empowered to pay reasonable compensation for services rendered to or for its benefit relating to any of its lawful purposes.

(6) The authority and its corporate existence shall continue until terminated by law; except that no such law shall take effect so long as the authority has bonds, notes, or other obligations outstanding, unless adequate provision has been made for the payment thereof.

ANNOTATION

In prior section university of Colorado's university hospital was held to be public, not private, institution despite operation by "private" corporation, where hospital was established by Regents pursuant to authority granted in Constitution and hospital's budget and spending remained under Regents' control following reorganization. Colorado Ass'n of Pub. Employees v. Bd. of Regents, 804 P.2d 138 (Colo. 1990) (decided prior to the 1991 repeal of § 23-21-401 et seq.).

23-21-504. Mission of the authority - obligation to provide uncompensated care - action of the board of directors. (1) The mission of the authority shall be the operation of university hospital as a state of the art teaching and research hospital providing comprehensive medical care, including tertiary care, and patient care of limited availability. The authority shall also provide space and facilities as necessary for the operation of the clinical programs of the health sciences schools at the health sciences center together with the university of Colorado psychiatric hospital, and, subject to the provisions of section 25.5-3-102 (2), C.R.S., the provision of medical care to those eligible for payment assistance through any program for the benefit of the medically indigent. For every three dollars of moneys appropriated by the general assembly that is distributed to the authority for the state medically indigent program, the authority shall provide four dollars worth of medically indigent care.

(2) The board of directors shall award hospital privileges only to health care providers who are faculty members of the health sciences schools of the university of Colorado.

(3) The board of directors shall not transfer the authority's assets or the hospital's assets to any person or entity except the regents.

(4) Upon the dissolution of the authority, all assets of the authority, after the satisfaction of creditors, shall revert to the regents.

(5) The business activities of the authority, including any joint ventures, shall be primarily in furtherance or in support of the mission of the hospital as the same is specified in subsection (1) of this section.

23-21-505. Authorization for transfer of hospital assets and liabilities to authority.

(1) Following the creation of the authority and on the transfer date under this part 5, the regents shall have the authority to lease, convey, or otherwise transfer to the authority some or all hospital assets, except land which may be leased to the authority for a term not to exceed ninety-nine years. Any such lease, conveyance, or transfer shall be on such terms as may be approved by the regents and in consideration of the authority's agreement to assume the hospital liabilities and to continue to support the education, research, patient care, care to the medically indigent, and public service activities of the university of Colorado.

(2) Any transfer of hospital assets to the authority pursuant to this section shall be conditioned upon the existence of a binding agreement between the regents and the authority which provides that, effective on the transfer date under this part 5 and thereafter, the authority shall assume responsibility for and shall defend, indemnify, and hold harmless the regents and the state and the part 4 corporation and its officers and directors with respect to:

(a) All liabilities and duties of the regents pursuant to contracts, agreements, and leases for commodities, services, and supplies utilized by university hospital, including real property leases;

(b) All claims related to the employment relationship between employees of the authority and the authority on and after the transfer date under this part 5;

(c) All claims for breach of contract resulting from the authority's action or failure to act on and after the transfer date under this part 5;

(d) All claims related to the authority's errors and omissions including, but not limited to: Medical malpractice; directors and officers liability; workers' compensation; automobile liability; and premises, completed operations, and products liability; and

(e) All claims related to the part 4 corporation's errors and omissions prior to the transfer date under this part 5, including, but not limited to: Medical malpractice; directors and officers liability; workers' compensation; automobile liability; and premises, completed operations, and products liability.

(3) Any transfer of hospital assets to the authority shall be further conditioned upon the existence of a binding agreement between the regents and the authority by which the authority shall accept and agree to abide by the provisions set forth in section 23-21-504 concerning the mission of the authority, the provisions in sections 23-21-507 and 23-21-508, and the provisions of part 6 of this article concerning employees of university hospital, the part 4 corporation, and the authority.

23-21-506. Relationship between authority and regents. (1) Following the creation of the authority and on the transfer date under this part 5, and except for the power of the regents to appoint members of the board of directors, the regents shall have no further control over the operation of university hospital but shall be authorized to:

(a) At such future date as the regents shall determine it to be necessary and for the purpose of preserving the certification of the university of Colorado psychiatric hospital and eligibility for federal funds thereunder, transfer some or all of the assets of the university of Colorado psychiatric hospital to the authority operating university hospital pursuant to the provisions of this article; except that the director of the university of Colorado psychiatric hospital shall at all times be a professor of psychiatry in the school of medicine of the university of Colorado. The transfer of assets of the university of Colorado psychiatric hospital shall be conditional upon the provision of retirement benefits and the protection of accrued sick leave and annual leave under sections 23-21-507 and 23-21-508 for state employees of the psychiatric hospital who become employees of the authority.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of the "Procurement Code", articles 101 through 112 of title 24, C.R.S., enter into contracts with the authority for the provision of goods, services, and facilities in support of programs of the university of Colorado; except that moneys paid to either the regents or the authority under said contracts shall not exceed a reasonable estimate of actual cost of the goods, services, or facilities.

(c) In the regents' discretion, provide the authority and its employees with medical malpractice liability coverage from any self-insurance trust fund established pursuant to section 24-10-115, C.R.S., or any other provision of state law, or through such other fund or mechanism which may be available for the provision of such coverage by the regents to university of Colorado employees, at such cost as would be actuarially sound.

23-21-507. Personnel. (1) Any employee of university hospital who is a state employee on the transfer date under this part 5 may elect to remain a state employee or become an employee of the authority. Said employee may elect to become an employee of the authority at any time but shall not thereafter return to state employment status while employed by the authority. No state employee shall be discriminated against in training, promotion, retention, assignment of duties, granting of rights and benefits, or any other personnel action. Promotion or a change in position shall not be contingent upon the employee becoming an employee of the authority.

(2) Any employee who elects to remain a state employee shall retain all rights and privileges of the state employment status which is applicable to such employee's position.

(3) In the case of any dispute involving an employee who is a member of the state personnel system, university hospital and the authority shall agree to accept resolution of all disciplinary appeals or other employment disputes governed by the statutes of the state personnel system or the rules of the state personnel department according to the rules and procedures applicable to members of the state personnel system.

(4) Any employee who elects to become an employee of the authority shall receive full credit for sick leave and annual leave accrued while employed by university hospital.

(5) Any employee initially employed by the authority operating university hospital pursuant to this part 5 on or after the transfer date under this part 5 shall be deemed to be an employee of the authority created under this part 5 and not a state employee.

(6) The authority is authorized to contract with the university of Colorado health sciences center through the state personnel board pursuant to section 13 (4) of article XII of the state constitution for personnel.

ANNOTATION

Prior section on this subject held unconstitutional under art. XII, sec. 13 of state constitution where university hospital employees could keep their jobs at reorganized hospital only by giving up rights and guarantees of state personnel system. Colorado Ass'n of Pub. Employees v. Bd. of Regents, 804 P.2d 138 (Colo. 1990) (decided under § 23-21-406 prior to the 1991 repeal of § 23-21-401 et seq.).

23-21-508. Retirement benefits - rights of former state employees - PERA membership. (1) Any employee initially employed by the authority on and after the transfer date under this part 5 shall be eligible for membership in the authority's qualified retirement plan.

(2) (a) Any employee of university hospital who was a member of PERA on the transfer date under this part 5 and who elects to become an employee of the authority pursuant to section 23-21-507 (1) shall have such employee's active membership in PERA terminated and shall be provided retirement benefits in accordance with this subsection (2).

(b) Any employee of university hospital who elects to become an employee of the authority, and who has less than five years of service credit at the time such employee's active membership in PERA was terminated, may elect to have such employee's member contributions to PERA credited to the authority's qualified retirement plan. Any employee who so elects shall receive from the authority, upon retirement, a benefit which, when combined with social security, is at least equal to the benefit such employee would have received from PERA if such employee had continued to earn PERA service credit until retirement or the date upon which the employee ceases to be an employee of the authority. The calculation of such benefit shall be based upon the PERA benefit plan in effect on the transfer date under this part 5. Any employee who elects not to have such employee's member contributions credited to the authority's qualified retirement plan shall be entitled only to those retirement benefits provided in accordance with such plan.

(c) (I) Any employee of university hospital who elects to become an employee of the authority, and who has five or more years of service credit at the time such employee's active membership in PERA was terminated, may elect either to become a vested inactive member of PERA or to have such employee's member contributions to PERA credited to the authority's qualified retirement plan.

(II) Any employee who becomes a vested inactive member of PERA shall receive from the authority, upon retirement, a benefit which, when combined with social security and the PERA retirement benefit earned by the employee, is at least equal to the benefit such employee would have received from PERA had such employee continued to earn PERA service credit until retirement or the date upon which the employee ceases to be an employee of the authority. The calculation of such benefit shall be based upon the PERA benefit plan in effect on the transfer date under this part 5.

(III) Any employee who elects to have all member contributions credited to the authority's qualified retirement plan shall receive from the authority, upon retirement, a benefit which, when combined with social security, is at least equal to the benefit such employee would have received from PERA if such employee had continued to earn PERA service credit until retirement or the date upon which the employee ceases to be an employee of the authority. The calculation of such benefit shall be based upon the PERA benefit plan in effect on the transfer date under this part 5.

(IV) The discretion granted to an employee of the corporation by this subsection (2) to elect either vested inactive status in PERA or the crediting of the employee's member contributions to the authority's qualified retirement plan shall not be limited or abridged as a condition of employment or promotion by the authority.

(d) An employee of university hospital who becomes an employee of the authority and whose member contributions in PERA are credited to the authority's qualified retirement plan shall be eligible to purchase service credit for previous employment at university hospital only pursuant to the terms of section 24-51-505, C.R.S.

(3) (a) As soon as practicable after the transfer date under this part 5, and again on each annual anniversary of such transfer date, the board of trustees of PERA shall determine the amount of reserves required to provide benefits and health care to former employees of university hospital who are benefit recipients or vested inactive members of PERA as provided in article 51 of title 24, C.R.S. The amount of reserves required shall be determined by the board of trustees utilizing certified actuarial reports prepared by the board's actuary.

(b) If the amount of reserves on deposit in the state division trust fund of PERA to provide such benefits and health care, as calculated by the actuary, exceeds the amount of reserves required pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), then the excess amount shall be paid to a retirement trust established by the authority as further provided in this subsection (3). Such payment shall be made if the actuarial report certifies that the payment will not have an adverse impact on the actuarial soundness of the state division trust fund or the PERA health care trust fund. If the actuary determines, in accordance with accepted actuarial principles, that the payment provided by this paragraph (b) will have an adverse impact on the actuarial soundness of these funds, the payment shall not be permitted.

(c) Not later than one hundred twenty days following the transfer date under this part 5, and again not later than one hundred twenty days following each anniversary date of such transfer date, the board of trustees of PERA shall pay to a retirement trust established by the authority any moneys payable pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) together with all member contributions, not previously paid, of all employees electing to have their member contributions credited to the authority's qualified retirement plan pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. PERA shall include interest on such payment for the period from the transfer date under this part 5, or subsequent anniversary of such transfer date, to the date of payment at the rate specified for members in section 24-51-101 (28), C.R.S.

(d) All expenses incurred by the board of trustees of PERA for the preparation of actuarial reports pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) shall be paid by the authority. Such expenses shall be deducted from any amounts transferred pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (3). Any actuarial reports prepared pursuant to this subsection (3) shall be made available to the authority upon request.

23-21-509. Status of part 4 corporation - effect of actions taken by part 4 corporation - validation of certain actions. (1) It is the intent of the general assembly in enacting this section to address the status of the part 4 corporation, and actions taken by such corporation on and after October 1, 1989, as said status and actions relate to the operation of university hospital by the authority. Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect any litigation concerning the part 4 corporation.

(2) The hospital assets and hospital liabilities which existed on September 30, 1989, and which were transferred by the regents to the part 4 corporation on October 1, 1989, shall be transferred to the authority in accordance with the provisions of this part 5.

(3) Any indebtedness or other obligations incurred by the part 4 corporation between October 1, 1989, and the transfer date under this part 5 shall be assumed by the authority on such transfer date.

(4) Any assets acquired by the part 4 corporation between October 1, 1989, and the transfer date under this part 5 may be transferred to the authority on such transfer date.

(5) Any contract, lease, license agreement, credit agreement, or similar business transaction entered into by the part 4 corporation between October 1, 1989, and the transfer date under this part 5 may be ratified by the authority on or after said transfer date. The ratification of any such transaction shall be in the sole discretion of the authority.

(6) The employees of the part 4 corporation shall be subject to the provisions of part 6 of this article with respect to the employment status and pension status of such employees.

(7) The transfer of moneys from PERA to a qualified retirement plan provided by the part 4 corporation on or after October 1, 1989, is declared to be a valid transfer. The status of the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan shall be as provided in section 23-21-604.

(8) The part 4 corporation shall cooperate with the authority in accomplishing the purposes of this section and the remaining provisions of this part 5 and in accomplishing the purposes of part 6 of this article.

23-21-510. Records of board of directors. All resolutions and orders shall be recorded and authenticated by the signature of the secretary or any assistant secretary of the board of directors. Every legislative act of the board of directors of a general or permanent nature shall be by resolution. The book of resolutions, orders, other proceedings of the board of directors, minutes of the meetings, annual reports and monthly financial statements, certificates, contracts and any financial agreements, and bonds given by officers, employees, and any other agents of the authority, and any personnel reports, guidelines, manuals, handbooks, other than individual personnel files shall be a public record as defined in section 24-72-202 (6), C.R.S., and subject to the provisions of part 2 of article 72 of title 24, C.R.S. The account of all moneys received by and disbursed on behalf of the authority shall also be a public record. All records shall be subject to the uniform budget and audit laws and shall be subject to regular audit as provided therein; except that the audit of the authority shall be on a fiscal year that begins on July 1 and ends on June 30. Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, all writings and other records concerning the modification, initiation, or cessation of patient care programs shall not be deemed to be a public record and shall not be subject to the provisions of this section if premature disclosure of information contained in such writings or other records would give an unfair competitive or bargaining advantage to any person or entity.

23-21-512. Disclosure of interests required. Any member of the board of directors and any employee or other agent or adviser of the authority, who has a direct or indirect interest in any contract or transaction with the authority, shall disclose this interest to the authority. This interest shall be set forth in the minutes of the authority, and no director, employee, or other agent or adviser having such interest shall participate on behalf of the authority in the authorization of any such contract or transaction; except that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prohibit any employee of the university of Colorado who is a member of the board of directors, who has no personal interest, from voting on the authorization of any such contract or transaction between the authority and the regents.

23-21-513. General powers of the authority. (1) In addition to any other powers granted to the authority in this part 5, the authority shall have the following powers:

- (a) To have the duties, privileges, immunities, rights, liabilities, and disabilities of a body corporate and political subdivision of the state;
- (b) To have perpetual existence and succession;
- (c) To adopt, have, and use a seal and to alter the same at its pleasure;
- (d) To sue and be sued;
- (e) To enter into any contract or agreement not inconsistent with this part 5 or the laws of this state and to authorize the executive director to enter into contracts, execute all instruments, and do all things necessary or convenient in the exercise of the powers granted in this part 5 and to secure the payment of bonds;
- (f) To borrow money and to issue bonds evidencing the same;
- (g) To purchase, lease, trade, exchange, or otherwise acquire, maintain, hold, improve, mortgage, lease, sell, and dispose of personal property, whether tangible or intangible, and any interest therein; and to purchase, lease, trade, exchange, or otherwise acquire real property or any interest therein and to maintain, hold, improve, mortgage, lease, and otherwise transfer such real property, so long as such transactions do not interfere with the mission of the authority as specified in section 23-21-504;
- (h) To acquire space, equipment, services, supplies, and insurance necessary to carry out the purposes of this part 5;

(i) To deposit any moneys of the authority in any banking institution within or without the state or in any depository authorized in section 24-75-603, C.R.S., and to appoint, for the purpose of making such deposits, one or more persons to act as custodians of the moneys of the authority, who shall give surety bonds in such amounts and form and for such purposes as the board of directors requires;

(j) To contract for and to accept any gifts, grants, and loans of funds, property, or any other aid in any form from the federal government, the state, any state agency, or any other source, or any combination thereof, and to comply, subject to the provisions of this part 5, with the terms and conditions thereof;

(k) To have and exercise all rights and powers necessary or incidental to or implied from the specific powers granted in this part 5, which specific powers shall not be considered as a limitation upon any power necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes and intent of this part 5;

(l) To fix the time and place or places at which its regular and special meetings are to be held. Meetings shall be held on the call of the presiding officer, but no less than eight meetings shall be held annually.

(m) To adopt and from time to time amend or repeal bylaws and rules and regulations consistent with the provisions of this part 5; except that article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., shall not apply to the promulgation of any policies, procedures, rules, or regulations of the authority;

(n) To appoint one or more persons as secretary and treasurer of the board and such other officers as the board of directors may determine and provide for their duties and terms of office; except that the president of the university of Colorado shall designate the director who shall be the presiding officer of the board of directors;

(o) To appoint an executive director and such agents, employees, and professional and business advisers as may from time to time be necessary in its judgment to accomplish the purposes of this part 5, to fix the compensation of such executive director, employees, agents, and advisers, and to establish the powers and duties of all such agents, employees, and other persons contracting with the authority;

(p) To waive, by such means as the authority deems appropriate, the exemption from federal income taxation of interest on the authority's bonds, notes, or other obligations provided by the "Internal Revenue Code of 1986", as amended, or any other federal statute providing a similar exemption;

(q) To make and execute agreements, contracts, and other instruments necessary or convenient in the exercise of the powers and functions of the authority under this part 5, including but not limited to contracts with any person, firm, corporation, municipality, state agency, county, or other entity. All municipalities, counties, and state agencies are hereby authorized to enter into and do all things necessary to perform any such arrangement or contract with the authority.

(r) To arrange for guaranties or insurance of its bonds, notes, or other obligations by the federal government or by any private insurer, and to pay any premiums therefor.

23-21-514. Bonds and notes. (1) (a) The authority has the power and is authorized to issue from time to time its notes and bonds in such principal amounts as the authority determines to be necessary to provide sufficient funds for achieving any of its corporate purposes, including the payment of interest on notes and bonds of the authority, the establishment of reserves to secure such notes and bonds, and all other expenditures of the authority incident to and necessary or convenient to carry out its corporate purposes and powers.

(b) (I) The authority has the power, from time to time, to issue:

(A) Notes to renew notes;

(B) Bonds to pay notes, including the interest thereon, and, whenever it deems refunding expedient, to refund any bonds whether the bonds to be refunded have or have not matured; and

(C) Bonds partly to refund bonds then outstanding and partly for any of its corporate purposes.

(II) Refunding bonds issued pursuant to this paragraph (b) may be exchanged for the bonds to be refunded or sold and the proceeds applied to the purchase, redemption, or payment of such bonds.

(c) The authority has the power to provide for the replacement of lost, destroyed, or mutilated bonds or notes.

(d) Except as may otherwise be expressly provided by the authority, every issue of its notes and bonds shall be general obligations of the authority payable out of any revenues or moneys of the authority, subject only to any agreements with the holders of particular notes or bonds pledging any particular revenues.

(2) The notes and bonds shall be authorized by a resolution adopted by an affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the board of directors.

(3) Any resolution authorizing any notes or bonds or any issue thereof may contain provisions, which shall be a part of the contract with the holders thereof, as to:

(a) Pledging all or any part of the revenues of the authority to secure the payment of the notes or bonds or of any issue thereof, subject to such agreements with noteholders or bondholders as may then exist;

(b) Pledging all or any part of the assets of the authority to secure the payment of the notes or bonds or of any issue of notes or bonds, subject to such agreements with noteholders or bondholders as may then exist, such assets to include any grant or contribution from the federal government or any corporation, association, institution, or person;

(c) The setting aside of reserves or sinking funds and the regulation and disposition thereof;

(d) Limitations on the purpose to which the proceeds of sale of notes or bonds may be applied and pledging such proceeds to secure the payment of the notes or bonds or of any issue thereof;

(e) Limitations on the issuance of additional notes or bonds, the terms upon which additional notes or bonds may be issued and secured, and the refunding of outstanding or other notes or bonds;

(f) The procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with noteholders or bondholders may be amended or abrogated, the amount of notes or bonds the holders of which must consent thereto, and the manner in which such consent may be given;

(g) Limitations on the amount of moneys to be expended by the authority for operating expenses of the authority;

(h) Vesting in a trustee such property, rights, powers, and duties in trust as the authority may determine, which may include any or all of the rights, powers, and duties of the trustee appointed by the bondholders pursuant to this part 5, and limiting or abrogating the right of the bondholders to appoint a trustee under this part 5 or limiting the rights, powers, and duties of such trustee;

(i) Defining the acts or omissions to act which shall constitute a default in the obligations and duties of the authority to the holders of the notes or bonds and providing for the rights and remedies of the holders of the notes or bonds in the event of such default, including as a matter of right the appointment of a receiver; except that such rights and remedies shall not be inconsistent with the general laws of this state and the other provisions of this part 5;

(j) Any other matters, of like or different character, which in any way affect the security or protection of the holders of the notes or bonds.

(4) The bonds or notes of each issue may, in the discretion of the board of directors, be made redeemable before maturity at such prices and under such terms and conditions as may be determined by the board of directors. Notes shall mature at such time as may be determined by the board of directors, and bonds shall mature at such time, not exceeding thirty-five years from their date of issue, as may be determined by the board. The bonds may be issued as serial bonds payable in annual installments or as term bonds or as a combination thereof. The notes and bonds shall bear interest at such rate, be in such denominations, be in such form, either coupon or registered, carry such registration privileges, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment and at such place, and be subject to such terms of redemption as such resolution may provide. The notes and bonds of the authority may be sold by the authority, at public or private sale, at such price as the board of directors shall determine.

(5) In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature appears on any bonds or notes or coupons attached thereto ceases to be such officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. The board of directors may also provide for the authentication of the bonds or notes by a trustee or fiscal agent.

(6) Prior to the preparation of definitive bonds or notes, the authority may, under like restrictions, issue interim receipts or temporary bonds or notes until such definitive bonds or notes have been executed and are available for delivery.

(7) The authority, subject to such agreements with noteholders or bondholders as may then exist, has the power out of any funds available therefor to purchase notes or bonds of the authority, which shall thereupon be cancelled at a price not exceeding:

(a) If the notes or bonds are then redeemable, the redemption price then applicable plus accrued interest to the next interest payment thereon; or

(b) If the notes or bonds are not then redeemable, the redemption price applicable on the first date after such purchase upon which the notes or bonds become subject to redemption plus accrued interest to such date.

(8) In the discretion of the authority, the bonds may be secured by a trust indenture by and between the authority and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the power of a trust company within or without this state. Such trust indenture may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the authority in relation to the exercise of its corporate powers and the custody, safeguarding, and application of all moneys. The authority may provide by such trust indenture for the payment of the proceeds of the bonds and the revenues to the trustee under such trust indenture or other depository and for the method of disbursement thereof, with such safeguards and restrictions as it may determine. All expenses incurred in carrying out such trust indenture may be treated as a part of the operating expenses of the authority. If the bonds are secured by a trust indenture, the bondholders shall have no authority to appoint a separate trustee to represent them.

(9) The authority shall not have outstanding, at any one time, bonds, not including bond anticipation notes, or bonds which have been refunded, in an aggregate principal amount exceeding sixty million dollars; however, this limitation shall not apply to bonds which are unsecured or secured solely by a pledge of the revenues of the authority and are not in any way secured by a pledge of any of the authority's other assets, including, without limitation, any buildings or real property, and which contain a statement that the bondholders shall not have any recourse against the authority's other assets for repayment of the bonds. Under no circumstances shall the regents or the state of Colorado be liable for any indebtedness incurred by the authority. The general assembly specifically finds there is a substantial public purpose in limiting the indebtedness of the authority in the event the authority assets or the hospital assets are transferred back to or revert to the regents.

(10) The authority has the power and is authorized to issue from time to time notes, bonds, and other securities which may be collateralized or otherwise secured in whole or in part by loans or participations or other interests in such loans or which may evidence loans or participations or other interests in such loans to provide net funds that are to be dedicated in whole or in part by resolution of the authority to the carrying out of one or more of the purposes of the authority. The interest on or from such notes, bonds, and other securities may be subject to or exempt from federal income taxation.

(11) Any notes, bonds, or other securities issued pursuant to this section, and the income therefrom, including any profit from the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation by the state or any agency, political subdivision, or instrumentality of the state.

ANNOTATION

Prior section on this subject held unconstitutional under art. XI, sec. 3 of state constitution where validity of debt financing scheme was premised upon allegedly "private" status of hospital which in fact remained a public entity. Colorado Ass'n of Pub. Employees v. Bd. of Regents, 804 P.2d 138 (Colo. 1990) (decided prior to the 1991 repeal of § 23-21-401 et seq.).

Severability clause could not preserve remainder of statutory scheme where debt financing provisions were inextricably intertwined with invalid provisions for reorganization and continued operation of public hospital as "private" entity. Colorado Ass'n of Pub. Employees v. Bd. of Regents, 804 P.2d 138 (Colo. 1990) (decided prior to the 1991 repeal of § 23-21-401 et seq.).

23-21-515. Remedies. Any holder of bonds issued under the provisions of this part 5, or any coupons appertaining thereto, and the trustee under any trust agreement or resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds, except to the extent the rights under this part 5 may be restricted by such trust agreement or resolution, may, either at law or in equity by suit, action, mandamus, or other proceeding, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the state or granted under this part 5 or under such agreement or resolution, or under any other contract executed by the authority pursuant to this part 5, and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this part 5 or by such trust agreement or resolution to be performed by the authority or by an officer thereof.

23-21-517. Bonds eligible for investment. Bonds issued under the provisions of this part 5 are hereby made securities in which all insurance companies, trust companies, banking associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies, executors, administrators, trustees, and other fiduciaries may properly and legally invest funds, including capital in their control or belonging to them. Public entities, as defined in section 24-75-601 (1), C.R.S., may invest public funds in such bonds only if said bonds satisfy the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S. Such bonds are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency or political subdivision of the state for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds, notes, or obligations of the state is authorized by law.

23-21-518. Refunding bonds. (1) The board of directors may provide for the issuance of refunding obligations of the authority for the purpose of refunding any obligations then outstanding which have been issued under the provisions of this part 5, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon and any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of redemption of such obligations, and for any corporate purpose of the authority.

(2) Refunding obligations issued as provided in subsection (1) of this section may be sold or exchanged for outstanding obligations issued under this part 5, and, if sold, the proceeds thereof may be applied, in addition to any other authorized purposes, to the purchase, redemption, or payment of such outstanding obligations. Pending the application of the proceeds of any such refunding obligations, with any other available funds, to the payment of the principal, the accrued interest, and any redemption premium on the obligations being refunded and, if so provided or permitted in the resolution authorizing the issuance of such refunding obligations or in the trust agreement securing the same, to the payment of any interest on such refunding obligations and any expenses in connection with such refunding, such proceeds may be invested in securities meeting the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S., which shall mature or which shall be subject to redemption by the holders thereof, at the option of such holders, not later than the respective dates when the proceeds, together with the interest accruing thereon, will be required for the purposes intended.

23-21-522. Powers of the authority - investments. (1) The authority has the power:

(a) To invest any funds not required for immediate disbursement in property or in securities which meet the standard for investments established in section 15-1-304, C.R.S., provided such investment assists the authority in carrying out its public purposes; and to sell from time to time such securities thus purchased and held; and to deposit any securities in any trust bank within or without the state. Any funds deposited in a banking institution or in any depository authorized in section 24-75-603, C.R.S., shall be secured in such manner and subject to such terms and conditions as the board may determine, with or without payment of any interest on such deposit, including, without limitation, time deposits evidenced by certificates of deposit. Any commercial bank incorporated under the laws of this state which may act as depository of any funds of the authority may issue indemnifying bonds or may pledge such securities as may be required by the board of directors.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), to contract with the holders of any of its notes or bonds as to the custody, collection, securing, investment, and payment of any moneys of the authority and of any moneys held in trust or otherwise for the payment of notes or bonds and to carry out such contract. Moneys held in trust or otherwise for the payment of notes or bonds or in any way to secure notes or bonds and deposits of such moneys may be secured in the same manner as moneys of the authority, and all banks and trust companies are authorized to give such security for such deposits.

23-21-523. Agreement of this state. This state does hereby pledge to and agree with the holders of any notes or bonds issued under this part 5 that this state will not limit or alter the rights hereby vested in the authority to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the said holders thereof or in any way impair the rights and remedies of such holders until such notes and bonds, together with the interest thereon, with interest on any unpaid installments of interest, and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceeding by or on behalf of such holders are fully met and discharged. The authority is authorized to include this pledge and agreement of this state in any agreement with the holders of such notes or bonds.

23-21-524. This part 5 not a limitation of powers. Nothing in this part 5 shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any other powers which the authority might otherwise have under any other law of this state, and this part 5 is cumulative to any such powers. This part 5 does and shall be construed to provide a complete, additional, and alternative method for the doing of the things authorized thereby and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws. However, the issuance of bonds, notes, and other obligations and refunding bonds under the provisions of this part 5 need not comply with the requirements of any other state law applicable to the issuance of bonds, notes, and other obligations. No proceedings, notice, or approval shall be required for the issuance of any bonds, notes, or other obligations or any instrument as security therefor, except as is provided in this part 5.

EMPLOYMENT STATUS AND PENSION STATUS OF EMPLOYEES OF REORGANIZED UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

23-21-601. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares:

(a) That through the passage of House Bill No. 1143 at its first regular session in 1989, the general assembly intended to authorize the reorganization of the university of Colorado university hospital by its operation through a private nonprofit-nonstock corporation;

(b) That said hospital was reorganized and attempted to commence operations through a private nonprofit-nonstock corporation on October 1, 1989;

(c) That the Colorado supreme court subsequently found said House Bill No. 1143 unconstitutional;

(d) That employees of university hospital made decisions governing their state employment status and their membership in the public employees' retirement association in reliance on the provisions of said House Bill No. 1143;

(e) That this part 6 is enacted to address certain issues affecting employees of university hospital who changed their employment status or pension status, or both, in reliance on said House Bill No. 1143 or who were initially employed by the part 4 corporation, within the context of the creation of the university of Colorado hospital authority to operate university hospital pursuant to part 5 of this article.

23-21-602. Personnel - election to return to state personnel system. (1) (a) Any employee of university hospital who was a member of the state personnel system and was employed by university hospital on September 30, 1989, and who elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation may become an employee of the authority on the authority's transfer date or may elect to return to classified employment in the state personnel system and may reserve the right to be employed by the authority.

(b) Any such employee of the part 4 corporation who elects to return to the state personnel system shall have restored all rights and privileges of membership in the state personnel system.

(2) (a) Any employee of university hospital who was a state employee but not a member of the state personnel system and was employed by university hospital on September 30, 1989, and who elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation may become an employee of the authority on the authority's transfer date or may elect to return to state employment status and may reserve the right to be employed by the authority.

(b) Any such employee of the part 4 corporation who elects to become a state employee not a member of the state personnel system shall have restored all rights and privileges of a state employee not a member of the state personnel system.

(3) (a) Any employee initially employed by the part 4 corporation on and after October 1, 1989, and continuously employed thereafter, may become an employee of the authority on the authority's transfer date or may elect to be a state employee in the state personnel system or a state employee not a member of the state personnel system, whichever is applicable to such employee's position.

(b) Any such employee of the part 4 corporation who elects to become a state employee in the state personnel system or a state employee not a member of the state personnel system shall have all rights and privileges of the state employment status which is applicable to such employee's position.

(4) Any election provided for in this section shall be made no later than one hundred twenty days after the authority's transfer date.

23-21-603. Pension status of part 4 corporation employees. (1) Employees who elected to become employees of the part 4 corporation and rolled over PERA contributions to the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan - election to return to PERA. (a) Any employee of university hospital on September 30, 1989, who elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation and who had all member contributions to PERA credited to the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan may elect to return to the employee's prior state employment status and resume active membership in PERA.

(b) If an employee elects to resume active membership in PERA, the authority is obligated to contribute to PERA an amount necessary to restore said employee to the retirement status with PERA the employee would have attained if said employee had never elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation; except that said employee shall cooperate in obtaining the refund of any moneys contributed by the part 4 corporation and the employee under the "Federal Insurance Contributions Act", as amended, shall direct the trustee of the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan to distribute such employee's account balance in the plan to the authority for transfer to PERA, and shall relinquish all rights in the part 4 plan and the authority's qualified retirement plan. The authority's obligation under this paragraph (b) shall be discharged consistent with sound actuarial practices and PERA shall be obligated to act in accordance with this paragraph (b) in order to accomplish an employee election under this paragraph (b).

(c) An employee who elects to resume active membership in PERA may elect, no earlier than three years after the election to return to PERA or upon acquiring twenty years of service credit in PERA, whichever occurs first, to become an employee of the authority and participate in the authority's qualified retirement plan in accordance with section 23-21-508; except that said employee shall not thereafter resume active membership in PERA while employed by the authority.

(2) Employees who elected to become employees of the part 4 corporation and received cash - election to return to PERA. (a) Any employee of university hospital on September 30, 1989, who elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation and who received said employee's member contributions to PERA in cash may elect to return to the employee's prior state employment status and resume active membership in PERA.

(b) If an employee elects to resume active membership in PERA, the authority is obligated to contribute to PERA an amount necessary to restore said employee to the retirement status with PERA the employee would have attained if said employee had never elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation; except that the authority shall have no such obligation unless the employee electing pursuant to this paragraph (b) purchases all of the employee's service credit in PERA for employment at university hospital prior to becoming a part 4 corporation employee by restoring to PERA the member contributions refunded plus interest accrued from the date of refund to completion of purchase. Said employee shall cooperate in obtaining the refund of any moneys contributed by the part 4 corporation and the employee under the "Federal Insurance Contributions Act", as amended, shall direct the trustee of the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan to distribute such employee's account balance in the plan to the authority for transfer to PERA, and shall relinquish all rights in the part 4 plan and the authority's qualified retirement plan. The authority's obligation under this paragraph (b) shall be discharged consistent with sound actuarial practices and PERA shall be obligated to act in accordance with this paragraph (b) in order to accomplish an employee election pursuant to this paragraph (b).

(c) An employee electing to resume active membership in PERA may elect, no earlier than three years after the election to return to PERA or upon acquiring twenty years of service credit in PERA, whichever occurs first, to become an employee of the authority and participate in the authority's qualified retirement plan in accordance with section 23-21-508; except that said employee shall not thereafter resume active membership in PERA while employed by the authority.

(3) Employees who elected to become employees of the part 4 corporation and became vested inactive members of PERA - election to return to PERA. (a) Any employee of university hospital on September 30, 1989, who elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation and who became a vested inactive member of PERA may elect to return to the employee's prior state employment status and resume active membership in PERA.

(b) If an employee elects to resume active membership in PERA, the authority is obligated to contribute to PERA an amount necessary to restore said employee to the retirement status with PERA the employee would have attained if said employee had never elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation; except that said employee shall cooperate in obtaining the refund of moneys contributed by the part 4 corporation and the employee under the "Federal Insurance Contributions Act", as amended, shall direct the trustee of the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan to distribute such employee's account balance in the plan to the authority for transfer to PERA, and shall relinquish all rights in the part 4 plan and the authority's qualified retirement plan. The authority's obligation under this paragraph (b) shall be discharged consistent with sound actuarial practices and PERA shall be obligated to act in accordance with this paragraph (b) in order to accomplish an employee election under this paragraph (b).

(c) An employee who elects to resume active membership in PERA may elect, no earlier than three years after the election to return to PERA or upon acquiring twenty years of service credit in PERA, whichever occurs first, to become an employee of the authority and participate in the authority's qualified retirement plan in accordance with section 23-21-508; except that said employee shall not thereafter resume active membership in PERA while employed by the authority.

(4) Employees of the part 4 corporation not electing to return to prior state employment status become active members of the qualified retirement plan of the authority. An employee of university hospital on September 30, 1989, who elected to become an employee of the part 4 corporation and who does not elect to return to such employee's prior state employment status and resume active membership in PERA shall become an employee of the authority on the authority's transfer date, shall commence active membership in the authority's qualified retirement plan, shall receive service credit in the authority's qualified retirement plan for the period of employment by the part 4 corporation, shall direct the trustee of the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan to distribute such employee's account balance in the plan to the authority, and shall relinquish all rights in the part 4 plan.

(5) Employees initially employed by the part 4 corporation on or after October 1, 1989 - election to become active members of PERA. (a) Any employee of university hospital initially employed on or after October 1, 1989, may elect to become a state employee and an active member of PERA.

(b) If an employee elects to become an active member in PERA, the authority is obligated to contribute to PERA an amount necessary to establish the retirement status with PERA the employee would have attained if said employee had been a member of PERA from the date the employee was initially employed by the part 4 corporation; except that said employee shall cooperate in obtaining the refund of moneys contributed by the part 4 corporation and the employee under the "Federal Insurance Contributions Act", as amended, shall direct the trustee of the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan to distribute such employee's account balance in the plan to the authority for transfer to PERA, and shall relinquish all rights in the part 4 plan and the authority's qualified retirement plan.

The authority's obligation under this paragraph (b) shall be discharged consistent with sound actuarial practices and PERA shall be obligated to act in accordance with this paragraph (b) in order to accomplish an employee election under this paragraph (b).

(c) An employee who becomes an active member in PERA may elect, no earlier than three years after the election to join PERA or upon acquiring twenty years of service credit in PERA, whichever occurs first, to become an employee of the authority and participate in the authority's qualified retirement plan in accordance with section 23-21-508; except that said employee shall not thereafter resume active membership in PERA while employed by the authority.

(6) Employees initially employed by the part 4 corporation on or after October 1, 1989 - election to become active members of the authority's qualified retirement plan. Any employee of university hospital initially employed on or after October 1, 1989, who does not elect to become a state employee and an active member in PERA shall become an employee of the authority on the authority's transfer date, shall commence active membership in the authority's qualified retirement plan, shall receive service credit in the authority's qualified retirement plan for the period of employment by the part 4 corporation, shall direct the trustee of the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan to distribute such employee's account balance in the plan to the authority, and shall relinquish all rights in the part 4 plan.

(7) Election required - when. Except as otherwise provided in subsections (1) (c), (2) (c), (3) (c), and (5) (c) of this section, any election provided for in this section shall be made no later than one hundred twenty days after the authority's transfer date.

23-21-604. Transfers necessary to accomplish the purposes of this part 6. (1) The trustee of the part 4 corporation's qualified retirement plan shall transfer all reserves to the authority's qualified retirement plan as soon as practicable after the authority's transfer date and consistent with sound actuarial practices.

(2) (a) (I) The reserves held by PERA which are due and payable to the part 4 corporation shall remain with PERA to the extent and in the amount necessary to enable the authority to make the contributions to PERA provided for in section 23-21-603 (1) (b), (2) (b), (3) (b), or (5) (b).

(II) Any remaining reserves held by PERA which are due and payable to the part 4 corporation, including interest as determined by mutual agreement of the trustees of PERA and the board of directors of the authority, shall be transferred to the authority's qualified retirement plan as soon as practicable and consistent with sound actuarial practices.

(b) If the reserves held by PERA which are due and payable to the part 4 corporation are not sufficient to enable the authority to make the contributions to PERA provided for in section 23-21-603 (1) (b), (2) (b), (3) (b), or (5) (b), the authority shall transfer such additional amount to PERA plus interest as determined by mutual agreement of the trustees of PERA and the board of directors of the authority.

(3) Any employer and employee contributions under the "Federal Insurance Contributions Act", as amended, which are refunded pursuant to section 23-21-603 (1) (b), (2) (b), (3) (b), or (5) (b) shall be payable to the authority's qualified retirement plan.

(4) All expenses incurred for the preparation of actuarial reports pursuant to this section shall be paid by the authority. Any such actuarial reports shall be available to the authority upon request.

23-22-104. Control and management of hospital. Unless the assets of the university of Colorado psychiatric hospital are transferred, pursuant to section 23-21-506 (1) (a), to the university of Colorado hospital authority operating university hospital, the board of regents of the university of Colorado shall have full control and supervision of all the property and grounds and buildings of the hospital and shall have the entire government and management of the same. It shall prescribe and publish all rules, regulations, and bylaws for the management of the affairs of the hospital and of its patients and for the government of its officers and employees. The board shall make proper provisions for the reception, treatment, discharge, and transfer either from or to other institutions or from the hospital to family care and the return therefrom of all patients who may be committed to the hospital.

Editor's note: This section was amended in House Bill 89-1143, enacted by the General Assembly at its first regular session in 1989, as a conforming amendment necessitated by the authorization for the operation of the university of Colorado university hospital by a nonprofit-nonstock corporation. The Colorado Supreme Court subsequently declared House Bill 89-1143 unconstitutional in its entirety. See Colorado Association of Public Employees v. Board of Regents, 804 P.2d 138 (Colo. 1990). Senate Bill 91-225, enacted by the General Assembly at its first regular session in 1991, authorized the operation of university hospital by a newly created university of Colorado hospital authority. Since the previous act was declared unconstitutional in its entirety, the General Assembly elected to make a similar conforming amendment to this section in Senate Bill 91-225. For further explanation of the circumstances surrounding the enactment of Senate Bill 91-225, see the legislative declaration contained in section 1 of chapter 99, Session Laws of Colorado 1991.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Liability of Counties for Support of Inmates in State Institutions", see 29 Dicta 27 (1952).

23-22-107. Objects of hospital - eligible patients. (1) The hospital shall be primarily and principally conducted, not for chronic illness, but for the care and treatment of legal residents of Colorado who are afflicted with a mental disease or disorder or abnormal mental condition which can probably be remedied by observation, treatment, and hospital care. Said hospital shall also be utilized for such instruction and for such scientific research as, in the opinion of the board of regents, will promote the welfare of the patients committed to its care and assist in the application of science to the prevention and cure of mental diseases.

(2) Persons eligible to admission to said hospital as patients shall belong to one of the following classes: First, voluntary public patients; second, committed public patients; third, voluntary private patients; fourth, committed private patients; fifth, part pay patients, either voluntary or committed.

(3) A voluntary public patient is one who is admitted to the hospital at his own request or at the request of the person who has lawful custody or control over him. A committed patient is one who is ordered by the court to submit to observation, care, and treatment at the hospital. A private patient is one whose entire expenses at the hospital are paid by himself, out of his estate, by those responsible for his support, or by some person who voluntarily assumes the expense. A public patient is one whose entire expense at the hospital is paid out of the psychiatric hospital fund. A part pay patient is one whose expense is paid in part out of the psychiatric hospital fund, and the remainder is paid by himself, out of his estate, by those legally responsible for his support, or by someone who voluntarily assumes the expense.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Liability of Counties for Support of Inmates in State Institutions", see 29 Dicta 27 (1952).

23-22-108. Voluntary private patients. Voluntary private patients may be admitted in accordance with regulations to be established by the board of regents of the university of Colorado, and their care, nursing, observation, treatment, medicine, maintenance, and other expenses shall be without expense to the state. However, the charge for such care, nursing, observation, treatment, medicine, maintenance, and other expenses shall not exceed the actual per diem cost of the same as determined by the board of regents. An advance deposit for the expenses of voluntary private patients shall be required at all times.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Liability of Counties for Support of Inmates in State Institutions", see 29 Dicta 27 (1952).

23-22-110. Deposit of moneys collected. (1) All sums collected from patients in said hospital shall be deposited in the psychiatric hospital fund.

(2) Every person received as a patient at the psychiatric hospital, whether committed or otherwise, and the estate of such person and of all persons responsible for his support are liable for the cost of the inquisition, commitment, transportation, and hospital expenses.

(3) The expenses of the proceedings, commitment, and transportation to the hospital may be recovered by the county bearing such expenses, and the expenses of observation, treatment, and hospital care and of transportation and attendance of any discharged patient from said hospital to any point within the state to which he may be discharged, insofar as they remain unpaid, may be collected by the attorney general for the board of regents. The statutes of limitations shall not run against the obligations for these items. All moneys so collected by the attorney general shall be placed in the psychiatric hospital fund.

23-23-103. Evaluations made - when. (1) A child may be referred to the medical center for diagnostic evaluation and study under the following conditions:

(a) A judge who has before him the matter of possible commitment or sentencing of a child to one of the institutions of the state may have an evaluation of such child made at the diagnostic center; or any such judge may send a child to the center for an evaluation of his mental and physical capacity if such judge believes such diagnosis will aid him in his determination of the matter concerning such child before him, regardless of the fact that, because of lack of space, none of the regional centers is able to accept such child.

(b) Any such judge, for the purpose of determining whether or not a child under sixteen years of age has a mental illness or developmental disability, may cause any such child to be sent to the center for diagnostic evaluation.

(c) The superintendent of any institution in Colorado to which children have been committed or sentenced may request the executive director of the department of human services to have an evaluation of any child in his institution made at the center.

(d) The director of a county department of social services may request an evaluation at the Colorado children's diagnostic center of a child in the care, custody, or supervision of such county department when such evaluation will aid it in its determination of the disposition, placement, or planning for such child; but no such evaluation shall be requested until such parental consent as is necessary has been obtained. If such an evaluation is made, the costs thereof shall be paid by the said county department of social services.

23-30-101. Board of governors of the Colorado state university system. (1) (a) A board is hereby established that shall be known by the name and title of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, referred to in this section as the "board". It shall consist of a total of fifteen members as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subsection (1).

(b) Six of the members shall be advisory, without the right to vote. The six advisory members shall be elected or appointed by their respective governing bodies from their membership. The advisory officers shall serve terms of one academic year. The advisory members shall consist of:

(I) One elected officer of the student body who is a full-time junior or senior student at Colorado state university;

(II) One elected officer of the faculty council of Colorado state university having the rank of associate professor or higher;

(III) One elected officer of the student body who is a full-time junior or senior student at the Colorado state university - Pueblo;

(IV) One elected officer of the faculty council of the Colorado state university - Pueblo having the rank of associate professor or higher;

(V) One student in good standing from the CSU global campus student body, to be recommended by the student affairs committee and approved by the governing council at CSU global campus; and

(VI) One CSU global campus faculty member with a minimum of three years of service on the CSU global campus faculty, to be recommended by the faculty affairs committee and approved by the governing council at CSU global campus.

(c) Commencing with appointments made in 1974 and continuing through appointments made in 2006, the remaining nine members of the board, at least one of whom shall be a graduate of the Colorado state university or Colorado state university - Pueblo and at least two of whom shall have some connection with agriculture, shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, for basic terms of four years, although interim appointments may be made for lesser periods so that at least two of the nine terms will expire in each calendar year.

(d) Commencing with appointments made in 2007 and subsequent years, the remaining nine members of the board shall be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate, for terms of four years, in the following manner:

(I) One of the nine voting members shall either reside in Larimer county or be a graduate of Colorado state university.

(II) One of the nine voting members shall either reside in southern Colorado or be a graduate of Colorado state university - Pueblo.

(III) At least two of the nine voting members shall have substantial experience in the production of agriculture.

(IV) The appointment of the voting members not appointed under subparagraphs (I) and (II) of this paragraph (d) shall be made with consideration given to broad geographical representation whenever possible.

(e) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1999, § 1, effective August 5, 2008.)

(f) For purposes of paragraph (d) of this subsection (1), "southern Colorado" means Alamosa, Baca, Bent, Chaffee, Conejos, Costilla, Crowley, Custer, Fremont, Huerfano, Kiowa, Las Animas, Mineral, Otero, Prowers, Pueblo, Rio Grande, and Saguache counties.

(g) Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed.

(h) A person, elected or appointed under this section, shall not serve on the board for more than two terms; except that a member of the board, whether elected or appointed, shall continue to serve until a successor is elected or appointed and confirmed by the senate.

(i) Of the nine members appointed by the governor, no more than five members shall be from the same political party.

(j) For the purposes of this section, "full-time student" means the same as it does in the respective institutions.

(2) (a) Whenever any law of this state refers to the state board of agriculture, it shall be taken to refer to the board of governors of the Colorado state university system. The legal effect of any statute heretofore designating the board of governors of the Colorado state university system by any other name, or property rights heretofore acquired and obligations heretofore incurred under any other name, shall not be impaired.

(b) The revisor of statutes is authorized to make such changes in other provisions of the statutes as may be necessary to conform such provisions to the change of name of the board specified in subsection (1) of this section.

Editor's note: (1) This section is similar to former § 23-30-101 as it existed prior to 2007.

(2) Amendments to subsection (1) by Senate Bill 07-052 and House Bill 07-1254 were harmonized.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 23-30-101 is similar to § 23-30-101 as it existed prior to the 2007 amendment to articles 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, and 55 of title 23, which resulted in the relocation of provisions, a relevant case construing that provision has been included in the annotations to this section.

Removal of members not provided for. The statute contains no provision for the removal in any manner, or by any authority, of any member of the board. Benson v. People ex rel. McClelland, 10 Colo. App. 175, 50 P. 212 (1897).

The action of removing a member of the state board of agriculture finds no support in the constitution. Benson v. People ex rel. McClelland, 10 Colo. App. 175, 50 P. 212 (1897).

23-30-102. Board body corporate - powers relating to real and personal property.

(1) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system is a body corporate, capable in law of suing and being sued; of taking, holding, acquiring, exchanging, selling, and determining the uses of personal property and real estate, or any interest therein, the ownership of which is vested in the board of governors of the Colorado state university system or the entities governed by it; of contracting and being contracted with; of having and using a corporate seal; having duties and powers to control, manage, and direct the fiscal and all other affairs of the Colorado state university system and the entities it governs; and of causing to be done all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this article.

(1.5) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system shall report all sales, leases, or exchanges of real property to the Colorado commission on higher education.

(2) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system has the power to lease personal property, the ownership of which is vested in the Colorado state university system, or on behalf of any entity governed by it, for a term not to exceed eighty years to state or federal governmental agencies and to persons or corporations, public or private.

(2.5) Subject to such reviews and approvals of state agencies as are required by law, the board of governors of the Colorado state university system has the power to sell, lease, or exchange real property, or any interest therein, including any mineral rights, the ownership of which is vested in the board of governors of the Colorado state university system or on behalf of any entity governed by it. All moneys which arise from the sale, lease, or exchange of said real property, or any interest therein, and all funds transferred pursuant to this subsection (2.5), together with any interest arising from the investment of said moneys and funds, shall be under the exclusive control of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system. The state treasurer is instructed to turn over to the board of governors of the Colorado state university system all the moneys, warrants, bonds, and other securities of any nature, and any interest earned thereon, that have come from the sale, lease, or exchange of said real property, or any interest therein, including any mineral rights.

(3) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system has the power to lease any real property or any interest therein owned by it on behalf of any entity governed by it for mineral exploration, development, and production purposes, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed and contracted by the board in the exercise of its best judgment as being in the best interests of said entity. Any lease of mineral rights shall be for a term not to exceed ten years and so long thereafter as minerals are produced and shall provide for a royalty of not less than the royalty for current commercial agreements which are generally accepted as fair royalty returns, which royalty may be reduced proportionately under an appropriate provision in the lease if the interest in said board is less than a full interest in the land or mineral rights in the land described in the lease. All royalties received under lease agreements made pursuant to the authority of this section shall be remitted by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system to the state treasurer for deposit in the general fund. Whenever, in the opinion of the board and because of the size, shape, or current use of any tract of land owned by said board on behalf of any entity governed by it, any lease of such tract provides that no mineral development or production be conducted on the land covered thereby, such lease shall be for a term not to exceed ten years and so long thereafter as the board may share in royalties payable on account of the production of minerals from lands adjacent to such tract so leased.

(4) Whenever deemed by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system to be in the best interests of any entity governed by it, the board may enter into a unit agreement on behalf of the entity, which unit agreement may provide for the pooling, unitization, or consolidation of acreage covered by any oil and gas lease executed by the board with other acreage for oil and gas exploration, development, and production purposes and also provide for the apportionment or allocation of royalties among the separate tracts of land included in the unit or pooling agreement on an acreage or other equitable basis, and the board may change, by such agreement and with the consent of the lessee under the lease, any or all of the provisions of any lease issued by it, including the term of years for which the lease was originally granted, in order to conform the lease to the terms and provisions of the unit or pooling agreement and to facilitate the efficient and economic production of oil and gas from the lands subject to such agreement.

(5) The leasing of real property or any interest therein held by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system under the provisions of this section shall not be deemed to be a sale of such property.

(6) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system has the power to exchange real property or any interest therein owned by the board on behalf of any entity governed by it for lands or interests in lands which the board, in the exercise of its best judgment, believes to be in the best interests of said entity in the furtherance of its programs.

(7) The authority of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system to execute oil and gas or other mineral leases of lands owned by the board prior to June 3, 1977, is hereby confirmed and acknowledged, and no such lease heretofore executed by the board shall be invalid for want of such authority.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 23-30-102 is similar to § 23-30-102 as it existed prior to the 2007 amendment to articles 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, and 55 of title 23, which resulted in the relocation of provisions, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

The board is a corporation created by statute, and its powers are thereby defined. State Bd. of Agric. v. Meyers, 20 Colo. App. 139, 77 P. 372 (1904).

State board of agriculture (SBA) was proper party appellant to challenge order requiring Colorado state university (CSU) to reinstate women's fast pitch softball team. Though CSU maintains control over certain internal policies, SBA has general control and supervisory power over CSU including complete financial control. Roberts v. Colo. State Bd. of Agric., 998 F.2d 824 (10th Cir. 1993).

23-30-103. Vacancies - compensation. Any vacancy in the office of any member of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system appointed by the governor caused by death, resignation, or removal from the state may be filled by a majority of the voting members. Any vacancy in the elected office on the board shall be filled by reelection for the unexpired term. The members of the board shall receive no compensation for their services but may be allowed reimbursement for expenses incurred that are reasonable, necessary, and directly related to an individual's duties as a board member upon presenting an itemized bill for the same.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 23-30-103 is similar to § 23-30-103 as it existed prior to the 2007 amendment to articles 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, and 55 of title 23, which resulted in the relocation of provisions, a relevant case construing that provision has been included in the annotations to this section.

Vacancies may only be filled where a majority of board members are present. An election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of a member of the board is void where, at the meeting which assumes to elect the replacement, there is not a majority of the members present at the meeting as required by this section. There was therefore, no valid election. Benson v. People ex rel. McClelland, 10 Colo. App. 175, 50 P. 212 (1897).

23-30-104. Meetings of board. The board shall meet at the Colorado state university twice annually and may meet at other times and places at the call of the chair who has the power in case of emergency to call special meetings of the board. The chair, with the consent of the board, shall annually set the schedule for regular board meetings. Upon the written request of any three members of the board, it is the duty of the chair of the board to call a special meeting thereof at such time and place as shall be designated in the written request therefor. A quorum of the board is a majority of voting members of the board.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-30-104 as it existed prior to 2007.

23-30-105. Election of officers - terms. (1) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system shall elect from its membership a chair and a vice-chair and also from its membership or from outside its membership a secretary and a treasurer, all of which said officers shall hold the office to which they are chosen for a period of two years from the date of election and until their successors are duly elected and qualified. The secretary shall give bond in an amount deemed sufficient by the board and discharge all the duties of said office in accordance with section 23-30-107. The treasurer shall give bond in an amount deemed sufficient by the board and safely keep and account for all moneys received by the treasurer and pay the same out only on warrants of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, signed by its chair and countersigned by its chief financial officer in accordance with section 23-30-108. The board of governors may waive the bond requirements set forth in this subsection (1) and in lieu thereof utilize all applicable governmental insurance coverage.

(2) Repealed.

23-30-106. Board of governors of the Colorado state university system fund - creation - control - use. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the board of governors of the Colorado state university system fund which is under the control of and administered by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system in accordance with the provisions of this article. The board of governors has authority and responsibility for all moneys of the board of governors and any entity governed by it. The board of governors shall designate, pursuant to its constitutional and statutory authority, those moneys received or acquired by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system or any of the entities it governs, whether by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift, by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property, or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law, that shall be credited to the fund. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board of governors of the Colorado state university system and shall remain in the fund under the control of the board of governors and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the board of governors of the Colorado state university system fund shall be used by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board and the entities it governs and for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board and the entities it governs in carrying out its statutory powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the board of governors of the Colorado state university system fund which are not needed for immediate use by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund which may be invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of such amount.

(4) If the board of governors votes to invest moneys pursuant to sections 23-30-121 and 23-30-122, the board of governors shall establish an investment advisory committee consisting of at least five members to make recommendations to the board of governors regarding investments. The investment advisory committee shall include, at a minimum, the treasurer of the Colorado state university system, a member of the board of governors, and three representatives of the financial community.

23-30-108. Duties of treasurer - financial instruments signed by whom - accounts. (1) The treasurer of the board shall keep a true and faithful account of all funds so received in separate accounts according to the source of the funds. The treasurer shall report on the funds to the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, including an annual report at the close of the fiscal year and other reports as the board may require. The duties of the treasurer may, upon approval by the board, be delegated to the chief financial officer of the Colorado state university system.

(2) Warrants, checks, or other financial instruments shall be used to pay the expenses of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system and the entities it governs and shall be duly signed by the chair and countersigned by the treasurer or the chief financial officer appointed by the board for the Colorado state university system, or the presidents or their delegates.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 23-30-118 is similar to § 23-31-111 as it existed prior to the 2007 amendment to articles 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, and 55 of title 23, which resulted in the relocation of provisions, a relevant case construing that provision has been included in the annotations to this section.

Professors in the various departments of the college are mere employees. State Bd. of Agric. v. Meyers, 20 Colo. App. 139, 77 P. 372 (1904).

Board has power to employ them for definite time. The state board of agriculture has the power to employ professors for a definite time, not unreasonably long. The section has left the determination of the length of time for which the employment of professors should be made largely to the judgment of the state board of agriculture. State Bd. of Agric. v. Meyers, 20 Colo. App. 139, 77 P. 372 (1904).

Effect of continuing over without objection after expiration of express contract. Where a professor was employed by an express contract to teach in the Colorado agricultural college for the term of one year, and continued in the same service, without objection, after the expiration of the term, there was an implied contract of employment for the term of one year at the same salary for each year that he so continued. State Bd. of Agric. v. Meyers, 20 Colo. App. 139, 77 P. 372 (1904).

Board must respond in damages for wrongful discharge. While this section gives the state board of agriculture the power to remove a professor it does not absolve it from responsibility in damages if the discharge is wrongful. State Bd. of Agric. v. Meyers, 20 Colo. App. 139, 77 P. 372 (1904).

Where the state board of agriculture employed a professor to teach in the state agricultural college for the term of one year, and discharged him before the end of the term, without good cause, the professor was entitled to recover his salary for the balance of the term, as damages for violation of the contract. State Bd. of Agric. v. Meyers, 20 Colo. App. 139, 77 P. 372 (1904).

23-30-122. Corporate stock in nominee authorized. (1) In order to facilitate the investment, reinvestment, sale, and disposition of corporate stocks, the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, referred to in this section as the "board", is authorized to hold certificates of stock in the name of a nominee of its selection without disclosing the fact that the certificates are held by the board or are held in a fiduciary capacity if:

(a) The records of the board and all reports or accounts rendered by it clearly show the ownership of the stock by the board and the facts regarding the board's holdings; and

(b) The nominee deposits with the board a signed statement showing the trust ownership, endorses the stock certificate in blank, and does not have possession of or access to the stock certificate except under the immediate supervision of the treasurer of the Colorado state university system or another person that the board has designated.

(2) The board shall maintain a list of certificates of stock held in the names of nominees pursuant to this section and shall make the list available for public inspection during normal business hours.

(3) The board shall report to the joint budget committee of the general assembly at each regular session regarding the investments made and the earnings or losses derived therefrom under the provisions of this section and section 23-30-121. The report shall include information indicating the extent to which the investment managers hired by the board have achieved or failed to achieve the performance benchmarks established pursuant to section 23-30-123 (1) (b).

23-30-123. Investment policy - fiduciary responsibility. (1) If the board of governors votes to invest assets of the Colorado state university system pursuant to sections 23-30-121 and 23-30-122, the board shall develop and annually review a written investment policy for the Colorado state university system, which policy shall include:

(a) An acknowledgment by the board of governors of the board's fiduciary responsibility with respect to oversight of the investment policy of the system; and

(b) The establishment of performance benchmarks for each investment manager hired by the board of governors pursuant to sections 23-30-121 and 23-30-122.

(2) In selecting investment managers for the purposes of this section, the board of governors shall use an open and competitive process.

(3) If the board of governors votes to invest assets of the Colorado state university system pursuant to sections 23-30-121 and 23-30-122, the board shall require annual financial statements to be submitted to the board of governors, the state treasurer, the state auditor, and the joint budget committee of the general assembly. The financial statements shall include, at a minimum, information concerning investment income, gains, and losses, if any, of the Colorado state university system. The financial statements shall report the performance of investments on both a gross-of-fee and a net-of-fee basis.

(4) If the board of governors votes to invest moneys pursuant to sections 23-20-121 and 23-20-122, the board:

(a) Shall ensure that, at all times, liquid investment assets remain at a level sufficient to pay for all budgeted, outstanding operational obligations and expenses occurring within the current fiscal year; and

(b) Shall not use moneys invested in the wildfire emergency response fund created in section 23-31-309 (1) or the wildfire preparedness fund created in section 23-31-309 (4) for any academic or institutional obligations. For the purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4), the board shall consider these funds to be outstanding operational obligations.

(5) The Colorado state university system shall not request from the general assembly any general fund appropriations to replace any losses incurred due to investment activities conducted by the board of governors pursuant to sections 23-30-121 and 23-30-122.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

23-31-101. University established - role and mission. There is hereby established a university at Fort Collins to be known as Colorado state university. Colorado state university shall be a comprehensive graduate research university with selective admission standards offering a comprehensive array of baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral degree programs. Consistent with the tradition of land grant universities, Colorado state university has exclusive authority to offer graduate and undergraduate programs in agriculture, forestry, natural resources, and veterinary medicine. The Colorado commission on higher education, in consultation with the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, shall designate those graduate level programs that are the primary responsibility of Colorado state university. Colorado state university has the responsibility to provide on a statewide basis, utilizing when possible and appropriate the faculty and facilities of other educational institutions, those graduate level programs. The commission shall include in its funding recommendations a level of general fund support for these programs.

23-31-110. Pledge of income from facilities or equipment. (1) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system, designated in this section as the "board", is authorized to enter into a contract for the advancement of moneys for the acquisition of facilities or equipment, or both, for the Colorado state university auditorium-gymnasium, and in connection with or as a part of such contract to pledge the net income, or any part of such net income, to be derived from such facilities or equipment, or both, so acquired, and to pledge special student fees assessed for the purpose of financing such facilities or equipment, or both, as security for the repayment of the moneys advanced therefor, together with interest thereon. For the same purpose, the board is also authorized to pledge the net income derived from any similar facility or equipment, or portion thereof, which was not acquired with moneys appropriated to Colorado state university, if such net income derived from such similar facility or equipment, or portion thereof, is unpledged or, if pledged, is currently in excess of the amount required to amortize the advancements and interest thereon for which such net income has been obligated.

(2) The board shall not pledge the general income of Colorado state university or create any mortgage upon property belonging to such institution or obligate the state of Colorado for the purpose of repaying or receiving any funds raised or advanced under the provisions of this section.

(3) Any advancement of moneys may be evidenced by revenue bonds or warrants to be executed by and on behalf of Colorado state university and containing such terms and provisions, including provisions for redemption prior to maturity and a maximum net effective interest rate, as may be determined by the board. Such revenue bonds or warrants shall bear interest at a rate such that the net effective interest rate of the issue of bonds does not exceed the maximum net effective interest rate fixed, which interest shall be payable semiannually or annually. Such revenue bonds or warrants may be sold at less than par, but they may not be sold at a price such that the net effective interest rate of the issue of bonds or warrants exceeds the maximum net effective interest rate fixed. Any such revenue bonds or warrants may be refunded if in the judgment of the board such refunding is to the best interests of the university.

(4) If the net income derived from such facilities or equipment so acquired under the provisions of this section exceeds the amount required for the amortization of any advancement made therefor, together with interest thereon, the board may apply such surplus to the redemption of such securities prior to maturity of such securities according to redemption provisions thereof, or such surplus net income may be used by the board for the purposes of altering or adding to any existing equipment or facilities acquired pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(5) All obligations and the income therefrom shall be exempt from taxation, except inheritance, estate, and transfer taxes.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-31-127 as it existed prior to 2007.

ANNOTATION

It is within the constitutional and statutory powers of state university to issue revenue bonds. The issuance of revenue bonds by a state university under this section and § 23-5-103, pledging excess revenues produced by one self-liquidating facility as security for the payment of revenue bonds issued for another project, where all of the projects are related to the operation and maintenance of Colorado state university, does not offend any provision of the state constitution and is within the authority conferred by law. Lewis v. State Bd. of Agric., 138 Colo. 540, 335 P.2d 546 (1959) (decided prior to 2007 amendment).

23-31-111. Rents or charges for buildings and facilities for research. The board of governors of the Colorado state university system is authorized to contract for or impose and collect rents or charges for the use of university buildings and facilities for research, including research conducted by or under the auspices of Colorado state university. Such rents or charges shall be at a level reasonably calculated to return or amortize the cost of such buildings and facilities within a reasonable period not exceeding the life of such buildings and facilities; but such user charges or rents may not be imposed and collected in such a manner as to require payment directly or indirectly from the state general fund, tuition receipts, or student fees.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-31-128 as it existed prior to 2007, and the former § 23-31-111 was relocated to § 23-30-118.

23-31-112. Research building revolving fund - appropriation of fund. There is established in the office of the state treasurer a fund to be known as the Colorado state university research building revolving fund, and there shall be credited to said fund the user charges or rents authorized by section 23-31-111 and imposed by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, specific appropriations or grants or gifts made to said fund, the proceeds of the sale of anticipation warrants authorized by this section and sections 23-31-111 and 23-31-113, and the proceeds from the issuance and sale of bonds pursuant to section 23-31-117. No payments from student fees, tuition receipts, or general funds shall be deposited in the research building revolving fund. All interest earned on the investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund and shall be a part of the fund, and such moneys shall not be transferred or credited to the general fund or to any other fund. All such moneys so credited to said fund are appropriated to Colorado state university for the payment of maintenance and operating costs for its research buildings and facilities and for planning, constructing, acquiring, renovating, and equipping research buildings and facilities, wherever located in the state of Colorado, for Colorado state university. Any such buildings and facilities shall be related to the research mission of the university.

23-31-113. Anticipation warrants. The state treasurer is authorized to issue anticipation warrants in such amounts as requested by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, the total amount of which shall not exceed one million dollars, to be repaid exclusively from the user revenues accruing to the Colorado state university research building revolving fund as provided in this section and sections 23-31-111 and 23-31-112. The anticipation warrants shall not be sold at a price less than the face value thereof. Disbursements from said fund shall be only by warrant upon vouchers certified by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system.

23-31-117. Borrowing funds. (1) For the purposes described in section 23-31-112, the board of governors of the Colorado state university system is authorized to:

(a) Enter into contracts with any person, corporation, or state or federal government agency for the advancement of money for such purposes and providing for the repayment of such advances with interest from the Colorado state university research building revolving fund; and

(b) Issue bonds as provided in this section.

(2) (a) Any bonds issued pursuant to this section shall mature at such time or times, shall bear or accrue interest at such rate or rates, and shall otherwise be sold and issued in such manner and on such terms as provided by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system.

(b) Such bonds shall be payable exclusively from, and shall be secured by a pledge of, the Colorado state university research building revolving fund created in section 23-31-112.

(c) The authority contained in this section to issue bonds shall be in addition to the authority granted to the board of governors of the Colorado state university system to issue anticipation warrants pursuant to section 23-31-113; except that nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the issuance of bonds if by such issuance the obligation of any contract entered into with respect to any outstanding anticipation warrants would thereby be impaired.

(d) Any bonds issued pursuant to this section shall be exempt from taxation for state, county, school district, special district, municipal, or other purposes in the state of Colorado.

(e) Bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not constitute a debt or an indebtedness of the state within the meaning of any applicable provision of the state constitution or state statutes.

(2) Subsection (2)(e) was originally numbered as § 23-31-134 (2)(e), and the amendments to it in Senate Bill 07-054 were harmonized with House Bill 07-1254 and relocated to this section.

23-31-118. Advancement of moneys and pledge of income. (1) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system, designated in this section as the "board", is authorized to enter into contracts for the advancement of moneys for the construction and acquisition of facilities or equipment, or both, for the Colorado state university veterinary medicine hospital, or any part thereof, and, in connection with or as a part of such contracts, to pledge revenues from a special hospital fee that the board shall collect pursuant to agreements entered into with or with respect to each accountable student as security for the repayment of the moneys advanced therefor, together with interest thereon. The maximum number of accountable students at any given time shall not exceed three hundred eight; except that, should the total enrollment in the professional veterinary medicine program exceed five hundred forty-eight head-count students, additional accountable students may not exceed forty-five percent of each admitted class. For purposes of this section, an "accountable student" is a person who, as of the date of his or her selection for admission into the professional veterinary medicine program, is not receiving funding, either from the state of Colorado or from a state that has entered into a cooperative agreement with the state of Colorado pursuant to section 24-60-601, C.R.S., for all or any portion of the costs incurred in participating in the professional veterinary medicine program. An agreement shall be entered into with or with respect to each accountable student, and each such agreement shall provide that, as a condition to that student's continued enrollment in the professional veterinary medicine program, there shall be paid annually by or on behalf of the student the special hospital fee provided for in this section, which fee shall be fixed by the board annually in an amount sufficient to meet the obligation authorized by this section.

(2) The board shall annually assess each cooperative state or accountable student a support fee to reimburse Colorado for instructional costs. This support fee includes an equipment and renovation fee of one thousand one dollars assessed to each cooperative state or accountable student for acquisition or replacement of equipment and for renovation. Said equipment and renovation fee shall be credited to a separate reserve account for appropriation by the general assembly for such acquisition or replacement of equipment and such renovation. Colorado shall share proportionately in the acquisition or replacement of equipment and renovation projects. The amount to be paid by Colorado shall be determined by the annual ratio of Colorado students to accountable students based upon beginning enrollment of each school year. The fee required to be collected pursuant to this subsection (2) is based on a student's status as an "accountable student" at the time of selection for admission into the professional veterinary medicine program and shall not be reduced or waived regardless of the student's status as an in-state student, pursuant to the provisions of section 23-7-103, at any time during the student's participation in the professional veterinary medicine program.

(3) The board shall not pledge any income of the university except that authorized in subsection (1) of this section and shall not create any mortgage upon property belonging to such institution or obligate the state of Colorado for the purpose of repaying or receiving any funds raised or advanced under the provisions of this section.

(4) Any advancement of moneys, not to exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars, may be evidenced by revenue bonds or anticipation warrants to be executed by the board for and on behalf of Colorado state university and containing such terms and provisions, including provisions for adequate reserves and for redemption prior to maturity and a maximum net effective interest rate, as may be determined by the board. Such revenue bonds or anticipation warrants shall bear interest at a rate such that the net effective interest rate of the issue of bonds or anticipation warrants does not exceed the maximum net effective interest rate fixed, which interest shall be payable semiannually or annually. Such revenue bonds or warrants may be sold at less than par, but they may not be sold at a price such that the net effective interest rate of the issue of bonds or warrants exceeds the maximum net effective interest rate fixed. Any such revenue bonds or warrants may be refunded pursuant to article 54 of title 11, C.R.S., if in the judgment of the board such refunding is to the best interests of the university.

(5) If the sources of pledged revenues described in subsection (1) of this section exceed the amount required for the amortization of any advancement made pursuant to this section, and the payment of interest thereof, together with reserve requirements, the board may apply such surplus to the redemption of such securities prior to maturity of such securities according to redemption provisions thereof, or such surplus may be used by the board for the purposes of maintaining, repairing, altering, or adding to any existing equipment or facilities acquired pursuant to the provisions of this section for any lawful purpose.

(6) All obligations issued pursuant to this section and the income therefrom shall be exempt from taxation, except inheritance, estate, and transfer taxes.

(7) No action shall be brought questioning the legality of any contract, proceedings, revenue bonds, or anticipation warrants issued or to be issued by the board in connection with the provision of all or any part of the Colorado state university veterinary medicine hospital pursuant to this section after the expiration of thirty days from the effective date of any resolution or other official action authorizing such contract, adopting such proceedings, or authorizing the issuance of such warrants or bonds.

FORESTRY

23-31-201. Transfer to board of governors of the Colorado state university system - exceptions. (1) There is transferred to and vested in the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, referred to in this part 2 as the "board", all rights, powers, and duties for protecting, promoting, and extending the conservation of the forests in the state vested on or before February 14, 1955, in the state board of land commissioners, acting ex officio as the state board of forestry; but such authority shall not extend to nor include the power vested in the state board of land commissioners with respect to forest lands included in the public lands of the state under the control and jurisdiction of said state board of land commissioners, as provided by sections 9 and 10 of article IX of the state constitution and the laws relating thereto.

(2) (a) Effective July 1, 2012, the forestry functions of the board relating principally to fire and wildfire preparedness, response, suppression, coordination, or management are transferred by a type 2 transfer, as such transfer is defined in the "Administrative Organization Act of 1968", article 1 of title 24, C.R.S., to the wildland fire management section in the division of fire prevention and control in the department of public safety created in section 24-33.5-1201, C.R.S.

(b) Nothing in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) divests the board or the state forest service of any other personnel, functions, powers, or duties relating to forest resources, including risk education and prevention, forest health, management, stewardship, technical assistance, urban and community forestry, insect and disease monitoring and mitigation, research, education, outreach, planning, and fire ecology.

(c) Any and all claims, liabilities, and damages, including costs and attorneys' fees, relating in any way to the performance of duties described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) that were performed by the board or its employees on or before June 30, 2012, are hereby transferred to and assumed by the state exclusively through the division of fire prevention and control in the department of public safety, and no other public entity or agency, including the board and its employees, shall be responsible or liable for any such claims, liabilities, or damages that arose before June 30, 2012.

23-31-202. Powers and duties of board of governors of the Colorado state university system. (1) The authority granted to the board by section 23-31-201 includes the following powers and duties:

(a) To provide for the protection of the forest resources of the state, both public and private, from insects and diseases;

(b) To foster and promote the control of soil erosion on such forest lands;

(c) To carry on an educational program with landowners, in the application of the practice of forestry on forest lands, by the growing, harvesting, and marketing of forest products from such lands;

(d) To disseminate information and statistics concerning forests and forestry in the state, subject to the control and approval of the executive director of the department of natural resources;

(e) To conduct investigations and experiments tending to further the intent of this part 2;

(f) To report to the executive director of the department of natural resources at such times and on such matters as the executive director may require; and

(g) To cooperate with all agencies of the state which need and request the aid and assistance of a trained forester.

(2) In addition to the powers and duties set forth in subsection (1) of this section, the board of governors of the Colorado state university system shall enter into an agreement with the executive director of the department of natural resources pursuant to section 24-33-201 (1), C.R.S.

23-31-208. Rights by succession to state board of land commissioners - transfers to division of fire prevention and control. (1) (a) On February 14, 1955, the board shall succeed to all records, documents, and equipment in the hands of the state board of land commissioners as pertain to and used by the state board of land commissioners in the performance of the rights, powers, and duties transferred, and the state board of land commissioners is directed to deliver said property to the board within a reasonable time.

(b) On February 14, 1955, the state treasurer and the controller shall transfer to the board all funds, including federal grants-in-aid, remaining to the credit of the state board of land commissioners and appropriated or received for the administration of the rights, powers, and duties transferred by this section; but the transfer of funds shall not apply to any moneys appropriated for forest administration from the land commissioners' expense fund.

(2) On July 1, 2012, the board's funds, moneys, positions of employment, personnel, and personal property that were, as of June 30, 2012, principally directed to fire and wildfire preparedness, response, suppression, coordination, or management and any and all claims and liabilities, whether known or unknown, asserted or unasserted, relating in any way to fire and wildfire preparedness, response, suppression, coordination, or management by the board, the state forest services or its employees on or before June 30, 2012, are transferred to the division of fire prevention and control in the department of public safety pursuant to section 24-33.5-1201, C.R.S.

PART 3

STATE FOREST SERVICE

23-31-301. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(a) The management of Colorado's state-owned forested land has far-reaching impacts on overall forest condition, risk of wildfire, water quantity and quality, and wildlife habitat;

(b) The unnatural condition of many forests throughout the state leaves them at great risk to catastrophic fires, invasion by exotic and native pest species, and other types of damage on a landscape scale;

(c) As a result of the 2002 wildfire season, the worst in Colorado's recorded history, in which two thousand twelve fires consumed over half a million acres of forested land:

(I) Local, state, and federal agencies incurred one hundred fifty-two million dollars in suppression costs and at least fifty million dollars to date in rehabilitation costs on United States forest service land alone; and

(II) Eighty-one thousand four hundred thirty-five residents had to be evacuated from their homes;

(d) Excessive runoff and soil erosion that occurs following wildfires poses a substantial threat to water quantity and quality in areas dependent on forest watersheds, including water supplies and wildlife;

(e) Since 1937, United States forest service scientists have been studying the relationship between forests and water yields in the Fraser experimental forest in western Colorado and have found that unnaturally overgrown stands reduce water yields and that carefully applied natural forest management practices can conserve a more natural water yield;

(f) Decades of scientific research have built a foundation of knowledge and technologies to inform and implement sound forest management and conservation;

(g) Robust, resilient forest conditions that sustain diverse forest stages are essential for productive habitat, healthy populations of wildlife, and improved water quality and quantity for Colorado's fisheries;

(h) Sound forest management activities, such as thinning, prescribed burning, and insect and disease treatments, improve the overall diversity and vigor of forested landscapes as well as the condition of related water, wildlife, recreation, and aesthetic resources;

(i) The Colorado state forest service has worked cooperatively and successfully with the division of parks and wildlife and the state board of land commissioners to improve the condition of forested land and wildlife habitat in selected project areas;

(j) The executive director of the department of natural resources is authorized to enter into an agreement with the board of governors of the Colorado state university system to work cooperatively with the Colorado state forest service and to provide staff for the division of forestry to carry out its mission of improving the health and sustainability of Colorado's forested state land.

(2) The general assembly hereby declares that it is the public policy of this state to encourage the health of forest ecosystems through responsible management of the forest land of the state and through coordination with the United States secretary of the interior and the United States secretary of agriculture to develop management plans for federal lands within the state of Colorado pursuant to 16 U.S.C. sec. 530, 16 U.S.C. sec. 1604, and 43 U.S.C. sec. 1712, including the use of pre-suppression activities, such as the harvest of materials, in order to preserve forest and other natural resources, enhance the growth and maintenance of forests, conserve forest cover on watersheds, protect recreational, wildlife, and other values, promote stability of forest-using industries, and prevent loss of life and damage to property from wildfires and other conflagrations.

23-31-303. Funds available.

(1) Repealed.

(2) The beetle mitigation fund is hereby created in the state treasury to be administered by the Colorado state forest service for the purpose of removing trees infested by beetles from forests on state-owned land and otherwise mitigating the effects of beetle infestation on state-owned land. The fund shall consist of donations received pursuant to subsection (3) of this section.

(3) The Colorado state forest service shall create and maintain one or more web pages on its official web site that provide information on the beetle mitigation fund to the public and that allow the public to donate to the fund online. Web sites operated by other interested state departments shall add prominent links referring the public to the Colorado state forest service’s beetle mitigation fund web page to encourage voluntary contributions to the fund. The Colorado state forest service shall transmit all such contributions to the state treasurer, who shall deposit them in the fund.

23-31-310. Forest restoration program - definitions - technical advisory panel - repeal. (1) Short title. This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Colorado Forest Restoration Act".

(2) Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) “Accredited Colorado youth corps” means a youth corps organization that is accredited by the Colorado youth corps association.

(b) “Director” means the executive director of the department of natural resources created in section 24-1-124, C.R.S.

(c) “Forest service” means the Colorado state forest service identified in section 23-31-302 and the division of forestry created in section 24-33-104, C.R.S.

(d) “Stakeholder” means county and municipal governments, educational institutions, landowners, and other interested public and private entities.

(3) Forest restoration program. The forest service shall issue a statewide request for proposals for cost-share grants to stakeholders for experimental forest restoration projects that are designed through a collaborative community process. The projects may be entirely on, or on any combination of, private, federal, state, county, or municipal forest lands. The state share of an individual project cost shall not exceed sixty percent of the total cost of the project or exceed one million dollars per project. The remaining portion of the project’s funding may be in the form of cash, stumpage, or in-kind contribution.

(4) Eligibility requirements. To be eligible to receive funding under this section, a project shall:

(a) Be located in an area with an approved community wildfire protection plan as defined by the federal “Healthy Forests Restoration Act of 2003”, Pub.L. 108-148;

(b) Address one or more of the following objectives for the purpose of protecting water supplies:

(I) Reducing the threat of large, high-intensity wildfires and the negative effects of excessive competition between trees by restoring ecosystem functions, structures, and species composition, including the reduction of nonnative species populations;

(II) Preserving old and large trees to the extent consistent with ecological values and science;

(III) Replanting trees in deforested areas if such areas exist in the proposed project area; and

(IV) Improving the use of, or adding value to, small diameter trees;

(c) Comply with all applicable federal and state environmental laws;

(d) Include a diverse and balanced group of stakeholders as well as appropriate federal, state, county, and municipal government representatives in the design, implementation, and monitoring of the project;

(e) Incorporate current scientific forest restoration information;

(f) Include an assessment to:

(I) Identify both the existing ecological condition of the proposed project area and the desired future condition; and

(II) Report, upon project completion, to the forest service on the positive or negative impact and including cost effectiveness of the project; and

(g) Leverage state funding through in-kind, stumpage, or cash matching contributions.

(5) Technical advisory panel. The director shall convene a technical advisory panel to evaluate the proposals for forest restoration demonstration grants and provide recommendations regarding which proposals would best meet the objectives of this section. The panel shall consider eligibility criteria established in subsection (4) of this section, a project’s effect on long-term forest management number of acres treated for state dollars spent, and seek to use a consensus-based decision-making process to develop such recommendations. The panel shall be composed of seven to eleven members, to be appointed by the director as follows:

(a) An official to represent the department of natural resources;

(b) At least one representative from federal land management agencies;

(c) At least two independent scientists with experience in forest ecosystem restoration; and

(d) Equal representation from:

(I) Conservation interests;

(II) Local communities; and

(III) Commodity interests.

(6) Proposal selection. After consulting with the technical advisory panel established in subsection (5) of this section, the forest service shall select the proposals that will receive funding through this section. In carrying out the program and approved projects to provide forest restoration activities, the forest service and stakeholders shall, whenever feasible, contract with the Colorado youth corps association or an accredited Colorado youth corps to provide labor.

(7) Repealed.

(8) Administrative costs. The forest service may utilize no more than three percent of any amounts appropriated in any fiscal year for its direct and indirect costs in administering the program.

(8.5) Forest restoration program cash fund. There is hereby created in the state treasury the forest restoration program cash fund. The department of higher education shall administer the fund, which consists of all moneys transferred by the treasurer as specified in section 39-29-109.3 (2) (k), C.R.S. All moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to the department of higher education for allocation to the board of governors of the Colorado state university system for the forest restoration program specified in this section. All moneys in the fund at the end of each fiscal year remain in the fund and do not revert to the general fund or any other fund.

(9) Repeal. This section is repealed, effective September 1, 2017. Prior to such repeal, the department of regulatory agencies shall review the technical advisory panel as provided in section 2-3-1203, C.R.S.

Source: L. 2007: Entire section added, p. 1324, § 1, effective May 29. L. 2008: (8.5) added and (9) amended, pp. 1535, 1534, §§ 6, 1, effective May 28. L. 2012: (6), (8), (8.5), and (9) amended and (7) repealed, (HB 12-1032), ch. 69, p. 238, § 1, effective March 24.

Editor's note: This section was numbered as § 23-30-311 in House Bill 07-1130 but was harmonized with House Bill 07-1254 and relocated to § 23-30-310.

23-31-311. Watershed protection projects and forest health projects. (1) The Colorado state forest service, representing the state of Colorado, shall, in consultation with the governmental agencies participating in such projects, identify watershed protection projects and forest health projects that will use moneys received pursuant to section 37-95-112.5, C.R.S., including, but not limited to, the harvesting of trees infested with beetles.

(2) The Colorado state forest service shall collaborate with water providers; federal, state, and local governments; educational institutions; landowners; and other interested public and private entities to recommend the use of moneys made available pursuant to section 37-95-112.5, C.R.S. This process shall consider:

(a) Areas that have the highest priority for ecological or wildfire hazard reduction restoration;

(b) Areas that have been prioritized for treatment by a local or regional forest collaborative process or through a comparable stakeholder process; or

(c) (I) Watershed protection projects and forest health projects on private, state, and federal lands, including national forest and other federal lands that serve as the primary source of water to communities and municipalities and for agricultural purposes.

(II) In identifying such watershed protection projects and forest health projects, consideration shall be made to effectively use available resources by:

(A) Applying the principles of the state of Colorado good neighbor authority programs entered into between the Colorado state forest service and the United States forest service and between the Colorado state forest service and the United States bureau of land management;

(B) Combining available resources with federal grant money, if any, and other complementary funding resources that are available for such projects or similar projects; and

(C) Partnering on such projects being planned or conducted by governmental agencies with land management jurisdiction in community and municipal watersheds.

(3) In carrying out such watershed protection projects and forest health projects, the Colorado state forest service shall, whenever feasible, contract with the Colorado youth corps association or an accredited Colorado youth corps to provide labor. For purposes of this section:

(a) "Accredited Colorado youth corps" means a youth corps organization that is accredited by the Colorado youth corps association.

(b) "Forest health project" has the meaning set forth in section 37-95-103, C.R.S.

(c) "Governmental agencies" has the meaning set forth in section 37-95-112.5 (4), C.R.S.

(d) "Watershed protection project" has the meaning set forth in section 37-95-103, C.R.S.

Source: L. 2008: Entire section added, p. 1542, § 6, effective July 1. L. 2009: (3)(c) amended, (SB 09-292), ch. 369, p. 1966, § 72, effective August 5.

23-31-312. Community wildfire protection plans - county governments - guidelines and criteria - legislative declaration - definitions. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that:

(I) Community wildfire protection plans, or CWPPs, are authorized and defined in section 101 of Title I of the federal "Healthy Forests Restoration Act of 2003", Pub.L. 108-148, referred to in this section as "HFRA". Title I of HFRA authorizes the secretaries of agriculture and the interior to expedite the development and implementation of hazardous fuel reduction projects on federal lands managed by the United States forest service and the bureau of land management when these agencies meet certain conditions. HFRA emphasizes the need for federal agencies to work collaboratively with local communities in developing hazardous fuel reduction projects, placing priority on treatment areas identified by the local communities themselves in a CWPP. The wildland-urban interface area is one of the identified property areas that qualify under HFRA for the use of this expedited environmental review process.

(II) The development of a CWPP can assist a local community in clarifying and refining its priorities for the protection of life, property, and critical infrastructure in its wildland-urban interface area. The CWPP brings together diverse federal, state, and local interests to discuss their mutual concerns for public safety, community sustainability, and natural resources. The CWPP process offers a positive, solution-oriented environment in which to address challenges such as local fire-fighting capability, the need for defensible space around homes and housing developments, the effect of fire ratings and combustibility standards for building materials used in wildland-urban interface areas, and where and how to prioritize land management on both federal and nonfederal lands. CWPPs can be as simple or complex as a local community desires.

(III) The adoption of a CWPP brings many benefits to the state and adopting local community, including:

(A) The opportunity to establish a locally appropriate definition and boundary for the wildland-urban interface area;

(B) The establishment of relations with other state and local government officials, local fire chiefs, state and national fire organizations, federal land management agencies, private homeowners, electric, gas, and water utility providers in the subject area, and community groups, thereby ensuring collaboration among these groups in initiating a planning dialogue and facilitating the implementation of priority actions across ownership boundaries;

(C) Specialized natural resource knowledge and technical expertise relative to the planning process, particularly in the areas of global positioning systems and mapping, vegetation management, assessment of values and risks, and funding strategies; and

(D) Statewide leadership in developing and maintaining a list or map of communities at risk within the state and facilitating work among federal and local partners to establish priorities for action.

(IV) CWPPs give priority to projects that provide for the protection of at-risk communities or watersheds or that implement recommendations in the CWPP.

(V) CWPPs assist local communities in influencing where and how federal agencies implement fuel reduction projects on federal lands, how additional federal funds may be distributed for projects on nonfederal lands, and in determining the types and methods of treatment that, if completed, would reduce the risk to the community.

(VI) The development of CWPPs promotes economic opportunities in rural communities.

(b) By enacting this section, the general assembly intends to facilitate and encourage the development of CWPPs in counties with fire hazard areas in their territorial boundaries and to provide more statewide uniformity and consistency with respect to the content of CWPPs in counties needing protection against wildfires.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) “CWPP” means a community wildfire protection plan as authorized and defined in section 101 of Title I of the federal “Healthy Forests Restoration Act of 2003”, Pub.L. 108-148.

(b) “Fire hazard area” means an area mapped by the Colorado state forest service, identified in section 23-31-302, as facing a substantial and recurring risk of exposure to severe fire hazards.

(3) Not later than November 15, 2009, the state forester, in collaboration with representatives of the United States forest service, the Colorado department of natural resources, county governments, municipal governments, local fire departments or fire protection districts, electric, gas, and water utility providers in the subject area, and state and local law enforcement agencies, shall establish guidelines and criteria for counties to consider in preparing their own CWPPs to address wildfires in fire hazard areas within the unincorporated portion of the county.

(4) The adoption of a CWPP by a county government shall be governed by the requirements of section 30-15-401.7, C.R.S.

(5) The state forester shall send timely notice of the guidelines and criteria established pursuant to subsection (3) of this section to the department of local affairs and to statewide organizations representing Colorado counties and municipalities and shall post such information on the web site of the Colorado state forest service.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the provisions of section 23-31-309 or the wildfire preparedness plan developed pursuant to such section.

Source: L. 2009: Entire section added, (SB 09-001), ch. 30, p. 123, § 1, effective August 5.

23-31-313. Healthy forests - vibrant communities - funds created - repeal.

(1) Short title. This section shall be known and may be cited as the “Colorado Healthy Forests and Vibrant Communities Act of 2009”.

(2) Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby declares that addressing the wildfire risk in Colorado and the development of community wildfire protection plans to bring together federal, state, and local interests, including nongovernmental entities such as electric, gas, and water utilities, to address wildfire risk to life, property, and infrastructure in Colorado is a matter of statewide concern.

(3) Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) “Community-based collaborative process” means a process in which a diverse range of governmental and nongovernmental stakeholders, representing a wide variety of perspectives, are meaningfully engaged in analyzing and identifying forest management needs for their community.

(b) “Community wildfire protection plan” or “CWPP” means a plan that meets the definition of a community wildfire protection plan in the federal “Healthy Forests Restoration Act of 2003”, 16 U.S.C. sec. 6511, including the minimum requirements for collaboration with local and state government representatives, including conservation districts created pursuant to article 70 of title 35, C.R.S., and county noxious weed program administrators and consultation with federal agencies and other interested nongovernmental parties, including any electric, gas, and water utilities in the affected area, and the minimum requirements for approval by representatives of local government, local fire authorities, and the forest service.

(c) "Forest service" means the Colorado state forest service identified in section 23-31-302.

(d) "GIS" means a geographical information system, a systematic integration of computer hardware, software, and spatial data, for capturing, storing, displaying, updating, manipulating, and analyzing geographical information in order to solve complex management problems.

(e) "Good neighbor authority" means the authority of the state of Colorado pursuant to section 331 of the federal "Department of Interior and Related Agencies Appropriation Act of 2001", Pub.L. 106-291, 114 Stat. 922, or any analogous successor authority.

(f) "Temporary field capacity" means full-time, temporary field support hired by the forest service to implement projects until such time that program funding is no longer available.

(g) "Wildfire risk mitigation" or "fuel mitigation treatments" means preventive forest management projects or actions, which meet or exceed forest service standards or any other applicable state rules, that are designed to reduce the potential for unwanted impacts caused by wildfires, including:

(I) The creation of a defensible space around structures;

(II) The establishment of fuel breaks;

(III) The thinning of woody vegetation for the primary purpose of reducing risk to structures from wildland fire;

(IV) The secondary treatment of woody fuels by lopping and scattering, piling, chipping, removing from the site, or prescribed burning; and

(V) Other nonemergency preventive activities designed to reduce the unwanted impacts caused by wildfires that the forest service may deem to be risk reduction or fuel mitigation treatments.

(4) Community and firefighter planning and preparedness. To help ensure that communities and firefighters have sufficient resources, technical support, and training to adequately assess wildfire risks, the forest service shall:

(a) Facilitate the CWPP process with communities and other entities seeking to prepare a CWPP to ensure that state and federal CWPP standards are met;

(b) Work with conservation districts created pursuant to article 70 of title 35, C.R.S., county noxious weed program administrators, and other state, local, federal, and nongovernmental partners, including any electric, gas, and water utilities in the affected area, to provide CWPP standards for Colorado that promote greater consistency among CWPPs in the state and ensure that communities address community risks and values, identify protection priorities, assess their ability to respond to wildland fire, establish fuels treatment projects, and identify ways to minimize wildland-urban interface risk in the future;

(c) Provide technical assistance to communities seeking to prepare, update, or implement a CWPP and track the progress of CWPPs and implementation practices through GIS web-based applications;

(d) Provide technical assistance to the board of county commissioners of each county to determine whether there are fire hazard areas within the unincorporated areas of the county and to assist the board of county commissioners of each county with developing CWPPs for those areas; and

(e) Repealed.

(5) Community wildfire risk mitigation. To help communities address the urgent need to reduce wildfire risks by supporting implementation of risk mitigation treatments that focus on protecting lives, homes, and essential community infrastructure, and by improving inventory and monitoring of forest conditions, the forest service shall:

(a) Expand its fuels mitigation program through sixty percent cost-share grants to address needs expressed by landowners or utility easement owners in the wildland-urban interface. In order to qualify for these funds, projects shall be included in or provide for implementation of an approved CWPP that meets the standards established pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of this section. In awarding these grants, the forest service shall establish evaluation criteria that emphasize projects that reduce risks to the public.

firefighters, and community infrastructure; that improve forest health; and that substantially leverage additional financial resources. In making grant awards, the forest service shall also prioritize projects that provide an opportunity to implement Colorado's good neighbor authority or that have been identified through a community-based collaborative process.

(b) Hire additional temporary field capacity to support the implementation and monitoring of fuels mitigation grant awards;

(c) Provide sufficient resources to conduct enhanced aerial surveys to annually assess forest conditions, identify emerging and existing insect and disease epidemics, and make timely management decisions; and

(d) Provide sufficient resources to assess and incorporate forest pathology information into analysis of forest conditions and trends.

(6) Community watershed restoration. (a) In order to support communities and land managers in moving from risk reduction to long-term ecological restoration so that the underlying condition of Colorado's forests supports a variety of values, particularly public water supply and high-quality wildlife habitat, the forest service shall:

(I) (A) Hire additional temporary field capacity to support the implementation and monitoring of forest restoration program grants awarded pursuant to section 23-31-310.

(B) In awarding grants pursuant to section 23-31-310, the forest service shall give additional emphasis to projects that substantially leverage additional financial resources, that provide an opportunity to implement Colorado's good neighbor authority, or that have been identified through a community-based collaborative process.

(II) Facilitate and work collaboratively with landowners, local governments, including conservation districts created pursuant to article 70 of title 35, C.R.S., and county noxious weed program administrators and other appropriate parties, including any electric, gas, and water utilities in the affected area, to design and safely implement prescribed fire projects and to encourage increased responsible use of prescribed fire as a tool for restoring healthy forest conditions consistent with programs established pursuant to section 25-7-106 (7) and (8), C.R.S. The forest service shall emphasize providing training and technical assistance for landowners, local communities, and state agencies.

(III) Repealed.

(b) (I) The forest service may use up to one million dollars annually until July 1, 2017, from the forest restoration program cash fund created in section 23-31-310 (8.5) for the purpose of complying with this subsection (6).

(II) This paragraph (b) is repealed, effective July 1, 2018.

(7) Enhanced economic opportunities. In order to support local business development and job creation through the implementation of forest treatments, the forest service shall:

(a) Administer a revolving loan fund to support woody biomass utilization and the development and marketing of traditional and nontraditional timber products as specified in subsection (8) of this section;

(b) Work with the Colorado energy office created in section 24-38.5-101, C.R.S., and the air quality control commission created in section 25-7-104, C.R.S., to support the appropriately increased use of woody biomass in bio-heating.

(8) Wildfire risk mitigation loan program. (a) The forest service shall issue a statewide request for proposals for loans to businesses to provide start-up capital for new facilities or equipment to harvest, remove, use, and market beetle-killed and other timber taken from private, federal, state, county, or municipal forest lands as part of a wildfire risk reduction or fuels mitigation treatment.

(b) The forest service shall solicit applications for and make loans under this section. In deciding whether to make a loan, the forest service shall consider the extent to which the applicant:

(I) Helps retain or expand other local businesses;

(II) Helps maintain or increase the number of jobs in the area;

(III) Contributes to the stability of rural communities;

(IV) Demonstrates operational experience and a good reputation;

(V) Promotes and publicizes the efforts undertaken pursuant to this section; and

(VI) Helps recruit new business activity in the area.

(c) No later than July 1, 2010, the state forester shall submit a report to the governor that shall include an assessment of whether, and to what extent, projects funded by loans under this subsection (8) have achieved the purposes identified in this subsection (8).

(d) There is hereby created in the state treasury the wildfire risk mitigation revolving fund, which shall be administered by the forest service. All moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to the department of higher education for allocation to the board of governors of the Colorado state university system for loans specified in this subsection (8). All moneys in the fund at the end of each fiscal year shall be retained in the fund and shall not revert to the general fund or any other fund.

(9) Improved outreach and technical assistance. In order to ensure that the forest service has the capacity to deliver key funding and technical assistance that will be needed to guide and support implementation of wildfire preparedness, risk mitigation, watershed restoration, and economic development initiatives in a way that adds value to these efforts at the state level and across community boundaries, the forest service shall:

(a) Secure full-time temporary staff for developing, revising, and implementing CWPPs; developing and implementing risk mitigation and watershed restoration plans; strengthening the responsible use of prescribed fire; and supporting economically beneficial uses of woody biomass;

(b) Secure sufficient GIS capacity to assist with wildfire, insect, and disease risk assessments, as well as landscape-scale prioritization and planning; and emphasize making data available to and usable by local entities and other interested parties, including any electric, gas, and water utilities in the affected area; and

(c) Develop a web-based clearinghouse for technical assistance and funding resources relevant to the initiatives established in this section.

(10) Healthy forests and vibrant communities fund. (a) There is hereby created in the state treasury the healthy forests and vibrant communities fund. The fund shall consist of all moneys that may be appropriated thereto by the general assembly, all private and public moneys received through gifts, grants, reimbursements, or donations that are transmitted to the state treasurer and credited to the fund, and all moneys transferred to the fund pursuant to section 39-29-109.3 (2) (n), C.R.S. All interest earned from the investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated for the purposes specified in this subsection (10) and shall remain available until expended. Any moneys not expended at the end of the fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred to or revert to the general fund.

(b) By executive order or proclamation, the governor may access and designate moneys in the healthy forests and vibrant communities fund for healthy forests and vibrant communities activities, subject to paragraph (c) of this subsection (10). The state forest service shall implement the directives set forth in such executive order or proclamation.

(c) Of the moneys transferred to the fund pursuant to section 39-29-109.3 (2) (n), C.R.S.:

(I) Four hundred seventy-five thousand dollars may be expended for purposes specified in subsection (4) of this section;

(II) Two hundred thousand dollars may be expended for purposes specified in subsection (5) of this section;

(III) One hundred thousand dollars may be expended for purposes specified in subsection (6) of this section;

(IV) Sixty-five thousand dollars may be expended for purposes specified in subsection (7) of this section;

(V) Two hundred thousand dollars may be expended for purposes specified in subsection (8) of this section;

(VI) Three hundred sixty thousand dollars may be expended for purposes specified in subsection (9) of this section; and

(VII) Up to fifty thousand dollars may be expended for the purposes specified in section 25-7-111 (5), C.R.S.

(11) Reporting. No later than January 1, 2011, the state forester shall submit a report to the joint budget committee of the general assembly, the agriculture, livestock, and natural resources committee of the house of representatives, and the agriculture and natural resources committee of the senate, or any successor committees, on the use of moneys in the healthy forests and vibrant communities fund.

(12) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the forest service's duties pursuant to this section shall be reduced pro rata with any reduction in the funding specified in this section.

(13) In carrying out projects pursuant to this section, the forest service shall, whenever feasible, contract with the Colorado youth corps association or an accredited Colorado youth corps to provide labor. For purposes of this subsection (13), "accredited Colorado youth corps" means a youth corps organization that is accredited by the Colorado youth corps association.

PART 4

FOREST PRODUCTS

23-31-401. Definitions. As used in this part 4, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Forest product" means any natural part of any plant including, but not limited to, firewood, logs, trees, evergreen boughs, and transplants in commercial quantities.

(2) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, firm, or association.

(3) "Transplant" means any live plant that has been excavated and moved for the purpose of planting in a different location.

23-31-403. Proof of ownership required - when. (1) It is unlawful for any person to transport or possess any forest product in the state of Colorado without proof of ownership. Said proof of ownership shall be signed by the person transferring possession of said forest products and shall contain the date of the transfer of possession, the name and address of the transferee, the location at which the forest products were obtained, and the quantity of forest product transferred. Such proof of ownership may consist of one or more of the following:

(a) A permit, contract, or other writing issued by the landowner or proper state or federal agencies;

(b) A bill of sale or sales receipt showing title thereto;

(c) A log or product load receipt or inventory;

(d) A ticket issued by the seller authorizing removal of forest products; or

(e) Any written statement by a person transporting forest products harvested or removed from property owned by such person.

(2) Any person who transports or possesses any forest product intended for resale shall, upon request of any sheriff, undersheriff, deputy sheriff, police officer, town marshal, Colorado state patrol officer, parks and recreation officer, Colorado wildlife officer, or an agent of the Colorado bureau of investigation, exhibit valid proof of ownership.

23-31-504. Control, investment, and expending of funds. (1) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system has control of the funds derived from the sale of lands donated by the said act of congress of 1862, and shall invest the same in securities which yield a fair and reasonable rate of return, and shall disburse the income therefrom for the use and benefit of the Colorado state university as required in the said act of congress. Said funds derived from the sale of lands donated by said act of 1862, and from lease or rental of unsold lands of such land grant, and from coal, oil, and mineral royalties from said lands may be invested in bonds of the United States; in state, county, municipal, and school district bonds; in state, county, and municipal registered warrants; in registered warrants of school districts; and in state anticipation building levy warrants, or in any or all of these, in the discretion of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system.

(2) The warrants of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system to purchase such bonds, registered warrants, and anticipation warrants shall be approved and paid when accompanied by favorable opinion of the attorney general. All bonds, registered warrants, and anticipation warrants so purchased shall be registered in the name of the “treasurer of the state of Colorado for the account of the ‘land grant fund of the Colorado state university’” and deposited with the state treasurer.

(3) The general assembly of the state of Colorado engages that the principal of such fund shall forever remain unimpaired and the income thereof shall be applied without diminution to the uses and purposes prescribed in said act of congress; except that, as prescribed in said act of congress, a sum not exceeding ten percent of the principal of such fund may be expended by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system for the purchase or exchange of lands for sites or experimental stations, subject to the approval of the governor and the provisions of sections 24-75-301 to 24-75-303, C.R.S.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-34-103 as it existed prior to 2007.

23-31-704. Organization - cooperative relationships. (1) The service is an organizational unit of the Colorado state university, under the supervision and control of the university's administration and the board of governors of the Colorado state university system.

(2) Programs of the service shall reflect and respond to problems, needs, and opportunities in the state and its regions as formulated and articulated through the participation and involvement of the people, and said programs shall be conducted in accordance with program plans pursuant to agreements with federal and state agencies and with local governments and shall be consistent with authorizations of the congress, the general assembly, and local governments.

(3) In support of program objectives, the service is authorized, pursuant to the policies of the university and the service's governing board, to enter into contracts and agreements with the United States department of agriculture, other federal departments and agencies, state departments, agencies, and institutions, county and other local governments, and private organizations and associations to further extension programs and to provide for funding and administration of said programs.

(4) The service is authorized to establish a state advisory committee, which shall consist of no more than eighteen members who shall equitably represent all regions of the state, to assist in the planning, implementation, and evaluation of the extension programs statewide; is authorized to cooperate with boards of county commissioners in the creation of county or area advisory committees to assist local extension personnel in planning, developing, implementing, and evaluating programs and performance; may establish administrative standards, operating procedures, and methods for utilizing such advisory committees; and may make the utilization of said standards, operating procedures, and methods for utilizing such advisory committees a basis for program cooperation and coordination.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-34-104 as it existed prior to 2007.

23-31-705. Authority to accomplish purposes of part. (1) The service is authorized, pursuant to applicable university, state, and federal policies and procedures, to spend appropriated funds, to collect and expend reasonable and proper service fees, to employ personnel, purchase materials and supplies, and to take other necessary action to facilitate the accomplishment of the purposes of this part 7, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Training of group leaders and directing of group educational activities;

(b) Conduct of workshops, institutes, conferences, and noncredit short courses at Colorado state university or at convenient locations in the state;

(c) Use of demonstrations and other appropriate educational methods and dissemination of information by appropriate means, including press, radio, television, and other forms of communication;

(d) Cooperation with federal, state, and local agencies, other universities and colleges, private organizations, and institutions to further program objectives; and

(e) Development of interstate and multicounty administrative or program arrangements, memoranda of understanding, and agreements to achieve state extension objectives.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-34-105 as it existed prior to 2007.

23-31-706. Reporting and accountability. (1) In addition to such reports as may be required under federal laws and agreements, the service shall:

(a) Provide annual reports to the governor reviewing activities and goal accomplishments, assessing the value and significance of extension program activities, and indicating problems, needs, and opportunities, especially such as might require the attention of the general assembly and the governor. Six copies of each report shall be filed with the legislative council.

(b) Prepare such other information as may be requested by the general assembly or the governor in areas of the service's concern and responsibility.

PART 8

COLORADO WATER INSTITUTE

23-31-801. Colorado water institute - creation. (1) There is hereby created the Colorado water institute, referred to in this part 8 as the "institute", for the following purposes:

(a) Developing, implementing, and coordinating water and water-related research programs in collaboration with other state institutions of higher education and transferring the results of research and new technologies to potential users;

(b) Creating and operating a water research information and education center as a statewide clearinghouse and archive for water resources, water quality, and water-related policy issues, including the training of future generations of water scientists, managers, planners, and educators; and

(c) Conducting scientific research and policy analysis in areas including, but not limited to, water development and storage and surface water and groundwater hydrology, water resources management, water quality and aquatic habitat management and protection, water history and paleohydrology, drought planning and mitigation, and climate change and adaptation.

(2) The institute shall be a unit of the Colorado state university under the supervision and control of the university's administration and the board of governors of the Colorado state university system.

(3) The principal administrative officer of the institute shall be a director, who shall be appointed by the president of the Colorado state university with the approval of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system and who shall be under the direct supervision of the president of Colorado state university or a vice-president thereof designated by the president. To meet the purposes of the institute, the director, with the advice of the advisory committee established pursuant to section 23-31-802, shall develop appropriate policies and procedures for identification of priority research problems; for collaborating with water managers and user associations, drought and climate change planning organizations, other universities, federal, state, and local government agencies, and the general assembly in the formulation of its research program; for selection of projects to be funded; and for the dissemination of information and transfer of technology that is produced by the research.

(4) It is the duty of the institute to:

(a) Consult with state and local government agencies, water managers and user associations, drought and climate change planning organizations, water quality planning organizations, the general assembly, and other potential users of research in identifying and prioritizing the state's water scientific and policy-related research needs;

(b) Negotiate and administer contracts with other state institutions of higher education for the conduct of research projects;

(c) Disseminate new information and facilitate transfer and application of new technologies as they are developed;

(d) Provide for liaison between Colorado and the federal research funding agencies as an advocate for Colorado's water research needs;

(e) Facilitate and stimulate scientific research and policy analysis that:

(I) Deals with policy issues facing the general assembly;

(II) Supports state water, public health, and water quality protection agencies' missions with water research on water-related problems encountered and expected, including but not limited to the effects of climate change on water quality, water availability, run-off timing, drought planning, and future compact compliance;

(III) Provides water planning and management organizations with tools to increase efficiency and effectiveness of water planning and management;

(IV) Engages and trains future generations of the state's water professionals and educators; and

(V) Examines the interconnections between climate change, water supply, and water quality and provides tools needed by water managers and policymakers for adapting to global climate change;

(f) Establish and maintain a clearinghouse and archive of water research, water quality, and climate projection data.

(5) The institute is authorized to employ such professional, clerical, and other personnel needed to carry out the provisions of this part 8.

(6) The institute is authorized to expend state funds appropriated by the general assembly for cost-sharing on projects funded with federal or private moneys.

(7) State funds granted, appropriated, or otherwise made available for water research conducted at the state's institutions of higher education may pass through the administrative control of the institute if the grant, appropriation, or other funding document so specifies. If particular funds are so restricted, the institute may serve as an administrative entity of such funds for state agencies that seek to utilize Colorado universities or colleges for water research. As such, the institute shall have the power to accept grants, donations, appropriations, and other funding from any entity. The institute may provide oversight for such funding by ensuring research projects commence and are completed within the scope of agreements, invoices, contracts, purchase orders, intergovernmental agreements, or other fiscal devices used to fund research. The institute is authorized to assess a fee to implement its administrative authority. Such fee may not exceed twenty percent of the total cost of the project being administered by the institute. The advisory committee created in section 23-31-802 shall annually review and establish the administration fee.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-35-101 as it existed prior to 2007.

23-31-802. Advisory committee on water research policy. (1) There is hereby created the advisory committee on water research policy, which shall consist of at least eleven members. Eight of the members shall be appointed by the director of the institute. The remaining members shall be the executive director of the department of public health and environment, the executive director of the department of natural resources, and the commissioner of agriculture, or their designees.

(2) Appointed members of the advisory committee shall serve terms of four years. Members shall serve without compensation and are not entitled to reimbursement of expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

(3) The advisory committee shall recommend policy guidelines for implementing the functions of the institute; shall confer with state governmental agencies, nongovernmental agencies, and state institutions of higher education to set Colorado's water research priorities; and shall evaluate the programs of the institute. The advisory committee shall also advise and counsel the director of the institute and shall make recommendations to assist the director in carrying out the purposes of this part 8.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-35-102 as it existed prior to 2007.

23-31-803. Water research fund. (1) There is hereby established in the state treasury the water research fund, referred to in this part 8 as the "fund". The fund shall consist of fees received by the institute pursuant to section 23-31-801 (7), transfers made to the fund pursuant to section 39-29-109.3 (2) (j), C.R.S., and gifts, grants, and donations accepted by the institute. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the institute, and the institute may expend moneys from the fund for any purpose consistent with this part 8. Any interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

23-40-101. University established - role and mission. (1) There is hereby established a university at Greeley, to be known as the university of northern Colorado. The university shall be a comprehensive baccalaureate and specialized graduate research university with selective admission standards.

(2) The university of northern Colorado shall be the primary institution for undergraduate and graduate degree programs for educational personnel preparation in the state of Colorado. The university shall offer master’s and doctoral programs primarily in the field of education. The university has the responsibility to offer on a statewide basis, utilizing where possible and appropriate the faculty and facilities of other educational institutions, those graduate-level programs needed by professional educators and education administrators. The Colorado commission on higher education shall include in its funding recommendations an appropriate level of general fund support for those programs.

(3) As part of its mission as a graduate research university specializing in programs for educational personnel, the university of northern Colorado shall include the education innovation institute created in section 23-40-106 for the purposes described in section 23-40-106 (2).

ANNOTATION

The necessity for instruction in the science and art of teaching was recognized by the general assembly, and the establishment of the university of northern Colorado was the result. Nash v. Sch. Bd. No. 3, 49 Colo. 555, 113 P. 1003 (1911).

23-40-102. Name of institution changed. (1) The state school at Greeley, referred to under the name and title of the "Colorado state college of education at Greeley" by article 6 of chapter 124, CRS 53, and amendments thereto, and under the name and title of the "Colorado state college" by this article, after May 1, 1970, shall be designated under the name and title of the "university of northern Colorado"; but the legal effect of any statute designating such institution by any other name or property rights acquired and obligations incurred under any other name prior to May 1, 1970, shall not be impaired hereby.

(2) The intent of the general assembly in making the name change provided for in subsection (1) of this section is to recognize and affirm the university status of what was formerly known as Colorado state college and to be known in the future as the university of northern Colorado without changing the present function of such institution as an institution of higher education primarily concerned with the preparation of teachers at all educational levels.

23-40-103.5. Board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado fund - creation - control - use. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado fund which shall be under the control of and administered by the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado in accordance with the provisions of this article. Except as otherwise allowed by section 24-36-103 (2), C.R.S., all moneys received or acquired by the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado or by the university of northern Colorado, whether by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift, by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property, or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law, and all interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to said fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado and shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado fund shall be used by the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board of trustees and of the university of northern Colorado and for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board of trustees in carrying out its statutory powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado fund which are not needed for immediate use by the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund which may be invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of such amount.

23-40-104. Board of trustees. (1) (a) There is hereby established the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado, which shall consist of nine members and shall be the governing authority for the university of northern Colorado. The board created by this subsection (1) shall be and is hereby declared to be a body corporate and, as such and by the names designated in this section, may hold property for the use of the university which it governs, be a party to all suits and contracts, and do all things lawfully appertaining to such university in like manner as municipal corporations of this state. The trustees of the board created by this section and their successors shall have perpetual succession, shall have a seal, may make bylaws and regulations for the well-ordering and government of the university within their jurisdiction, and may conduct the business of said university in a manner not repugnant to the constitution and laws of this state. Staff support for said board of trustees shall be provided by the staff of the university of northern Colorado.

(b) (I) The governor shall appoint, with the consent of the senate, seven members of the board of trustees created by this subsection (1). The initial members of the board shall take office on July 1, 1973. The terms of the seven members of the board of trustees appointed prior to June 15, 1987, shall be six years; except that appointments of members to take office on July 1, 1973, shall be made so that two members of the board have terms expiring on June 30, 1975, two members of the board have terms expiring on June 30, 1977, and three members of the board have terms expiring on June 30, 1979. Persons who are appointed members and who are holding office on June 15, 1987, are subject to the provisions of section 24-1-137, C.R.S. Thereafter the terms of the seven members of the board of trustees appointed by the governor shall be four years; except that a member of the board who is appointed by the governor shall continue to serve until a successor is appointed and confirmed by the senate.

(II) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the term of each member serving on the board of trustees as of May 26, 2006, shall be extended to expire on December 31 of the calendar year in which the member's appointed term would otherwise expire. Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed. For terms ending on or after December 31, 2006, the governor shall appoint a succeeding member on or before March 1 immediately following the expiration of the term.

(III) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the appointments to succeed members whose terms expire on December 31, 2011, shall be as follows:

- (A) Two members who shall serve four-year terms;
- (B) Two members who shall serve three-year terms; and
- (C) One member who shall serve a one-year term.

(IV) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the appointments to succeed members whose terms expire on or after December 31, 2013, shall be for four-year terms.

(V) Of the seven members appointed by the governor, no more than four members shall be from the same political party.

(VI) The eighth office shall be filled by an elected member of the student body who is a full-time junior or senior student at the university of northern Colorado. The term of said elected office shall be one year, beginning July 1. The elected student office shall be advisory, without the right to vote. The elected student member of the board shall have resided in the state of Colorado not less than three years prior to his or her election. For purposes of this paragraph (b), "full-time student" means the equivalent of the definition of "full-time equivalent student" used by the joint budget committee of the general assembly. The ninth office shall be filled by an elected member of the faculty at large elected by other members of the faculty at large for a term of one year, beginning July 1, and such office shall be advisory, without the right to vote.

(VII) All vacancies in the office of any member appointed by the governor shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term, and any vacancy in either of the elected offices on the board shall be filled by reelection for the unexpired term.

(VIII) Each trustee shall take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state before entering upon the duties of his or her office, which oath shall be placed and kept on file in the office of the secretary of state.

(c) Repealed.

ANNOTATION

The general assembly did not intend to waive sovereign immunity for the university of northern Colorado or to subject it to exposure under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 when it chose a corporate form for its governance. Graham v. State of Colo., 956 P.2d 556 (Colo. 1998).

Any judgment against the university of northern Colorado under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 would be paid by the state and not the university as an arm of the state. The university is not a "person" for §1983 purposes. Graham v. State of Colo., 956 P.2d 556 (Colo. 1998).

23-40-104.5. Tuition - repeal. (1) For fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16, the board of trustees for the university of northern Colorado, in accordance with section 23-5-130.5, shall annually set the amount of tuition to be paid by students with in-state classification and by nonresident students who enroll in and attend the university of northern Colorado.

23-40-106. Education innovation institute established - purposes - appropriations - report. (1) There is hereby established within the university of northern Colorado the education innovation institute, referred to in this section as the "institute". The university shall administer the institute.

(2) The purposes of the institute shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Collaborating with institutions to leverage research, funding, expertise, and other resources;

- (b) Discovering and studying innovations in teaching and learning;
- (c) Creating, piloting, and advocating for innovations in educational delivery methods;
- (d) Producing data and analyses concerning issues including, but not limited to, the following:
- (I) Existing or nascent problems in education;
- (II) Models of innovative educational solutions; and
- (III) Financing and governance models for educational settings;
- (e) Providing public policy makers with data and analyses concerning:
- (I) Educational program effectiveness; and
- (II) Innovative options for public and private educational settings;
- (f) Identifying innovative uses of existing school facilities in the state for the purpose of collaboration between elementary, secondary, and higher education institutions; and
- (g) Identifying key issues and setting research priorities in consultation with education experts, business and community leaders, and public officials.
- (3) (a) The general assembly may appropriate moneys to the board of trustees of the university of northern Colorado for the administration of the institute.
- (b) The board of trustees of the university may solicit and accept gifts, grants, and donations from public and private sources to fund the institute.
- (4) On or before January 10, 2011, and on or before January 10 each year thereafter, the institute shall prepare and submit a report to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, concerning the activities of the institute in the previous calendar year. The report shall include, at a minimum, information concerning the efforts of the institute to fulfill its purposes as described in subsection (2) of this section.

COLORADO SCHOOL OF MINES

23-41-101. Location - powers. The state school of mines, located at Golden in the county of Jefferson, is declared to be a body corporate under the name of “Colorado school of mines”; and, by that name, it may sue and be sued; may take and hold real and personal property by gift, bequest, devise, or purchase for the state; and may sell and dispose of the same when authorized so to do by law.

Source: G.L. § 2427. G.S. § 3098. R.S. 08: § 6015. C.L. § 8034. CSA: C. 145, § 1. L. 37: p. 1107, § 1. CRS 53: § 124-9-1. C.R.S. 1963: § 124-9-1.

23-41-102. Board of trustees - term. (1) (a) There shall be a board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines to be composed of nine persons. The five members serving on the board on July 1, 1973, shall continue to serve the terms for which they were appointed. On or before July 1, 1973, the governor shall appoint two additional members of the board, of which one shall be appointed for a term to expire on March 1, 1975, and one shall be appointed for a term to expire on March 1, 1977. Prior to June 15, 1987, the governor shall fill the vacancies in appointed offices occurring every two years by appointments of members of the board for terms of six years each, in accordance with this arrangement. Persons who are appointed members and who are holding office on June 15, 1987, are subject to the provisions of section 24-1-137, C.R.S. Thereafter the terms of such appointed members shall be four years. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the term of each member serving on the board of trustees as of May 26, 2006, shall be extended to expire on December 31 of the calendar year in which the member’s appointed term would otherwise expire. Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed. For terms ending on or after December 31, 2006, the governor shall appoint a succeeding member on or before March 1 immediately following the expiration of the term. Of the seven members appointed by the governor, no more than four members shall be from the same political party. The two remaining member positions shall be filled by:

(I) An elected member of the student body who is a full-time junior or senior student at the Colorado school of mines, and the term of said elected office shall be one year, beginning July 1. The elected student member shall be advisory, without the right to vote. For the purposes of this subsection (I), “full-time student” means the equivalent of the definition of “full-time equivalent student” used by the joint budget committee of the general assembly.

(II) A full-time member of the academic faculty of the Colorado school of mines elected by a majority of at least sixty-seven percent of the academic faculty. The initially elected faculty board member shall be elected at a special election to be held during the spring semester of 2008. The term of office for the initially elected faculty member shall end December 31, 2010. Subsequently elected faculty members shall serve two-year terms commencing January 1 of each odd-numbered year thereafter. The elected faculty member shall be advisory, without the right to vote.

(b) For the purpose of further staggering the terms of office held by members of the Colorado school of mines board of trustees, the terms of two of the board members holding office on July 1, 1994, whose terms expire in 1995, and one of the members holding office on July 1, 1994, whose term expires in 1997, are extended for one year. The governor shall select those members whose terms are extended.

(2) Said trustees shall hold their offices for the terms for which they have been appointed and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Any four of the members of said board appointed by the governor shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The said board has such powers and shall perform such duties as specified in the laws creating the institution and providing for its maintenance.

(3) In appointing persons to the Colorado school of mines board of trustees on or after July 1, 2010, the governor shall ensure that no more than two of the members serving on the board of trustees at any one time reside outside the state of Colorado. In addition, the governor shall base his or her appointments on considerations of:

(a) An appointee's professional background related to the industries and fields for which the Colorado school of mines prepares students for employment and in which the faculty of the institution conduct research;

(b) Other areas of professional expertise that an appointee may bring to his or her service on the board of trustees; and

(c) The appointee's commitment to using his or her personal time and efforts to serve and support the Colorado school of mines.

23-41-103.5. The Colorado school of mines fund - creation - control - use. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the Colorado school of mines fund which shall be under the control of the board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines in accordance with the provisions of this article, and any moneys in said fund shall be invested by the state treasurer's office. Except as otherwise allowed by section 24-36-103 (2), C.R.S., all moneys received or acquired by the board of trustees or by the Colorado school of mines, whether by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift, by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property, or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law, and all interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board of trustees and shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the Colorado school of mines fund shall be used by the board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines in carrying out its statutory powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the Colorado school of mines fund that are not needed for immediate use by the board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board of trustees shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund that may be invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of such amount.

23-41-104. Control - management. (1) The board of trustees has the control and management of the Colorado school of mines and of the property belonging thereto, subject to the laws of this state, and may make all needful bylaws and regulations for the government of said board and for the management and government of the Colorado school of mines not inconsistent with the laws of this state.

(2) The board of trustees has the power to lease, for terms not exceeding eighty years, real or personal property, or both, to state or federal governmental agencies, persons, or entities, public or private, for the construction, use, operation, maintenance, and improvement of research and development facilities, health and recreation facilities, dormitories, and living, dining, and group housing buildings and facilities or for any of such purposes and to buy land and construct buildings and facilities therefor. None of the grounds so leased nor any of the improvements constructed thereon shall be used in any manner that discriminates against anyone because of race, creed, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, sex, or sexual orientation. The board of trustees has the power to borrow money in conjunction with such construction and leases and to assist in effecting any of such purposes. Any actions taken prior to May 27, 1965, by the board of trustees consistent with any power granted in this subsection (2) are ratified and validated.

(3) The board of trustees has the power to borrow funds, to issue securities and refunding securities, and to pledge income, fees, and revenues, as provided in sections 23-5-102 and 23-5-103. In addition to the purposes therein set forth, it may issue bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness thereunder for constructing, purchasing, or otherwise acquiring, extending, and equipping research and development facilities and land for such purposes to be owned by the Colorado school of mines for the benefit of the Colorado school of mines or for the use of its students and employees. Research and development facilities and land acquired may also be used in part by such state or federal governmental agencies, persons, or entities, public or private, as may contract or enter into leases with the Colorado school of mines. Net income derived or anticipated to be derived from such facilities and land may be pledged, alone or with other sources, as authorized by section 23-5-103, to the payment of any securities or refunding securities issued pursuant to sections 23-5-102 and 23-5-103.

(4) The board of trustees has the power to lease portions of the college grounds to private persons and corporations for the construction of research and development facilities, health and recreation facilities, dormitories, and living, dining, or group housing buildings and facilities and to rent, lease, maintain, operate, and purchase such buildings and facilities. In exercising the powers conferred on it by this subsection (4), the board of trustees is authorized to enter into agreements which establish fixed rental rates for the full term of any lease, to let individual rooms and quarters within leased buildings and facilities at such rental rates as are approved by the board and prescribed in the lease, and to enter into agreements not to alter such rates during the term of any lease agreement without the prior consent of the lessor or his assigns.

(5) Nothing in subsections (2), (3), and (4) of this section shall constitute any authority to enter into any contract which in any way creates any debt or obligation upon the state on account of the construction of such buildings, improvements, or facilities.

(6) The provisions of this section shall not affect the tax liability on property leased as authorized by this section or leasehold interest resulting therefrom of individuals or corporations which do not qualify for tax exemption pursuant to the provisions of sections 39-3-106 to 39-3-113 or 39-3-116, C.R.S.

(7) Repealed.

ANNOTATION

Power to hire faculty not delegable. The general management power of the school of mines' trustees under this section must necessarily include the power to hire faculty, and such power cannot be delegated unless expressly otherwise authorized by the general assembly. Hansen v. Colo. Sch. of Mines, 42 Colo. App. 292, 599 P.2d 928 (1979).

The vice-president for academic affairs and the head of the department of humanities and social sciences do not have implicit or apparent authority to bind the school of mines to employment contracts. Hansen v. Colo. Sch. of Mines, 42 Colo. App. 292, 599 P.2d 928 (1979).

23-41-104.5. Hazardous waste remediation - report. (Repealed)

Editor's note: Subsection (2) provided for the repeal of this section, effective July 1, 1995. (See L. 94, p. 1885.)

23-41-104.6. Performance contract - authorization - operations. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that the Colorado school of mines is an exemplary institution of higher education that has demonstrated a high degree of responsibility and capability with regard to its academic and administrative functions as evidenced by the following:

(a) The Colorado school of mines retains and graduates over sixty percent of the students who enroll in the institution;

(b) The Colorado school of mines consistently demonstrates that at least ninety percent of its graduates are employed in a field that is relevant to the education they received at the institution and that the average starting salary of those graduates is in excess of the national average for engineering school graduates;

(c) The Colorado school of mines continues to receive accreditation reviews from national accrediting organizations that raise no issues with the quality of the engineering programs offered at the institution;

(d) Senior students at the Colorado school of mines consistently score above the national average on a standardized exam for engineering school students;

(e) Over seventy-five percent of the undergraduate students at the Colorado school of mines receive some form of financial aid;

(f) The Colorado school of mines has an endowment that places it among the top fifteen public institutions of higher education in the amount of endowment per student.

(2) For the reasons specified in subsection (1) of this section, the general assembly hereby authorizes the Colorado school of mines to operate pursuant to a performance contract, as described in this section, with the department of higher education and the Colorado commission on higher education. The Colorado school of mines shall operate pursuant to a performance contract for the period specified in subsection (4) of this section.

(3) The board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines shall negotiate a performance contract with the department of higher education, subject to approval by the Colorado commission on higher education, that shall specify the performance goals that the institution shall achieve during the period that it operates under the performance contract. The specified goals shall be measurable and specific to the Colorado school of mines' role and mission and shall include, at a minimum, the goals negotiated for the institution pursuant to sections 23-1-108 (1.5) (f) and 23-5-129 and the following issues:

(a) Appropriate levels of student enrollment, transfer, retention, and graduation rates, and institutional programs specifically designed to assist students in achieving their academic goals;

(b) Student satisfaction and student performance after graduation, including employment and enrollment in graduate programs;

(c) Assessment of the quality of the institution's academic programs, including assessment by external reviewers such as accreditation boards and employers and consideration of student performance on national examinations;

(d) Increasing financial support to sustain and enhance essential functions that are partially state funded, including:

(I) Education, industrial, and federal research capabilities and competitiveness;

(II) Student financial aid;

(III) Capital construction; and

(IV) Technological advancements.

(4) (a) The performance contracts negotiated pursuant to this section shall not take effect until approved by a joint resolution adopted by the general assembly. The grounds for rejection of the performance contracts shall include the effect of the provisions of the contracts on the funding for the Colorado school of mines and funding for the statewide system of higher education.

(b) As early as possible during the 2002 regular session and as early as possible during the 2013 regular session, the Colorado commission on higher education shall present the finalized performance contract for the applicable contract period at a joint session of the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, and the joint budget committee of the general assembly. The members of the education committees and the members of the joint budget committee shall review the financial effect of the provisions of the contract with regard to funding for the Colorado school of mines or funding for the statewide system of higher education and may recommend changes to the terms of the performance contract or renegotiation of the performance contract. If a majority of the members of the education committees and the members of the joint budget committee approve the terms of the performance contract, the chairmen of the education committees, in cooperation with the joint budget committee, shall sponsor a joint resolution to recognize and approve the performance contract. The performance contract shall be deemed approved upon final passage of said joint resolution.

(c) The school of mines shall operate pursuant to the performance contract that is approved by joint resolution passed during the 2002 regular session beginning on the date the performance contract is approved and continuing through the date on which the governor signs the joint resolution passed during the 2013 regular legislative session that approves the next performance contract. The school of mines shall operate pursuant to the performance contract that is approved by joint resolution passed during the 2013 regular session beginning on the day after the date on which the governor signs the joint resolution and continuing through the date on which the governor signs the joint resolution passed during the 2023 regular legislative session that approves the next performance contract.

(5) While operating pursuant to the performance contract negotiated pursuant to this section, the board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines:

(a) Shall continue to operate as the governing board for the institution. In addition, the governor may appoint additional advisory members to the board to sustain and enhance the role and mission of the Colorado school of mines. Any additional members of the board of trustees shall serve as nonvoting members of the board and be representative of national and international industries and research and academic institutions. The role of any such advisory members shall be to improve the trustees' opportunities to develop and enrich the academic and research programs at the institution.

(b) Need not consult with nor obtain approval from the Colorado commission on higher education to create, modify, or eliminate academic and vocational programs offered by the Colorado school of mines, so long as such creations, modifications, and eliminations are consistent with the institution's statutory role and mission;

(c) (I) (A) Shall have sole authority to establish resident and nonresident tuition rates for the Colorado school of mines so long as the school continues to meet the goals specified in the performance contract and to comply with the provisions of section 23-41-104.7.

(B) Notwithstanding any provision of sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (I) to the contrary, for fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16, the board of trustees shall have sole authority to establish resident and nonresident tuition rates for the Colorado school of mines; except that the annual percentage increase in resident tuition rates shall not exceed a percentage equal to two times the rate of the percentage change in the consumer price index for the Denver metropolitan area or nine percent, whichever is greater, unless the Colorado commission on higher education approves a greater tuition increase pursuant to section 23-5-130.5.

(II) Repealed.

(6) While operating pursuant to the performance contract negotiated pursuant to this section, the Colorado school of mines shall:

(a) Remain eligible for state-funded capital construction projects and controlled maintenance projects as provided in section 23-1-106;

(b) Continue to admit all Colorado resident applicants who meet the admissions criteria of the institution and shall provide equal educational opportunities to all students.

(7) and (8) Repealed.

23-41-104.7. Funding. (1) Beginning in the 2011-12 fiscal year, Colorado school of mines shall use a portion of its fee-for-service funding negotiated pursuant to section 23-5-130 to provide merit-based scholarships, need-based financial aid, and graduate student support to assist students with in-state classification to attend the institution, and shall increase said portion to ensure that, no later than the 2020-21 fiscal year and for each fiscal year thereafter, all said funding shall be used for said purposes, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section.

(2) (a) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2011, (HB11-1074), ch. 61, p. 159, § 1, effective August 10, 2011.)

(b) Beginning in 2020-21 and in any fiscal year thereafter in which the average discounted tuition rate for undergraduate students with in-state classification enrolled at the Colorado school of mines is greater than thirty percent, the institution may use any amount of fee-for-service funding that is not used to maintain the average discounted tuition rate at thirty percent for other operational purposes. As used in this paragraph (b), "average discounted tuition rate" means the total of the amount of merit-based and need-based scholarships and grants awarded from institution funds to undergraduate students with in-state classification enrolled in the institution divided by the total tuition revenue from undergraduate students with in-state classification.

23-41-105. School established - role and mission. There is hereby established a school at Golden, to be known as the Colorado school of mines. The school of mines shall be a specialized baccalaureate and graduate research institution with high admission standards. The Colorado school of mines shall have a unique mission in energy, mineral, and material science and engineering and associated engineering and science fields. The school shall be the primary institution of higher education offering energy, mineral, and material science and mineral engineering degrees at both the graduate and undergraduate levels.

ANNOTATION

Faculty to determine which students entitled to degrees. It belongs to the faculty, by whom the instruction is imparted, to say whether a student possesses the proper qualifications to entitle him to a diploma. Steinhauer v. Arkins, 18 Colo. App. 49, 69 P. 1075 (1902).

The board of trustees merely represents the faculty in granting of degrees. In the conferring of degrees, the faculty is represented by its board of trustees, and the board is bound by the judgment of the faculty and can act only as the faculty directs. Steinhauer v. Arkins, 18 Colo. App. 49, 69 P. 1075 (1902).

Mandamus will not lie to compel the board of trustees to issue a diploma. The board of trustees of the school of mines has no authority to issue a diploma to a student of the school except when required to do so by the school speaking through its faculty, and thus mandamus will not lie to compel the board of trustees to issue such diploma where the student has failed to pass the examination required by the faculty, although his failure may have been chargeable to the hostility and wrongful conduct of the faculty. Steinhauer v. Arkins, 18 Colo. App. 49, 69 P. 1075 (1902).

23-41-106. May procure machinery. The board of trustees is authorized to procure such machinery and other appliances and make such necessary additions to the Colorado school of mines buildings as may be necessary to carry out the object and intention of such institution and to promote the welfare thereof whenever the funds provided for the support of said school will warrant the same.

23-41-107. Tuition - school open to all. The Colorado school of mines is open for instruction to all bona fide residents of this state, without regard to sex or color, upon the payment of such reasonable tuition fees as may be prescribed by the board of trustees pursuant to section 23-41-104.6. With the consent of such board, students from other states, territories, or countries may receive education thereat upon such terms and at such rates of tuition as such board may determine.

23-41-108. Officers - meeting of board. The board, at its first meeting and biennially thereafter, shall elect one of its number president of said board, and shall also appoint a secretary and a treasurer, either from its own number or other suitable persons as it may deem best, and prescribe their duties, and, at any time in its discretion, may remove such secretary or treasurer. The meetings of said board shall be held at Golden, Jefferson county, Colorado; except that, when the work of the board so requires in its discretion, it may hold meetings at any other place in the state of Colorado.

23-41-109. Vacancies. (1) The governor of this state, with the advice and consent of the senate, at each regular session of the general assembly, shall fill, by appointment, all vacancies in offices of members of said board of trustees appointed by the governor occurring either by expiration of their terms of office or otherwise. Any vacancy in an office of a member of such board appointed by the governor which occurs when the general assembly is not in session may be temporarily filled by the governor until the next meeting of the general assembly, but, at all times, at least one appointed member of said board of trustees shall be a graduate of the Colorado school of mines upon whom a degree has been conferred by its board of trustees not less than ten years prior to his appointment.

(2) Commencing with appointments made by the governor in 1977, and at all times thereafter, at least four and not more than five of the appointed members of the board shall be graduates of the Colorado school of mines upon each of whom a degree has been conferred by its board of trustees not less than ten years prior to his appointment.

(3) Any vacancy in the elected office on the board shall be filled by reelection for the unexpired term.

23-41-111. Assays and analyses. The president of the faculty of the school of mines, or professor in charge thereof, who shall be appointed by said board of trustees, shall be known as president of the Colorado school of mines. It is lawful for said president to make or have made by any member of the faculty or by students, for residents of Colorado only, assays and analyses of Colorado ores and minerals and to make reports of such results free of charge upon blanks printed for that purpose, which shall, in a conspicuous place, have printed thereon: "The following is the assay or analysis of sample received from ..... and is not to be used in any way for promotion purposes."

23-41-114. Colorado energy research institute - creation. (1) There is hereby created at the Colorado school of mines the Colorado energy research institute, which shall be referred to in this section as the "institute". It is the intent of this section that the institute serve as a mechanism for the development of energy and energy-related minerals research programs, including programs at single state or private educational or research institutions and multidisciplinary, interuniversity, government-university, and industry-university energy and energy-related minerals research programs and projects. It is the further intent of this section that the institute provide the mechanism for enhancing the development and promotion of energy and energy-related minerals education programs in the state.

(2) The principal administrative officer of the institute shall be the president of the Colorado school of mines, and budgetary and fiscal procedures and activities of the institute shall be under the supervision of the Colorado school of mines.

(3) It is the duty of the institute to:

(a) Maintain liaison with the state to identify the important regional energy and energy-related minerals problems, including their relationship to the use of the waters of the state;

(b) Solicit and determine, through inquiry of and consultation with the executive and legislative branches of the state government and with local governments, the needs of the said branches and governments for energy data and background information relating to the determination of state policy and actions in relation to energy shortages, planning, and long-range options, and to collect, maintain, and provide such data and background material;

(c) Promote the development of energy and energy-related minerals research programs and projects in single or multiple disciplines at state and private educational and research institutions;

(d) Administer a phase-out program of energy grants to enrolled undergraduates within the higher education system;

(e) Develop and promote energy and energy-related minerals education programs in the state;

(f) Administer programs of public education in energy development, utilization, and conservation, which shall include, but shall not be limited to, energy status reports, sponsorship of symposia, demonstration programs, and reports on research results;

(g) Contract for and to accept any gifts or grants or loans or funds or property or financial or other aid in any form from the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or from the state or any executive or legislative agency thereof, or from any other source and to comply, subject to the provisions of this article, with the terms and conditions thereof, and to have the authority to expend such funds.

(h) Repealed.

(4) The institute shall conduct:

(a) Regular, mutual consultations about its progress in meeting the goals set forth in this section with the department of natural resources; and

(b) The following specific research and educational programs designed to meet the information needs of the department of natural resources, other agencies of the state's executive branch, the legislature, and the public:

(I) (A) The collection of primary data on the economic impact of energy industries, emphasizing oil and gas, on municipalities and counties; the establishment of an energy economics database to be housed and maintained in the Colorado school of mines division of economics and business and the establishment of internet access to such database; the development of reliable means of forecasting by the institute's program in energy economics; and support for the analysis, interpretation, and periodic publication of the findings of the economic analysis.

(B) For the purposes authorized by this subparagraph (I), up to five hundred thousand dollars of the unencumbered balance available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund created in section 34-60-122 (5), C.R.S., may be expended.

(II) (A) The development of research in those sectors of geoscience and engineering that are most critical to the formation of renewable energy and continued enhanced production of natural gas and oil from Rocky Mountain reservoirs, including production optimization and resource distribution and synergies with renewable resources.

(B) For the purpose authorized by this subparagraph (II), up to one million dollars of the unencumbered balance available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund created in section 34-60-122 (5), C.R.S., may be expended.

(C) Of the amount specified in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (II): Five hundred thousand dollars may be expended in the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005; and five hundred thousand dollars may be expended in the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, if an estimate made on or about May 1, 2006, of the projected unencumbered balance that will be available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund on July 1, 2006, exceeds two and one-half million dollars.

(III) (A) To inform the public, legislative and regulatory bodies, and working professionals about new technologies and their relationship to traditional sources of energy to promote the public's understanding of how its everyday energy needs are met.

(B) For the purpose authorized by this subparagraph (III), up to three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars of the unencumbered balance available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund created in section 34-60-122 (5), C.R.S., may be expended.

(C) Of the amount specified in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (III): One hundred seventy-five thousand dollars may be expended in the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005; and two hundred thousand dollars may be expended in the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, if an estimate made on or about May 1, 2006, of the projected unencumbered balance that will be available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund on July 1, 2006, exceeds two and one-half million dollars.

(IV) (A) To facilitate economic development by funding local community colleges, colleges, and vocational schools in regions where energy development is occurring and by providing grants for job training and education resources to advance knowledge and skill development that goes beyond basic research and helps attract, educate, and train people for employment.

(B) For the purpose authorized by this subparagraph (IV), up to one million dollars of the unencumbered balance available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund created in section 34-60-122 (5), C.R.S., may be expended.

(C) Of the amount specified in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (IV): Five hundred thousand dollars may be expended in the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005; and five hundred thousand dollars may be expended in the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, if an estimate made on or about May 1, 2006, of the projected unencumbered balance that will be available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund on July 1, 2006, exceeds two and one-half million dollars.

(V) (A) To pay the membership dues of the energy council referred to in section 2-3-311 (2) (b), C.R.S.

(B) For the purpose authorized by this subparagraph (V), up to fifty six thousand dollars of the unencumbered balance available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund created in section 34-60-122 (5), C.R.S., may be expended.

(VI) (A) To provide grants through the Colorado energy office created in section 24-38.5-101, C.R.S., for the development of a central resource for building trade professionals, including contractors, engineers, architects, and designers, for the purpose of increasing available tools and education to advance energy-efficient design and construction.

(B) For the purpose authorized by this subparagraph (VI), up to one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars of the unencumbered balance available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund created in section 34-60-122 (5), C.R.S., may be expended.

(C) Of the amount specified in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (VI): Seventy-five thousand dollars may be expended in the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005; and fifty thousand dollars may be expended in the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, if an estimate made on or about May 1, 2006, of the projected unencumbered balance that will be available in the oil and gas conservation and environmental response fund on July 1, 2006, exceeds two and one-half million dollars.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

23-41-201. Transfer of geological survey - memorandum of understanding - report. (1) On January 31, 2013, the Colorado geological survey and the office of the state geologist and their powers, duties, and functions are transferred from the department of natural resources to the Colorado school of mines. The Colorado school of mines shall exercise its powers and perform its functions and duties as if the geological survey and the office of the state geologist were transferred to the Colorado school of mines by a type 2 transfer.

(2) Prior to the transfer, the president of the Colorado school of mines and the executive director of the department of natural resources shall develop and enter into a memorandum of understanding concerning the transfer of the powers, duties, and functions of the geological survey and the office of the state geologist. The memorandum of understanding shall include, but is not limited to, provisions concerning the following:

- (a) The functions and objectives of the geological survey;
- (b) The transfer of employees of the geological survey and the office of the state geologist, in conformance with the laws applicable to the employees;
- (c) The transfer of real and personal property of the geological survey;
- (d) Existing contracts of the department of natural resources; and
- (e) Existing appropriations allocated to the Colorado geological survey and the office of the state geologist and the geological survey cash fund.

(3) On and after January 31, 2013, whenever the executive director of the department of natural resources or the department of natural resources is referred to or designated by any contract or other document in connection with the powers, duties, and functions transferred to the Colorado school of mines, the reference or designation shall be deemed to apply to the Colorado school of mines. All contracts entered into by the executive director of the department of natural resources prior to January 31, 2013, in connection with the powers, duties, and functions transferred to the Colorado school of mines are hereby validated, with the president of the Colorado school of mines succeeding to all the rights and obligations of such contracts.

(4) On January 31, 2013, the unexpended and unencumbered appropriations of funds for the current fiscal year made to the department of natural resources and allocated for the Colorado geological survey and office of the state geologist and that are related to the powers, duties, and functions transferred to the Colorado school of mines shall be transferred to the Colorado school of mines.

(5) If the Colorado school of mines and the department of natural resources do not enter into a memorandum of understanding on or before December 31, 2012, that is consistent with the provisions of this section, then the transfer of the powers, duties, and functions of the geological survey to the Colorado school of mines shall not occur. Pursuant to section 23-41-209, the president of the Colorado school of mines shall notify the revisor of statutes regarding the status of the transfer.

(6) (a) On or before December 1, 2012, and in accordance with the provisions of section 24-1-136 (9), C.R.S., the Colorado school of mines shall report to the joint budget committee, the agriculture, livestock, and natural resources committee of the house of representatives, or its successor committee, and the agriculture, natural resources, and energy committee of the senate, or its successor committee, concerning the transfer of the geological survey and the office of the state geologist to the Colorado school of mines.

(b) At a minimum, the report shall include information concerning:

(I) Whether the president of the Colorado school of mines and the executive director of the department of natural resources entered into a memorandum of understanding affirming the transfer of the Colorado geological survey and the office of the state geologist to the Colorado school of mines; and

(II) The contents of the memorandum of understanding, including a description of the contents of the memorandum of understanding relating to the provisions required pursuant to paragraphs (a) to (e) of subsection (2) of this section.

23-41-202. Legislative declaration. (1) It is the intent of the general assembly that sufficient funds be provided to cover the direct costs of a base staff and their operating expenses to ensure functional continuity of the Colorado geological survey as provided by statute and as determined pursuant to any memorandum of understanding entered into pursuant to section 23-41-201. The survey shall make appropriate charges for preparation and reproduction of reports, maps, and publications; except that the survey shall not directly compete with consultants by entering into contracts with the general public and industries for providing geological and related services.

(2) It is the intent of the general assembly that the Colorado geological survey place primary emphasis on the statutory objectives of recognition and mitigation of geologic risks affecting public health and safety and promotion of economic development of the mineral resources, including, but not limited to, metals, oil, gas, coalbed methane, and aggregate, of Colorado. Such work shall require appropriate consideration to public safety and environmental concerns. Economic development projects proposed or undertaken shall involve basic and applied geologic research and mapping similar to that undertaken by geological surveys in other states and be designed to encourage resource exploration and development by industry. The Colorado geological survey shall not undertake economic development projects that directly compete with the private sector, but shall produce basic data, research reports, and maps useful to consultants and industry. Economic development projects undertaken may be funded by private foundations and federal agencies, industrial consortia or agencies of other states, or by the general fund.

23-41-205. Objectives of survey - duties of state geologist. (1) The Colorado geological survey shall provide assistance to and cooperate with the general public, industries, and agencies of state government, including institutions of higher education. The Colorado school of mines shall determine the priority of the objectives of the Colorado geological survey, subject to available appropriations and consistent with the memorandum of understanding entered into pursuant to section 23-41-201, which objectives shall include:

- (a) To assist, consult with, and advise existing state and local governmental agencies on geologic problems;
- (b) To promote economic development of mineral and energy resources;
- (c) To conduct studies to develop geological information;
- (d) To inventory and analyze the state's mineral and energy resources as to quantity, chemical composition, physical properties, location, and possible use;
- (e) To collect and preserve geologic information;
- (f) To advise the state on transactions dealing with natural resources between state agencies and with other states and the federal government on common problems and studies;
- (g) To evaluate the physical features of Colorado with reference to present and potential human and animal use;
- (h) To prepare, publish, and distribute reports, maps, and bulletins when necessary to achieve the purposes of this part 2;
- (i) To determine areas of natural geologic hazards that could affect the safety of or economic loss to the citizens of Colorado;
- (j) To advise the state engineer in the promulgation of rules pursuant to article 90.5 of title 37, C.R.S., and to provide other governmental agencies with technical assistance regarding geothermal resources as needed;
- (k) To conduct scientific studies of how geology affects and controls water resources, especially within Colorado;
- (l) To conduct scientific research that advances knowledge and understanding in related fields; and

(m) To promote safety by reducing the impact of avalanches on recreation, industry, and transportation in the state through a program of forecasting and education conducted by the Colorado avalanche information center.

(2) The duties of the state geologist shall be to fulfill the objectives of this part 2 and, together with the employees of the survey, work for the maximum beneficial and most efficient use of the geologic processes for the protection of and economic benefit to the citizens of Colorado.

(3) The state geologist shall, upon receiving a preliminary plan pursuant to section 30-28-136 (1) (i), C.R.S., or a major activity notice pursuant to section 31-23-225, C.R.S., review the plan or notice to determine whether the development or activity which is the subject of the plan or notice will interfere with the extraction of commercial mineral deposits as defined in section 34-1-302, C.R.S. If the state geologist determines that a potential for such interference exists, he or she shall, within twenty-four days after receipt of the plan or notice, notify the appropriate board of county commissioners or governing body of a municipality of the existence of a potential interference.

(4) The state geologist shall administer the provisions of section 25-15-202 (4) (b), C.R.S., requiring the Colorado geological survey to review information on an application and make a recommendation on the geological suitability, or the need for further study, of proposed hazardous waste disposal sites for land disposal of hazardous waste and the provisions of section 25-15-216, C.R.S., requiring the Colorado geological survey to conduct a study of the geological suitability of areas of the state for hazardous waste disposal sites.

(5) Subject to available appropriations, the geological survey may prepare an annual report describing the status of the mineral industry and describing current influences affecting the growth and viability of the mineral industry in the state, and setting forth recommendations to foster the industry. The geological survey may partner with other agencies or organizations to prepare the annual report.

23-41-207. Fees - adjustments - geological survey cash fund - created. (1) (a) The Colorado geological survey is authorized to enter into agreements to provide services to the general public, industries, and units of local government and to establish and collect fees to recover direct costs of providing said services pursuant to sections 24-65.1-302 and 30-28-136, C.R.S., and section 23-41-205 or pursuant to agreement; except that this provision shall apply only to those services rendered upon items which a unit of local government is required by statute to submit for review or for such other services as are requested pursuant to an agreement.

(b) The Colorado geological survey is authorized to establish and collect fees to recover direct costs of providing services to other agencies of state government pursuant to section 23-41-205.

(2) (a) The Colorado geological survey shall propose, as part of its annual budget request, an adjustment in the amount of each fee which it is authorized to collect pursuant to this section.

(b) The Colorado geological survey shall adjust its fees so that the revenue generated from said fees approximates its direct costs. Such fees shall remain in effect for the fiscal year for which the budget request applies. All fees collected by the Colorado geological survey shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the geological survey cash fund, which fund is hereby created. All moneys credited to the geological survey cash fund shall be used as provided in this section and shall not be deposited in or transferred to the general fund of this state or any other fund. The moneys credited to the geological survey cash fund shall be continuously appropriated to the Colorado geological survey for the purposes of this part 2.

23-41-210. Annual report to general assembly - repeal. (1) (a) On or before December 1, 2013, and each December 1 thereafter, and in accordance with the provisions of section 24-1-136 (9), C.R.S., the Colorado school of mines shall submit a written report to the joint budget committee, the agriculture, livestock, and natural resources committee of the house of representatives, or its successor committee, and the agriculture, natural resources, and energy committee of the senate, or its successor committee, concerning the implementation of this part 2.

- (b) At a minimum, the annual report shall include information concerning:
- (I) The priority of functions and objectives for the Colorado geological survey, as determined by the Colorado school of mines, including the priority of those objectives described in section 23-41-205 (1) (a) to (1) (m);

(II) The implementation of the objectives of the avalanche information center;

(III) The severance tax moneys received by the Colorado geological survey and other state funding, and the sufficiency of those moneys for the implementation of the functions and objectives of the Colorado geological survey;

(IV) Additional funding or other resources from any other source that are available to carry out the functions and objectives of the Colorado geological survey;

(V) The number of full-time-equivalent employees dedicated to the implementation of this part 2;

(VI) Collaboration with state agencies, industry, academic institutions, or other entities concerning the implementation of this part 2; and

(VII) The objectives for the Colorado geological survey, the office of the state geologist, and the avalanche information center for the next year.
- (c) This section is repealed, effective December 31, 2017.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 23-51-101 as it existed prior to 2003.

23-51-102. Board of trustees - creation - members - powers - duties. (1) (a) There is established the board of trustees for Adams state university, referred to in this article as the "board of trustees", which shall consist of eleven members and shall be the governing authority for Adams state university. The board of trustees shall be, and is hereby declared to be, a body corporate and, as such and by the names designated in this section, may:

(I) Acquire and hold property for the use of Adams state university;

(II) Be a party to all suits and contracts; and

(III) Do all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this article in like manner as municipal corporations of this state, including but not limited to the power to demand, receive, hold, and use for the best interests of Adams state university such money, lands, or other property as may be donated or devised to or for the university.

(b) The board of trustees and its successors shall have perpetual succession, shall have a seal, may make bylaws and regulations for the well-ordering and governance of Adams state university, and may conduct the business of the university in a manner not repugnant to the constitution and laws of this state. The board of trustees shall elect from the appointed members a chairperson, whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall also elect a secretary and a treasurer, who are not members of the board and whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The staff of Adams state university shall provide staff support for the board of trustees.

(2) The governor shall appoint, effective July 1, 2003, with the consent of the senate, nine members of the board of trustees. Members initially appointed to the board of trustees shall have the authority to act on behalf of the board of trustees prior to obtaining confirmation by the senate. The members first appointed to the board of trustees shall take office on July 1, 2003. Appointments of members to take office on July 1, 2003, shall be made so that three members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2005, two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2006, two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2007, and two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2008; thereafter, the terms of the nine appointed members of the board of trustees shall be four years. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the term of each member serving on the board of trustees as of May 26, 2006, shall be extended to expire on December 31 of the calendar year in which the member's appointed term would otherwise expire. Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed. For terms ending on or after December 31, 2006, the governor shall appoint a succeeding member on or before March 1 immediately following the expiration of the term. Of the nine members appointed by the governor, at least two shall reside in Alamosa, Conejos, Costilla, Huerfano, Mineral, Rio Grande, or Sagauche county. Of the nine members appointed by the governor, no more than five members shall be from the same political party. Each trustee shall hold office for the term for which the trustee has been appointed and until the trustee's successor is appointed and confirmed by the senate.

(3) The tenth member of the board of trustees shall be a full-time junior or senior student at Adams state university, elected by the members of the student body of Adams state university. The term of the student member shall be one year, beginning July 1, 2003, and beginning July 1 each year thereafter. The student member shall be advisory, without the right to vote and without the right to attend executive sessions of the board of trustees, as provided by section 24-6-402, C.R.S. The student member shall have resided in the state of Colorado for not less than three years prior to the student's election.

(4) The eleventh member shall be a member of the faculty of Adams state university elected by other members of the faculty for a term of two years, beginning July 1, 2003, and beginning July 1 every odd-numbered year thereafter. The faculty member shall be advisory, without the right to vote and without the right to attend executive sessions of the board of trustees, as provided by section 24-6-402, C.R.S.

(5) A vacancy of an appointed member of the board of trustees shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term. A vacancy of either of the elected members of the board of trustees shall be filled by election for the unexpired term. Each member of the board of trustees shall take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state before entering upon the duties of the office, which oath shall be placed and kept on file in the office of the secretary of state.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (6), the powers, duties, and functions formerly performed by the trustees of the state colleges in Colorado with respect to Adams state university are hereby transferred to the board of trustees. Policies, resolutions, procedures, and agreements previously approved by the trustees of the state colleges and universities in Colorado and applicable to Adams state university shall remain in force and effect unless and until changed by the board of trustees.

(7) In addition to those powers conferred elsewhere in this article, the board of trustees has the power to:

- (a) Appoint a president of Adams state university;
- (b) Appoint such other executive officers of the university as may be required;
- (c) Appoint faculty and employees as may be required;
- (d) Determine the compensation to be paid to the president, executive officers, faculty, and professional staff;
- (e) With the advice of the faculty, prescribe the degree programs for the university; and
- (f) Prescribe the student admissions qualifications.

23-51-103. Board of trustees for Adams state university fund - creation - control - use - repeal. (1) There is created in the state treasury the board of trustees for Adams state university fund, referred to in this section as the “fund”, which shall be under the control of and administered by the board of trustees in accordance with the provisions of this article. Except as otherwise allowed by state law, including but not limited to section 24-36-103 (2), C.R.S., all moneys received or acquired by the board of trustees or by Adams state university shall be deposited in the fund, whether received by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift or by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law. All interest and income derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board of trustees and shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of a fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the fund shall remain under the control of the board of trustees and shall be used for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board of trustees and of Adams state university and for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board of trustees in carrying out its powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the fund that are not needed for use by the board of trustees may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board of trustees shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund that may be invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of the amount.

(4) (a) All unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the board of trustees for Adams state college fund as of August 7, 2012, shall be transferred to the board of trustees for Adams state university fund.

(b) This subsection (4) is repealed, effective July 1, 2013.

FORT LEWIS COLLEGE

Editor's note: This part 1 was numbered as article 14 of chapter 124, C.R.S. 1963. The provisions of this part 1 were repealed and reenacted in 1971, resulting in the addition, relocation, and elimination of sections as well as subject matter. For amendments to this part 1 prior to 1971, consult the Colorado statutory research explanatory note and the table itemizing the replacement volumes and supplements to the original volume of C.R.S. 1973 beginning on page vii in the front of this volume.

23-52-101. College established - role and mission - governance. (1) There is hereby established a college at Durango, to be known as Fort Lewis college, which shall be a public liberal arts college, with selective admission standards with a historic and continuing commitment to Native American education. In addition, the college may offer professional programs and a limited number of graduate programs to serve regional needs. The center of southwest studies provides a valuable regional, national, and international resource.

(2) (a) Fort Lewis college shall be a regional education provider and shall have two-year authority only for an associate of arts degree in agricultural science.

(b) The Colorado commission on higher education shall, in consultation with the board of trustees of Fort Lewis college, establish the criteria for designation as a regional education provider.

23-52-102. Board of trustees - creation - members - powers - duties. (1) (a) Effective July 1, 2002, there is established the board of trustees for Fort Lewis college, referred to in this article as the "board of trustees", which shall consist of nine members and shall be the governing authority for Fort Lewis college. The board of trustees shall be, and is hereby declared to be, a body corporate and, as such and by the names designated in this section, may:

(I) Acquire and hold property for the use of Fort Lewis college;

(II) Be a party to all suits and contracts; and

(III) Do all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this article in like manner as municipal corporations of this state, including but not limited to the power to demand, receive, hold, and use for the best interests of Fort Lewis college such money, lands, or other property as may be donated or devised to or for the college.

(b) The board of trustees and their successors shall have perpetual succession, shall have a seal, may make bylaws and regulations for the well-ordering and governance of Fort Lewis college, and may conduct the business of said college in a manner not repugnant to the constitution and laws of this state. The board of trustees shall elect from the appointed members a chairperson, a secretary, and a treasurer, whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The staff of Fort Lewis college shall provide staff support for the board of trustees.

(2) The governor shall appoint, on or before August 1, 2002, with the consent of the senate, seven members of the board of trustees. Members initially appointed to the board of trustees shall have the authority to act on behalf of the board of trustees prior to obtaining confirmation by the senate. The members first appointed to said board shall take office on or before August 1, 2002. Appointments of members to take office on or before August 1, 2002, shall be made so that two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2004, two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2005, two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2006, and one member of the board has a term expiring on January 1, 2007; thereafter, the terms of said seven members of the board of trustees shall be four years. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the term of each member serving on the board of trustees as of May 26, 2006, shall be extended to expire on December 31 of the calendar year in which the member's appointed term would otherwise expire. Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed. For terms ending on or after December 31, 2006, the governor shall appoint a succeeding member on or before March 1 immediately following the expiration of the term. Each trustee following the initial appointments shall hold office for the term for which the trustee is appointed and until the trustee's successor is appointed and confirmed by the senate. Of the seven members appointed by the governor, no more than four shall be from any one political party and no more or less than two shall be residents of southwestern Colorado. The board members from southwestern Colorado shall reside in Archuleta, Dolores, La Plata, Montezuma, or San Juan county.

(3) The eighth office shall be filled by an elected member of the student body of Fort Lewis college who is a full-time junior or senior student at Fort Lewis college. The term of said elected office shall be one year, beginning August 1, 2002, and beginning August 1 each year thereafter. The elected student office shall be advisory, without the right to vote.

(4) The ninth office shall be filled by an elected member of the faculty at large of Fort Lewis college elected by other members of the faculty at large for a term of two years, beginning August 1, 2002, and beginning August 1 each year thereafter. The elected faculty office shall be advisory, without the right to vote.

(5) Any vacancy in the office of an appointed member of the board of trustees shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term. Any vacancy in either of the elected offices on the board of trustees shall be filled by reelection for the unexpired term. Each trustee shall take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state before entering upon the duties of the office, which oath shall be placed and kept on file in the office of the secretary of state.

(6) Repealed.

(7) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (7), the powers, duties, and functions formerly performed by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system with respect to Fort Lewis college are hereby transferred to the board of trustees. Policies, resolutions, procedures, and agreements previously approved by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system and applicable to Fort Lewis college shall remain in force and effect unless and until changed by the board of trustees.

(8) Repealed.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. The following annotations include a case decided under former provisions similar to this section.

Land commissioners have exclusive power of disposal over lands under this section. Sections 9 and 10 of art. IX, Colo. Const., in unmistakable terms describe lands which shall be subject to disposition by the state board of land commissioners as "all lands heretofore or which may hereafter be granted to the state by the general government", hence lands granted to the state by the United States, to be held and maintained as an institution of learning under this section are lands over which the land commissioners have exclusive powers of disposal, and it is not within the power of the general assembly to place limitations upon the exercise thereof. Sunray MidContinent Oil Co. v. State, 149 Colo. 159, 368 P.2d 563 (1962).

23-52-103. Board of trustees for Fort Lewis college fund - creation - control - use.

(1) Effective September 1, 2002, there is created in the state treasury the board of trustees for Fort Lewis college fund, referred to in this section as the "fund", which shall be under the control of and administered by the board of trustees in accordance with the provisions of this article. Except as otherwise allowed by state law, including but not limited to section 24-36-103 (2), C.R.S., all moneys received or acquired by the board of trustees or by Fort Lewis college shall be deposited in the fund, whether received by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift or by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board of trustees and shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the fund shall remain under the control of the board of trustees and shall be used for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board of trustees and of Fort Lewis college and for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board of trustees in carrying out its powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the fund which are not needed for use by the board of trustees may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board of trustees shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund that may be so invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of such amount.

23-52-104. Governing board - powers. (1) In addition to those powers conferred elsewhere in this part 1, the board of trustees has the power to:

(a) Appoint a president of Fort Lewis college who shall hold the office until removed by the board of trustees or until the president resigns the same;

(b) Appoint such other executive officers of the college as may be required;

(c) Appoint such faculty and employees as the necessities of the college demand;

(d) Determine the compensation to be paid to the president, executive officers, faculty, and professional staff;

(e) Sell, lease, or exchange real property, or any interest therein, as specified in section 23-30-102, the ownership of which is vested in the board of trustees or Fort Lewis college. The board of trustees shall report all proposed sales, leases, or exchanges of such real property adjacent to or titled in Fort Lewis college to the Colorado commission on higher education, which will review and approve or disapprove the proposed transaction pursuant to section 23-1-106.

(2) The board of trustees for Fort Lewis college shall have general supervision of the college and plenary power to enact rules and regulations for the governance of the college.

(3) All real and personal property held by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system for the benefit of Fort Lewis college, including the beneficial interest in the Hesperus property owned by the state board of land commissioners and the Hesperus fund, is hereby transferred to the board of trustees. Such transfer shall not include real or personal property held by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system for its own benefit.

(4) All existing or future debt, liabilities, or obligations of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system incurred or arising with respect to Fort Lewis college, including but not limited to outstanding revenue bond obligations, lease obligations, and debt, shall be the sole responsibility of the board of trustees on and after September 1, 2002, and on and after September 1, 2002, the board of governors of the Colorado state university system shall have no further liability with respect thereto.

(5) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system and the board of trustees shall enter into an intergovernmental agreement providing that:

(a) The board of trustees and the board of governors of the Colorado state university system shall jointly request that the state board of land commissioners extend the existing lease of the Hesperus property to the board of governors of the Colorado state university system for the use and benefit of the Colorado agricultural experiment station beyond its current expiration on the same terms and conditions for a period of not less than ten years. The board of governors of the Colorado state university system shall cooperate with the board of trustees to facilitate the use of portions of the Hesperus property, which is owned by the state board of land commissioners, so long as such uses are compatible and not inconsistent with the use and operation of property by the Colorado agricultural experiment station.

(b) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system shall have the right to use the real property upon which the Colorado state forest service district office is located on the Fort Lewis college main campus for a minimum of twenty-five years;

(c) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system shall prepare appropriate documentation for transfer of all bonded and municipal lease debt related to Fort Lewis college to the board of trustees. All costs associated with such transfer shall be paid by the board of trustees. The board of governors of the Colorado state university system and the board of trustees shall cooperate to obtain any approvals required, satisfy any conditions necessary to accomplish this transfer, and execute all implementing documentation.

(d) (I) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system and the board of trustees shall cooperate to identify and transfer to the board of trustees:

(A) Any local, state, or federal licenses or permits required for the operation of Fort Lewis college held in the name of the board of governors of the Colorado state university system, such as federal communications commission licenses, environmental permits, or liquor licenses; and

(B) Real property records or interests held by the board of governors of the Colorado state university system for the benefit of Fort Lewis college.

(II) The board of trustees shall pay all costs associated with any such transfers.

(1) (a) Repealed.

(b) (I) On and after September 1, 2002, the board of trustees shall fix tuition in accordance with the level of cash fund appropriations set by the general assembly for Fort Lewis college pursuant to section 23-1-104 (1) (b) (I), subject to the restriction that all qualified Indian pupils shall at all times be admitted to such college free of charge for tuition and on terms of equality with other pupils. The general assembly shall appropriate from the state general fund one hundred percent of the moneys required for tuition for such qualified Indian pupils.

(II) Notwithstanding any provision of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) to the contrary, for fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16, the board of trustees, in accordance with section 23-5-130.5, shall annually set the amount of tuition to be paid by students with in-state classification and by nonresident students who enroll in and attend Fort Lewis college, subject to the restriction for all qualified Indian pupils as provided in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b). This subparagraph (II) is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

(2) Special programs may also be offered to assist Indian pupils to prepare for, begin, or continue their college education at Fort Lewis college. Indian pupils shall not be charged tuition for such programs. The size of any special programs offered pursuant to this subsection (2) shall be limited by the facilities and revenues available and by the level of appropriations set therefor by the general assembly.

GRAND JUNCTION SCHOOL

Editor's note: (1) This part 2 was numbered as article 15 of chapter 124, C.R.S. 1963. For amendments to this part 2 prior to its repeal in 1982, consult the Colorado statutory research explanatory note and the table itemizing the replacement volumes and supplements to the original volume of C.R.S. 1973 beginning on page vii in the front of this volume.

(2) The provisions of this part 2 concerning the Grand Junction School were repealed in 1982. The following is an historical narrative of the property that was the subject of this part 2: The property originally known as the Grand Junction Indian School was granted to the state for educational purposes by the federal congress in 1910; see 36 Stat. 1910, p. 273. A school of horticulture, forestry, and vocational learning was established there in 1911; see L. 11, p. 145, § 1. In 1916 a change of use was authorized, allowing the state to use the property for the care of the insane, for an agricultural experiment station, or for other public purposes; see 39 Stat. 1916, p. 128. A state home and training school for mental defectives was then established on the property in 1919; see legislative history of § 27-14-109 prior to its repeal by L. 83, p. 1161, § 23.

23-53-102. Board of trustees - creation - members - powers - duties. (1) (a) There is established the board of trustees for Colorado Mesa university, referred to in this article as the “board of trustees”, which shall consist of thirteen members and shall be the governing authority for Colorado Mesa university. The board of trustees shall be, and is hereby declared to be, a body corporate and, as such and by the names designated in this section, may:

- (I) Acquire and hold property for the use of Colorado Mesa university;
- (II) Be a party to all suits and contracts; and

(III) Do all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this article in like manner as municipal corporations of this state, including but not limited to the power to demand, receive, hold, and use for the best interests of Colorado Mesa university such money, lands, or other property as may be donated or devised to or for the university.

(b) The board of trustees and its successors shall have perpetual succession, shall have a seal, may make bylaws and regulations for the well-ordering and governance of Colorado Mesa university, and may conduct the business of the university in a manner not repugnant to the constitution and laws of this state. The board of trustees shall elect from the appointed members a chairperson, whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall also elect a secretary and a treasurer, who may be members of the board and whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The staff of Colorado Mesa university shall provide staff support for the board of trustees.

(2) The governor shall appoint, effective July 1, 2003, with the consent of the senate, eleven members of the board of trustees. Members appointed to the board of trustees shall have the authority to act on behalf of the board of trustees prior to obtaining confirmation by the senate. The members first appointed to said board shall take office on July 1, 2003. Appointments of members to take office on July 1, 2003, shall be made so that three members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2005, two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2006, two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2007, and two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2008; thereafter, the terms of the eleven appointed members of the board of trustees shall be four years. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the term of each member serving on the board of trustees as of May 26, 2006, shall be extended to expire on December 31 of the calendar year in which the member's appointed term would otherwise expire. Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed; except that of the two members appointed pursuant to House Bill 12-1324, enacted in 2012, one shall have a term that expires on January 1, 2015, and one shall have a term that expires on January 1, 2016. For terms ending on or after December 31, 2006, the governor shall appoint a succeeding member on or before March 1 immediately following the expiration of the term. Of the eleven members appointed by the governor, no more than six members shall be from the same political party. Of the eleven members appointed by the governor, at least two shall reside in Delta, Garfield, Mesa, or Montrose county. Each trustee shall hold office for the term for which the trustee has been appointed and until the trustee's successor is appointed and confirmed by the senate.

(3) The twelfth member of the board of trustees shall be a full-time junior or senior student at Colorado Mesa university, elected by the members of the student body of Colorado Mesa university. The term of the student member shall be one year, beginning July 1, 2003, and beginning July 1 each year thereafter. The student member shall be advisory, without the right to vote and without the right to attend executive sessions of the board of trustees, as provided by section 24-6-402, C.R.S. The student member shall have resided in the state of Colorado for not less than three years prior to the student's election.

(4) The thirteenth member shall be a member of the faculty of Colorado Mesa university elected by other members of the faculty for a term of two years, beginning July 1, 2003, and beginning July 1 every odd-numbered year thereafter. The faculty member shall be advisory, without the right to vote and without the right to attend executive sessions of the board of trustees, as provided by section 24-6-402, C.R.S.

(5) A vacancy of an appointed member of the board of trustees shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term. A vacancy of either of the elected members of the board of trustees shall be filled by election for the unexpired term. Each member of the board of trustees shall take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state before entering upon the duties of the office, which oath shall be placed and kept on file in the office of the secretary of state.

(6) (a) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (6), the powers, duties, and functions formerly performed by the trustees of the state colleges in Colorado with respect to Mesa state college are hereby transferred to the board of trustees. Policies, resolutions, procedures, and agreements previously approved by the trustees of the state colleges in Colorado and applicable to Mesa state college shall remain in force and effect unless and until changed by the board of trustees.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (6), the powers, duties, and functions formerly performed by the board of trustees of Mesa state college are hereby transferred to the board of trustees of Colorado Mesa university. Policies, resolutions, procedures, and agreements previously approved by the board of trustees of Mesa state college shall remain in force and effect unless and until changed by the board of trustees of Colorado Mesa university.

(7) In addition to those powers conferred elsewhere in this article, the board of trustees has the power to:

- (a) Appoint a president of Colorado Mesa university;
- (b) Appoint such other executive officers of the university as may be required;
- (c) Appoint faculty and employees as may be required;
- (d) Determine the compensation to be paid to the president, executive officers, faculty, and professional staff;
- (e) With the advice of the faculty, prescribe the degree programs for the university; and
- (f) Prescribe the student admissions qualifications.

23-53-103. Board of trustees for the Colorado Mesa university fund - creation - control - use. (1) There is created in the state treasury the board of trustees for Colorado Mesa university fund, referred to in this section as the “fund”, which shall be under the control of and administered by the board of trustees in accordance with the provisions of this article. The board of trustees shall have authority and responsibility for all moneys of the board of trustees and of Colorado Mesa university. The board of trustees shall designate, pursuant to its statutory authority, those moneys received or acquired by the board of trustees or by Colorado Mesa university, whether received by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift or by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law, that shall be credited to the fund. All interest and income derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board of trustees and shall remain in the fund under the control of the board of trustees and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of a fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the fund shall remain under the control of the board of trustees and shall be used for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board of trustees and of Colorado Mesa university and for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board of trustees in carrying out its powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the fund that are not needed for use by the board of trustees may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board of trustees shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund that may be invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of the amount.

(4) If the board of trustees votes to invest Colorado Mesa university assets pursuant to sections 23-53-103.3 and 23-53-103.4, the board shall establish an investment advisory committee consisting of at least five members to make recommendations to the board regarding investments. The investment advisory committee, at a minimum, shall include the Colorado Mesa university treasurer, a member of the board, and three representatives from the financial community.

(5) Repealed.

23-53-103.3. Investments in consolidated funds. Unless otherwise restrained by the terms of a will, trust agreement, or other instrument of gift, the board of trustees is authorized to hold investments in one or more consolidated investment funds in which the participating trusts or accounts have undivided interests.

Source: L. 2008: Entire section added, p. 341, § 3, effective April 10.

23-53-103.4. Corporate stock in name of nominee authorized. (1) In order to facilitate the investment, reinvestment, sale, and disposition of corporate stocks, the board of trustees is authorized to hold certificates of stock in the name of a nominee of its selection without disclosing the fact that the certificates are held by the board of trustees or are held in a fiduciary capacity if:

(a) The records of the board and all reports or accounts rendered by it clearly show the ownership of the stock by the board and the facts regarding the board's holding; and

(b) The nominee deposits with the board a signed statement showing the trust ownership, endorses the stock certificate in blank, and does not have possession of or access to the stock certificate except under the immediate supervision of the treasurer of Colorado Mesa university or another person that the board of trustees has designated.

(2) The board of trustees shall maintain a list of certificates of stock held in the names of nominees pursuant to this section and shall make the list available for public inspection during normal business hours.

(3) The board of trustees shall report to the joint budget committee of the general assembly at each regular session regarding the investments made and the earnings or losses derived therefrom under the provisions of this section and section 23-53-103.3. The report shall include information indicating the extent to which the investment managers hired by the board of trustees have achieved or failed to achieve the performance benchmarks established pursuant to section 23-53-103.6 (1) (b).

23-53-103.6. Investment policy - fiduciary responsibility. (1) If the board of trustees votes to invest Colorado Mesa university's assets pursuant to sections 23-53-103.3 and 23-53-103.4, then the board of trustees shall develop and annually review a written investment policy for Colorado Mesa university, which policy shall include:

(a) An acknowledgment by the board of trustees of the board's fiduciary responsibility with respect to oversight of the investment policy of Colorado Mesa university; and

(b) The establishment of performance benchmarks for each investment manager hired by the board of trustees pursuant to sections 23-53-103.3 and 23-53-103.4.

(2) In selecting investment managers for the purposes of this section, the board of trustees shall use an open and competitive process.

(3) If the board of trustees votes to invest moneys pursuant to sections 23-53-103.3 and 23-53-103.4, the board shall require annual financial statements to be submitted to the board of trustees, the state treasurer, the state auditor, and the joint budget committee of the general assembly. The financial statements shall include, at a minimum, information concerning investment income, gains, and losses, if any, of Colorado Mesa university. The financial statements shall report the performance of investments on both a gross-of-fee and a net-of-fee basis.

(4) If the board of trustees votes to invest moneys pursuant to sections 23-53-103.3 and 23-53-103.4, the board shall ensure that, at all times, liquid investment assets remain at a level sufficient to pay for all budgeted, outstanding operational obligations and expenses occurring within the current fiscal year.

(5) Colorado Mesa university shall not request from the general assembly any general fund appropriations to replace any losses incurred due to investment activities conducted by the board of trustees pursuant to sections 23-53-103.3 and 23-53-103.4.

23-54-102. Board of trustees - creation - members - powers - duties. (1) (a) Effective July 1, 2002, there is established the board of trustees for Metropolitan state university of Denver, referred to in this article as the "board of trustees", which shall consist of eleven members and shall be the governing authority for Metropolitan state university of Denver. The board of trustees created by this subsection (1) shall be, and is hereby declared to be, a body corporate and, as such and by the names designated in this section, may:

(I) Acquire, by purchase or lease, and hold property for the use of Metropolitan state university of Denver, develop and construct facilities upon the property, and dispose of the property, leasehold interests, and facilities; except that the board of trustees shall have the authority to dispose of a leasehold interest in property owned by the Auraria higher education center only to a constituent institution, as specified in section 23-70-101 (1) (b), or in connection with a sale and leaseback or other form of transaction in which Metropolitan state university of Denver will remain the ultimate user of the property;

(II) Be a party to all suits and contracts;

(III) Do all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this article in like manner as municipal corporations of this state, including but not limited to the power to demand, receive, hold, and use for the best interests of Metropolitan state university of Denver such money, lands, or other property as may be donated or devised to or for the university;

(IV) Without limiting the scope of any other authority, authorize, by resolution, revenue bonds and enter into other lawful financial transactions for the purpose of raising moneys for constructing or otherwise acquiring and equipping any facility or facilities necessary or useful to the accomplishment of the mission of Metropolitan state university of Denver; and

(V) Transfer, assign, or pledge portions of its student fees, auxiliary revenues, capital facilities fees, and up to ten percent of tuition moneys to the Auraria higher education center to provide a source of repayment for revenue bonds or other loans or financial obligations incurred by the center to finance construction of an auxiliary facility, as defined in section 23-5-101.5 (2) (a), a complementary facility, as defined in section 23-70-105.5 (1), any other facility necessary or useful to the accomplishment of the mission of Metropolitan state university of Denver, or the infrastructure necessary to support any of the types of facilities specified in this subparagraph (V).

(a.5) Nothing in this article shall authorize the board of trustees to enter into a contract for the construction of buildings or improvements that creates any debt or obligation upon the state. Buildings and improvements erected on lands controlled by the board of trustees and intended for the use of Metropolitan state university of Denver under the terms of this article and any leasehold interests shall be exempt from taxation as permitted by the state constitution.

(b) The trustees and their successors shall have perpetual succession, shall have a seal, may make bylaws and regulations for the well-ordering and government of Metropolitan state university of Denver, and may conduct the business of the university in a manner not repugnant to the constitution and laws of this state. The board of trustees shall elect from the appointed members a chairperson, whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The board shall also elect a secretary and a treasurer, who are not members of the board and whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The staff of Metropolitan state university of Denver shall provide staff support for the board of trustees.

(2) The governor shall appoint, with the consent of the senate, nine members of the board of trustees. The members first appointed to said board shall take office on July 1, 2002. The terms of appointed members of the board of trustees shall be four years; except that, of the members first appointed, the governor shall select two members who shall serve one-year terms, two members who shall serve two-year terms, and five members who shall serve four-year terms. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the term of each member serving on the board of trustees as of May 26, 2006, shall be extended to expire on December 31 of the calendar year in which the member's appointed term would otherwise expire. Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed. For terms ending on or after December 31, 2006, the governor shall appoint a succeeding member on or before March 1 immediately following the expiration of the term. All appointed members shall serve until their successors are appointed and qualified. Of the nine members appointed by the governor, no more than five members shall be from the same political party.

(3) A full-time junior or senior student at Metropolitan state university of Denver, elected by the student body at large, shall fill the tenth office as a member of the board of trustees. The term of office shall be one year, beginning July 1, 2002, and beginning July 1 each year thereafter. The elected student office shall be advisory, without the right to vote and without the right to attend executive sessions of the board of trustees, as provided by section 24-6-402, C.R.S. The elected student member of the board of trustees shall have resided in the state of Colorado not fewer than three years immediately prior to election. As used in this subsection (3), "full-time student" shall have the same definition as "full-time equivalent student" used by the joint budget committee of the general assembly.

(4) A full-time member of the teaching faculty at large of Metropolitan state university of Denver, elected by the faculty at large, shall fill the eleventh office as a member of the board of trustees. The term of office shall be one year, beginning July 1, 2002, and beginning July 1 each year thereafter. The elected faculty member of the board of trustees shall be advisory, without the right to vote and without the right to attend executive sessions of the board of trustees, as provided by section 24-6-402, C.R.S.

(5) Any vacancy in the office of an appointed member of the board of trustees shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term. Any vacancy in either of the elected offices on the board of trustees shall be filled by reelection for the unexpired term. Each trustee shall take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state before entering upon the duties of the office, which oath shall be placed and kept on file in the office of the secretary of state.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (6), the powers, duties, and functions formerly performed by the trustees of the state colleges in Colorado, as said governing board existed prior to July 1, 2003, with respect to Metropolitan state university of Denver are hereby transferred to the board of trustees. Policies, procedures, and agreements previously approved by the trustees of the state colleges, as the governing board existed prior to July 1, 2003, and applicable to Metropolitan state university of Denver shall remain in force and effect unless and until changed by the board of trustees.

ANNOTATION

To the extent certain tenure provisions in the 1994 Colorado handbook for professional personnel afforded professors vested rights, the board did not have statutory or contractual authority subsequently to unilaterally modify those provisions or dismiss professors. Saxe v. Bd. of Trs. of Metro. State Coll., 179 P.3d 67 (Colo. App. 2007).

Changes to personnel handbook dealing with priority of layoffs of tenured faculty and their relocation within the institution constituted substantive changes and were therefore unconstitutionally retrospective. Although an employer reserves the right to modify its employment handbook, there are limits if the modifications constitute changes that affect employees retrospectively and substantively. Saxe v. Bd. of Trs. of Metro. State Coll., 179 P.3d 67 (Colo. App. 2007).

Changes to personnel handbook dealing with standards, access to information, and written explanation of termination decisions, however, constituted mere procedural changes and were therefore constitutional even though retrospective. Saxe v. Bd. of Trs. of Metro. State Coll., 179 P.3d 67 (Colo. App. 2007).

23-54-103. Board of trustees for Metropolitan state university of Denver fund - creation - control - use - repeal. (1) Effective July 1, 2012, there is created in the state treasury the board of trustees for Metropolitan state university of Denver fund, referred to in this section as the "fund", which shall be under the control of and administered by the board of trustees in accordance with the provisions of this article. Except as otherwise allowed by state law, including but not limited to section 24-36-103 (2), C.R.S., all moneys received or acquired by the board of trustees or by Metropolitan state university of Denver shall be deposited in the fund, whether received by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift, or by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property, or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board of trustees and shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the fund shall remain under the control of the board of trustees and shall be used for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board of trustees and of Metropolitan state university of Denver and for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board of trustees in carrying out its powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the fund which are not needed for use by the board of trustees may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board of trustees shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund that may be so invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of such amount.

(4) (a) All unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the board of trustees of Metropolitan state college of Denver fund as of July 1, 2012, shall be transferred to the board of trustees for Metropolitan state university of Denver fund.

(b) This subsection (4) is repealed, effective July 1, 2013.

23-54-104. The Metropolitan state university of Denver undergraduate enrichment fund - created - awards. (1) Effective July 1, 2012, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the Metropolitan state college of Denver undergraduate enrichment fund as of July 1, 2012, shall be transferred to the Metropolitan state university of Denver undergraduate enrichment fund, which fund is hereby created in the department of higher education and is referred to in this section as the “enrichment fund”. The enrichment fund shall be under the control of and administered by the board of trustees of Metropolitan state university of Denver. Any moneys credited to the enrichment fund shall remain in the enrichment fund and shall not revert to the general fund at the end of any fiscal year. Such moneys in the enrichment fund may be invested in the types of investments authorized in sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. Any interest earned on the moneys in the enrichment fund is hereby continuously appropriated for the purposes stated in subsection (2) of this section.

(2) Interest earned on moneys in the enrichment fund shall be used to fund programs to advance and enrich undergraduate education at Metropolitan state university of Denver. Awards for such purposes shall be granted by the board of trustees within one year after the date any moneys are credited to the fund and shall be annually granted thereafter. The board of trustees shall promulgate rules establishing the criteria to be used in granting such annual awards.

23-56-102. Board of trustees - creation - members - powers - duties. (1) (a) There is established the board of trustees for Western state Colorado university, referred to in this article as the "board of trustees", which shall consist of eleven members and shall be the governing authority for Western state Colorado university. The board of trustees shall be, and is hereby declared to be, a body corporate and, as such and by the names designated in this section, may:

- (I) Acquire and hold property for the use of Western state Colorado university;
- (II) Be a party to all suits and contracts; and
- (III) Do all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this article in like manner as municipal corporations of this state, including but not limited to the power to demand, receive, hold, and use for the best interests of Western state Colorado university such money, lands, or other property as may be donated or devised to or for the university.

(b) The board of trustees and its successors shall have perpetual succession, shall have a seal, may make bylaws and regulations for the well-ordering and governance of Western state Colorado university, and may conduct the business of the university in a manner not repugnant to the constitution and laws of this state. The board of trustees shall elect from the appointed members a chairperson, whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall also elect a secretary and a treasurer, who are not members of the board and whose duties and responsibilities shall be prescribed in the duly adopted bylaws of the board of trustees. The staff of Western state Colorado university shall provide staff support for the board of trustees.

(2) The governor shall appoint, effective July 1, 2003, with the consent of the senate, nine members of the board of trustees. Members initially appointed to the board of trustees shall have the authority to act on behalf of the board of trustees prior to obtaining confirmation by the senate. The members first appointed to said board shall take office on July 1, 2003. Appointments of members to take office on July 1, 2003, shall be made so that three members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2005, two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2006, two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2007, and two members of the board have terms expiring on January 1, 2008; thereafter, the terms of the nine appointed members of the board of trustees shall be four years. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the term of each member serving on the board of trustees as of May 26, 2006, shall be extended to expire on December 31 of the calendar year in which the member's appointed term would otherwise expire. Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed. For terms ending on or after December 31, 2006, the governor shall appoint a succeeding member on or before March 1 immediately following the expiration of the term. Of the nine members appointed by the governor, no more than five members shall be from the same political party. Of the nine members appointed by the governor, at least two shall reside in Gunnison county. Each trustee following the initial appointments shall hold office for the term for which the trustee has been appointed and until the trustee's successor is appointed and confirmed by the senate.

(3) The tenth member of the board of trustees shall be a full-time junior or senior student at Western state Colorado university, elected by the members of the student body of Western state Colorado university. The term of the student member shall be one year, beginning July 1, 2003, and beginning July 1 each year thereafter. The student member shall be advisory, without the right to vote and without the right to attend executive sessions of the board of trustees, as provided by section 24-6-402, C.R.S. The student member shall have resided in the state of Colorado for not less than three years prior to the student's election.

(4) The eleventh member shall be a member of the faculty of Western state Colorado university elected by other members of the faculty for a term of two years, beginning July 1, 2003, and beginning July 1 every odd-numbered year thereafter. The faculty member shall be advisory, without the right to vote and without the right to attend executive sessions of the board of trustees, as provided by section 24-6-402, C.R.S.

(5) A vacancy of an appointed member of the board of trustees shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term. A vacancy of either of the elected members of the board of trustees shall be filled by election for the unexpired term. Each member of the board of trustees shall take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state before entering upon the duties of the office, which oath shall be placed and kept on file in the office of the secretary of state.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (6), the powers, duties, and functions formerly performed by the trustees of the state colleges in Colorado with respect to Western state Colorado university are hereby transferred to the board of trustees. Policies, resolutions, procedures, and agreements previously approved by the trustees of the state colleges in Colorado and applicable to Western state Colorado university shall remain in force and effect unless and until changed by the board of trustees.

(7) In addition to those powers conferred elsewhere in this article, the board of trustees has the power to:

- (a) Appoint a president of Western state Colorado university;
- (b) Appoint such other executive officers of the university as may be required;
- (c) Appoint faculty and employees as may be required;
- (d) Determine the compensation to be paid to the president, executive officers, faculty, and professional staff;
- (e) With the advice of the faculty, prescribe the degree programs for the university; and
- (f) Prescribe the student admissions qualifications.

23-56-103. Board of trustees for Western state Colorado university fund - creation - control - use - repeal. (1) There is created in the state treasury the board of trustees for Western state Colorado university fund, referred to in this section as the “fund”, which shall be under the control of and administered by the board of trustees in accordance with the provisions of this article. Except as otherwise allowed by state law, including but not limited to section 24-36-103 (2), C.R.S., all moneys received or acquired by the board of trustees or by Western state Colorado university shall be deposited in the fund, whether received by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift or by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law. All interest and income derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board of trustees and shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of a fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the fund shall remain under the control of the board of trustees and shall be used for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board of trustees and of Western state Colorado university and for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board of trustees in carrying out its powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the fund that are not needed for use by the board of trustees may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board of trustees shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund that may be invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of the amount.

(4) (a) All unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the board of trustees for Western state college of Colorado fund as of August 7, 2012, shall be transferred to the board of trustees for Western state Colorado university fund.

GENERAL PROVISIONS - STATE BOARD

23-60-101. Short title. This article shall be known and may be cited as the “Community College and Occupational Education Act of 1967”.

23-60-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that the state board for community colleges and occupational education is charged to develop and establish state policy for occupational education and to govern the state system of community colleges. The board shall be responsible for the establishment of statewide vocational education policy for all the entities which provide that education and shall coordinate all aspects of vocational education in the state to assure quality programming and efficient delivery of such education.

(2) In its role as the governing authority for the state system of community colleges, the board shall assure a system of two-year program delivery throughout the state coordinated, where appropriate, with the local district colleges. In order to assist the board in carrying out its responsibilities, the general assembly hereby provides for the establishment of local councils to advise the board on the operation of individual community and junior colleges from a local perspective.

(3) The function of the two-year college system is to conduct occupational, technical, and community service programs with no term limitations and general education, including college transfer programs with unrestricted admissions. It is further the intent of this article to develop appropriate occupational education and adult education programs in these and other postsecondary educational institutions, to maintain and expand occupational education programs in the elementary and secondary schools of the state permitting local school districts already having vocational schools to continue to operate them, and to develop work study and on-the-job training programs designed to acquaint youth with the world of work and to train and retrain youth and adults for employment. The general assembly intends that state agencies concerned with occupational education in the public schools shall cooperate with the board in planning and implementing occupational education programs, to the end that the state of Colorado has complete and well-balanced occupational and adult education programs available to the people of Colorado at all educational levels.

(1) “Area vocational school” means a school offering approved postsecondary vocational programs for credit, operated by a local school district or by a board of cooperative services, and designated by the general assembly as an area vocational school in conformity with standards established by the state board for community colleges and occupational education. Tuition rates and fees charged any person not enrolled in a secondary school curriculum shall be uniform for any group classification. For the purposes of this article, the following schools, as named in this subsection (1) or as their names may be changed pursuant to section 23-60-801, are declared to be area vocational schools: The Emily Griffith opportunity school, the Delta-Montrose area vocational school, and the Aurora tech center.

(2) “Occupational education” means any education designed to facilitate the vocational, technical, or occupational development of individual persons, including, but not limited to, vocational or technical training or retraining which is given in schools or classes, including field or laboratory work incident thereto, under public supervision and control or under contract with the board or a local educational agency and which is conducted as a part of a program designed to fit individuals for gainful employment as semiskilled or skilled workers or technicians in recognized occupations, but excluding any program to fit individuals for employment in occupations generally considered to be professional or which require a baccalaureate or higher degree. The term further includes vocational guidance and counseling in connection with such training; instruction related to the occupation for which the person is being trained or necessary for him to benefit from such training; and the training of persons engaged as or preparing to become vocational education teachers, teacher-trainers, supervisors, and directors.

(3) “Postsecondary” means related to instruction of students over the age of seventeen years who are not enrolled in a regular program of kindergarten through grade twelve in a public, independent, or parochial school.

(4) A “registered elector” of a district means any person who is at least eighteen years of age, who is a citizen of the United States, who has resided in the state for thirty-two days, in the junior college district thirty-two days, and in the dissolution election precinct thirty-two days immediately preceding the election, and who is duly registered.

(5) “Workplace literacy program” means any program of remedial education in basic mathematics or literacy skills sponsored by one or more private employers and offered for the benefit of employees and conducted in the workplace.

23-60-104. State board for community colleges and occupational education - student advisory council - state advisory council. (1) (a) The state board for community colleges and occupational education is abolished, and the terms of members of the board serving as such immediately prior to April 14, 1986, are terminated.

(b) There is created a state board for community colleges and occupational education, which is referred to in this article as the “board”. The board is a body corporate and has the authority to adopt a seal and to receive, demand, and hold for all occupational education purposes and for any educational institution under its jurisdiction such money, lands, or other property as may be donated, bequeathed, appropriated, or otherwise made available to the board, and it may use such property in the interests of community and technical colleges and occupational education in this state.

(2) (a) (I) The board shall consist of eleven members, nine of whom shall be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate. The board shall appoint a director of occupational education and a director of community and technical colleges with the qualifications and background specified by the board. Within thirty days of April 14, 1986, the governor shall appoint the initial members of the board. An initial appointee shall be authorized to act as a duly confirmed member of the board until such time as the senate has acted on such appointment. The governor may appoint, as a member of the board, any person who was a member of the board prior to its termination. No appointed member shall be an employee of any junior college, community or technical college, school district or agency receiving vocational funds allocated by the board, private institution of higher education, or state or private occupational school in the state. No appointed member shall be an elected or appointed statewide official of the state of Colorado or member of the governing board of any state-supported institution of higher education. The board shall at no time have more than five appointed members of any one political party. The board shall at all times have one member from each congressional district in the state. A vacancy on the board occurs whenever any member moves out of the congressional district from which he was appointed. A member who moves out of such congressional district shall promptly notify the governor of the date of such move, but such notice is not a condition precedent to the occurrence of the vacancy. The governor shall fill the vacancy as provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (2). Members of the board shall be appointed so as to insure that all geographic areas of the state are represented. A state student advisory council of student members who are enrolled for a minimum of nine hours shall be elected, one each, from and by the student bodies of each of the campuses governed by the board.

(II) The tenth member shall be a student at a college of a state system of community colleges, and the eleventh member shall be a member of the faculty of a college of the state system of community colleges. Such members shall be elected in accordance with procedures established by the board, which procedures shall take into account all the colleges within the state system of community colleges. The term of said offices shall be one year. Said offices shall be advisory, without the right to vote, and shall be without the right to attend executive sessions.

(b) Of the members first appointed to the board, two members representing a congressional district shall be appointed for a term expiring July 1, 1987; one member representing a congressional district and one at-large member shall be appointed for a term expiring July 1, 1988; one member representing a congressional district and one at-large member shall be appointed for a term expiring July 1, 1989; and two members representing a congressional district and one at-large member shall be appointed for a term expiring July 1, 1990. Thereafter, all members shall be appointed for terms of four years each; except that a member of the board who is appointed by the governor shall continue to serve until a successor is appointed and confirmed by the senate. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the term of each member serving on the board of trustees as of May 26, 2006, shall be extended to expire on December 31 of the calendar year in which the member's appointed term would otherwise expire. Members appointed on or after January 1, 2007, shall serve terms of up to four years, expiring on December 31 of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the member is appointed. For terms ending on or after December 31, 2006, the governor shall appoint a succeeding member on or before March 1 immediately following the expiration of the term. The terms of the offices of members of the state student advisory council shall be one year, beginning July 1, 1977, and any such student member shall be classified as an in-state student for tuition purposes in accordance with section 23-7-102 (5) prior to election to the state student advisory council. No member appointed to the board shall serve for more than two consecutive full four-year terms. Members of the board shall receive fifty dollars per diem for attendance at official meetings, plus actual and necessary expenses incurred in the conduct of official business.

(c) Any vacancy in the office of any member of the board appointed by the governor shall be filled by appointment of the governor with the consent of the senate for the unexpired term. Any vacancy on the state student advisory council shall be filled for the unexpired term by appointment by the duly elected student government of the affected campus within thirty days after such vacancy occurs.

(3) Repealed.

(4) The board shall appoint an executive officer of the board, who shall serve at the pleasure of the board and shall receive compensation commensurate with his duties as determined by the board. Offices held by the executive officer and professional personnel are declared to be educational in nature and not under the state personnel system.

(2) Subsection (3) was amended in House Bill 86-1101. Those amendments were superseded by the amendment of the entire section in House Bill 86-1237.

ANNOTATION

The authority of a state created agency must be found in the statute creating the same. Colo. Polytechnic Coll. v. State Bd. for Cmty. Colls., 173 Colo. 39, 476 P.2d 38 (1970).

Where no constitutional or legislative authority, express or implied, is to be found conferring an appointive power upon the governor or authority upon the state board to act on behalf of the federal government as a "state approving agency" for approval or non-approval of courses offered to veterans, in the absence of enabling act conferring such power and authority upon the governor and the state board, the actions of the governor and the state board was a nullity. Colo. Polytechnic Coll. v. State Bd. for Cmty. Colls., 173 Colo. 39, 476 P.2d 38 (1970).

Any laws and regulations that would operate in contravention of the constitutional underpinnings of the state board for community colleges and occupational education and the state land board and their constitutionally and statutorily conferred duties and powers must necessarily evidence a "clear and unmistakable" intent on the part of the general assembly to repeal the conflicting special statutory and constitutional provisions. City of Littleton v. State, 832 P.2d 985 (Colo. App. 1991).

If the laws and regulations have an impact on the lands held by the state land board, the legislative scheme must neither create a body with authority equivalent to that vested in the board nor create a situation which results in the diversion of revenues from the public school funds. City of Littleton v. State, 832 P.2d 985 (Colo. App. 1991).

The state board for community colleges and occupational education is by definition a state agency, not a "person" under a 42 U.S.C. § 1983 action, and no action for damages may be maintained against it under that statute. Nat'l Camera, Inc. v. Sanchez, 832 P.2d 960 (Colo. App. 1991).

The state board for community colleges and occupational education is an instrumentality of the state, far more akin to state universities and their governing bodies than to municipalities and local school boards. Therefore, the board enjoys eleventh amendment immunity as an instrumentality or arm of the state of Colorado. Sturdevant v. Paulsen, 218 F.3d 1160 (10th Cir. 2000).

Trial court erred in dismissing 42 U.S.C. § 1983 claim against the members of the state board for community colleges and occupational education since the availability of ju- dicial review pursuant to this section did not preclude such action. Nat'l Camera, Inc. v. Sanchez, 832 P.2d 960 (Colo. App. 1991).

Applied in Hansen v. Colo. Sch. of Mines, 42 Colo. App. 292, 599 P.2d 928 (1979); Rivas v. State Bd., 517 F. Supp. 467 (D. Colo. 1981).

23-60-104.5. Recommendations of governor's task force - legislative declaration.

(1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) On December 23, 2003, by executive order, the governor established the governor's task force to strengthen and improve the community college system;

(b) The task force was charged with evaluating the current structure of governance and administration in the state system of community colleges and recommending reforms and cost savings to the governor, the Colorado commission on higher education, the board, and, if applicable, the general assembly;

(c) The task force met ten times and sponsored five public forums at community colleges around the state;

(d) The task force made six recommendations to the governor along with a two-year time line for completing each recommendation and sending periodic reports to the governor;

(e) These recommendations were:

(I) Decreasing the administrative costs of the system office;

(II) Maintaining a central system office but restructuring its functions;

(III) Centralizing and standardizing the information technology functions of the system office;

(IV) Decentralizing institutional research functions of the colleges;

(V) Restructuring of distance learning; and

(VI) Completing a comprehensive review of the administrative costs for career and technical education;

(f) The task force recommended that any cost savings achieved from the recommendations, pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section, should go to program providers for enhancing services pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (3) of this section;

(g) The task force recommended that the board conduct a comprehensive examination of the Lowry campus, including how to develop the land to its highest and best use and how any funds resulting from these changes may be invested in the classrooms of the state system of community colleges;

(h) The task force established a time line for the board to follow and included in that time line periodic reports to the governor; and

(i) It is in the best interests of the public that some of these recommendations be put into statute.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Colleges" means the community colleges under the control of the board.

(b) "System office" means the office under the board that provides services to all of the colleges.

(c) "Task force" means the governor's task force established pursuant to an executive order dated December 23, 2003.

(3) (a) For the state fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2004, and ending on June 30, 2005, the board shall reduce the state-funded administrative costs of the system office by at least twenty percent.

(b) The moneys available because of the reductions required by paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) shall be used to finance the following recommendations of the task force:

(I) (A) The installation of a centralized, standardized, integrated, system-wide information technology system solution for the colleges.

(B) On or before July 1, 2004, the board shall begin implementation of the centralized, standardized, integrated, system-wide information technology configuration for the colleges. The implementation of the information technology configuration shall be substantially completed on or before June 30, 2006. The board and the colleges shall adopt best practices for all business processes.

(II) By January 1, 2005, the restructuring of distance learning at all colleges by requiring the system office to provide and all colleges to use a common utility infrastructure and maintain a common standard for security and accreditation;

(III) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2005, p. 1016, § 10, effective June 2, 2005.)

(IV) By July 1, 2004, conducting a comprehensive review by the board of the administrative costs for career and technical education.

(c) Any remaining moneys available because of the reductions required by paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) after the financing of the recommendations specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) shall be used in delivering classroom instruction and in support of the colleges.

(4) (a) On or before June 30, 2005, the state board shall develop a master plan for the use, development, or sale of the real property at the Lowry campus, except for the property used by the community college of Aurora or the community college of Denver. Nothing in this section shall prevent the board from allowing a charter school to be located at the Lowry campus prior to the development of the master plan, and nothing in the master plan shall cause the displacement of a charter school.

(b) On or before June 30, 2006, the state board may enter into an agreement with a third-party master developer to carry out the use, development, or sale of the real property for the Lowry campus.

(5) (a) As used in this subsection (5), unless the context otherwise requires, "net proceeds from the Lowry property" means the proceeds from the sale, ground lease, or other disposition of the real estate interests of the state board at the Lowry campus, less the actual and reasonable costs of completing the transaction and less any unsatisfied debt or other obligation relating to such real estate interests.

(b) The net proceeds from the Lowry property may be maintained in an account for use by the state board for capital-development-related projects at the system office or the colleges.

(6) On or before October 1, 2004, July 1, 2005, and July 1, 2006, the board shall submit to the governor and to the education committees of the senate and house of representatives reports on the progress made in implementing the recommendations contained in this section.

State board for community colleges and occupational education fund - creation - control - use. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the state board for community colleges and occupational education fund which shall be under the control of and administered by the board in accordance with the provisions of this article. Except as otherwise allowed by section 24-36-103 (2), C.R.S., all moneys received or acquired by the board or by any of the institutions it governs, whether by appropriation, grant, contract, or gift, by sale or lease of surplus real or personal property, or by any other means, whose disposition is not otherwise provided for by law, and all interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to said fund. The moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the board and shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

(2) The moneys in the state board for community colleges and occupational education fund shall be used by the board for the payment of salaries and operating expenses of the board and of the institutions it governs and for the payment of any other expenses incurred by the board in carrying out its statutory powers and duties.

(3) Moneys in the state board for community colleges and occupational education fund which are not needed for immediate use by the board may be invested by the state treasurer in investments authorized by sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. The board shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund which may be invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of such amount.

STATE SYSTEM OF COMMUNITY AND TECHNICAL COLLEGES

23-60-201. State system of community and technical colleges established - local district colleges - role and mission. There is hereby established a state system of community and technical colleges which shall be under the management and jurisdiction of the state board for community colleges and occupational education. The mission of the community colleges shall be to serve Colorado residents who reside in their service areas by offering a broad range of general, personal, vocational, and technical education programs. Each college shall be a two-year college. Each community college may offer two-year degree programs with or without academic designation. No college shall impose admission requirements upon any student. The objects of the community and technical colleges shall be to provide educational programs to fill the occupational needs of youth and adults in technical and vocational fields, two-year transfer educational programs to qualify students for admission to the junior year at other colleges and universities, basic skills, workforce development, and a broad range of personal and vocational education for adults.

23-60-202. Duties of board with respect to state system - repeal. (1) With respect to the community and technical colleges within the state system, the board has the authority, responsibility, rights, privileges, powers, and duties customarily exercised by the governing boards of institutions of higher education, including the following:

(a) To recommend to the Colorado commission on higher education and the general assembly the location and priorities for establishment of new community and technical colleges;

(b) To construct, lease, or otherwise provide facilities needed for the community and technical colleges as authorized by the general assembly; to issue in the name of the board revenue bonds and other revenue obligations in the manner, for the purposes, and subject to the provisions provided by law for state educational institutions under article 5 of this title or for junior college districts; and to refund in the name of the board revenue bonds and other revenue obligations transferred to the board or incurred by the board as provided in this article, such refunding to be undertaken pursuant to article 54 of title 11, C.R.S.;

(c) (I) (A) To fix the tuition and fees to be charged in the community and technical colleges. The board shall fix tuition in accordance with the level of cash fund appropriations set by the general assembly for such institutions pursuant to section 23-1-104 (1) (b) (I).

(B) Notwithstanding any provision of sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (I) to the contrary, for fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16, the board, in accordance with section 23-5-130.5, shall annually set the amount of tuition to be paid by students with in-state classification and by nonresident students who enroll in and attend the community and technical colleges. This sub-subparagraph (B) is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

(II) To the extent space is available, the board may allow persons licensed pursuant to article 60.5 of title 22, C.R.S., to take, without charge at community and technical colleges, classes identified by the department of public safety pursuant to section 24-33.5-110, C.R.S., as related to the national incident management system developed by the federal emergency management agency.

(d) To appoint the chief administrative officer of each community and technical college;

(e) To recommend and review proposals for the establishment of curriculums and for major changes in curriculums, subject only to the review function of the Colorado commission on higher education relating to formal academic programs;

(f) To define the requirements of appropriate degrees and certificates and to authorize the award thereof in the community and technical colleges, subject only to the review function of the Colorado commission on higher education relating to formal academic programs;

(f.5) To review and approve the degree programs described in section 23-60-211, subject only to the review function of the Colorado commission on higher education relating to formal academic programs;

(g) To develop a plan with the governing boards of baccalaureate degree-granting universities and colleges of the state which will assure maximum freedom of transfer of students between local junior colleges and community and technical colleges under the direct control of the board and such universities and colleges;

(h) To receive, review, and transmit with recommendations to the Colorado commission on higher education and the general assembly both operating and capital budget requests of the community and technical colleges;

(i) To plan, in cooperation with other state agencies, the allocation of federal funds for instructional programs and student services, including funds for vocational and technical education and retraining;

(j) To determine policies pertaining to the community and technical colleges, subject only to the functions and powers assigned by law to the Colorado commission on higher education relating to formal academic programs;

(k) To control the direction of funds and appropriations to the colleges in the system;

(l) To receive, demand, and hold for the uses and purposes of the colleges in the system such moneys, lands, or other properties as may be donated, devised, leased, or conveyed and to apply the same in such manner as will serve best the objects and interests of the colleges in the system;

(m) To develop and implement, in coordination with four-year institutions and under the direction of the Colorado commission on higher education, a core transfer program for students wishing to obtain a baccalaureate degree after transferring out of the state system to a four-year institution, which program shall be implemented within the state system by September 15, 1987.

(n) Repealed.

23-60-206. College advisory council. (1) The board shall establish a procedure for receiving nominations for appointments to the college advisory council and shall appoint a seven-member college advisory council for each community and technical college under its governance, composed of residents from the area in which the community and technical college is located and serves, which council shall meet at least quarterly with the chief administrative officer of the college. The board of trustees of any local junior college shall be designated as the first college advisory council when such local junior college joins the state system, and members thereof shall serve for the duration of their terms. Upon expiration of such terms, new appointees shall be so designated that the college advisory council will at all subsequent times include at least two members familiar with occupational education needs. Of members first appointed, three members shall be appointed for four years and two members for two years. Thereafter, terms of members appointed to the college advisory council shall be for four years. The members of a college advisory council in office on April 14, 1986, shall remain in office for the remainder of their respective terms, and, thereafter, may be reappointed by the board. Effective July 1, 1986, the board shall appoint two members for each college advisory council, one member to serve for a term of two years and one member to serve for a term of four years. Members of the college advisory council shall receive twenty dollars per day for meetings attended and shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the conduct of official business.

(1.5) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, if the plan for Colorado Northwestern community college to join the state system of community and technical colleges is approved and moneys are appropriated therefor as provided in section 23-71-207 and if the Moffat county affiliated junior college district voters approve the ballot measure set forth in section 23-71-207 (1) (b) (II), the initial advisory council for Colorado Northwestern community college shall consist of three members of the Rangely junior college district board of trustees, three members of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district board of control, and one member at large to be appointed by the state board for community colleges and occupational education from the Colorado Northwestern community college designated service area. If the Moffat county affiliated junior college district voters do not approve the ballot measure set forth in section 23-71-207 (1) (b) (II), the provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall apply.

(2) The board shall officially recognize within its policies the manner in which it shall receive advice from local councils concerning local oversight of each of the state system community colleges and shall include consideration of advice in the areas of tuition and fees; operating and capital budgets; allocation of moneys; money, land, and other property; instructional programs; degrees and certificates; appointment of chief administrative officers of campuses; personnel policies; and admissions and academic standards. A report containing such information shall be prepared and submitted to the Colorado commission on higher education no later than January 15, 1987.

23-60-210. Transfer of records and equipment - creation of new colleges. (1) At the board's discretion, the board may transfer books, records, equipment, property, personnel, accounts, and liabilities of the community college of Denver or any other entity to Red Rocks community college, Front Range community college, and the reconstituted community college of Denver in order to effect the creation of such colleges.

(2) All employees, exempt and classified, transferred pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall retain all rights to state personnel system and retirement benefits under the laws of this state, and their services shall be deemed to have been continuous. All such transfers and any abolishment of positions in the state personnel system shall be made and processed in accordance with state personnel system laws and rules and regulations.

23-60-211. Degrees. (1) Before a community college offers a two-year degree program with academic designation, as authorized by section 23-60-201, the community college shall determine the program designation for the degree. A two-year degree program with academic designation shall only be for a degree program that has a valid student transfer agreement pursuant to section 23-1-108 (7); except that a community college may offer a two-year degree program with academic designation in dental hygiene without a valid student transfer agreement. The community college shall then submit the degree program designation to the board for its review and approval. The community college may offer the degree program only after it has been approved by the board and by the Colorado commission on higher education. The community college shall exclusively use the degree program designation name in official publications, course catalogs, diplomas, and official transcripts.

(2) Successful completion of an associate of arts or associate of science degree with academic designation does not guarantee the degree holder admission to a four-year state-supported institution of higher education; nor does it guarantee the degree holder automatic transfer of credits unless the degree holder has fulfilled the requirements of an existing statewide transfer agreement.

23-60-302. Approval for postsecondary occupational programs. The board shall review each proposal by any board of cooperative services for the establishment of any new postsecondary program of occupational education and shall transmit its decision thereon to such board of cooperative services within ninety days after receipt of such proposal. No board of cooperative services shall establish a new postsecondary program of occupational education without first obtaining approval from the board.

23-60-303. Acceptance of congressional acts. (1) The state of Colorado accepts the provisions, terms, and conditions of the acts of the congress of the United States, known as the “Smith-Hughes Vocational Education Act” (Pub.L. 347), the “George-Barden Vocational Education Act of 1946” (Pub.L. 586), the “Vocational Education Act of 1963” (Pub.L. 210), and that portion of the “Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962” (Pub.L. 415) which is administered by any educational agencies, and any amendments enacted by the congress to any of said acts.

(2) The state board for community colleges and occupational education is designated as the state board for vocational education and declared to be the sole agency for purposes of compliance with the said acts of congress and with any subsequent and future acts of congress requiring the designation of a state agency for the administration of the state plan of vocational education and for receiving and administering funds appropriated by the congress for programs of vocational education. The state board for community colleges and occupational education is also designated as the state approving agency pursuant to section 1771 of title 38, United States Code.

(3) The state treasurer is hereby appointed custodian of the funds due and payable to the state of Colorado by the said acts of congress and is authorized to pay out such funds on warrants drawn by the controller on the order of the board.

ANNOTATION

In the field of federal-state cooperation in the disbursement of federal assistance through state agencies, state enabling legislation is generally enacted, such as this section which specifically provides for the acceptance of the provisions, terms, and conditions of cer- tain congressional acts and designates the state board as the sole agency for compliance with those particular congressional acts. Colo. Polytechnic Coll. v. State Bd. for Cmty. Colls., 173 Colo. 39, 476 P.2d 38 (1970).

23-60-304. Plans - development and implementation - credentialing - fees.

(1) The board shall prepare state plans for occupational education in this state that are required for compliance with any acts of congress which require a state plan for vocational education and shall prepare or approve such further plans for occupational education programs as it deems necessary.

(2) The board shall provide for the implementation of state plans for occupational education and for this purpose may enter into contracts with or purchase services from the governing bodies of school districts, boards of cooperative services, junior college districts, other approved local educational agencies, state institutions of higher education, private vocational schools that have been approved under the provisions of article 59 of title 12, C.R.S., and other appropriate agencies and institutions.

(3) (a) The state plans for occupational education shall include provisions relating to the training of teachers and administrators of occupational subjects and programs, and the board shall take steps to implement these provisions. The board shall also establish minimum qualifications necessary for teachers of occupational subjects, teacher-trainers, supervisors, directors, occupational counseling specialists, and others having responsibilities in connection with occupational education at both the secondary and postsecondary levels and shall certify these qualifications to the department of education.

(b) Credentials to teach an occupational subject or program shall be issued as follows:

(I) The board shall issue a credential to a person specified in this subsection (3) who teaches an occupational subject or program at the postsecondary level and who meets the established minimum qualifications; except that the board may delegate to a postsecondary institution the authority to issue the credential. The board shall establish and charge fees for the issuance of a credential issued pursuant to this subparagraph (I). The amount of the fee shall be determined by the board on the basis of the direct and indirect cost of providing the service. If a postsecondary institution issues a credential, that postsecondary institution may charge the fee established by the board.

(II) The department of education shall issue a credential to a person specified in this subsection (3) who has responsibility for an occupational subject or program at the secondary level and who meets the minimum qualifications established by the board. The state board of education shall establish and charge fees pursuant to sections 22-2-132 and 22-60.5-112, C.R.S., for the issuance of a credential pursuant to this subparagraph (II).

(4) (a) The board has the authority to enter into cooperative arrangements with the system of public employment offices in the state, in order to make available to appropriate educational agencies all occupational information possessed by such employment offices regarding reasonable prospects of employment in the community and elsewhere, so that such agencies may consider such information in providing occupational guidance and counseling to students and prospective students, and in determining the occupations for which persons should be trained, and in order to make available to the public employment offices information possessed by guidance and counseling personnel regarding the qualifications of persons leaving or completing occupational education programs, so that the employment offices may be aided in the occupational guidance and placement of such persons.

(b) The board shall enter into a cooperative arrangement with the state department of human services to develop:

(I) Appropriate educational and academic training programs for participants in the Colorado works program, created in part 7 of article 2 of title 26, C.R.S., based upon the job market analysis prepared in accordance with section 26-2-712 (10), C.R.S.; and

(II) A tuition voucher system pursuant to which a participant in the Colorado works program, created in part 7 of article 2 of title 26, C.R.S., may attend courses at an institution in the state's system of community and technical colleges by using a tuition voucher.

(5) The board shall establish a comprehensive plan for the role of occupational education in support of overall state educational policy that includes improved criteria to measure the quantity, quality, and cost of occupational education in Colorado, alternative funding mechanisms for occupational education including the possibility of private sector support of specialized programming, and a determination of how the board will coordinate among the various agencies responsible for providing vocational and occupational education in Colorado. The plan shall be contained in a report to be submitted to the Colorado commission on higher education on or before January 15, 1987.

(6) The board shall enter into a cooperative arrangement with the division of fire prevention and control in the department of public safety to develop a system in which a qualified volunteer firefighter may receive a tuition voucher to attend courses at an institution in the state system of community and technical colleges in accordance with section 24-33.5-1216, C.R.S.

23-60-306. Colorado customized training program - creation - policy - functions of the state board for community colleges and occupational education. (1) This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Colorado Customized Training Act".

(2) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares:

(I) That it is the policy of this state to encourage quality economic development by providing incentives for the location of new industries or the expansion of existing firms, thereby improving employment opportunities for the citizens of this state; that skilled labor availability is a key element in new or expanding company plant location or expansion decisions; and that, during site selection negotiations, the ability to guarantee a trained local work force to match the new or expanding company's specific job skill needs is crucial to the improvement of the economic development capabilities of this state and for competition with other states offering similar programs; and

(II) That fast-track training, involving highly intensive, short-duration skill training for specific jobs, is necessary to provide the unemployed and underemployed with an economic development training program to allow them to compete for newly created jobs, and that job-specific, start-up training provides job-seekers with the skills necessary to increase their productivity, to increase their wages, and to reduce their need for public support.

(b) Therefore, it is hereby declared to be the policy of this state to promote the health, safety, opportunity for gainful employment, business opportunities, increased productivity, and general welfare of the inhabitants of this state by the creation of the Colorado customized training program.

(3) (a) There is hereby created the Colorado customized training program within the board. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6) of this section, said program shall be operated as a joint effort with the department of local affairs and in cooperation with the department of labor and employment, the department of human services, and state and local education agencies.

(b) Training for new jobs may include any of the following or any combination thereof:

(I) Preemployment training of workers;

(II) Training of workers upon first being hired;

(III) Retraining of workers for new job openings when they have lost their previous jobs because of plant closings or have been displaced by technological changes.

(c) Training shall not be provided by the Colorado customized training program when a trained and experienced work force, seeking employment, already exists in the local labor market.

(d) Training shall be initiated by the Colorado customized training program only when the participating new or expanding company has identified specific job openings and has agreed to give any graduates of the Colorado customized training program hiring priority.

(e) The payment of all direct costs of the training programs specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) shall be made from moneys available for the Colorado customized training program. Direct costs shall include:

(I) Instructor wages, travel, and per diem allowances;

(II) Lease of training equipment;

(III) Lease of training space;

(IV) Purchase of training supplies;

(V) Development of instructional materials; and

(VI) Administrative costs directly associated with each training session.

(f) Moneys of the Colorado customized training program shall not be used to pay wages or stipends to trainees during a training session.

(g) Any training session sponsored by the Colorado customized training program shall last no longer than the time required to provide local workers with specific job skills required by a participating firm.

(h) The board and the department of local affairs shall work with business and industry representatives to jointly develop specific training programs sponsored by the Colorado customized training program for the purposes specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3). Such training programs shall emphasize the training or retraining of workers for the benefit of small businesses.

(i) Training programs shall not be established if such training is available through Colorado's regular vocational or technical education system or the Colorado apprenticeship and training program.

(j) Existing vocational or technical education facilities and resources shall be used in the Colorado customized training program whenever such resources are available. The Colorado customized training program shall be coordinated through existing vocational or technical education institutions.

(k) Training programs shall be designed with the direct cooperation and approval of the participating company. The participating company may be requested to contribute technical expertise, machinery, training space, moneys, and other appropriate resources in order to improve program effectiveness.

(l) Moneys available for the Colorado customized training program shall be expended for the alleviation of unemployment, underemployment, economic distress, low productivity, or employment dislocation through the initiation of economic development and advanced technology training programs. At the discretion of the board, up to one hundred percent of all moneys available for the Colorado customized training program may be transferred to the Colorado existing industry training program created by section 23-60-307, for the purpose of providing funding to meet any existing demand for training and education programs within existing industries. The board shall consider the retention and expansion of existing business and industry as a high priority when making funding decisions.

(m) Beginning January 1, 1985, and each January 1 thereafter, the state board for community colleges and occupational education shall report to the joint budget committee and the legislative audit committee on the cost-effectiveness of the Colorado customized training program in assisting economic development in Colorado.

(n) Moneys available for the Colorado customized training program may be used by the board to offset partially or fully the cost of nonresident tuition at state institutions of higher education for relocated employees of companies which currently participate in the Colorado customized training program and have located new facilities in Colorado or which have expanded their operations in Colorado and for the dependents of such relocated employees.

(n.5) Moneys may be available from the Colorado customized training program for use in training potential employees, establishing programs related to training, and helping companies to train employees.

(o) Recognizing that customized training is a matter of statewide concern, the commission shall establish policies pursuant to section 23-1-105 to allow for annual general funding recommendations for customized training programs which are not otherwise funded under this section.

(4) The state board for community colleges and occupational education is authorized to accept, receive, and expend grants, gifts, and moneys from any source for the purpose of implementing its duties and functions under this section.

(5) The provisions of article 8 of this title, concerning state assistance for vocational education program support, shall not apply to the Colorado customized training program.

(6) On and after July 1, 2000, the Colorado office of economic development shall execute, administer, perform, and enforce the rights, powers, duties, functions, and obligations previously vested in the department of local affairs under this section.

23-60-307. Colorado existing industry training program - creation - policy - functions of the state board for community colleges and occupational education.

(1) This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Colorado Existing Industry Training Act".

(2) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares:

(I) That it is the policy of this state to maintain our economic health and vitality by ensuring the availability of a skilled labor force by assisting existing Colorado companies, especially ones undergoing major technological change, to train and retrain their workers for specific jobs and thereby keep our industries profitable and competitive; and

(II) That job-specific, existing industry training is necessary to ensure job retention for workers currently employed and improve job opportunities for our citizens newly entering the job market by providing workers with enhanced skills necessary to increase their competency, to remain employed, and to prevent worker dislocation including the subsequent need for public support; and

(III) That technical assistance can be made available by our industries to our training institutions, since such institutions do not have the resources to constantly upgrade or buy new equipment and to maintain the sophisticated plant environments currently found in industry.

(b) Therefore, it is hereby declared to be the policy of this state to promote the health, safety, opportunity for gainful employment, business opportunities, increased productivity, and general welfare of the inhabitants of this state by the creation of the Colorado existing industry training program.

(3) (a) There is hereby created the Colorado existing industry training program within the state board for community colleges and occupational education. Said program shall be jointly administered by the state board of community colleges and occupational education and the Colorado office of economic development in cooperation with the department of labor and employment, governor's job training office, state and local education agencies and private industry councils (in the planning and review process), and approved joint apprenticeship programs.

(b) The program shall provide training or retraining workers for companies being affected by major technological change or for situations where training is deemed crucial for the company and for worker retention. The program shall give first priority to Colorado-based industries which are being affected by technological change, causing a decline in business which may result in dislocation of its work force by imminent layoffs which may impact the community where the company is located. No preference in selection shall be given based on the location of a business in the state. The determinations required by this paragraph (b) shall be made after considering the financial condition of applicant companies, on-site visits to applicant companies, and joint evaluations thereof by the state board for community colleges and occupational education and the Colorado office of economic development as joint operators of the program. Training or retraining under the program may include any of the following or any combination thereof:

(I) Training for permanent, nonretail sector jobs which have significant career opportunities and require substantive instruction;

(II) Upgrade training or retraining of workers in situations where training is required for continued employment and to minimize worker dislocation.

(c) A company must agree to act as sponsor in the development and implementation of the training program.

(d) Training shall be nonduplicative of existing course offerings provided by the community college or vocational-technical institution in the local area, whenever possible; except that the community college or vocational-technical institution shall contract with other approved training entities, public or private, or both, where said entities can provide the training at less cost.

(e) The payment of all direct costs of training programs specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) shall be made from moneys available for the Colorado existing industry training program. Direct training costs shall include:

(I) Assessment and testing;

(II) Instructor wages, per diem, and travel;

(III) Curriculum development and training materials;

(IV) Lease of training equipment and training space.

(f) Moneys of the Colorado existing industry training program shall not be used to pay wages or stipends to trainees during a training session.

(g) Training assistance shall be encouraged for small and rural companies, although not limited to such companies.

(h) Forty percent of training costs must be financed by the sponsoring company in cash or in-kind expenditures. The company shall also be encouraged to participate with in-kind contributions of training space, training equipment, training supplies, and technical assistance.

(i) Training programs shall be designed with the direct participation of the sponsoring company.

(j) Any training session sponsored by the Colorado existing industry training program shall last no longer than the time required to provide workers with the job skills required by the sponsoring company.

(k) Moneys available for the Colorado existing industry training program shall be expended for the prevention of unemployment to minimize worker dislocation.

(l) and (m) Repealed.

(4) There is hereby created in the state treasury the Colorado existing industry training cash fund that shall consist of all moneys credited thereto pursuant to this subsection (4) and as otherwise provided by law. The general assembly shall make annual appropriations for fiscal years commencing on or after July 1, 1990, from the Colorado existing industry training cash fund to the state board for community colleges and occupational education for allocation to the Colorado existing industry training program for the implementation of this section.

(5) The state board of community colleges and occupational education is authorized to accept, receive, and expend grants, gifts, and moneys from any source for the purpose of implementing its duties and functions under this section.

MISCELLANEOUS

23-60-501. Transfer of funds, property, etc. (1) On July 1, 1967, all funds remaining to the credit of the former state board for vocational education and all property, including office furniture and fixtures, books, documents, and records, of the former state board for vocational education are transferred to the state board for community colleges and occupational education.

(2) On July 1, 1967, all funds previously appropriated to the state board of education for the operation of the division of education beyond high school for the junior college function and the adult education function, but not including the programs of adult basic education, adult high school completion, adult education for civil defense, and general public school adult education, and all property, including office furniture and fixtures, books, documents, and records, relating to such transferred functions of the division of education beyond high school are transferred to the state board for community colleges and occupational education.

WORKPLACE LITERACY PROGRAMS

23-60-601. Certification of programs. (1) In the interest of promoting adult literacy, the state board for community colleges and occupational education, in consultation with the college advisory councils of the community and junior colleges, shall develop and employ a program of certification for workplace literacy programs.

(2) Certification shall identify those programs, completion of which shall be accepted as satisfaction of basic skill prerequisites and placement testing for occupational training in the state system of community and junior colleges. Exemption from placement testing shall be available to anyone satisfactorily completing a certified workplace literacy program within one year of enrollment in any junior or community college. For purposes of this section, the term "basic skill prerequisites" means instruction in basic literacy and math skills which are necessary for placement in certificate and degree course programs at state community or junior colleges.

(3) The board shall develop and establish criteria, procedures, and accountability standards for the certification of workplace literacy programs. Nothing in this section shall be construed to restrict the operation of any workplace literacy program which is not certified according to the terms of this section, but no community or junior college shall credit completion in the workplace of basic skill prerequisites which are not completed in a certified program.

PRIVATE OCCUPATIONAL SCHOOL DIVISION

23-60-701. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, pursuant to article 59 of title 12, C.R.S., there is a demonstrated need for statewide administration of private occupational schools in order to provide standards for, foster improvements of, and protect the citizens of this state against fraudulent or substandard educational services in private occupational schools. Therefore, the general assembly has determined that the overall responsibility for such administration and for ensuring compliance with article 59 of title 12, C.R.S., should be placed with a division that has only this responsibility. The statutes for the implementation of this division are located in article 59 of title 12, C.R.S.

AREA VOCATIONAL SCHOOLS

23-60-801. Area vocational schools - name. The school district board of education or the board of cooperative services, whichever is applicable, that acts as the governing board of an area vocational school may, by resolution, rename the area vocational school to identify it as a technical college. Identifying an area vocational school as a technical college shall not change its status as an area vocational school nor change the governance or operation of the area vocational school.

Source: L. 2004: Entire part added, p. 929, § 2, effective August 4.

23-60-802. Area vocational schools - credits - transfer. On or before September 1, 2004, the board shall adopt policies to ensure that, if a student completes a program of study at an area vocational school and subsequently enrolls in an institution within the state system of community and technical colleges, or transfers from an area vocational school to an institution within the state system of community and technical colleges, any postsecondary course credits earned by the student while enrolled in the area vocational school will apply in full at another area vocational school or to an appropriate program leading to a certificate or to an associate degree at a community or technical college. Postsecondary credits earned by a student at an area vocational school may be transferred into an associate degree program at a community college or into a degree program at a four-year institution of higher education as provided in section 23-1-108 (7) and the state credit transfer policies established by the Colorado commission on higher education.

ORGANIZATION

23-61.5-101. Formation - petition of electors. (1) Any area or part of an area of the state which is designated by the state board for community colleges and occupational education as an area to be served by an area vocational school and which also contains a junior college district which is designated as an area vocational school pursuant to article 60 of this title may be formed as an area vocational district as provided in this part 1.

(2) An area vocational district may be formed upon the petition of five hundred eligible electors as defined in section 23-61.5-104. If the petition is for the formation of an area vocational district consisting of an area within a single county, it shall be filed with the county clerk and recorder of the county, and, if the petition is for the formation of an area vocational district situated in two or more counties, a copy of the petition shall be filed with the county clerk and recorder of each county in which a part of the district is located. The petition shall also set forth the rate of the levy which will be imposed to meet expenses during the fiscal year which immediately follows the year in which the election is held.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 812, § 1, effective June 1. L. 92: (2) amended, p. 844, § 41, effective January 1, 1993.

23-61.5-102. Election to organize. Upon receipt of the petition provided in section 23-61.5-101, the county clerk and recorder shall give notice to the eligible electors of the respective school districts located in the area of the proposed area vocational district that at the next regular biennial school election, or at a special election which may be called for the purpose, the question of organizing an area vocational district will be submitted to them.

23-61.5-104. Eligible electors - conduct of election. (1) An eligible elector is an elector who has complied with the registration provisions of article 2 of title 1, C.R.S., and who resides within the jurisdiction of the area vocational district. At the time and place of the election, the electors shall proceed to vote by ballot on the question of whether or not the proposed district shall be organized. The ballot shall also contain the rate of the levy to be imposed to meet expenses during the fiscal year which immediately follows the year in which the election is held. Those in favor of the organization shall vote for the organization and those opposed shall vote against the organization.

(2) All elections authorized under this article shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of articles 1 to 13 of title 1, C.R.S. The county clerk and recorder in each county in which a part of the district is located shall be the designated election official for an organizational election. Thereafter the designated election official shall be the secretary of the board unless otherwise provided by the board.

23-61.5-107. Board of control - members and terms - meetings - officers. (1) Each area vocational district established pursuant to this part 1 shall have a board of control, referred to in this article as the “board”. The board shall consist of the members of the board of control of the junior college district contained in the area vocational district and one member from each of the school districts contained in the area vocational district, who shall be appointed by the school district’s board of directors for a term of three years.

(2) The board shall meet and select from among its members a president, a secretary, and a treasurer. The board shall prescribe by resolution the duties of said officers. In addition to other powers provided by resolution, the president shall preside over meetings of the board and shall vote as a member of the board.

(3) The regular meetings of the board shall be held as the board shall decide; except that there shall be no less than four regular meetings each year. Additional or special meetings may be held upon call of the president or a majority of the board. The secretary of the board shall notify the members of all meetings. All special and regular meetings of the board shall be held at locations which are within the boundaries of the district or which are within the boundaries of any county in which the district is located, in whole or in part, or in any county so long as the meeting location does not exceed twenty miles from the district boundaries. The provisions of this subsection (3) governing the location of meetings may be waived only if the following criteria are met:

(a) The proposed change of location of a meeting of the board appears on the agenda of a regular or special meeting of the board; and

(b) A resolution is adopted by the board stating the reason for which a meeting of the board is to be held in a location other than under the provisions of this subsection (3) and further stating the date, time, and place of such meeting.

23-61.5-109. Powers of board. (1) In addition to any other powers granted by law to the board, such board shall have the following powers:

- (a) To have and use a corporate seal;
- (b) To sue and be sued in its own name;
- (c) To incur debts, liabilities, and obligations;
- (d) To employ agents and employees;
- (e) To cooperate and contract with the state or federal government or any agencies or instrumentalities thereof and to apply for and receive grants or financial assistance from any of such entities;
- (f) To act as and on behalf of the state of Colorado pursuant to a statutory authorization;
- (g) To acquire, hold, lease, sell, or otherwise dispose of any real or personal property, commodity, or service;
- (h) To adopt, by resolution, regulations necessary for the accomplishment or performance of the powers granted by law;

(i) To exercise any other powers which are essential to carrying out the provisions of this article;

(j) To do or perform any acts authorized by this section by means of an agent or by contract with any person, firm, or corporation;

(k) To provide for the necessary expenses of the board in the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties and reimburse a board member for necessary expenses incurred by him in the performance of his official duties, whether within or without the territorial limits of the district.

23-61.5-112. Additions to district - procedure. (1) If any part of the area designated by the state board for community colleges and occupational education as an area to be served by an area vocational school desires to be annexed to an existing area vocational district, it may do so by the following procedure:

(a) By obtaining approval of the existing area vocational district. The approval shall be given only upon a majority vote of the eligible electors of the existing area vocational district as expressed by a majority polled at the time of the regular biennial school election held in the area vocational district. The election shall be called only upon the affirmative vote of the board.

(b) By obtaining approval of the eligible electors residing in the part of the designated area desiring to be annexed voting on the question of annexation at a regular biennial school election. The election shall be called only upon the filing of a petition for inclusion with the county clerk and recorder of the county in which the part is located or with the county clerk and recorder of each county in which a part is located if the part is located in more than one county. The petition shall be signed by ten percent of the eligible electors who reside in the part. The provisions of sections 23-61.5-104 and 23-61.5-106 shall apply to the election. If more than a majority of all votes cast at the election are in favor of the inclusion, the part shall be included in the area vocational district.

23-61.5-113. Dissolution of district. Any area vocational district may be dissolved in the following manner: A plan for the dissolution of the area vocational district may be submitted to the eligible electors of the area vocational district at a special election held for that purpose. The plan shall provide for the payment of all district debts and liabilities and the distribution of all district assets. If the eligible electors authorize the dissolution by a vote of the majority of electors voting at the special election, the board shall proceed to carry out the plan so authorized and, upon accomplishment thereof, shall file its certificate of that fact with the county clerk and recorder of the county wherein the district is situate. Thereupon, the district shall be considered dissolved. If any property or funds remain in the hands of the board, credit after the dissolution of the property or funds shall be distributed as provided in the plan of dissolution for the distribution of the assets of the area vocational district.

LEVY AND COLLECTION OF TAXES

23-61.5-201. Procedure. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the board shall determine in each year the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation and shall fix a rate of levy which, when levied upon every dollar of valuation for assessment of taxable property within the district, will raise the amount required by the district annually to supply funds to defray its expenses, including but not limited to the cost of postsecondary vocational services provided by the area vocational school and capital construction.

(2) The first rate of levy to be imposed shall be the mill levy which was contained in the petition for organization and which was voted upon in the election for organization. Thereafter, the rate of levy shall be determined as provided for in subsection (1) of this section.

(3) In accordance with the schedule prescribed by section 39-5-128, C.R.S., the board shall certify to the board of county commissioners of each county within the district, or having a portion of its territory within the district, the rate so fixed in order that, at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes, such board of county commissioners shall levy such tax upon the valuation for assessment of all taxable property within the district.

23-61.5-202. County officers to levy and collect - lien. It is the duty of the body having authority to levy taxes within each county to levy the taxes provided by section 23-61.5-201. It is the duty of all officials charged with the duty of collecting taxes to collect such taxes at the time and in the form and manner and with like interest and penalties as other taxes are collected and when collected to pay the same to the district. The payment of such collections shall be made monthly to the treasurer of the district. All taxes levied under this part 2, together with interest thereon and penalties for default in payment thereof, and all costs of collecting the same shall constitute, until paid, a perpetual lien on and against the property taxed, and such lien shall be on a parity with the tax lien of other general taxes.

23-61.5-203. Sale for delinquencies. If the taxes levied are not paid, delinquent real property shall be sold at the regular tax sale for the payment of said taxes, interest, and penalties in the manner provided by the statutes of this state for selling real property for the nonpayment of general taxes. If there are no bids at said tax sale for the property so offered, said property shall be struck off to the county, and the county shall account to the district in the same manner as provided by law for accounting for school, town, and city taxes. Delinquent personal property shall be distrained and sold as provided by law.

(a) Provide for the coordination of the planning and construction of a multiinstitutional higher education complex located in the city and county of Denver on land designated therefor and on land now occupied by the university of Colorado at Denver, collectively known as the Auraria higher education center and referred to in this article as the “center”;

(b) Provide for the land, physical plant, and facilities necessary to accommodate and house Metropolitan state university of Denver, the university of Colorado at Denver, and the community college of Denver, Auraria campus, referred to in this article as the “constituent institutions”, at and within the center;

(c) Facilitate the execution and performance of the constitutional and statutory responsibilities of the governing boards of the constituent institutions;

(d) Establish a new board to plan, construct, maintain, and manage the land and physical facilities of the center and perform the duties and exercise the powers otherwise set forth in this article;

(e) Provide a system for facilitating cooperation among the constituent institutions, their governing boards, and the governing board created by this article; and

(f) Facilitate, in conjunction with the private sector, the development of facilities at and within the center for the purposes of providing moneys to the center, providing occupational and educational opportunities consistent with the mission of the constituent institutions, and integrating the center with the adjacent Denver area.

23-70-101.5. Board abolished. Effective July 1, 1989, the existing board of directors of the Auraria higher education center is abolished, and the terms of members of the board then serving are terminated.

23-70-102. Auraria board - membership - terms - oaths - voting. (1) Effective July 1, 1989, there is hereby created a new board of directors of the Auraria higher education center, referred to in this article as the “Auraria board”, which shall consist of nine members and two ex officio nonvoting members. The members of the Auraria board shall be chosen in the following manner:

(a) (I) Three lay members appointed by the governor as soon as practicable after July 1, 1989, the first of whom shall serve for a term of one year, the second for a term of two years, and the third for a term of three years; thereafter, gubernatorial appointments shall be for three-year terms. All lay members appointed shall be residents of the Denver metropolitan area.

(II) In the event of death, resignation, or inability or refusal to act of any such appointed member, the governor shall fill the vacancy for the remainder of the term. Any vacancy in the elected office on the board shall be filled by reelection for the unexpired term.

(b) (I) The chief executive officers, respectively, of the regents of the university of Colorado, the board of trustees for Metropolitan state university of Denver, and the state board for community colleges and occupational education, or their designees, who shall be limited to the chancellor of the university of Colorado at Denver, the president of Metropolitan state university of Denver, and the president of the community college of Denver, respectively.

(II) Three members, one appointed by, and from among the members of, each of the following boards: The state board for community colleges and occupational education, the board of trustees for Metropolitan state university of Denver, and the regents of the university of Colorado, each such member to serve at the pleasure of the appointing board so long as he or she is a member of the appointing board.

(c) (I) An advisory committee of six members who are full-time students shall be elected, two from each of the student bodies of each of the three institutions governed by the Auraria board, and it shall elect one of its members to fill one office on the Auraria board to serve for one term beginning July 1. Said elected office shall be advisory, without the right to vote. The elected member of the board shall have resided in the state of Colorado not less than three years prior to his or her election.

(II) Repealed.

(III) In the event of death, resignation, or inability or refusal to act of any such elected member of the student advisory committee, the student governing body of the institution with the vacancy shall appoint a full-time student from that institution to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the term.

(d) (I) An advisory committee of six members who are full-time faculty members shall be elected, two from each of the faculties of each of the three institutions governed by the Auraria board, and it shall elect one of its members to fill the remaining office on the Auraria board to serve for one-year terms beginning each July 1. The committee shall select such a member from the same institution only once in the same three-year period. Said elected office shall be advisory, without the right to vote. The elected member of the board shall have resided in the state of Colorado not less than three years prior to his or her election.

(II) Repealed.

(III) In the event of death, resignation, or inability or refusal to act of any such elected member of the faculty advisory committee, the faculty governing body of the institution with the vacancy shall appoint a full-time faculty member from that institution to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the term.

(2) Each member of the Auraria board shall take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state before entering upon the duties of his office, which oath shall be placed and kept on file in the office of the secretary of state.

(3) All actions by the Auraria board shall be by majority vote, but, on all actions taken in which both representatives from any single system or institution have voted in the minority, the majority opinion shall prevail only if it is supported by a majority of the lay members of the Auraria board.

(4) In any instance in which no majority opinion can prevail under the terms of subsection (3) of this section, the Auraria board shall have sixty days in which to reach a determination by prevailing majority vote. If no majority determination is reached within sixty days, the commission on higher education shall thereafter consider and determine the issue at its next meeting.

(5) The Auraria board shall elect a chairman from among the lay members of the board who shall act as chairman at meetings of said board and as such board's representative in official dealings with third parties.

(6) Repealed.

23-70-103. Responsibility of governing boards of constituent institutions. (1) Except as may be expressly provided in this article, the respective governing boards of the constituent institutions are charged with the responsibility for, and shall plan, initiate, manage, and control, their respective programs within the Colorado system of higher education as provided in this article; and, in addition, said respective boards shall initiate and control joint academic and vocational programs among two or more of the constituent institutions at the center.

(2) The respective governing boards of the constituent institutions shall provide for a common academic calendar which is sufficient so that students may begin, make progress toward, and complete a course at a time which will allow full opportunity for enrollment in courses offered at any of the three constituent institutions. Registration periods shall coincide and the academic year shall commence and terminate simultaneously.

(3) The respective governing boards of the constituent institutions shall provide that credits earned at each of the constituent institutions shall be transferable between institutions insofar as they meet the degree and grade requirements of the student's chosen program of studies at one of the constituent institutions as determined by the degree-granting institution.

(4) The governing boards, through their respective chief executive officers, with the participation of the executive director of the commission on higher education, shall jointly draft a memorandum of agreement covering interinstitutional issues at the Auraria campus. The memorandum of agreement shall provide guidance and direction to the Auraria board in the determination of operationally related matters but shall not bind or otherwise limit the board in its authority to manage the Auraria campus. An initial memorandum of agreement shall be submitted to the commission on higher education to be forwarded to the general assembly not later than January 15, 1990.

23-70-104. Duties of the Auraria board. (1) The Auraria board has the duty:

(a) To acquire, plan, construct, own, lease, operate, maintain, manage, or dispose of all of the physical plant, facilities, buildings, and grounds in the center (except that land owned at the Auraria center by the regents of the university of Colorado shall continue under such ownership but shall be maintained and managed in a similar manner to the other facilities in the Auraria center) and such additional land and facilities as the Colorado commission on higher education may from time to time designate and approve and to accept and hold for the use of the center and its constituent institutions such property as was designated or used prior to May 13, 1974, for purposes of the center or its constituent institutions;

(b) To allocate among and assign to the constituent institutions, in accordance with needs, suitable space within the center for the use of such institutions and for such joint or cooperative educational, vocational, and other activities and programs as may be provided by the constituent institutions;

(c) To facilitate effective coordination and economies of operation of physical facilities by designating joint facilities of the constituent institutions, to include, but not be limited to, auxiliary facilities, as defined in section 23-5-101.5 (2) (a);

(d) To determine and designate the nonacademic and nonvocational joint programs or joint activities of the constituent institutions, to include, but not be limited to, security and fire protection, maintenance, and purchasing;

(e) To continually develop, review, and update annually a long-range plan for operation of the center. There shall be a five-year forecast of the operational costs and capital construction costs, which shall be submitted to the general assembly no later than January 1 of each year, commencing January 1, 1975.

(f) To decide interinstitutional disputes presented to the Auraria board by any one or more of the constituent institutions pursuant to section 23-70-106.5; and

(g) To investigate supplementary or alternative methods for delivery of selected higher educational services through the use of existing campuses and facilities in Denver and the metropolitan area.

23-70-105. General powers of the Auraria board. (1) The Auraria board is a body corporate by the name and style of the board of directors of the Auraria higher education center and, as such and by its said name, has the power to:

- (a) Sue or be sued to the extent permitted by law;
- (b) Contract or be contracted with;
- (c) Acquire, hold, lease as lessor or lessee, or dispose of property, both real and personal;
- (d) Have a common seal which it may change and alter at its pleasure;
- (e) Elect officers of the board, appoint a chairman, and promulgate bylaws and rules of procedure to govern the transaction of its business as provided in this article;
- (f) Employ, within funds appropriated for such purpose or otherwise made available therefor, such employees as are necessary to perform the functions and carry out the duties of the Auraria board, including an executive vice-president for administration who shall be the chief executive officer for operations at the Auraria campus;
- (g) Assess, after approval of the governing boards of the constituent institutions, a special student fee, which may be pledged as provided in section 23-70-108 and shall be collected as prescribed by the Auraria board; and
- (h) Do all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this article in like manner as municipal corporations of this state, including but not limited to the power to approve special districts wholly contained within the boundaries of the center in accordance with section 32-1-204.5, C.R.S., as if the board were a municipal corporation.

23-70-105.5. Public-private developments - definitions. (1) As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires, “complementary facility” means a facility, located at or within the center, that may provide moneys for the center, provide occupational and educational opportunities consistent with the respective missions of the constituent institutions, or facilitate integration of the center with the adjacent Denver area. “Complementary facility” may include, but need not be limited to, an office, retail, restaurant, residential, or mixed-use facility.

(2) The Auraria board shall have the power and authority to develop, construct, hold, lease, and dispose of complementary facilities and to facilitate the development and construction of complementary facilities by entering into leases or other contractual arrangements with private persons or entities.

(3) The Auraria board shall have the same powers with respect to a complementary facility as it has with respect to auxiliary facilities under this article and under article 5 of this title.

(4) Without limiting the scope of any other power granted to the Auraria board in this article, the Auraria board shall have the power and authority to enter into one or more ground leases for portions of the center with private persons or entities, which lease shall require the lessee to develop a complementary facility upon the leased premises. The Auraria board shall not subordinate its interest in land subject to such a ground lease but may enter into attornment and nondisturbance agreements with any party providing financing to the lessee.

(5) Any moneys derived from a complementary facility shall be devoted first to payment of any debt service on bonds that are secured by the moneys and all expenses connected with the complementary facility and then to furthering the mission of the Auraria board and the center, including but not limited to applying the moneys pursuant to subsection (3) of this section. Moneys derived from a complementary facility shall be continuously appropriated to the Auraria board and shall remain in the control of the Auraria board and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

23-70-106. Auraria board to have certain powers similar to powers exercised by the governing bodies of other state institutions of higher education. (1) The Auraria board may exercise the following powers to the same extent and in the same manner as may be provided or extended by law to the governing boards of state institutions of higher education:

(a) To promulgate rules and regulations for the safety of students, employees, and property located within the center;

(b) To promulgate rules and regulations providing for the operation and parking of vehicles upon the grounds, driveways, or roadways within the center under the control of the Auraria board;

(c) To cede jurisdiction for the enforcement of traffic laws;

(d) To institute and carry out a system of registration and identification of vehicles owned or operated by students, faculty, and staff attending or employed by the constituent institutions and the Auraria staff located at the center; and

(e) To receive gifts and bequests of money or property which may be tendered to the Auraria board.

23-70-106.5. Resolution of disputes at Auraria center. (1) After notification to the affected chief executive officers, which notification provides for a deadline of not more than ten days for the resolution of a dispute, the chief executive officer of any governing board at the Auraria center, including the Auraria board, may request the Colorado commission on higher education to resolve a conflict concerning an academically related issue at the Auraria center. The commission shall have the authority to make the final decision to resolve the issue presented to it or may delegate its responsibility and authority for the final decision of the issue to the Auraria board. The decision of either the commission or the Auraria board shall be binding on all of the governing boards and institutions and on the Auraria board. It is the policy of the general assembly that the commission is encouraged to delegate to the Auraria board, to as great an extent as possible, its authority for making final decisions at the Auraria center.

(2) The chief executive officer of any governing board at the Auraria center, including the Auraria board, may request the Auraria board to resolve a conflict concerning the operation, administration, or use of the physical facilities at the Auraria center. The Auraria board shall have the authority to make the final decision to resolve the issue presented to it, and such decision shall be binding on all of the governing boards and institutions and on the Auraria board.

(3) All issues involving interinstitutional disputes at the Auraria center shall be considered as either academically related or operationally related, and the commission is authorized to determine whether it or the Auraria board shall have jurisdiction in regard to the resolution of the dispute.

23-70-107. Borrowing funds for auxiliary or complementary facilities. (1) For the purposes of obtaining funds for constructing, otherwise acquiring, and equipping auxiliary facilities, as defined in section 23-5-101.5 (2) (a), for the use of students and employees at the center, the Auraria board is authorized, after approval by the Colorado commission on higher education and subsequent affirmative vote by the combined student bodies of the Auraria campus if student fees are to be used in financing such projects, to enter into contracts with any one or more persons or corporations or state or federal government agencies for the advancement of moneys for such purposes and to provide for the repayment of such advancements with interest at a specified net effective interest rate.

(2) The Auraria board, by resolution, may issue revenue bonds on behalf of any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities managed by the Auraria board for the purpose of obtaining funds for constructing, otherwise acquiring, equipping, or operating such auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities. Any bonds issued on behalf of any auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities other than dining facilities, recreational facilities, health facilities, parking facilities, student center facilities, or research facilities which are funded from a revolving fund may be issued only after approval by both houses of the general assembly either by bill or by joint resolution and after approval by the governor in accordance with section 39 of article V of the state constitution. Bonds issued pursuant to this subsection (2) shall be payable only from revenues generated by the auxiliary facility or group of auxiliary facilities on behalf of which such bonds are issued. Such bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of section 23-70-108 (2).

(3) The Auraria board, by resolution, may issue revenue bonds secured by a pledge of lease payments or any other revenues derived from a complementary facility or group of complementary facilities for the purpose of raising moneys for constructing or otherwise acquiring and equipping any facility necessary or useful to the accomplishment of the mission of the Auraria board and the center. Bonds issued pursuant to this subsection (3) shall be payable only from revenues generated by the lease payments or by the complementary facility or group of complementary facilities that are subject to the pledge. The bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of section 23-70-108 (2).

(4) The Auraria board, by resolution, may issue revenue bonds secured by a pledge of rental payments or other payments to be received from a constituent institution or constituent institutions. The Auraria board shall use the proceeds of said bonds to acquire, construct, or equip any physical plant, facility, building, or ground within the center for the use of one or more constituent institutions pursuant to section 23-70-104. Bonds issued pursuant to this subsection (4) shall be payable only from payments received by the Auraria board from the constituent institutions for the acquisition, construction, or equipping of the physical plant, facility, building, or ground for which the bonds are issued. The bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of section 23-70-108 (2).

23-70-108. Pledge of income. (1) When the Auraria board enters into a contract for the advancement of moneys described in section 23-70-107, the board is authorized, in connection with or as a part of such contract, to pledge special student fees or the net income derived or to be derived from such land or facilities so constructed, acquired, and equipped or special student fees and said net income as security for the repayment of the moneys advanced therefor, together with interest thereon, and for the establishment and maintenance of reserves in connection therewith; and, for the same purpose, the Auraria board is also authorized to use the net income derived from the Tivoli brewery and parking areas associated with the Tivoli brewery and to pledge the net income derived from any other auxiliary facility which is not individually designated as an enterprise and which is not acquired and not to be acquired with moneys appropriated to the Auraria board by the state of Colorado and to pledge the net income, fees, and revenues derived from said sources, if such be unpledged, or, if pledged, the net income, fees, and revenues currently in excess of the amount required to meet principal, interest, and reserve requirements in connection with outstanding obligations to which such net income, fees, and revenues have theretofore been pledged.

(2) Any advancement of moneys may be evidenced by interim warrants, if necessary, and bonds to be executed by and on behalf of the Auraria board containing such terms and provisions, including provisions for redemption prior to maturity, as may be determined by the Auraria board. Such warrants or bonds may, at the discretion of the Auraria board, be registrable as to principal or interest, or both, and shall never be sold at less than ninety-five percent of the principal amount thereof and accrued interest thereon to the date of delivery or at a price which will result in a net effective interest rate which exceeds that specified in the contract for the advancement of moneys. Any of the warrants or bonds of the Auraria board issued pursuant to this section or any other law may be refunded pursuant to article 54 of title 11, C.R.S., if in the judgment of the Auraria board such refunding shall be to its best interests. Such refunding obligations may be made payable from any source which may be legally pledged for the payment of the obligations being refunded at the time of the issuance of the obligations so refunded or from any of the sources described in subsection (1) of this section, notwithstanding that the pledge for the payment of the outstanding obligations being refunded is thereby modified.

(3) In the event that the pledged net income, fees, and revenues exceed the amount required to meet principal, interest, and reserve requirements in connection with revenue bonds of the institution to which such income has been pledged, the Auraria board may retain such surplus and utilize the same for such purposes as in its judgment shall be in the best interests of the center, including, but not limited to, rehabilitation, alteration, addition to, or equipping of any existing auxiliary facilities, as defined in section 23-5-101.5 (2) (a), acquired pursuant to the provisions of this section and the acquisition of sites for the construction, acquisition, and equipping of additional auxiliary facilities pursuant to such provisions or for prior redemption of outstanding bonds. Use of such surplus shall be reviewed in advance by the student advisory committee to the Auraria board.

(4) Anticipation warrants or bonds issued pursuant to this section may be used as security for any depository bond or obligation where any kind of bond or other security must or may, by law, be deposited as security.

23-70-115. Directive - master plans. (1) In order to maximize economic and administrative efficiency at the Auraria center and to further the goals articulated in section 23-1-101, the general assembly finds it necessary that there be comprehensive academic and facilities master planning for the use and development of the Auraria center constituent institutions. Therefore, the governing boards of the constituent institutions and the Auraria board, in consultation with the Colorado commission on higher education, shall prepare comprehensive master plans according to the following requirements and schedule:

(a) On or before a date to be set by the Colorado commission on higher education, and in accordance with commission policies and procedures, the commission shall coordinate, and the governing boards of the constituent institutions shall submit to the commission, academic master plans for the constituent institutions. The coordinated academic master plans shall address all Auraria multiinstitutional issues that the commission determines to be relevant to the role and mission of each institution and academic program requirements for fulfilling that role and mission.

(b) The commission shall review the master plans and shall, after consultation with the governing boards, order revisions to the extent that the plans fail to maximize efficiency and academic program effectiveness. When approved by the commission, the academic master plans shall be submitted to the Auraria board which shall prepare a comprehensive facilities master plan for the Auraria constituent institutions. The facilities master plan shall be submitted to the commission at a date to be established by the commission.

23-70-116. Auraria library - economic development data base. (1) The library located at the center, which is administered by the university of Colorado at Denver and which serves Metropolitan state university of Denver and the community college of Denver, is hereby designated and shall be the site of the state economic development data base. The library shall compile data which is useful and relevant to persons concerned with economic development in the state, including but not limited to statistical and demographic profiles of Colorado communities, labor and market statistics, statutory and regulatory requirements for business formation, and such other information as will assist the creation, expansion, and relocation of business in Colorado. The library is authorized to receive and expend all moneys, public and private, tendered to it for the performance of its duties under this section. The department of local affairs shall assist the library in the performance of such duties.

(2) No policy shall be established that would prevent equal access by any individual or organization in the state of Colorado to the data base relating to economic development.

PART 1

JUNIOR COLLEGES - ORGANIZATION

Editor's note: This part 1 is similar to article 70 of title 22 as it existed prior to 1975.

23-71-101. Short title. This part 1 shall be known and may be cited as the "Junior College Organization Act".

Source: L. 75: Entire article added, p. 748, § 1, effective July 1.

23-71-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Junior college" means an educational institution that provides not more than two years of training in the arts, sciences, and humanities beyond the twelfth grade of the public high school curriculum or vocational education and that conducts occupational, technical, and community service programs, with no term limitations, and general education, including college transfer programs, with unrestricted admissions; except that Colorado mountain college, in addition to its mission as a junior college, may also offer no more than five baccalaureate degree programs as its board of trustees determines appropriate to address the needs of the communities within its service area and that are approved by the Colorado commission on higher education.

Cross references: For the legislative declaration in the 2010 act amending this section, see section 1 of chapter 335, Session Laws of Colorado 2010.

23-71-103. Districts organized - when. Junior college districts in Colorado may be organized in an area approved for organization by the state board for community colleges and occupational education. The area to be approved for organization shall also have a twelfth-grade school population, as determined by the immediately preceding school census, of four hundred or more and a valuation for assessment at the time of organization of such district of sixty million dollars or more. A district may be entirely within one county or partly in two or more counties. Any existing school districts shall be entirely included or entirely excluded.

23-71-104. Petition of electors. A junior college district may be formed upon the petition of five hundred eligible electors residing in the area of the proposed district and having the qualifications prescribed in section 23-71-107. If the petition is for the formation of a junior college district consisting of an area within a single county, it shall be filed with the county clerk and recorder of the county, and, if the petition is for the formation of a junior college district situated in two or more counties, the petition shall be filed with the secretary of state. Each petition shall specify whether a five-member board or a seven-member board shall be elected as the first board of trustees following a successful election to organize the junior college district.

23-71-105. Election to organize. Upon receipt of the petition provided in section 23-71-104, the county clerk and recorder or, in the event the proposed district is situated in two or more counties, the secretary of state shall review the petition to determine whether it contains the number of signatures required for an organizational election. In the event that the petition contains the requisite number of signatures, the county clerk and recorder or secretary of state shall give notice to the school electors residing in the area of the proposed district that at the next regular biennial school election, or at a special election which is requested in the petition, the question of organizing a junior college district will be submitted to the eligible electors of the respective school districts located in the area of the proposed junior college district.

23-71-107. Qualifications of voters - conduct of elections. (1) An eligible elector is an elector who has complied with the registration provisions of article 2 of title 1, C.R.S., and who resides within the jurisdiction of the proposed junior college district. All elections authorized under this article shall be conducted pursuant to articles 1 to 13 of title 1, C.R.S. The county clerk and recorder in each county in which a part of the district is located shall be the designated election official for an organizational election. Thereafter the designated election official shall be the secretary of the board, unless otherwise provided by the board.

23-71-109. Record of votes. (1) If the proposed junior college district is situated entirely within one county and a majority of the votes cast on the question of organizing a junior college district are in favor of the organization, the district shall be formed in accordance with the provisions of this part 1.

(2) If the proposed junior college district is situated in two or more counties, the respective county clerk and recorders, within ten days after the election, shall determine the results from the counties and shall certify the results to the secretary of state who shall survey the results. If a majority of all votes cast in the proposed district are in favor of the organization, the district shall be formed in accordance with the provisions of this part 1.

(3) If it appears that one-half or more of the votes cast are not in favor of the organization, the district shall not be organized; but the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the filing of a subsequent petition for the formation of a similar junior college district.

23-71-110. Election of board - members and terms. (1) Each public junior college district established under the provisions of this part 1 shall have a board of control, known as the board of trustees, consisting of either five members or seven members elected at public elections for staggered terms of four years each. The first board of trustees shall be elected in the manner provided in section 23-71-111. Thereafter, regular elections of board members shall be held in accordance with subsection (2) of this section.

(2) The regular election of the members of a board of trustees shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in odd-numbered years, as provided by law for regular biennial school elections in school districts. Special elections shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in February, May, September, or December.

(3) The board of trustees of each junior college district existing on or after July 1, 1984, and before July 1, 1986, shall determine whether the board of trustees shall consist of five members or seven members. The board of trustees of each junior college district created after July 1, 1986, shall consist of a five-member or seven-member board as specified in the organization petition. The board of trustees of each junior college district shall determine the number of vacancies existing and the length of term of each vacancy for the next and subsequent regular elections for board members. Except for the election of members who were appointed pursuant to subsection (8) of this section and section 23-71-121, this shall be done so that there will be no more than three vacancies at any regular election for a five-member board and four vacancies at any regular election for a seven-member board and so that each board member will have a term of four years.

(4) A board of trustees may establish board member districts for its junior college district if it determines that such districts are in the best interests of the junior college district. Such board member districts shall be established on the basis of nearly equal population or on the basis of geography and population if the junior college district consists of more than one county.

(5) Members of a board of trustees shall be elected at the regular biennial school election of school districts within the junior college district. Any person desiring to be a candidate for the office of trustee shall file a petition for nomination pursuant to section 1-4-803 and part 9 of article 4 of title 1, C.R.S. The election shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of articles 1 to 13 of title 1, C.R.S. The secretary of the board of trustees shall be the designated election official responsible for the election.

(7) The cost of the election of members of the board of trustees as provided in this section shall be paid by the junior college district in which the elections are conducted, or, in the event of a coordinated election, the costs shall be allocated pursuant to sections 1-5-506 and 1-5-507, C.R.S.

(8) Each junior college district which has a five-member board of trustees may increase the board membership to seven members at any time by the appointment of two new members. Each person appointed pursuant to this subsection (8) shall be appointed at least one hundred twenty days prior to the next regular biennial junior college election and shall serve only until such election and until his successor has been elected and has qualified.

23-71-111. Election of first board - new district. (1) In all junior college districts organized under the provisions of this part 1 or other applicable statutes on or after July 1, 1984, the first board of trustees shall be elected in the following manner:

(a) An election for members of the first board shall be called within sixty days of the successful election to organize the junior college district.

(b) At the election, a five-member board or a seven-member board as specified in the organization petition shall be elected so that the first board members shall serve staggered terms and thereafter their successors in office shall serve staggered terms of four years.

(c) The county clerk and recorder of each county included in the new junior college district shall call and conduct such election in the manner provided in section 23-71-107.

(d) The costs of the election of board members as provided in this section shall be paid by the junior college district in which the elections are conducted.

Regular meetings. The regular meetings of the junior college board of trustees shall be held as the board shall decide; except that there shall be no less than four regular meetings each year. Additional or special meetings may be held upon call of the president or a majority of the board. The secretary of the board shall notify the members of all meetings. All special and regular meetings of the board shall be held at locations which are within the boundaries of the district or which are within the boundaries of any county in which the district is located, in whole or in part, or in any county so long as the meeting location does not exceed twenty miles from the district boundaries. The provisions of this section governing the location of meetings may be waived only if the proposed change of location of a meeting of the board appears on the agenda of a regular or special meeting of the board and if a resolution is adopted by the board stating the reason for which a meeting of the board is to be held in a location other than under the provisions of this section and further stating the date, time, and place of such meeting.

23-71-121. Vacancies. (1) An office of a board member shall be deemed vacant if the person who was duly elected or appointed to the board:

(a) Does not attend three consecutive regular meetings of the board, unless such absence is excused by the board;

(b) Submits a written resignation to the board and such resignation is duly accepted by the board;

(c) Becomes a nonresident of the junior college district or board member district from which he was elected; or

(d) Dies during his term of office.

(2) At the next meeting of the board immediately following the occurrence of a vacancy, the board shall adopt a resolution declaring a vacancy in said office and shall appoint a person to fill the vacancy within sixty days after said vacancy has occurred. If the appointment is not made by the board within such sixty-day period, the president of the board shall forthwith appoint a person to fill the vacancy. The appointment shall be evidenced by an appropriate entry in the minutes of the meeting, and the board shall cause a certificate of appointment to be delivered to the person so appointed.

(3) If the vacancy occurs more than ninety days prior to the next regular biennial junior college election and the unexpired term is for more than two years, an appointee to the board shall serve until the next regular biennial junior college election and until the successor for the remainder of the term is elected and has qualified. If the vacancy occurs within the ninety-day period prior to a regular biennial junior college election and the unexpired term is for more than two years, an appointee to an office of the board shall serve until the next succeeding regular biennial junior college election at which a candidate for the board may lawfully be nominated pursuant to section 1-4-803 and part 9 of article 4 of title 1, C.R.S., and until a successor has been elected and has qualified. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (3), an appointee to an office of the board shall serve the remainder of the unexpired term.

(1) In addition to any other power granted by law to a board of trustees of a junior college district, each board shall have the power to:

(a) Take and hold in the name of the district so much real and personal property as may be reasonably necessary for any purpose authorized by law;

(b) Sue and be sued and be a party to contracts for any purpose authorized by law;

(c) Purchase real property on such terms, including but not limited to installment purchase plans, as the board sees fit or lease or rent real property on such terms as the board sees fit for any school sites, buildings, or structures or for any school purpose authorized by law; determine the location of each school site, building, or structure; and construct, erect, repair, alter, and remodel buildings and structures;

(d) Sell and convey district property which may not be needed within the foreseeable future for any purpose authorized by law, upon such terms and conditions as it may approve; and lease any such property, pending sale thereof, under an agreement of lease, with or without an option to purchase the same. No finding that the property may not be needed within the foreseeable future shall be necessary if the property is sold and conveyed to a state agency or political subdivision of this state.

(e) Rent or lease district property not immediately needed for its purposes for terms not exceeding three years and permit the use of district property by community organizations upon such terms and conditions as it may approve;

(f) Employ a chief executive officer to administer the affairs and the programs of the district, pursuant to a contract;

(g) Procure group life, health, or accident insurance covering employees of the district pursuant to section 10-7-203, C.R.S.;

(h) Provide for the necessary expenses of the board in the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties and reimburse a board member for necessary expenses incurred by him in the performance of his official duties, whether within or without the territorial limits of the district;

(i) Procure such insurance coverage on the building, structures, and equipment owned by the district, or in which the district has an insurable interest, as, in the judgment of the board, may be adequate from time to time;

(j) Procure such casualty insurance coverage on the personal property owned by the district, or in which the district has an insurable interest, as may, in the judgment of the board, be adequate from time to time;

(k) Procure public liability insurance covering the district and the directors and employees thereof;

(l) Procure liability and property damage insurance on buses or motor vehicles owned or rented by the district and accident insurance covering the medical expenses incurred by any pupil who is injured while being furnished transportation by the district, including injury received in the course of entering or alighting from any school bus or other means of transportation furnished by the district;

(m) Elect to have moneys belonging to the district withdrawn from the custody of the county treasurer and paid over to the treasurer of the board in the manner provided by law;

(n) Accept gifts, donations, or grants of any kind made to the district and expend or use said gifts, donations, or grants in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the donor; but no gift, donation, or grant shall be accepted by the board if subject to any condition contrary to law;

(o) Authorize the use of facsimile signatures on teacher contracts, bonds, and bond coupons by appropriate resolution;

(p) Take and hold, under the provisions of any law in effect providing for the exercise of the rights of eminent domain, so much real estate as may be necessary for the location and construction of a junior college building and for the convenient use of said junior college;

(q) Contract with another junior college district or public school district or with the governing body of a state college or university, with the tribal corporation of any Indian tribe or nation, with any federal agency or officer or any county, city, or city and county, or with any natural person, body corporate, or association for the performance of any service, activity, or undertaking which any school may be authorized by law to perform or undertake. Such contract shall set forth fully the purposes, powers, rights, obligations, and responsibilities, financial or otherwise, of the parties so contracting and shall provide that the service, activity, or undertaking be of comparable quality and meet the same requirements and standards as would be necessary if performed by the school district. A contract executed pursuant to this paragraph (q) may include, among other things, the purchase or renting of necessary building facilities, equipment, supplies, and employee services.

(r) Issue general obligation bonds, refund the same, and provide for the payment thereof by taxation for the purposes, to the extent, and in the manner provided by parts 5 and 6 of this article and pledge the revenues of the district as additional security for the payment of general obligation bonds. Each junior college district also has the power to issue general obligation refunding bonds to refund revenue bonds or to refund other revenue securities upon the approval of a majority of the eligible electors voting at an election called and held in the manner provided by part 5 of this article for elections on school building bonds.

(s) Cooperate with the state board for community colleges and occupational education in carrying out the provisions of the national and state vocational education and rehabilitation acts, or amendments thereto, or any such acts providing for vocational education or vocational rehabilitation of physically disabled persons;

(t) Enter into a contract for administrative services with a term not to exceed five years, for capital outlay purposes in accordance with paragraph (c) of this subsection (1) and parts 5, 6, and 7 of this article, or for the purchase of real property pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (1). Any such contract shall be valid and enforceable between the parties to the contract.

(u) Adopt written policies, rules, and regulations, not inconsistent with law, which may relate to study, discipline, conduct, safety, and welfare of all students, or any classification of students, enrolled in the junior college and adopt written procedures not inconsistent with this article for the expulsion of or denial of admission to a student, which procedures shall afford due process to students and school personnel;

(v) (I) Determine the location of each school site, building, or structure and construct, erect, repair, alter, rebuild, replace, and remodel buildings and structures without a permit or fee or compliance with a local building code. The authority delegated by this subparagraph (I) shall exist notwithstanding any authority delegated to or vested in any county, town, city, or city and county. Prior to the acquisition of land for school building sites or the construction of buildings thereon, the board of trustees of a junior college district shall consult with the planning commission that has jurisdiction over the territory in which the site, building, or structure is proposed to be located, on issues related to the location of the site, building, or structure in order to ensure that the proposed site, building, or structure conforms to the adopted plan of the community insofar as is feasible. All buildings and structures shall be constructed in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division of fire prevention and control, referred to in this section as the "division", in the department of public safety. The board shall notify the planning commission that has jurisdiction over the territory in which a site, building, or structure is proposed to be located, in writing, of the location of the site, building, or structure before awarding a contract for the purchase or the construction thereof.

(II) (A) This paragraph (v) shall apply to building or structure construction. Except as specified in sub-subparagraph (A.5) of this subparagraph (II), the division shall conduct the necessary plan reviews, issue building permits, cause the necessary inspections to be performed, perform all final inspections, and issue certificates of occupancy to assure that a building or structure constructed pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (v) has been constructed in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division. Pursuant to this sub-subparagraph (A), the division may contract with third-party inspectors that are certified by the division in accordance with section 24-33.5-1213.5, C.R.S., to perform inspections. The junior college district may hire and compensate third-party inspectors under contract with the division to perform inspections or hire and compensate other third-party inspectors that are certified in accordance with section 24-33.5-1213.5, C.R.S., to perform inspections. If the junior college district is unable to obtain a third-party inspector and no building department has been prequalified, the division shall perform the required inspections. If a third-party inspector is used, the director of the division shall require a sufficient number of inspection reports to be submitted to the division based upon the scope of the project to ensure quality inspections are performed. The third-party inspector shall attest that inspections are complete before the junior college district is issued a certificate of occupancy unless the criteria for a temporary certificate of occupancy are met. Inspection records shall be retained by the third-party inspector for two years after the certificate of occupancy is issued. If the division finds that inspections are not completed satisfactorily, as determined by rule of the division, or that all violations are not corrected, the division shall take enforcement action against the junior college district pursuant to section 24-33.5-1213, C.R.S. If inspections are not complete and a building requires immediate occupancy, and if the junior college district has passed the appropriate inspections that indicate there are no life safety issues, the division may issue a temporary certificate of occupancy. The temporary certificate of occupancy shall expire ninety days after the date of occupancy. If no renewal of the temporary certificate of occupancy is issued or a permanent certificate of occupancy is not issued, the building shall be vacated upon expiration of the temporary certificate. The division shall enforce this sub-subparagraph (A) pursuant to section 24-33.5-1213, C.R.S.

(A.5) Pursuant to a memorandum of understanding between the appropriate building department and the division, the division may prequalify an appropriate building department to conduct the necessary plan reviews, issue building permits, conduct inspections, issue certificates of occupancy, and issue temporary certificates of occupancy pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (II), to ensure that a building or structure has been constructed in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division, and to take enforcement action. Nothing in the memorandum of understanding shall be construed to allow the building department to take enforcement action other than in relation to the building and fire codes adopted by the division. An appropriate building department shall meet certification requirements established by the division pursuant to section 24-33.5-1213.5, C.R.S., prior to the prequalification. An affected junior college district may, at its own discretion, opt to use a prequalified building department that has entered into a memorandum of understanding with the division as the delegated authority. If a building department conducts an inspection, the building department shall retain the inspection records for two years after the final certificate of occupancy is issued. The fees charged by the department shall cover actual, reasonable, and necessary costs. For purposes of this section, "appropriate building department" means the building department of a county, town, city, or city and county and includes a building department within a fire department.

(B) The division shall cause copies of the building plans to be sent to the appropriate fire department for review of fire safety issues. The fire department shall review the building plans, determine whether the building or structure is in compliance with the fire code adopted by the director of the division, and respond to the division within twenty business days; except that the fire department may request an extension of this time from the director of the division on the basis of the complexity of the building plans.

(C) If the fire department declines to perform the plan review or any subsequent inspection, or if no certified fire inspector is available, the division shall perform the plan review or inspection. As used in this section, "certified fire inspector" has the same meaning as set forth in section 24-33.5-1202 (2.5), C.R.S.

(D) If the building or structure is in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division and if the fire department or the division certifies that the building or structure is in compliance with the fire code adopted by the director of the division, the division or the appropriate building department shall issue the necessary certificate of occupancy prior to use of the building or structure by the junior college district.

(E) If the division authorizes building code inspections by a third-party inspector pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (II) or authorizes building code plan reviews and inspections by an appropriate building department pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A.5) of this subparagraph (II), the plan reviews and inspections shall be in lieu of any plan reviews and inspections made by the division; except that this subparagraph (II) shall not be construed to relieve the division of the responsibility to ensure that the plan reviews and inspections are conducted if the third-party inspector or appropriate building department does not conduct the plan reviews and inspections. Nothing in this paragraph (v) shall be construed to require a county, town, city, city and county, or fire department to conduct building code plan reviews and inspections.

(III) If the division conducts the necessary plan reviews and causes the necessary inspections to be performed to determine that a building or structure constructed pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (v) has been constructed in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division, the division shall charge fees as established by rule of the director of the division. Such fees shall cover the actual, reasonable, and necessary expenses of the division. Fees collected by the division pursuant to this subparagraph (III) shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the public school construction and inspection cash fund created pursuant to section 24-33.5-1207.7, C.R.S. The director of the division, by rule or as otherwise provided by law, may increase or reduce the amount of the fees as necessary to cover actual, reasonable, and necessary costs of the division. The rules authorized by this paragraph (v) shall be promulgated in accordance with article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(IV) Any moneys remaining as of December 31, 2009, in the public safety inspection fund created in section 8-1-151, C.R.S., from fees collected by the division of oil and public safety in the department of labor and employment pursuant to subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (v) as it existed prior to January 1, 2010, shall be transferred to the public school construction and inspection cash fund created in section 24-33.5-1207.7, C.R.S.

(V) The inspecting entity shall cooperate with the affected board of trustees of a junior college district in carrying out the duties of this section.

(VI) If the inspecting entity and the board of trustees of a junior college district disagree on the interpretation of the codes and standards of the division, the division shall set a date for a hearing as soon as practicable before the board of appeals in accordance with section 24-33.5-1213.7, C.R.S., and the rules adopted by the division pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(VII) School buildings shall be maintained in accordance with the fire code adopted by the director of the division pursuant to section 24-33.5-1203.5, C.R.S.

(w) Enter into a cooperative arrangement with the division of fire prevention and control in the department of public safety to develop a system in which a qualified volunteer firefighter may receive a tuition voucher to attend courses at a local community college, including Aims community college and Colorado mountain college, in accordance with section 24-33.5-1216, C.R.S.

(1.5) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, if Colorado Northwestern community college is accepted into the state system pursuant to section 23-71-207, the powers of the Rangely junior college district board of trustees shall be limited to those specified in section 23-71-207 (3) (a) (V).

(2) Nothing in this section shall authorize a junior college district to expend proceeds from the sale of general obligation or revenue bonds issued by said district to procure or erect a school or other building beyond the territorial limits of the district.

ANNOTATION

The authority of the director of the division of labor to inspect school buildings for fire prevention purposes or to issue fire code enforcement orders to junior college districts must be implied because it is not expressly granted by subsection (1)(v). West Adams County Fire v. Adams County Sch. Dist. 12, 926 P.2d 172 (Colo. App. 1996) (decided under the language of § 22-32-124 which is similar to the language of subsection (1)(v)).

The authority of the director of the division of labor in § 8-1-107 (2)(d) to “enforce” the provisions of this section is not exclusive but may also be taken by a fire protection district absent the junior college district’s exercise of authority to contract with a qualified fire inspector. West Adams County Fire v. Adams County Sch. Dist. 12, 926 P.2d 172 (Colo. App. 1996).

23-71-123. Duties of board of trustees - degrees. (1) It is the duty of the board of trustees to determine financial and educational policies and provide for the proper execution of such by selecting competent administrators, instructors, and other personnel for the administration, operation, and maintenance of the institution, to prepare and adopt a budget pursuant to part 1 of article 44 of title 22, C.R.S., to fix tuition and fee rates, to accept gifts, to purchase, hold, sell, or rent property and equipment, to promote the general welfare of the institution for the best interests of education and the junior college district, and, pursuant to contract and any other applicable provisions of law, to discharge or otherwise terminate the employment of any personnel.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, if Colorado Northwestern community college is accepted into the state system pursuant to section 23-71-207, the duties of the Rangely junior college district board of trustees shall be limited to those specified in section 23-71-207 (3) (a) (VII).

(3) A junior college may offer a two-year degree program with or without academic designation. Before a junior college offers a two-year degree program with academic designation, as authorized by this subsection (3), the junior college shall determine the program designation for the degree. The junior college shall then submit the degree program designation to the board of trustees for its review and approval. The junior college may offer the degree program only after it has been approved by the board of trustees and by the Colorado commission on higher education. The junior college shall exclusively use the degree program designation name in official publications, course catalogs, diplomas, and official transcripts.

23-71-124. President - duties. The president of the board of trustees shall preside at all meetings of the board and shall sign all orders on the county treasurer for the payment of money; but no orders shall be drawn upon the county treasurer except in favor of parties to whom the junior college district has become lawfully indebted. He shall appear in behalf of the junior college district in all suits brought by or against the district, but, if the president is individually interested, this duty shall be performed by the secretary of the board. In the absence of the president, the secretary shall preside at any meeting of the board.

23-71-126. Treasurer - duties. The treasurer of the board of trustees shall countersign all warrants drawn by the president and secretary on the county treasury and shall keep an account of the same. He shall take charge of all moneys received by the board on account of the junior college district. He shall render a statement of the finances of the district as shown by the records of his office at the close of each fiscal year and at any other time when required by the board. Financial statements and records of the junior college district shall be in accordance with the provisions of part 5 of article 1 of title 29, C.R.S. The treasurer shall perform such additional duties and be subjected to such additional obligations as are imposed by law.

23-71-128. Additions to district - procedure. (1) If any school district or group of districts adjacent to a junior college district desires to be annexed to the existing junior college district, it may do so by satisfying both of the following requirements:

(a) By obtaining approval of the existing junior college district. The approval shall be given only upon a majority vote of the eligible electors of the existing junior college district as expressed by a majority polled at the time of the regular biennial school election held in the junior college district. The election shall be called only upon the affirmative vote of the board of trustees.

(b) By the school district desiring to be annexed voting on the question of annexation at a regular biennial school election. The election shall be called only upon the affirmative vote of the school district board of education. If a single school district desires to be annexed, the annexation shall be effected by a majority vote of the eligible electors of the district. If two or more school districts desire annexation as a group, the annexation shall be effected only by a majority vote in favor thereof in each district desiring annexation. If there is not a majority vote in favor of the annexation in any district comprising the group, then the annexation shall not occur for the group of districts, but any individual district in the group which had a majority vote in favor of the annexation shall be annexed to the junior college district.

(2) If the town of Berthoud desires to be annexed to its existing junior college district, it may do so by satisfying both of the following requirements:

(a) By obtaining approval of the existing junior college district. Approval shall only be given upon a majority vote of the eligible electors of the existing junior college district as expressed by a majority polled at the time of the regular election held in the junior college district. The election shall be called only upon the affirmative vote of the board of trustees.

(b) By the town of Berthoud voting on the question of annexation at a regular election. The election shall only be called upon the affirmative vote of the governing body of the municipality, and the annexation shall be effected by a majority vote of the eligible electors of the municipality.

23-71-129. Dissolution of district. Any junior college district may be dissolved in the following manner: A plan for the dissolution of the junior college district may be submitted to the eligible electors of the junior college district at a special election held for that purpose. The plan shall provide for the payment of all district debts and liabilities and the distribution of all district assets. If the eligible electors authorize the dissolution by a vote of the majority of electors voting at the special election, the junior college board of trustees of the district shall proceed to carry out the plan so authorized and, upon accomplishment thereof, shall file its certificate of dissolution with the county clerk and recorder of the county wherein the district is situate. Thereupon the district shall be considered dissolved. If any property or funds remain in the hands of the board, credit after the dissolution of the property or funds shall be distributed as provided in the plan of dissolution for the distribution of the assets of the junior college district.

- (a) Whether Colorado mountain college can demonstrate workforce and student demand for the baccalaureate degree program by providing data;
- (b) Whether Colorado mountain college can demonstrate regional and professional accreditation requirements, when applicable, and compliance with those requirements as deemed appropriate at both the institutional and program levels;
- (c) Whether Colorado mountain college can demonstrate that its provision of the baccalaureate degree program is the most cost-effective method of providing the baccalaureate degree program in its service area; and
- (d) Whether Colorado mountain college can provide a cost-benefit analysis showing that the additional baccalaureate degree program will not create a negative impact for the college or require additional state-appropriated moneys to operate.

PART 2

LOCAL JUNIOR COLLEGES - STATE SYSTEM

Editor's note: This part 2 is similar to part 4 of article 60 of this title as said part 4 existed prior to 1975.

23-71-201. Definitions. As used in this part 2, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) "Board" means the state board for community colleges and occupational education created pursuant to section 23-60-104.
- (2) "Eligible elector" of a junior college district means an elector who has complied with the registration provisions of article 2 of title 1, C.R.S., and who resides within the junior college district.

Source: L. 75: Entire article added, p. 760, § 1, effective July 1. L. 86: (2) R&RE, p. 855, § 31, effective July 1. L. 92: (2) amended, p. 858, § 68, effective January 1, 1993.

23-71-202. Joining state system - state support. (1) Any junior college district organized or authorized to be organized under the provisions of this article may apply to the board to become a part of the state system as provided in this part 2; but this subsection (1) shall not apply to any junior college district organized on or after December 31, 1967, pursuant to title 22, C.R.S. 1973, or to this title unless the board has approved the district prior to its organization. The application shall include a plan of dissolution and report of finances as required by section 23-71-203 and shall be considered by the board and the Colorado commission on higher education as provided in section 23-71-204.

(2) In advance of entering the state system, junior college districts shall receive annually such state support for the education of Colorado resident students as is appropriated for operating purposes.

(3) Any local junior college district organized or authorized to be organized after July 1, 1967, which is not a part of the state system shall not be eligible to receive any state funds for capital construction purposes unless the board has approved the district prior to its organization.

(4) After the entry of any junior college district into the state system, no general property taxes shall be levied for the operational expenses of the junior college district; except that a tax levy shall be continued for the purposes of payment of any general obligation of the district, whether bonded indebtedness or otherwise, owed by the district and not assumed by the state.

Editor's note: The reference in subsection (1) to "any junior college district organized on or after December 31, 1967, pursuant to title 22, C.R.S. 1973" is to any junior college organized pursuant to article 70 of title 22 prior to its repeal on July 1, 1975.

23-71-203. Submission of plan for joining state system. (1) Any local junior college district desiring to become a part of the state system shall use the following procedures: The junior college board of trustees of the district shall submit to the board a plan of dissolution, together with a detailed report of the finances and programs of the existing junior college. The plan of dissolution shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the board. The plan shall provide for the transfer of district assets to the board and shall make provision for meeting all liabilities of the district through assumption by the board or by other lawful means which will not impair existing obligations of contract. Liabilities to be assumed by the board shall include all revenue bonds and other special obligations which by their terms are not payable from revenues derived from ad valorem taxes of the district (such obligations being sometimes collectively designated in this article as "revenue bonds"). The revenue bonds shall continue to be payable from the revenues designated therein and shall not become the general obligation of the board or of the state of Colorado. In each case where there exist outstanding general liabilities at the time of dissolution, the plan shall provide for continuing the tax levy within the boundaries of the dissolved district as may be necessary to retire all general liabilities, including without limitation all general obligation bonded indebtedness, both principal and interest. It is the intention of this part 2 that the general assembly will make timely appropriations for the retirement, and, to the extent moneys are thereby made legally available, the levy shall be diminished or eliminated. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 2, no local junior college district shall be dissolved pursuant to this part 2 if, subsequent to May 27, 1967, it has incurred liabilities (evidenced by other than revenue bonds) for capital improvements without the approval of the board prior to the incurrence unless the liabilities have been fully paid as to principal and interest before the dissolution. The plan shall include a timetable for dissolution of the district and estimates of potential enrollment and operating and capital expenditures for a period of five years after dissolution. The date of dissolution and entry into the state system shall be the first day of July immediately following the survey of the dissolution election returns.

(2) (a) If the junior college board of trustees fails to submit a plan of dissolution on its own initiative within five years after May 27, 1967, the eligible electors of the junior college district may petition the board of trustees to submit a plan to the board. The petition shall be signed by at least five percent of the eligible electors residing within each county in the junior college district and shall be filed with the secretary of the junior college district. The signatures need not all be on one sheet of paper, but each sheet shall contain an oath, subscribed to by the person circulating the sheet, that the signatures thereon are genuine. Each person signing the petition shall add to the signature the date of the signing and the elector's place of residence. To the extent practicable, the provisions of article 40 of title 1, C.R.S., regarding circulation of petitions, elector information and signatures on petitions, and affidavits and requirements of circulators of petitions shall apply to petitions under this section.

(b) Upon receipt of the petition, the secretary shall refer the petition to the junior college board of trustees. The board shall, without undue delay, determine if the petition has been signed by the requisite number of eligible electors residing in each county of the junior college district. If the petition is found to contain the requisite number of signatures, the board of trustees shall proceed to develop and submit to the board within ninety days a plan of dissolution in accordance with the provisions of subsection (1) of this section. If the petition does not contain the requisite number of signatures, the board of trustees shall make the determination by written resolution.

(c) If a petition and plan of dissolution is submitted pursuant to this section and dissolution of the junior college district should not be effected because of rejection or nonapproval of the plan, or otherwise, at any stage of the process provided for by subsection (1) of this section and section 23-71-204, no further petition or plan of dissolution pursuant to this section shall be submitted or accepted for a period of five years from the date of rejection or nonapproval or other action causing the prior plan of dissolution not to be effected.

23-71-204. Approval of plan - election. (1) The board shall review each application for admission to the state system to determine whether the plan and date of entry specified by the junior college district will best promote the orderly development of higher education and of the applicant institution. The board shall transmit to the junior college board of trustees any suggested changes in the plan within ninety days after the date of submission.

(2) When the board has approved the plan and date of entry, it shall forward the application to the Colorado commission on higher education for its action. The commission may approve the recommendation of the board. If the commission does not approve the entry into the state system, the board may require a joint meeting of the board and the commission to hear the reasons and to explain the position taken by the board. After review, the commission may reaffirm its position or take such other action as it deems appropriate. The board shall notify the junior college board of trustees of any action taken by the commission under this subsection (2).

(2.5) After the Colorado commission on higher education has approved the recommendation of the board, it shall forward such recommendation to the general assembly. If the general assembly, acting by bill, approves the entry of the district into the state system, the junior college board of trustees may call a special election pursuant to subsection (4) of this section. If the general assembly does not so approve such entry, it shall be deemed rejected, and the district shall not become a part of the state system.

(3) Except to the extent inconsistent with this part 2, the dissolution election shall be called, held, and canvassed by the board of trustees in substantially the same manner as provided for elections authorizing the issuance of junior college district general obligation bonds.

(4) When the Colorado commission on higher education, the board, and the general assembly have approved the application, the board of trustees shall call a special election at which only eligible electors of the district may vote. The question shall be:

Shall the _____ junior college district be dissolved, all assets transferred to the state board for community colleges and occupational education and provision made for meeting all liabilities as provided in the plan of dissolution by _____(date)?

Yes ____ No ____.

(5) If a majority of the eligible electors voting vote “yes”, the board of trustees and the board shall proceed with the transfer of all assets to the board and with all necessary steps to meet liabilities pursuant to the approved plan. If revenue bonds of the district remain outstanding or unpaid, the board as successor to the board of trustees and to the district shall continuously operate the college, pay principal and interest, and do all things in such manner as to fulfill the obligations of the district under existing resolutions and instruments constituting contracts among the district and bondholders and other contracting parties. Nothing in this part 2 shall impair or authorize the impairment of any obligation of contract.

The board shall serve ex officio as the board of trustees of the district until all existing general liabilities, including without limitation all general obligation bonded indebtedness and the interest thereon but not including revenue bonds, are paid, and, except as provided in this part 2, the levy required for the payment shall continue until the payment is made in full. General obligation bonds of a dissolved district may be refunded in the manner provided in part 6 of this article.

23-71-205. Withdrawal from state system. Any community college may withdraw from the state system and establish a junior college district pursuant to procedures established by the Colorado commission on higher education. The procedures shall provide for a vote by the eligible electors of the area proposed to be incorporated into a junior college district. The Colorado commission on higher education shall provide for the transfer of college property and liabilities to the district in the event of such a withdrawal and establishment.

23-71-206. Northeastern junior college - approval of plan - date of entry into state system - continuation of mill levy. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby approves the plan of dissolution submitted by Northeastern junior college pursuant to section 23-71-203, referred to in this section as the "plan". Contingent upon approval of the plan in a special election held pursuant to section 23-71-204 and enactment of an appropriation of general fund moneys to the board for allocation to Northeastern junior college, whether in an annual general appropriations bill or by supplemental appropriation, the general assembly approves the entry of Northeastern junior college into the state system of community and technical colleges.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 23-71-204 (4), at the special election for approval of the plan, the question shall be:

Shall Northeastern junior college join the state system of community and technical colleges upon enactment of an appropriation to fund Northeastern junior college as part of the state system of community and technical colleges, and shall the Northeastern junior college district continue to collect property taxes for three years after the appropriation is enacted in the amount of 20.311 mills in year one, 18.000 mills in year two, and 16.000 mills in year three, after which time the Northeastern junior college district shall be dissolved, all assets be transferred to the state board for community colleges and occupational education, and provision be made for meeting all liabilities as provided in the plan of dissolution?

Yes ___ No ___.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 23-71-203 (1), if the plan is approved and moneys are appropriated as provided in subsection (1) of this section, Northeastern junior college shall enter the state system of community and technical colleges on the effective date of the appropriation, but the Northeastern junior college district shall continue as provided in subsection (3) of this section. On entry into the state system of community and technical colleges, Northeastern junior college shall be under the management and control of the board. On entry into the state system of community and technical colleges, the assets and liabilities of Northeastern junior college, with the exception of the property tax moneys collected and the physical education and events center built pursuant to subsection (3) of this section and the property on which said center is located, shall be transferred to the board; except that, if construction of the physical education and events center is completed prior to approval of the plan and appropriation of moneys pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the physical education and events center and the property on which said center is located shall be transferred to the board at the time Northeastern junior college enters the state system of community and technical colleges.

(3) (a) If the plan is approved and moneys are appropriated as provided in subsection (1) of this section, the Northeastern junior college district shall be dissolved three years after Northeastern junior college enters the state system of community and technical colleges. Prior to dissolution of the Northeastern junior college district and notwithstanding any other provisions of this part 2 to the contrary, the Northeastern junior college district shall continue to collect property tax in the district. Following approval of the plan, the mill levy imposed by the Northeastern junior college district shall not exceed the mill levy imposed for the tax year during which the plan is approved and may be reduced prior to dissolution of the district.

(b) Northeastern junior college district shall use a portion of the property tax moneys collected pursuant to this subsection (3) for construction of a physical education and events center on the Northeastern junior college campus, as provided in the plan; except that, if construction of the physical education and events center is completed prior to the time that the plan is approved and moneys are appropriated as provided in subsection (1) of this section, all of the property tax moneys collected pursuant to this subsection (3) shall be used as provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (3).

(c) Northeastern junior college district shall use the property tax moneys collected pursuant to this subsection (3) that are not used for construction of the physical education and events center on the Northeastern junior college campus to assist residents of the Northeastern junior college district who are enrolled at Northeastern junior college in defraying any increases in tuition that may result from entry into the state system of community and technical colleges.

(d) On dissolution of the Northeastern junior college district, the physical education and events center built pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (3), regardless of whether said center is completed, the property on which said center is located, and any moneys remaining under control of the district shall be transferred to the board.

23-71-207. Colorado Northwestern community college - approval of plan - date of entry into system - continuation of mill levy. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby approves the plan submitted by Colorado Northwestern community college pursuant to section 23-71-203, referred to in this section as the "plan". Contingent upon approval of the plan at the November 1998 general election and enactment of an appropriation of general fund moneys to the board for allocation to Colorado Northwestern community college, whether in an annual general appropriations bill or by supplemental appropriation, the general assembly approves the entry of Colorado Northwestern community college into the state system of community and technical colleges.

(b) (I) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 23-71-202 (4) and 23-71-204 (4), the ballot question submitted to the voters of the Rangely junior college district for the approval of the plan at the 1998 general election shall be:

Shall Colorado Northwestern community college join the state system of community and technical colleges upon enactment of an appropriation to fund Colorado Northwestern community college as a part of the state system of community and technical colleges, and shall the Rangely junior college district continue to collect property taxes after the appropriation is enacted in the amount of five mills, until such time as the Rangely junior college district board and the voters of the Rangely junior college district approve an increase in the mill levy, for tuition, supplemental program funding, and capital construction purposes plus the mill levy required for the continuation of the debt service on outstanding general obligation bonds previously approved by voters, and shall all assets be transferred to the state board for community colleges and occupational education, and provision be made for meeting all liabilities as provided in the plan?

Yes ____ No ____.

(II) At the 1998 general election, the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall decide the following question:

If the majority of the voters of the Rangely junior college district approve Colorado Northwestern community college joining the state system of community and technical colleges and an appropriation is enacted for such purpose, shall the Moffat county affiliated junior college district, as part of the area served by Colorado Northwestern community college pursuant to the plan, continue to collect property taxes through the 2008 property tax year in the amount of three mills, until such time as the Moffat county affiliated junior college district board and the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district approve an increase in the mill levy, for tuition, supplemental program funding, and capital construction purposes?

Yes ____ No ____.

(2) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 23-71-203 (1), if the plan is approved by a majority of the voters in the Rangely junior college district and if moneys are appropriated as provided in subsection (1) of this section, Colorado Northwestern community college shall enter the state system of community and technical colleges on the effective date of the appropriation. The Rangely junior college district shall continue as provided in subsection (3) of this section. If a majority of the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district approve the measure set forth in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall continue as provided in subsection (4) of this section.

(b) Upon entry into the state system of community and technical colleges:

(I) Colorado Northwestern community college shall be under the management and control of the board;

(II) The assets and liabilities of Colorado Northwestern community college shall be transferred to the board in accordance with the plan; and

(III) The educational facilities of Colorado Northwestern community college shall be immediately eligible for state controlled maintenance funds.

(3) (a) If the plan is approved as specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section and if moneys are appropriated as provided in subsection (1) of this section:

(I) The Rangely junior college district shall remain in existence;

(II) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 2 to the contrary, the Rangely junior college district shall continue to collect property tax and specific ownership tax in the district. The Rangely junior college district in December, 1999, shall initially levy five mills for the purposes specified in subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (a) in addition to the mill levy required for debt service on outstanding general obligation bonds previously approved by voters;

(III) The Rangely junior college district shall use the revenues collected pursuant to this subsection (3), other than those collected for outstanding general obligation bonds previously approved, to:

(A) Assist residents of the Rangely junior college district who are enrolled at Colorado Northwestern community college in defraying increases in tuition that may result from entry into the state system of community and technical colleges;

(B) Provide supplemental funding to the state for the operating costs of current or future programs offered by Colorado Northwestern community college;

(C) Erect new or renovate existing facilities; and

(D) Provide capital funding for technology enhancement and supplemental equipment for Colorado Northwestern community college;

(IV) All assets and liabilities of the Rangely junior college district shall be transferred to the board; except that the outstanding general obligation bonds and associated debt service assets and liabilities of the Rangely junior college district in existence as of June 30, 1999, shall remain with such district and the Rangely junior college district shall administer the mill levy for the retirement of said bonds pursuant to section 23-71-204 (5);

(V) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 23-71-122, the Rangely junior college district board of trustees shall have only the powers necessary to levy taxes and distribute the revenues generated therefrom in accordance with the purposes listed in subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (a) and the powers enumerated in section 23-71-122 (1) (b), (1) (h), (1) (k), (1) (m), (1) (n), and (1) (q);

(VI) The Rangely junior college district board of trustees shall have no employees; and

(VII) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 23-71-123, the Rangely junior college district board of trustees shall have only the duty to prepare and adopt a budget pursuant to part 1 of article 44 of title 22, C.R.S., and any additional duties enumerated in the plan.

(b) Upon the future dissolution of the Rangely junior college district, any assets remaining as of the date of dissolution shall be transferred to the board.

(4) (a) (I) If the plan is approved and moneys are appropriated therefor as provided in subsection (1) of this section and if the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district approve the ballot measure set forth in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall remain in existence until January 1, 2009, on which date the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall dissolve pursuant to subparagraph (V) of this paragraph (a). Prior to said date, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district, shall continue to collect property tax for a period not to exceed ten years in the initial amount of three mills. The Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall use the tax moneys collected pursuant to this subparagraph (I) to:

(A) Assist residents of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district who are enrolled at Colorado Northwestern community college in defraying increases in tuition that may result from entry into the state system of community and technical colleges;

(B) Provide supplemental funding to the state for the operating costs of current or future programs offered by Colorado Northwestern community college;

(C) Erect new or renovate existing facilities;

(D) Provide capital funding for technology enhancement and supplemental equipment for Colorado Northwestern community college; and

(E) Provide for the operating costs of the facilities owned by the Moffat county affiliated junior college district.

(II) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 23-72-121, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district board of control shall have only the powers necessary to levy taxes and distribute the revenues generated therefrom in accordance with the purposes listed in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) and the powers enumerated in section 23-72-121 (2) (b), (2) (e), (2) (g), and (2) (k).

(III) The Moffat county affiliated junior college district board of control shall have no employees.

(IV) All assets and liabilities of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall be transferred to the board except the revenues generated pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) and except for those assets specified in the plan.

(V) The Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall dissolve, as provided in section 23-72-120, on January 1, 2009. Upon dissolution of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district, all assets held by the district as of the date of the dissolution shall be transferred to the board.

(b) If the plan for Colorado Northwestern community college to join the state system of community and technical colleges is approved and moneys are appropriated therefor as provided in subsection (1) of this section but the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district do not approve the ballot measure set forth in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall select and adopt, within one year after such election, one of the following options concerning its governance and shall submit the selected option for approval by the board, the Colorado commission on higher education, and the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district:

(I) The Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall dissolve pursuant to the provisions of section 23-72-120;

(II) The Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall affiliate with another local district college or state college with the consent of the parent institution; or

(III) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 23-71-103, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall form a local college district, with the consent of the board and the Colorado commission on higher education.

(5) (a) At the 2006 general election, the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall decide the following question:

Shall the Moffat county affiliated junior college district, as part of the area served by Colorado Northwestern community college, continue indefinitely to collect property taxes in the amount of up to three mills, until such time as the Moffat county affiliated junior college district board and the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district approve an increase in the mill levy, for tuition, supplemental program funding, and capital construction purposes?

Yes ____ No ____.

(b) If the ballot question set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) is rejected by the voters at the 2006 general election, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district board may resubmit the ballot question set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) to the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district in the 2007 general election. If the ballot question set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) is rejected by the voters at the 2006 or 2007 general election, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district board may resubmit the ballot question set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) to the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district in the 2008 general election.

(c) If a majority of voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district approve the measure set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5), then, notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (I) and (V) of paragraph (a) of subsection (4) of this section, the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall not dissolve on January 1, 2009, but shall continue to exist and shall continue to collect property tax in the initial amount of three mills. The Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall use the property tax moneys collected pursuant to this paragraph (c) as provided in sub-subparagraphs (A) to (E) of subparagraph (I) of paragraph (a) of subsection (4) of this section.

(d) If a majority of the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district approve the measure set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5), the Moffat county affiliated junior college district board shall continue to exist subject to the restrictions specified in subparagraphs (II) and (III) of paragraph (a) of subsection (4) of this section.

(e) If a majority of the voters of the Moffat county affiliated junior college district do not approve the measure set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5), then the Moffat county affiliated junior college district shall dissolve on January 1, 2009, as provided in subparagraphs (I) and (V) of paragraph (a) of subsection (4) of this section.

DIRECT GRANTS TO JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICTS

23-71-301. Direct grants to junior college districts - occupational courses.

(1) (a) Any junior college district operating or organized and operating as such during the entire school year in which a grant is made shall be entitled to a direct grant, from funds appropriated for this purpose, in an amount specified annually by the general assembly. Procedures for the certification by junior college districts to the state board for community colleges and occupational education, referred to in this part 3 as the "board", of the numbers of students and the quarter or semester hours for which students are registered shall be prescribed by regulation of the board. No moneys shall be distributed under this section for any students other than those enrolled in postsecondary courses for credit in degree and certificate programs.

(b) The board shall establish procedures for the distribution of direct grants that encourage each district college to maintain an appropriate balance of vocational enrollments within its service area.

(2) and (3) Repealed.

23-71-302. Distribution of grants - proration. (1) The payment dates and allocation of grants paid on such dates shall be as determined by the board, with prior notice to the state treasurer. The board shall certify to the state treasurer the amounts to be paid to eligible junior college districts and area vocational schools as direct grants from sums appropriated by the general assembly for such purpose, and, upon such certification, the board shall make distribution of such amounts to the respective junior college districts or area vocational schools. Such amounts may be used for current operating costs of the junior college or area vocational school or for capital construction.

(2) Should the appropriations for implementation of this section and section 23-71-301 be less than the total amount required for distribution, the board shall prorate the amount to be paid to each district in the same proportion as the appropriation bears to the amount approved eligible for distribution. Should the appropriations for implementation of this section and section 23-71-301 exceed the amount required, any unexpended balances shall revert to the general fund.

PART 4

TAX LEVIES AND REVENUES

23-71-401. Definitions. As used in this part 4, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Board of trustees" means the junior college district board of trustees authorized by law to administer the affairs of any district.

(2) "District" means a junior college district organized and existing pursuant to law.

23-71-402. Certification - tax revenues. (1) In accordance with the schedule prescribed by section 39-5-128, C.R.S., the district shall certify to the board of county commissioners of the county wherein said district is located the separate amounts necessary, in the judgment of the board of trustees, to be raised from levies against the valuation for assessment of all taxable property located within the boundaries of said district for its general, bond redemption, and capital reserve funds to defray its expenditures therefrom during its next ensuing fiscal year.

(2) If only a portion of a district is located within a county, the board of trustees of said district shall certify the separate amounts to the board of county commissioners of each county wherein a portion of said district is located. The board of county commissioners of each such county shall levy a tax upon the taxable property located within said portion of the district included in its county at a rate sufficient to produce a pro rata share of each separate amount certified, such pro rata share to be based on the ratio of the valuation for assessment of taxable property located within that portion of said school district located within said county to the total valuation for assessment of taxable property located in the entire district; except that the rate of tax levies for said district shall be the same throughout the territorial limits of said district except for a variation in the tax levy needed for the bond redemption fund of said district, which rate may vary because of changes in the boundaries of said district.

(3) The levy for the capital reserve fund shall not exceed four mills in any year.

(4) (a) Whenever, after a reorganization, any district has within its boundaries any new territory, the board of trustees of the district shall certify to the board of county commissioners the amount required during the next ensuing fiscal year to satisfy such territory's proportionate share of the obligations of the outstanding bonded indebtedness.

(b) If, after reorganization of the district, there is any territory liable for the payment of bonded indebtedness, different either in amounts, dates of creation, or dates of interest or principal maturities, then, in certifying to the boards of county commissioners the statement of the amount necessary to be raised from levies pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, it is the duty of the board of trustees of such district to also certify to the board of county commissioners the territory which has bonded indebtedness outstanding, the legal description of the territory liable for the payment of such bonded indebtedness, or portion thereof, and the amount required during the ensuing fiscal year to meet payments of interest and principal falling due therein. A separate levy, sufficient to raise the amount so certified, shall be made against the valuation for assessment of all taxable property located within such territory. The proceeds of such levy shall be credited to the bond redemption fund of the district, but a separate account within such bond redemption fund shall be maintained to clearly reflect the amount raised from such separate levy.

23-71-403. Change in needed tax revenues - unlawful. A board of trustees or a board of county commissioners shall not modify the amount certified pursuant to section 23-71-

402 as needed for any fiscal year, nor shall said board of county commissioners be charged with any discretion in determining or reviewing the amounts so certified other than to ascertain if said amounts are within the limitations as prescribed by law.

23-71-404. County treasurer - accounts - warrants. (1) It is the duty of the county treasurer to keep separate accounts by funds and subsidiary accounts for the bond redemption fund of each district in his county, and said funds and accounts shall be subject to the warrants of said district. The tax revenues shall be credited to the proper fund and account, together with any penalty interest collected thereon.

(2) If only a portion of a district is situate within the territorial limits of said county and the headquarters of said district are not located therein, the county treasurer shall transfer, at the end of each month, all moneys which have accrued to the credit of said district to the county treasurer of the county wherein the headquarters of said district is located. No warrant shall be drawn by a district situate in more than one county against its moneys except against those moneys in the custody of the county treasurer of the county wherein the district headquarters is located.

(3) If a district warrant is presented to the county treasurer of a district situate in his county and there are no moneys or insufficient moneys to the credit of said district in the proper fund or account thereof to pay such warrant, it is the duty of said county treasurer to register such warrants in the order of presentment and endorse each such warrant "no funds". Registered warrants shall draw interest from the date of such registration and endorsement at the rate and in the manner as registered county warrants. The county treasurer shall keep a list of all warrants so registered and endorsed and furnish a copy of said list to the treasurer of said district. The county treasurer shall pay both the principal and interest of said warrants, in the order of registration, when there are sufficient moneys to the credit of the district fund or account upon which any such warrant was drawn. It is his duty to cause to be published in a newspaper with general distribution in said district for five days a notice that certain district warrants, describing said warrants by numbers and amounts, will be paid upon presentation at the expiration of said five-day notice, at which time said warrants shall cease to bear interest.

(4) It is unlawful for a district to issue warrants in excess of the amount budgeted or appropriated to or the anticipated revenues for any fund, whichever is less, for said district's fiscal year whether or not the board of trustees of said district has elected to withdraw its moneys from the custody of the county treasurer.

(5) It is the duty of the county treasurer to cancel all paid district warrants with a proper cancelling stamp and indicate the date of payment thereof.

23-71-405. Depositories. (1) When the board of trustees of a district has elected to have all moneys belonging to the district paid over to the treasurer of said board, the treasurer shall deposit, or cause to be deposited, all such moneys in such depositories as shall be designated by such board.

(2) Each designated depository shall be required to give a surety bond in an amount equal to at least one hundred ten percent of the amount on deposit to the credit of the district at any time, with sureties approved by the board of trustees of the district and conditioned for the payment of all moneys on deposit to the credit of the district, upon demand of the treasurer thereof through presentation of checks, warrants, or orders. In lieu of such surety bond, the board of trustees may accept obligations of the United States or the state of Colorado or general obligation bonds of any district located within the state in an amount equal to said surety bond, and such securities shall be placed with and held in trust by some bank, other than the depository, within the state or with the Denver branch of the federal reserve bank of Kansas City, Missouri, contingent upon the issuance of a joint custody receipt subject to the joint order of the depository and the treasurer of said board and conditioned to secure and guarantee payment of all moneys on deposit to the credit of said district, upon demand of the district through presentation of a warrant or order.

(3) Any moneys belonging to a district which are temporarily not needed in the conduct of its operations may be invested or deposited by the board of trustees of such district pursuant to the provisions of sections 24-75-601 to 24-75-603, C.R.S.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the board of trustees of any district may provide for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of refunding escrow agreements and accounts and may provide for payment of principal and interest on the outstanding bonds of such district by paying agents, pursuant to the provisions of parts 5 and 6 of this article.

23-71-406. Registered warrants by treasurer of the board of trustees. If a board of trustees has elected to withdraw all district moneys from the temporary custody of the county treasurer and there are no moneys or insufficient moneys to the credit of the proper fund of said district on deposit with a depository to pay any warrant or order drawn against said fund, the treasurer of said board of trustees shall register said warrant in the same manner as otherwise prescribed for a county treasurer under the provisions of section 23-71-404. Registered warrants shall draw interest from the date of such registration and endorsement at the rate and in the same manner as warrants registered by the county treasurer. The treasurer of said board of trustees shall perform all duties required of the county treasurer under section 23-71-404 (3) in the registration and payment of district warrants registered by said treasurer of the board of trustees, including publication for notice of payment thereof.

23-71-407. Short-term loans. The board of trustees of any district may negotiate or contract with any person, corporation, association, or company for a loan not to exceed the difference between the anticipated revenues for the current fiscal year for the general fund and the amount credited to date to said general fund in order to eliminate the necessity of issuing registered warrants upon said general fund. Such loan shall be liquidated within six months thereafter from moneys subsequently credited to said general fund. The total rate of interest, including fees to be paid on such loan, shall not exceed seventy-five percent of the discount rate set by the federal reserve board for the tenth federal reserve district establishing the rate of interest which federal reserve banks shall charge member banks when such member banks borrow money from a federal reserve bank.

BONDED INDEBTEDNESS

23-71-501. Definitions. As used in this part 5, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) "Board of trustees" means the governing body authorized by law to administer the affairs of any junior college district.
- (2) "District" means a junior college district organized and existing pursuant to law.

(2.5) "Eligible elector" means an elector who has complied with the registration provisions of article 2 of title 1, C.R.S., and who resides within the junior college district calling the election.

(3) "Net effective interest rate" of a proposed issue of bonds means the net interest cost of the issue divided by the sum of the products derived by multiplying the principal amount of such issue maturing on each maturity date by the number of years from the date of said proposed bonds to their respective maturities. In all cases, the net effective interest rate shall be computed without regard to any option of redemption prior to the designated maturity dates of the bonds.

(4) "Net interest cost" of a proposed issue of bonds means the total amount of interest to accrue on said bonds from their date to their respective maturities, plus the amount of any discount below par or less the amount of any premium above par at which said bonds are being or have been sold. In all cases the net interest cost shall be computed without regard to any option of redemption prior to the designated maturity dates of the bonds.

(5) and (6) (Deleted by amendment, L. 92, p. 860, § 72, effective January 1, 1993.)

Source: L. 75: Entire article added, p. 767, § 1, effective July 1. L. 86: (1) amended, p. 860, § 41, effective July 1. L. 92: (2.5) added and (5) and (6) amended, p. 860, § 72, effective January 1, 1993.

23-71-502. Bonded indebtedness - elections. (1) No general obligation bonded indebtedness shall be contracted by any district for the purpose of purchasing, erecting, improving, remodeling, and furnishing junior college buildings, sites, facilities, and equipment unless the proposition to create such debt has first been submitted to and approved by the eligible electors of the district.

(2) The board of trustees of any district, at any regular biennial school election or at a special election called for the purpose, shall submit to the eligible electors of the district the question of contracting a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of purchasing, erecting, improving, remodeling, and furnishing junior college buildings, sites, facilities, and equipment, which purposes shall be broadly construed, subject to the limitations provided in section 23-71-503.

(3) All elections authorized under this article shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of articles 1 to 13 of title 1, C.R.S. The secretary of the board of trustees shall be the designated election official for all elections unless otherwise provided by the board of trustees. Any notice given shall contain a statement of the amount of the bonded indebtedness proposed to be contracted, the maximum net effective interest rate at which the indebtedness shall be incurred, and the maximum period of time within which the amount shall be payable, and the day and the place of the election.

(4) and (5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 92, p. 861, § 73, effective January 1, 1993.)

(6) (a) The board of trustees of any district, having received approval at an election to issue bonds and having determined that the limitations of the original election question are too restrictive to permit the advantageous sale of the bonds so authorized, may submit at another regular or special election:

(I) The question of issuing the bonds, or any portion thereof, at a higher maximum net effective interest rate than the maximum interest rate or maximum net effective interest rate approved at the original election; or

(II) The question of issuing the bonds, or any portion thereof, to mature over a longer period of time than the maximum period of maturity approved at the original election.

(b) An election held pursuant to this subsection (6) shall be held in substantially the same manner as an election to authorize bonds initially, except as may be required for the submission of the limited question permitted under this subsection (6).

(c) If a majority of those voting at an election held pursuant to this subsection (6) fail to approve the changes submitted, such result shall not impair the authority of the board of trustees at a later time to issue the bonds originally approved within the limitations established at the first election.

23-71-503. Limitations on elections. The question of contracting bonded indebtedness may be submitted or resubmitted after the same or any other such question has previously been rejected at an election held pursuant to this part 5; but no such question shall be submitted or resubmitted at any election held less than one hundred twenty days after a previous submission of such question, and the board of trustees of a district shall not submit any question of contracting bonded indebtedness at more than two elections within any twelve-month period. The provisions of this section shall not apply to elections on assumption of existing bonded indebtedness held pursuant to law.

23-71-504. Limit of bonded indebtedness. (1) Each district shall have a limit of bonded indebtedness of twenty percent of the latest valuation for assessment of the taxable property in such district as certified by the assessor to the board of county commissioners. The indebtedness of the former districts or parts of districts, constituting any new district, shall not be considered in fixing the limit of such twenty percent; but, if any district assumes the bonded indebtedness of any other district, or a proportionate share thereof, existing at the time of inclusion in the assuming district, pursuant to law, such bonded indebtedness shall be included in the twenty percent limitation.

(2) The permission to incur additional bonded indebtedness, granted by the property tax administrator in the department of local affairs, and any district bonds issued pursuant thereto on or after May 10, 1972, are hereby validated. This subsection (2) shall not be construed to grant authority to incur bonded indebtedness in excess of said twenty percent limitation.

23-71-514. Board of trustees may issue bonds - exemption from Colorado income tax. When approved at an election held pursuant to section 23-71-502, the board of trustees, from time to time, as the proceeds thereof are needed for the purposes specified in the notice of said bond election, shall issue bonds of the district in denominations of one thousand dollars or any multiple of one thousand dollars, in its discretion, bearing interest at a rate such that the net effective interest rate of the bond issue does not exceed the maximum net effective interest rate specified in the notice of said bond election, payable at such time, determined in the discretion of the board of trustees, which bonds shall mature serially, commencing not later than five years and extending not more than twenty-five years from the date thereof. Principal and interest thereon shall be payable at such place as shall be determined by said board of trustees and designated in said bonds. Said bonds shall be made callable for redemption commencing no later than eleven years from their date in such manner, with or without premium, as may be determined by the board of trustees. Interest on junior college district bonds issued on or after July 1, 1973, shall be exempt from Colorado income tax.

23-71-515. Form of bonds. The bonds issued under the provisions of this part 5 shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one. The board of trustees of the district is authorized to prescribe the form of such bonds. Said bonds shall recite that they are issued pursuant to this part 5, and said bonds shall be signed by the president of the board of trustees, bear an impression of the seal of the district, and be attested by signature of the secretary. Coupons, if any, evidencing the interest thereon shall bear the signature of the president of the board of trustees, which may be affixed by him in person, or it may be an engraved or lithographed facsimile thereof. At the discretion of the board of trustees, any bonds may be issued with privileges for registration of such bonds for payment as to principal, interest, or both. In the execution of bonds authorized pursuant to this part 5, the board of trustees may provide for the use of facsimile signatures and facsimile seals in the manner set forth in article 55 of title 11, C.R.S.

23-71-516. Sale at less than par - discount. If it is found to be in the best interest of the district, the board of trustees may issue such bonds and accept therefor less than their face value; but such bonds shall be sold at a price such that the net effective interest rate for the issue of bonds does not exceed the maximum net effective interest rate approved by the voters in the election authorizing such bonds.

23-71-517. Board of trustees to certify needed revenues. (1) If the board of trustees has issued any of said bonds at the time of certifying to the board of county commissioners a statement showing the amount necessary to raise from the taxable property of said district for the general fund as required by law, it shall also certify to said board of county commissioners the amount needed for its bond redemption fund to pay all installments of principal and interest of said bonds, which, according to their terms, have already become due and payable or shall become due and payable during the next ensuing fiscal year, or both, together with such additional amount, if any, as, in the judgment of the board of trustees, is desirable to raise from the taxable property of said district for the purpose of redeeming, during the said ensuing fiscal year, any of said bonds which are redeemable but not due.

(2) The board of trustees has the authority to include in each amount certified for said bond redemption fund an amount to create a reserve for the redemption of bonds in future years prior to their maturities or for purchasing at a discount and cancellation any bond on which the interest is being paid from the current district debt service mill levy; but said reserve shall be restricted to the subsidiary account in the bond redemption fund for which said tax levy was made. A total of not more than one mill on the then current valuation for assessment may be carried in the reserve at any one time to be available for prior redemption purposes.

23-71-518. Tax levy to pay principal and interest. (1) If any district has issued bonds under the provisions of this part 5, it is the duty of the board of county commissioners of the county in which said district is situated, at the time of levying other district taxes, to levy a tax on all the taxable property of said district at a rate sufficient to produce such amount as has been certified by the board of trustees of said district for the purpose of paying bonds not yet due, as provided in section 23-71-517.

(2) Except when said district has sufficient moneys or securities in a refunding escrow account to satisfy the bonded indebtedness obligations which will be due and payable during said district's next ensuing fiscal year, if the board of trustees fails to certify such an amount to the board of county commissioners as required by section 23-71-517, the board of county commissioners, nevertheless, shall levy upon the appropriate taxable property of said district a tax in addition to the taxes levied for other purposes in an amount sufficient to pay all installments of principal and interest of said bonds that shall become due during the next ensuing fiscal year or, if said bonds do not become due and payable in series at different times, in an amount sufficient to pay all installments of interest then to become due and the aforesaid portion of principal.

(3) The amount certified pursuant to section 23-71-517 and the rate of the tax levy required by this section shall be sufficient to cover any deficiency which may occur by reason of delinquent payment of taxes.

(4) The county treasurer shall not collect any fee on the moneys received by virtue of a tax levied pursuant to this section or by virtue of his office having been designated as the place of payment or optional place of payment for bonds issued under this part 5 or under part 6 of this article, nor shall he collect any fee on any moneys received from any other source to pay bonds or interest thereon.

23-71-519. Bond fund - payment and redemption. (1) Such taxes shall be collected in the same manner as district taxes and when collected shall be placed by the county treasurer in the bond redemption fund of said district. The moneys in said fund shall be used only for payment of interest upon and for the redemption of such bonds, upon orders signed and countersigned in the manner provided by law for the execution of other district orders; but the board of trustees of said district may withdraw any or all of such moneys credited to said fund which are temporarily not needed to satisfy the obligations of bonded indebtedness, for the purpose of depositing or investing such moneys in the manner prescribed by law.

(2) Redemption of said bonds prior to the respective maturities thereof may be made in either direct or inverse numerical order as determined by the board of trustees in the resolution authorizing the issuance of said bonds and set forth on the face of said bonds. Notice of the redemption of said bonds, prior to maturity, shall be made in the manner prescribed in said bond resolution. In the absence of such prescribed manner in the bond resolution, a redemption prior to maturity shall be made in the following manner: When authorized by the board of trustees, the treasurer of said board shall advertise in some newspaper published in the district once a week for two consecutive weeks that on a certain day, named in said advertisement, not less than four weeks after the time of the first publication thereof, he will redeem certain of said bonds therein described by number, amount, and date of issue thereof and that the principal, interest to redemption date, and redemption premium, if any, of said bonds will be paid in accordance with the bond resolution authorizing such bonds. The notice shall indicate also that, after the day so fixed for redemption, the interest on the bonds shall cease. After the day of redemption so fixed in said notice the bonds so advertised and called to be redeemed shall cease to draw interest.

(3) If the bonds are made payable at the office of the county treasurer, any redemption of such bonds shall also be made at the office of the county treasurer of the county, who shall make a notation of such payment or redemption upon his books.

(4) If the bonds are made payable at some place other than the office of the county treasurer, such bonds shall be redeemable at the place where payable, and the treasurer of the board of trustees shall, immediately after the payment or redemption, inform the county treasurer that certain bonds, describing them by number, amount, and date of issue, have been paid or redeemed and cancelled, and said county treasurer shall make a record of such payment or redemption upon his books.

(5) In all cases bonds when paid or redeemed shall be cancelled by the treasurer of the board of trustees and preserved by him and his successors for a period of one year after the date of their payment or redemption.

23-71-520. Place of payment. (1) The board of trustees is authorized to designate the office of the county treasurer of the county in which the headquarters of such district is situated as the place of payment or optional place of payment of the principal of or interest on any bonds issued by any such district or to designate any commercial bank or trust company as the place of payment or optional place of payment of the principal of or interest on any bonds issued by any such district, and the commercial bank or trust company so designated may be located either within or without this state.

(2) It is the duty of the board of trustees to cause sufficient moneys from said tax levy or refunding escrow account to be placed from time to time at the place of payment, or optional place of payment, designated on said bonds in an amount to satisfy the principal and interest obligations of said bonds as the same may become due and payable from time to time. It is the duty of the treasurer of said board to pay or cause to be paid the obligations of said bonds as the same may become due and payable, upon presentation of the bonds and coupons respectively evidencing such obligations, from any moneys to the credit of the appropriate account available for that purpose.

23-71-521. Registration of bonds. When any district issues bonds under the provisions of this part 5, the board of trustees may make and enter in its record a request that the county clerk and recorder of the county wherein the headquarters of such district is situated register the bonds in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. When so registered, the legality thereof shall not be open to contest by such district, or any person whomsoever, for any reason whatever. A certified copy of the order of the board of trustees, so made and entered of record, shall be furnished to the said county clerk and recorder by the said board, and, thereupon, it shall be his duty to register said bonds, noting the name of the district and the amount, the date of issuance and maturity, and the rate of interest of said bonds. He shall receive a fee of twenty-five dollars for registering each such issue.

23-71-522. Changes in boundaries - liability. (1) Nothing in this part 5 or in any other provision of law shall release the taxable property within a district which incurred bonded indebtedness from liability for its proportionate share of the outstanding obligations thereof.

(2) The taxable property located within the territory of a district which is dissolved shall be liable for its proportionate share of the bonded indebtedness incurred by the district.

(3) The taxable property of a district which is detached and annexed shall be liable for its proportionate share of the bonded indebtedness previously incurred by the annexing district.

PART 6

REFUNDING BONDS

23-71-601. Definitions. As used in this part 6, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Board of trustees" means the governing body authorized by law to administer the affairs of any junior college district.

(2) "District" means a junior college district organized and existing pursuant to law.

(3) "Federal securities" means the bills, certificates of indebtedness, notes, or bonds which are direct obligations of, or the principal and interest of which obligations are unconditionally guaranteed by, the United States.

(4) "Net effective interest rate" of a proposed issue of refunding bonds means the net interest cost of said refunding issue divided by the sum of the products derived by multiplying the principal amounts of such refunding issue maturing on each maturity date by the number of years from the date of said proposed refunding bonds to their respective maturities. "Net effective interest rate" of an outstanding issue of bonds to be refunded means the net interest cost of said issue to be refunded divided by the sum of the products derived by multiplying the principal amounts of such issue to be refunded maturing on each maturity date by the number of years from the date of the proposed refunding bonds to the respective maturities of the bonds to be refunded. In all cases the net effective interest rate shall be computed without regard to any option of redemption prior to the designated maturity dates of the bonds.

(5) "Net interest cost" of a proposed issue of refunding bonds means the total amount of interest to accrue on said refunding bonds from their date to their respective maturities, less the amount of any premium above par at which said refunding bonds are being or have been sold. "Net interest cost" of an outstanding issue of bonds to be refunded means the total amount of interest which would accrue on said outstanding bonds from the date of the proposed refunding bonds to the respective maturity dates of said outstanding bonds to be refunded. In all cases the net interest cost shall be computed without regard to any option of redemption prior to the designated maturity dates of the bonds.

23-71-602. Refunding bonds may be issued. (1) Any district in this state may issue negotiable coupon bonds to be denominated refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any of the bonded indebtedness of such district, whether said indebtedness is due or not due or has or may hereafter become payable or redeemable at the option of such district, or by consent of the bondholders, or by any lawful means, whether such bonded indebtedness be now existing or may hereafter be created.

(2) The bonded indebtedness of any district outstanding at the time of the inclusion of all such district's territory in another district, by reorganization, consolidation, dissolution, or any other lawful means, may be refunded by action of the board of trustees of the district, including such territory at the time of such refunding, whether or not such indebtedness has been assumed by the district including such territory.

(3) When an entire district having outstanding bonded indebtedness has been divided and parts thereof included within two or more other districts by any lawful means, the refunding of such indebtedness shall require affirmative action by a majority of the members of the boards of trustees of each of the districts within which any part of the territory of such district owing said indebtedness is then included, except as is provided in this part 6 to the contrary.

(4) The bonded indebtedness of any district outstanding at the time any territory of said district is detached therefrom by any lawful means, and which district has retained its lawful corporate existence subsequent to the detachment of such territory from said district, may be refunded by action of the board of trustees of such district from which territory has been detached with or without concurrence or action by the board of trustees of the district within which said detached territory is included. Such districts from which territory has been detached and which retain their corporate existence subsequent to detachment are specifically exempted from the requirements and provisions of subsection (3) of this section.

(5) Any such refunding bonds may be issued to refund any issues of outstanding bonds; but no two or more issues of outstanding bonds may be refunded by a single issue of refunding bonds unless the taxable property upon which tax levies are being made for payment of each such outstanding issue of bonds is identical to the taxable property on which such levies are being made for the payment of all other outstanding bonds proposed to be refunded by such single issue of refunding bonds.

23-71-603. Question of issuing refunding bonds. (1) When the board of trustees of any district deems it expedient to issue refunding bonds under the provisions of this part 6 and the net effective interest rate and the net interest cost of said issue of refunding bonds do not exceed the net effective interest rate and the net interest cost of the outstanding bonds to be refunded, such refunding bonds may be issued without the submission of the question of issuing the same at an election held in accordance with part 5 of this article. If two or more issues of outstanding bonds of a district are to be refunded by the issuance of a single issue of refunding bonds, as provided in section 23-71-602 (5), the net interest cost and net effective interest rate on the bonds to be refunded shall be computed as if all of said bonds had originally been combined as a single issue aggregating the total of the smaller issues, and the results of this computation shall be compared with the net interest cost and net effective interest rate on the whole of the single refunding issue for purposes of determining the necessity of submitting the question of issuing such refunding bonds at an election held in accordance with part 5 of this article.

(2) If any district proposes to issue refunding bonds, on which issue the net interest cost or net effective interest rate exceeds the net interest cost or net effective interest rate of the outstanding bonds to be refunded, the board of trustees shall submit the question of issuing such refunding bonds and the maximum net interest cost and maximum net effective interest rate at which such refunding bonds may be issued at the regular biennial election or at a special election called for that purpose. Any such election shall be called and held as nearly as may be in accordance with part 5 of this article for elections on the question of the issuance of other bonds of the issuing district.

23-71-604. Authorization - form - interest. (1) Such refunding bonds shall be authorized by a resolution fixing the date, the denominations, the rate of interest on individual bonds, the maturity dates which shall not be more than twenty-five years after the date of such refunding bonds, and the place of payment, within or without the state of Colorado, of both principal and interest and prescribing the form of such refunding bonds. Such bonds shall be negotiable in form and executed in the same manner as prescribed for other school district bonds. At the discretion of the board of trustees, any such bonds may be issued with privileges for registration for payment as to principal or interest, or both.

(2) The interest accruing on such refunding bonds may be evidenced by interest coupons thereto attached in substantially the same form as prescribed for other school district bonds, and, when so executed, such coupons shall be the binding obligations of the district according to their import. Such refunding bonds shall mature serially, commencing not later than five years after the date of such bonds and maturing during a period not exceeding twenty-five years after the date thereof. The amount of such maturities shall be fixed by the board of trustees and specified in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds. The right to redeem all or part of said bonds prior to their maturity, and the order of any such redemption, may be reserved in the resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds and shall be set forth on the face of said bonds. Interest on junior college district refunding bonds issued on or after July 1, 1973, shall be exempt from Colorado income tax.

23-71-605. Sale - proceeds - amounts. Such refunding bonds may be exchanged for the bonds to be refunded, or they may be sold at, above, or below their par value; but such refunding bonds shall be exchanged or sold at a price such that the net interest cost and the net effective interest rate for the issue of refunding bonds does not exceed the net interest cost and the net effective interest rate of the outstanding bonds to be refunded or the maximum net effective interest rate and net interest cost approved by the voters, as the case may be. Such refunding bonds shall be in a principal amount not exceeding the principal amount of the bonds to be refunded, as directed by the board of trustees, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied only to the purpose for which such refunding bonds were issued. The principal amount of said refunding bonds may be the same as or less than the principal amount of the bonds to be refunded, if due, adequate, and sufficient provision has been made for the payment or redemption and retirement of said bonds to be refunded and the payment of the interest accruing thereon in accordance with this part 6.

23-71-606. Needed revenues - tax levy - miscellaneous. (1) Whenever a board of trustees issues refunding bonds under the provisions of this part 6, sections 23-71-517 to 23-71-521 shall be applicable to said refunding bonds and the procedures therefor, in the same manner as prescribed for other district bonds; except that any such refunding bonds shall be payable from the same funds which are to be derived from the same source as would have been used to pay the original bonds if no refunding thereof had occurred.

(2) After refunding bonds are issued pursuant to this part 6, the resolution authorizing the same and providing for the levy of taxes for the payment of interest upon and the principal of such refunding bonds shall not be altered or repealed until the refunding bonds so authorized have been fully paid.

23-71-607. Application of bond proceeds - procedures - limitations. (1) The proceeds derived from the issuance of any refunding bonds under the provisions of this part 6 shall either be immediately applied to the payment or redemption and retirement of the bonds to be refunded and the cost and expense incident to such procedures or shall immediately be placed in escrow to be applied to the payment of said bonds upon their presentation therefor and the costs and expenses incident to such proceedings and for no other purpose whatsoever until the bonds being refunded have been paid in full and discharged and all accrued interest thereon has also been paid in full, upon which occurrences the escrow shall terminate, and any moneys remaining therein shall be returned to the district's bond redemption fund.

(2) Any such escrowed proceeds, pending such use, may be invested or, if necessary, reinvested only in securities meeting the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S., maturing at such times as to insure the prompt payment of the bonds refunded under the provisions of this part 6 and the interest accruing thereon.

(3) Such escrowed proceeds and investments, together with any interest to be derived from such investments, shall be in an amount which at all times is sufficient to pay the bonds refunded as they become due at their respective maturities or as they are called for redemption and payment on prior redemption dates, as to principal, interest, any prior redemption premium due, and any charges of the escrow agent payable therefrom. The computations made in determining such sufficiency shall be verified by a certified public accountant.

(4) For the purpose of implementing the provisions of this part 6, the committee of any district has the power to enter into escrow agreements and to establish escrow accounts with any commercial bank having full trust powers located within the state of Colorado and a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation under protective covenants and agreements whereby such accounts shall be fully secured by securities meeting the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S., or shall be invested in such securities only, in such amounts as will be sufficient and maturing at such times so as to insure the prompt payment of the bonds refunded and the interest accruing thereon, under the provisions of this part 6.

(5) In no event shall the aggregate amount of bonded indebtedness of any district exceed the maximum allowable amount as determined pursuant to section 23-71-504; except that in determining and computing such aggregate amount of bonded indebtedness of any district, bonds which have been refunded, as provided in this part 6, either by immediate payment or redemption and retirement or by the placement of the proceeds of refunding bonds in escrow, shall not be deemed outstanding indebtedness from and after the date on which sufficient moneys are placed with the paying agent of such outstanding bonds for the purpose of immediately paying or redeeming and retiring such bonds or from and after the date on which the proceeds of said refunding bonds are placed in escrow.

(6) The issuance of refunding bonds by any district for the purposes of and in the manner authorized by this part 6, or by the provisions of any other law, shall never be interpreted or taken to be the creation of an indebtedness such that the same would require the approval at an election held in accordance with part 5 of this article, and no such approval shall be required for the issuance of such refunding bonds except as is specifically required by the law under which said refunding bonds are sought to be issued or have been issued.

(7) No bonds may be refunded under the provisions of this part 6 unless the holders thereof voluntarily surrender said bonds for immediate exchange or immediate payment or unless said bonds either mature or are callable for redemption prior to their maturity under their terms within ten years after the date of issuance of the refunding bonds, and provisions shall be made for paying or redeeming and discharging all of the bonds refunded within said period of time.

(8) No bonds shall be refunded under the provisions of this part 6 within a period of one year following the actual issuance and delivery thereof to their initial purchasers unless the proceeds of said refunding bonds are immediately applied to the payment or redemption and retirement of the bonds being refunded.

(9) No bonds shall be issued under the provisions of this part 6 for the purpose of refunding any refunding bonds unless the original bonds refunded by said refunding bonds have previously been paid or redeemed and retired.

23-71-608. Reports. Each district which issues refunding bonds under the provisions of this part 6 shall file a report within sixty days after the issuance of said bonds with the state board for community colleges and occupational education. The report shall indicate the principal amount of bonds refunded, the net effective interest rate of both the bonds refunded and the refunding bonds, the net interest cost of both the bonds refunded and the refunding bonds, all district costs incident to the issuance of refunding bonds, including those of the escrow agent, and such other items as may be determined by the state board for community colleges and occupational education.

JUNIOR COLLEGES - REVENUE SECURITIES LAW

Editor's note: This part 7 is similar to article 71 of title 22 as said article existed prior to 1975.

23-71-701. Short title. This part 7 shall be known and may be cited as the "Junior College Revenue Securities Law".

Source: L. 75: Entire article added, p. 781, § 1, effective July 1.

23-71-702. Definitions. As used in this part 7, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Committee" means the governing body of a district or any successor governing body of the district.

(2) "District" means any junior college district operating pursuant to the laws of this state.

(3) "Facilities" means buildings, structures, or other income-producing facilities from the operation of which or in connection with which pledged revenues for the payment of any securities issued under this part 7 are derived, including without limitation any facilities to be acquired with the proceeds of the securities issued under this part 7.

(4) "Net revenues" or "net pledged revenues" means all pledged revenues after the deduction of operation and maintenance expenses.

(5) (a) "Operation and maintenance expenses" means such reasonable and necessary current expenses of the district, paid or accrued, of operating, maintaining, and repairing the facilities pertaining to the pledged revenues for the payment of the securities issued under this part 7, as may be determined by a committee, and the term may include, at a committee's option, except as limited by contract or otherwise limited by law, without limiting the generality of the foregoing:

(I) Legal and overhead expenses of the various district departments directly related and reasonably allocable to the administration of the facilities;

(II) Fidelity bond and insurance premiums appertaining to the facilities or a reasonably allocable share of a premium of any blanket bond or policy pertaining to the facilities;

(III) The reasonable charges of any paying agent or depository bank appertaining to any securities issued by a district or appertaining to any facilities;

(IV) Contractual services, professional services, salaries, administrative expenses, and costs of labor appertaining to facilities;

(V) The costs incurred by a district in the collection of all or any part of the pledged revenues, including without limitation revenues appertaining to any facilities;

(VI) Any costs of utility services furnished to the facilities by the district or otherwise.

(b) "Operation and maintenance expenses" does not include:

- (I) Any allowance for depreciation;
- (II) Any costs of reconstruction, improvements, extensions, or betterments;
- (III) Any accumulation of reserves for capital replacements;
- (IV) Any reserves for operation, maintenance, or repair of any facilities;
- (V) Any allowance for the redemption of any bond securities evidencing a loan or other obligations, or the payment of any interest thereon;
- (VI) Any liabilities incurred in the acquisition or improvement of any properties comprising any project or any existing facilities, or any combination thereof;
- (VII) Any other ground of legal liability not based on contract.

(6) (a) "Pledged revenues" means the moneys pledged wholly or in part for the payment of securities issued under this article and, subject to any existing pledges or other contractual limitations, may include, at a committee's discretion, any grants, appropriations, or other donations from the United States or its agencies or from any other donor, except the state or its agencies or political subdivisions, and income or moneys derived from one, all, or any combination of the following revenue sources, including without limitation student fees and other fees, rates, and charges appertaining thereto and for the development thereof:

- (I) Dormitories, apartments, and other housing facilities;
- (II) Cafeterias, dining halls, and other food service facilities;
- (III) Student union and other student activities facilities;
- (IV) Store or other facilities for the sale or lease of books, stationery, student supplies, faculty supplies, office supplies, and like material;
- (V) Theater, gymnasium, fieldhouse, stadium, arena, and other recreation or athletic facilities for use in part by spectators or otherwise;
- (VI) Land and any structures, other facilities, or improvements thereon used or available for use for the parking of vehicles used for the transportation by land or air of persons to or from such land and any improvements thereon;
- (VII) Properties providing heat or any other utility furnished by a district to any facilities on campus;
- (VIII) Services, contracts, investments, and other miscellaneous unrestricted sources of income not designated in this part 7, whether presently realized or to be realized, and accounted for in a miscellaneous sales and services fund or account.

(b) "Pledged revenues" does not include income or moneys derived in connection with any of the following:

- (I) Any tuition charges and registration fees;
- (II) The levy of any general (ad valorem) property taxes;
- (III) Any grants, appropriations, or other donations from the state, its agencies, or its political subdivisions.

(7) "Registration fees" means any charges paid by any student for the privilege of registering for attendance at a junior college in a district, except for any charges appertaining to those revenue sources set forth in subsection (6) (a) of this section.

(8) "Securities" means bonds and interim securities authorized to be issued under this part 7 in the name of and on the behalf of a district.

(9) "Tuition charges" means the price of or payment for general and special instruction of students as defined and determined from time to time by the committee.

23-71-703. Power to issue securities. (1) The committee of any district, pursuant to authorizing resolution and subject to the provisions and contractual limitations in resolutions authorizing outstanding revenue bonds and other securities of the district, may issue, without an election, securities to defray, in whole or in part, the cost of a project in the manner provided in and subject to the limitations imposed by this part 7.

(2) The project may be the acquisition, by purchase, construction, or otherwise, the improvement, or the equipment, or any combination thereof, of any dormitory, faculty or student housing unit, dining hall, recreational center, student center, laboratory, classroom, classroom building, administrative office, administrative building, swimming pool, gymnasium, athletic field, stadium, and any other building, structure, or land necessary or desirable for use in connection with a junior college of a district.

(3) The cost of the project may include, in the committee's discretion, all incidental costs pertaining to the project and the financing thereof, including, without limitation, contingencies and the capitalization with proceeds of securities of operation and maintenance expenses appertaining to facilities to be acquired and interest on the securities for any period not exceeding the period estimated by the committee to effect the project plus one year, of any discount on the securities and of any reserves for payment of principal of and interest on the securities.

23-71-704. Interim securities. The committee may issue interim securities, which may be designated "bonds", "notes", or "warrants", evidencing any emergency loans, construction loans, and other temporary loans of not exceeding three years, in supplementation of long-term financing, such interim securities to be funded with the proceeds of long-term securities, net pledged revenues, or further interim securities, or any combination thereof, as the committee may determine.

23-71-705. Terms of securities. (1) Except to the extent inconsistent with this part 7, any securities issued under this part 7 for any project shall be issued in the form and manner and with the effect provided in sections 11-54-111 and 11-54-112, C.R.S., for public securities issued under the "Refunding Revenue Securities Law".

(2) The authorizing resolution, trust indenture, or other instrument appertaining thereto may contain any of the covenants, and the committee may do such acts and things as are permitted in section 11-54-113, C.R.S., of the "Refunding Revenue Securities Law".

(3) Revenue obligations issued to refund revenue bonds of a district and to refund securities issued under this part 7 may be issued under the "Refunding Revenue Securities Law".

Cross references: For the "Refunding Revenue Securities Law", see article 54 of title 11.

23-71-706. Payable from special fund. The securities shall be payable and collectible, as to principal, interest, and any prior redemption premium, solely out of net pledged revenues; the holder thereof may not look to any general or other fund for such payment of such securities, except the net revenues pledged therefor; the securities shall not constitute an indebtedness or a debt within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory provision or limitation, if any such provision or limitation appertains thereto; the securities shall not be considered or held to be general obligations of the district but shall constitute its special obligations; and the full faith and credit of the district shall not be pledged for their payment. Such payment shall not be secured by an encumbrance, mortgage, or other pledge of property of the district, except for its pledged revenues. No property of the district, subject to said exception, shall be liable to be forfeited or taken in payment of securities.

23-71-707. Recital of regularity. A resolution providing for the issuance of bonds or other securities under this part 7 or an indenture or other proceedings appertaining thereto may provide that the securities contain a recital that they are issued pursuant to this part 7, which recital shall be conclusive evidence of their validity and the regularity of their issuance.

23-71-708. Committee determination conclusive. The determination of the committee that the limitations imposed under this part 7 upon the issuance of securities under this part 7 have been met shall be conclusive in the absence of fraud or arbitrary and gross abuse of discretion, regardless of whether the authorizing resolution or the securities thereby authorized contain a recital as authorized by section 23-71-707.

Source: L. 75: Entire article added, p. 784, § 1, effective July 1.

23-71-709. No impairment of contract. Nothing in this part 7 or in any other law shall impair the existing obligations of contract embodied in outstanding revenue bonds validly issued under the statutes in force at the times of their issue prior to July 1, 1967.

Source: L. 75: Entire article added, p. 784, § 1, effective July 1.

23-71-710. Tax exemption. Bonds and other securities issued under the provisions of this part 7, their transfer, and the income therefrom are exempt from taxation by this state or any subdivision thereof.

23-71-711. Construction. (1) This part 7, without reference to other statutes of this state, except as otherwise expressly provided in this part 7, constitutes full authority for the exercise of the incidental powers granted in this part 7 concerning the borrowing of money to defray wholly or in part the cost of any project and the issuance of securities to evidence such loans.

(2) No other act or law with regard to the authorization or issuance of securities or the exercise of any other power granted in this part 7 that requires an approval or in any way impedes or restricts the carrying out of the acts authorized to be done in this part 7 shall be construed as applying to any proceedings taken under this part 7 or acts done pursuant thereto, except as otherwise provided in this part 7.

(3) The powers conferred by this part 7 shall be in addition and supplemental to, and not in substitution for, and the limitations imposed by this part 7 shall not affect the powers conferred by any other law.

(4) Nothing in this part 7 shall prevent the exercise of any power granted to the committee or to a district acting by and through its committee, or any officer, agent, or employee thereof, by any other law.

(5) No part of this part 7 shall repeal or affect any other law or part thereof, it being intended that this part 7 provide a separate method of accomplishing its objectives and not an exclusive one; and this part 7 shall not be construed as repealing, amending, or changing any such other law.
